ObituaryCoty Miguel DenogeanFebruary 21, 1996 - September 21, 2013

Coty Miguel Denogean, 17, died on Saturday, Sept. 21, 2013 in Mesa, AZ. He was born on Feb. 21, 1996 in Chandler, AZ to Roberto and Jodie Denogean.

He was a senior at Red Mountain HS, was involved with ROTC and sang in three choirs.

Coty was an excellent archer and loved to hunt, fish and ride horses. Woods Canyon Lake and San Diego were two of his favorite spots.

His family describes him as HILARIOUS, a comedian and someone who always remembered useless funny facts. Coty was truly an "old soul" who loved classic country, old pop and R&B music. Coty danced to his own drummer. He wore cowboy boots to school everyday and didn't care if they were in style or not.

We are devastated by his loss but find comfort in the memory of his beautiful smile.

Coty is survived by his father, Roberto "Bear" Denogean and mother, Jodie Denogean; brother, Roberto "Ty" Anthony Denogean; sister, Alexis Marina Denogean; grandparents, Miguel and Cathi Denogean, Tom and Karen O'Carroll and Don and Kay Moler; several aunts, uncles, cousins and many loving friends.

Mass was celebrated for Coty on Saturday, Sept. 28, 2013, at St. Francis of Assisi Catholic Church, Superior. A reception followed.

A memorial fund has been established in Coty's name at Desert Schools Federal Credit Union Acct #

The Taste of Oracle is an event to highlight the Eastern Pinal County businesses of Oracle, Mammoth and San Manuel. It was the Taste of Oracle last year that allowed the Tri-Community Visitors Center to open. The profits made from the event go towards funding the Tri-Community Visitors Center and the Oracle Women's Network (O.W.N.).

The mission of the Tri-Community Visitors Center is to “encourage residents and visitors to discover the beauty, art and amenities of the Tri-Communities.” The center provides information about local businesses and places to visit in Oracle, Mammoth, San Manuel and the surrounding areas. They provide maps of the area, brochures, and a community calendar. They help promote the area including the Copper Corridor. They greet visitors and answer questions from tourists about the communities.

The Visitors Center has had numerous people stop by including some from as far away as Germany and Austria. Visitors from Texas, Illinois, Kansas, Wyoming, Colorado, Iowa, and British Columbia have stopped by asking questions.

This year's event will have more than food to offer. There will be entertainment including the music of Dr. John Huntington and Steve Priestle. Other entertainers have also been invited. Events and games for kids will be offered. Information booths from community organizations will be on the grounds as well as vendors offering arts and crafts as well as food. Food vendors lined up include kettle corn, shave ice, Patio Café, and shredded beef tacos. Charlotte's Way Animal Rescue will have a pet adoption center and more set up. There will be an Avon booth and Oracle's own Oro Creek winery will offer wine tasting and bottles of wine for sale.

Troy Letwak owner of Car Quest in Oracle and his new Recluse Customs bike shop will have his custom built motorcycle that won first place in the Radical Class of the Easy Riders Bike Show at the 2013 Sturgis Motorcycle Rally on display. This motorcycle also took second place in the Rat's Hole Custom Bike Show in the Extreme Class at Sturgis, SD.

Vendors and information booths are still welcome. Food booths are $50 for a space; information and other booths are $25. For more information contact the Tri-Community Visitor Center at 520-896-2320 or info@VisitTriCommunity.org. Superior sale tax increase effective Dec. 1

By Nina Crowder
Superior Sun

The Superior Town Council recently approved a two percent tax increase. According to Arizona www.taxrates.com, the Arizona state sales tax rate depends on local municipalities; the total tax rate can be as high as 10.7 percent. With the approved tax hike, shoppers in Superior will pay the maximum, 10.7 percent.

Arizona has a Transaction Privilege Tax (TPT) which is commonly referred to as a sales tax. Counties and cities can impose a TPT on businesses in their jurisdiction. A TPT is actually a tax on the vendor but the tax is generally passed on to the consumer. Surrounding towns total sales tax rates include: Kearny 9.7 percent, Apache Junction 8.5 percent, Queen Creek 8.55 percent, Florence

8.7 percent, Globe 8.7 percent and Miami 9.2 percent.

