LETTER TO THE EDITOR

New non-profit resurrects Superior Saddle Club

Remember the Superior Saddle Club? Remember what a fun and successful club they were? This was a cowboy/family oriented group, that put on rodeos, gymkhanas, ropings, dances and plain, old-fashioned fun that was directed to cowboy life, and, they were extremely successful.

As a tribute to the cowboy history, from settling the "wild west" to modern day cowboy, and, maintaining the integrity of our cowboy heritage and the cowboy family, we are starting a new non-profit group called 'Superior AZ Cowboy Round-Up Association (SACRA)'.

We are inviting cowboys, people who are interested in the cowboy life, including the Copper Corridor area, Florence to Apache Junction and all areas in between, to join in with us.

We are currently looking for members and those interested in becoming officers and Board of Directors members to stand up and be counted.

Our two charities are: 1) the Cowboy Crisis Fund, which helps cowboys who are hurt and/or in crisis. We have already earmarked our funds in Gila and Pinal counties, only. 2) Toby Keith's group that focuses on the wounded warriors.

It is our goal to help wounded cowboys and veterans all we can. Our motto is: Love live the lives and memories of all those who rode before us.

Our first membership meeting will be Oct. 7, at 7 p.m., at the Blue Room of the Los Hermanos.

Come let your voices, ideas and suggestions be heard!

Thank you,

/s/ Ben Mason

Superior Council plans two days of cleaning

By Nina Crowder
Superior Sun

It's time to honor our Veterans and families by having a Cemetery Clean up. On Oct. 31, at 8 a.m. the Rotarians, OMYA and Superior School Students will be working cleaning up the Superior cemetery. Then on Nov. 1, at 7 a.m. the mayor, council, Superiorites, Rotarians and approximately 200 youth from the LDS Church plan to clean up the Superior cemetery.

If you have any materials to help with the clean up please bring them; weed-eaters, tools, trash bags and gloves. Please volunteer some of your time and join the mayor, council, residents and United Superiorites in cleaning the cemetery.

Saving the graves is strongly committed to the protection of human burial sites from unauthorized and unwarranted disturbance, by man or nature. The Town of Superior believes that the willful desecration or destruction of human burial sites is unacceptable in our community. It is our objective to highlight the importance and promote an attitude and respect, while encouraging further preservation of the cemetery.

Many community members complain about the trash and debris in the cemetery. Now is the time to get out and help each other clean the resting place for the many Veterans and family members who are at peace in the cemetery. Let's all work together to get our cemetery spruced up!

All volunteers are welcome and appreciated. For additional information please feel free to visit the Superior Town's Website at www.superior-arizona.com or call 520-689-5752. We look forward to everyone's volunteerism and support with the Cemetery Clean Up Project!

Kilted hiker stops in Superior

Rick 'Handlebar' Ostheimer made a stop in Superior on his through hike on the Arizona Trail.

Mila Besich-Lira | Sun

By Mila Besich-Lira
Superior Sun

On that cold, rainy Wednesday night last week, Rick "Handlebar" Ostheimer made his stop in Superior. Rick or "Handlebar" as other hikers call him has been hiking on the Arizona Trail since September 5, 2014 when he began his through hike at the Utah/Arizona border.

He isn't a novice hiker, in fact Handlebar has hiked all the other three National Scenic Trails. When he completes the Arizona Trail in a few weeks he will have hiked all four nationally designated trails ... all while wearing an authentic kilt. Primarily he wears the kilt for comfort and ease of movement.

He arrived in Superior after he helped a family of hikers who had backpacked to Revis Ranch north of Superior. The couple's dog wasn't able to make the return trip on his own so he helped the father of the family carry the dog back to their car. He said that is what you call trail angels, when you help someone else, eventually someone else helps you along the way.