The tentative budget summary for the Town of Superior for Fiscal Year 2013-14 was prepared by Pat Walker of Walker Consulting based on input from the Town Council. In order to develop a balanced budget as required under Arizona State Statutes, the Superior Town Council has proposed numerous revenue enhancements to the budget including raising the sales tax by two percent to help generate revenue for the Town of Superior. The Town Council has been working on the budget since early June of this year. According to Walker Consulting, the budget estimates with the 2% sales tax increase for the 2013 year approximately $240,000 and for the 2014 year approximately $383,341, this would help the town significantly.

"I have a great deal of respect for the Superior Town Council," said Margaret Gaston, interim town manager. "They are just doing what was suggested by Pat Walker of Walker Consulting to help put the town in a better way financially."

Gaston was hired by the Superior Town Council at the end of the budgeting process.

Many local businesses are unhappy with the council's decision to increase the sales tax.

Michael and Richard Hing, fourth generation Superiorites who own and operate the Wave Money Market on Main St. voiced their concerns about the increase.

"We are against the sales tax increase, but what are we going to do, it is already been passed and it will hurt the townspeople," said Richard.

"The reason Superior is in deficit is due to funds being mis-spent and any tax increase is going to hurt," Michael Hing agreed. "Some people may decide to shop out of town for savings. Superior will be hurt by this tax increase but Superior will recover as they always have."

Michael feels strongly about communication with the town and said, "The town needs to keep working together and move forward."

Leslie Martin of the Copper Gecko plans to give her customer's more sales, discounts and a punch card to help off-set the mind-set of the tax increase.

"Raising the sales tax making it one of the highest in the state gives us a horrible image," Leslie said.

Martin and Michael Hing feel that it is the psychology mind-set that people are going to react to. It's not necessarily the monetary aspect of the tax increase, but just knowing they are now going to have to pay more is set in the customer's minds.

Martin said she moved to Superior about three years ago and wanted to do something on Main St. They have put a lot of money into the Copper Gecko and want to see Superior have successful businesses, but doesn't feel the Town of Superior has been very supportive of businesses. She is disappointed that the town is going after money in this way when there are other ways to make money for the

Panthers

By Andrew Luberd
Superior Sun

The Panthers' football team had their full roster of players for the first time in a while and they showed how dangerous they can be with everyone healthy. They defeated Hayden, which was celebrating their Homecoming, 58 – 14.

"This was the first game we were truly healthy and it made a big difference," head coach Ryan Palmer said.

The Panthers started the game with a bang as they recovered the opening inside kick and completed a double pass for a touchdown to take a quick lead, 7 – 0. On their next possession, the Panthers scored again and were quickly ahead, 14 – 0.

"It was a good start to the game," Palmer said. "We were able to get the early momentum."

Several players were able to return to their original positions and, according to Coach Palmer, made the performance of the entire team much better.

The Panthers' attack was led by Nicolaus Cruz with 334 all-purpose yards and six touchdowns, four passing and two rushing. Matthew Zavala and Austin Navarrete also had passing touchdowns in the game. Edgar Galindo had

Panthers' Volleyball looking forward to season's first tourney

By Andrew Luberd
Superior Sun

The Panthers' volleyball team will play in their first tournament of the year on Saturday, October 5, 2013. The Panthers' have played a limited schedule compared to some of their opponents and are looking forward to competing in the Salt River Tournament this weekend.

The Panthers had their three-match winning streak ended in their last outing versus Ray, 3 – 1. Head coach Cheryl Lopez said playing a very good Ray squad was a good measuring stick for her team. Despite the loss, Coach Lopez knows her team is talented and capable.

"I feel the team can compete with higher (skilled) teams at this point," Lopez said. "The match (versus Ray) was evenly played."

Ariel Alonzo, Gabby Salcido and Cierra Navarrete were named players of the game in the match against Ray.

Coach Lopez and the Panthers have an optimistic outlook as their season continues, but they know some improvements need to be made if they want their optimism to become reality.

"We still need to work out our communication and back row movement for defense," Lopez said.

The Salt River Tournament will provide an opportunity to work out the kinks and gain some valuable game experience as their schedule begins to get a little busier over the next few weeks.

earn first win of the season

two TD receptions.

Marcus Hiracheta and Eric Oatis paced the defense with nine and seven tackles respectively.

Oatis also had three sacks in the game. Hiracheta had one sack.

After the game, Coach Palmer was excited about his team's performance and is looking forward to more success as the season progresses.

"The kids stepped up and played tough," he said. "I was really impressed with our defense."

The early season struggles provided some good experience even without the satisfying results and the team expects it to pay dividends going forward.

"We showed we could compete and that the potential is there," Palmer said. "It's a whole new season for us."

The Superior Junior High Girls' Volleyball team is having an exciting season.

In a turn around from the first game, the eighth grade team defeated Mt. Vista and the seventh grade team came up short.

Both teams came out ready to play against Hayden. Key player Marisa Estatico scored an astonishing 22 points for the Lady Panthers for a set win of 25-4. The Lady Panthers went on to secure the win in the second set. The eighth grade team came out and sealed the deal by defeating the Lady Lobos as well.

For one of the structures this is the third time that it has caught fire. About eight years ago a candle started a structure fire on that property.

According to Fire Chief Todd Pryor, the owners of both properties plan to demolish the remains of the structures.

town. "I am discouraged as to the town's stance to pursue the tax increase," she said. "It is difficult for many of the local people to get out of town to shop and this is upsetting because we have a lot of elderly people who don't drive and why do we need to get in their pockets like this?"

Sonnie Sansom, her husband and business partner, said, "This is the most unfriendly business town he has ever lived in."

Curt Williams said he is upset with the tax increase as well as "many other things the town is doing." He feels very passionate about the town but is afraid by attending the Town Council meetings will cause him to have a heart attack.

An employee of Family Dollar in Superior, who wished to remain anonymous, said she doesn't feel the tax increase will have much of an effect on the store and people who shop there. The store stays pretty busy, she explained, and they don't think it will change much. The store has relatively inexpensive items and hopes the people in Superior will continue to support local businesses.

Rolling Rock Gallery owner

Kathy Long explained that most of her customers are tourists, winter visitors and mine employees. Long has had her store open for five years.

"Many of the local residents don't even know the store exists," she said, "so to throw in another two percent on taxes? Yes, it is going to hurt. More than anything I am angry about the town's misuse of money. Whatever the town did wrong we are being punished for and that makes me angry."

Toni Lopez an employee at Rolling Rock, agreed with Long. "It seems like we have been paying for the town's mistakes for a long time," she said. "The local people don't seem to shop at Rolling Rock, but before Resolution Copper had their lay off many people from the mine would shop here. We still have a few people from the mine, but the layoff really hurt the business."

Will the increase help the estimated $4 million deficit the Town of Superior has in its budget? Many feel it will not do enough.

The new sales tax increase takes place on Dec. 1, 2013 and has a "Sunset Clause" which means that the two percent tax increase will automatically be terminated Nov. 30, 2015 unless it is extended by law.

Resolution Copper Land Exchange stalls in House due to budget debates

By Mila Besich Lira
Copper Area News
On Thursday, Sept. 26, 2013, several members of the Arizona Congressional Delegation debated the Southeast Arizona Land Exchange and Conservation Act, H.R. 687, on the House floor in Washington, DC. The bill received a lengthy debate and two amendments to the bill were suggested. The amendment requested by Rep. Raul Grijalva from Tucson required the company to locate their remote operations center in Superior. The other amendment was proposed by Ben Ray Lujan, who represents the fourth district of New Mexico. Lujan's amendment would have protected Native American sacred and cultural sites that are located in the proposed land exchange areas. The amendments received recorded votes by the members of the House of Representatives but were not approved.

Company officials and those following the legislation had expected that the debate would continue and a vote on the legislation would be scheduled that day. Following the votes on the amendments to H.R. 687, there was no further discussion on the legislation and the House of Representative began another floor debate on the budget continuation and the Affordable Care Act (Obamacare).

Resolution Copper officials released an email to their stakeholders explaining that the vote was pulled from the floor of the House of Representatives to allow the House to further its debate on the federal budget to avoid a federal government shutdown. At press time, it is reported that Congress has not approved a federal budget continuation and the Federal Government has been shut down.

The bill was introduced earlier this year by Representatives Ann Kirkpatrick (CD1) and Paul Gosar DDS (CD4). There is no official word on when or if the land exchange will be scheduled for a vote in the House of Representatives.