The family highly recommended Casa Denogean as a place to eat and they drove him into town so he could avoid the storm. His plans were to stay in Superior for two nights to restock his supply and get some rest. His first night in town the Copper Mountain Motel was full so they allowed him to camp in his tent in their yard. During his stay in Superior he planned on stocking up on food and supplies so he could continue his trip on the trail. His next stop will be in Oracle.

With very few communities that have services available along the way, Superior has become a favorite stop amongst hikers. Prior to stopping in Superior, he had stays in Flagstaff, Pine and Roosevelt; all three communities are on Arizona Trail Gateway Community trails.

He has a routine each day and eats three small breakfasts to nourish himself. Lunches are usually snack items and each night he cooks himself a warm meal

Sen. McCain talks with mine workers underground

By Mila Besich-Lira
Superior Sun

Sen. John McCain visited the Resolution Copper project and went underground to the 1200 level to meet with the underground workers and host a press conference. During his visit underground McCain spoke candidly with the workers about their job and some of the challenges the Resolution Copper project has faced over the years. He explained that the Southeast Arizona Land Exchange has become one of the top four issues that have been the hardest to resolve.

Sen. McCain was also joined by Superior Town Councilmembers Michael Alonzo, Steve Estatico and Mila Besich-Lira. McCain has been a steadfast supporter of the Resolution Copper project and voiced his support to the workers at the mine as well as at a Town Hall meeting held at the Superior Chamber of Commerce building.

The tour began with a safety meeting which taught the group to how to operate a respirator in case of emergency and also how to remain safe during their time underground. The elected guests to the mine donned all of the required safety gear and harnesses as per MSHA regulations.

Senator McCain thanked the local mayors and elected officials for their leadership.

"Mayors are closest to the people," McCain said. "Thank you for your stewardship." Sen. McCain encouraged the local leaders to try to resolve some of their concerns regarding the project. A large part of his discussion in the town hall forum had to do with the job creation and assisting the San Carlos Apache tribal members to find employment at the mine.

During the Town Hall, Senator McCain also answered questions on the Ebola outbreak and national security issues in regards to ISIS. McCain stated that he did not think that Ebola posed an immediate threat to Arizona, but said that the US needed to take precautions to stop it from spreading any further. Regarding ISIS, Sen. McCain stressed that ISIS hates what America stands for and they need to be stopped.

"It is not about containment; it is about killing them," he said.

Author's Note: Almost 20 years ago I was invited to go underground to write a story about the closure of the mine in 1996. At the time the story would of been written about how a piece of the economic history of Superior would no longer exist. Being underage I needed my parents permission, which was not granted by my Dad. It was a wonderful experience to tour the mine so many years later and write about the present operations and the future opportunity the mine can bring to our community and region, the long awaited trip has made an even larger impact taking the journey with Senator McCain. The tour provided a new perspective of what the miners of our community go through on a daily basis.

Senator John McCain arrives underground at the Resolution Copper project.

#BeLikeBilly Fund grows with help of cornhole tourney

By Mila Besich-Lira
Superior Sun

This year when the Superior Optimist Club lost one of their charter members, Billy Preciado, the club set out to honor his memory with some community projects. The first project the club had undertaken is installing a new scoreboard at the high school softball and baseball fields. The girls softball field has never had a scoreboard, and the boys scoreboard is in need of replacement.

Billy Preciado was an avid Superior Panther fan and long time softball coach for both the Little League and the Superior School District. In June the club set a goal of raising $10,000 to complete this project so on Saturday afternoon this past weekend at the Porter's Cafe patio, 41 teams, many of whom were past players on Billy's teams, gathered to play cornhole and helped to close the gap on the fundraising efforts.

Leading the fundraiser were Angela Villaverde-Ortega and Mikee Preciado. The two gathered donations and registered the teams. Manny Guzman V offered his DJ services and hundreds of people came to eat, play and socialize, all in Billy's memory. Between the auction items, raffles, food and drink sales and registration fees $2,750 was raised for the project. When news of the tourney spread online, another $350 was raised through online donations.

With the completion of this fundraiser the Superior Optimist Club is very close to having enough funds to have both score boards installed by the 2015 softball and baseball season. At press time an additional $3500 contribution was made, however the donors wish to remain private at this time. This leaves about $2,000 to be raised; you can help raise the funds by donating online at: <http://bit.ly/belikebilly>

Author's note: I write this story with a huge lump in my throat, I know my Tio would be so excited to see this project happen. Our entire family is amazed by the outpouring of love, support and generosity that everyone has given to us as we work with the Optimist Club to keep his dreams and memory alive. When you see the hashtag, #BeLikeBilly, we hope that you will also think of ways to be kind, selfless and generous like he was. - Mila

Superior Veteran returns home, becomes an advocate and farmer

By Mila Besich-Lira

Army and he was off to protect and defend not only his hometown of Superior but the United States of America. He served overseas, and was a soldier in the Iraq conflicts for 12 months and in Kosovo for 6 months.

Montiel left the service in 2005. When he returned to Arizona he used the GI Bill to return to school and earned his bachelor's degree in Interdisciplinary Studies in human communications. He quickly realized that often times there are not enough services for returning veterans who are transitioning into civilian life. He himself had many challenges that caused him delays in completing his degree. These experiences have inspired him to create a special non-profit called the Veteran Higher Education Initiative. This non-profit will evaluate the veterans services at each school and rank them according to their overall support for veterans and their specific needs.

But his advocacy for veterans and their needs reach farther than education. Montiel touched on a very serious issue affecting American veterans: the suicide rate amongst veterans and active duty members.

Like many returning Veterans, past and present, there are more injuries that cannot be seen than injuries that can be. Issues like social anxiety and post traumatic stress disorder are unseen injuries that often create additional setbacks for veterans as they return home from the conflict. The switch from the constant demands and routine of military life can also add to the uncertainty of life for America's heroes. Those demands and unseen injuries often send veterans into deep depression and in many cases, the worst scenarios occur and a Veteran will commit suicide.

As part of his own need to raise awareness of this very serious issue, Montiel has added a memorial to his yard to bring awareness to the fact that 22 veterans and one active duty member commits suicide every day. Twenty-two white crosses adorned with flowers sit at the corner of Stone and Heiner Drive. Montiel is hoping that through his non profit, he can connect veterans with higher education institutions that will empower and support veterans.

A few months ago, one of his mentors told him that "things seem to be on the upswing in Superior" and he returned to Superior to relocate his organic gourmet mushroom growing business that he owns along with a business partner. The mushrooms are grown in his yard and sold to several four and five star restaurants in Scottsdale. Montiel plans to expand his business, develop his non-profit and get more involved with the community as he grows both businesses.

And Superior is glad to have Montiel back.

Jr. Panthers reach playoffs with win

By Andrew Luberda
Superior Sun

Last week's game between San Manuel and Superior was equivalent to a pre-playoff game. The Jr. Panthers' football team entered the game needing a win and a Ray loss to Hayden to reach the CJHL Football Playoffs. The Jr. Lobos helped the Jr. Panthers with half the equation, defeating Ray, 18 - 0. The Jr. Panthers took care of the rest, defeating the Jr. Miners, 44 - 30.

Jr. Panthers QB Steven Ybarra scored five touchdowns, two rushing and three passing, in the victory. A 49-yard interception return for a touchdown by Daniel McConnell in the fourth quarter accounted for the Jr. Panthers other score.

After a scoreless first quarter, Benji Hernandez started the second quarter by recovering a San Manuel fumble to set up Ybarra's first touchdown on an 80-yard run. Another Jr. Miners fumble, recovered by Bruno Godinez, set up the second score. Ybarra connected with Hernandez on a TD pass to give the Jr. Panthers a 14 - 0 lead.

A 10-yard touchdown run by Ybarra and then a 25-yard touchdown pass from Ybarra to Sammy Lopez gave the Jr. Panthers a commanding 30 - 14 lead at halftime.

The Jr. Miners bounced back in the third quarter, scoring on back-to-back possessions to tie the game, 30 - 30.

Ybarra threw his third TD pass of the game to start the fourth quarter, hitting Jesus Castellanos on a 20-yard pass. McConnell's interception return put the Jr. Panthers up two scores before Castellanos sealed the victory with his team's second interception of the quarter.

As a result of the Jr. Lobos win and Superior defeating San Manuel, the Panthers are the fourth and final team to make the playoff tournament.

First round games for the playoffs are: Superior (4) at Globe (1) and Eloy (3) at Mt. Vista (2). The winners of those games will meet next Tuesday for the CJHL Championship.

Panthers make it difficult for Knights

By Andrew Luberda
Superior Sun

For a while last Friday night in Gilbert, the tenth-ranked Superior Panthers gave the fourth-ranked Gilbert Christian Knights all they could handle, jumping out to a 14 – 0 lead to start the game. Unfortunately, the Panthers couldn't keep pace with the Knights as the game went on and eventually lost, 46 – 22.

"We came out focused and I was really impressed with our efficiency on the first couple drives," Panthers' head coach Ryan Palmer said after the game. "We had some mental mistakes defensively on alignment and assignment that lead to them scoring on us and taking the lead."

Great blocking by the offensive line of Jalon Murray, Ricardo Ochoa, and Richard Navarro allowed a couple of long runs by Gage Cruz and Edgar Galindo to give the Panthers the early lead.

The Knights answered, however, scoring the next 22 points of the first quarter to take the lead.

Superior responded, scoring the last points of the first quarter to tie the game at 22.

The Panthers, playing without QB Gage Cruz, who left the game with a ribs injury, were outscored 11 – 0 in the second quarter and trailed at halftime, 33 – 22.

Superior's defense played well in the second half, limiting the high-scoring Knights to only two second-half scores. The offense, on the other hand, was unable to sustain any drives without Cruz, a potential sectional Player of the Year.

"(It) was a tough loss, but our kids played their hearts out," Palmer told the Superior Sun. "We had a few mistakes here and there against an opponent that was able to capitalize on them."

Palmer added he expects his team to learn from the loss.

The Panthers close out the regular season this Friday versus Hayden, needing a win on Homecoming to secure a playoff berth.

Now 4 – 3 on the season and ranked tenth in the AIA rankings, the Panthers need to beat the Lobos Friday night and finish in the top 12 of the rankings to reach the postseason.

“Hopefully we will have enough power points to get into the playoffs,” Palmer said. “I truly believe that we have a playoff caliber team and if we make the tournament we are not an opponent anyone wants to face.”

Their effort during the first quarter of last week’s game against Gilbert Christian proved the Panthers are team to reckon with in the playoffs.

using a pepsi can stove. He camps each night in a tent and before he falls asleep to the sounds of coyotes and crickets, he drinks a hot cup of tea.

One thing he has not enjoyed about hiking through Arizona has been the cats claw. The extended monsoon weather with these hurricanes coming through Arizona has also given him a some extra challenges but the extra rain has made water supplies plentiful.

Each through hiker has a different story on why they hike these through hikes. Some hike for a mission or bring awareness to an issue. Some hike for the love of the outdoors and the challenge. Handlebar is hiking to stay in shape so he can hike a through hike with his grandsons in about 10 years. He plans to hike at least 1000 miles each year to ensure he stays in tip top health to complete that trip.

Sometimes, we wonder, who is visiting our Arizona Trail Gateway communities, who really hikes on our trails.

Handlebar is one of the many that visit Superior and the Copper Corridor on the Arizona Trail each year. You can learn more about his journey as well as several other through hikers by visiting: http://www.trailjournals.com/journals/arizona_trail/

Resolution Copper Mining is proud to partner with local businesses based in towns and cities in and around the Copper Triangle and Copper Corridor.
