Magma Copper smelter chimney stack safely demolished

Superior, Arizona — (November 10, 2018) Resolution Copper's demolition contractor has safely and successfully completed the controlled demolition of the Magma Copper smelter's chimney stack, which was structurally unsound and posed a significant threat to safety. Resolution Copper's number one priority is ensuring the health and safety of our employees and the community, and finalizing this latest phase of the 15-year reclamation effort is a vital step in fulfilling our commitment to health, safety and environmental stewardship.

In addition to proactively addressing the safety threat posed by the crumbling chimney stack, it was also necessary to remove smelter structures in order to clean all contaminants out of the soil that had accumulated during five decades of the Magma Copper Company's smelting operations, which started in 1924 and ended in 1971. Safe removal and cleanup of the smelter complex is a major milestone in Resolution Copper's broader reclamation of the West Plant property adjacent to Superior, which began in 2005 and is on schedule for completion in 2020.

"Being a good neighbor is extremely important to Resolution Copper. We are dedicated to making Superior a cleaner and safer place to live and work," said Andrew Lye, Resolution Copper Project Director. "When the company took over the West Plant property in 2004, restoring the land was a top priority, and the safe removal of the smelter was unfortunately required for us to finish the job. The Town of Superior has been an important partner throughout the reclamation process, and we'll continue to coordinate our efforts with Superior's public officials as we move forward."

Superior Mayor, Mila Besich offered the

The World War I Battle Fought in Arizona

Following the assassination of the Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria-Hungary and his wife, Sophie by a Bosnian Serb, tension grew between the countries of Serbia and Austria-Hungary. On July 28, 1914 Austria declared war on Serbia. This would lead to the major powers of Europe joining the conflict which we know as World War I. The United States would not enter the war until 1917 but in Globe, Arizona in 1914, a small battle of sorts would take place with ties to the European War.

In 1914, there were quite a number of immigrants working in the United States. This included miners of many different ethnicities working in the mines in Globe. As the war approached, relationships between Austrian and Serbian workers dwindled. Many of the workers had families back in the old country. There was even talk that if war broke out, many would return to their homelands to fight.

When Austria-Hungary invaded Serbia, the tension turned into hostility on July 31. On August 1, 1914 the Bisbee Daily Review newspaper reported a "Race Clash At Globe". The article said: "The first clash between Austrians and Serbians occurred tonight, resulting in many broken heads but no serious injuries, trouble is feared as the result of tense feeling between the two nationalities. 500 Austrians have notified their consul in Denver that they are ready to return home for war. 300 Serbians are preparing to return to the fatherland." The book, History of Mining in Arizona, said that the two nationalities "mixed it up in the International Saloon on Broad Street".

Ten days later, again at the same saloon, a bigger battle erupted. This time they fought with fists, billiard sticks, beer bottles, rocks and clubs leaving the saloon in shambles. Forty Serbians and twenty Austrians were involved. The melee must have spilled out into Broad Street as it was reported that a large crowd of Globe citizens watched them fight. The Arizona

Arthur Martinez Garcia Jr. – April 15, 1947 – February 7, 1970. Sgt., Marine Corps. Died from gun small arms fire, Thua Thien, South Vietnam.

They were sons. Brothers. Uncles. Friends. Boys, really. They grew up playing in the streets of San Manuel, Oracle, Mammoth and Tiger. They were athletes, students, classmates.

And when their country called for their service, they didn't hesitate. They left their homes and their families behind and were sent to the front lines in Vietnam.

It was their lives that the San Manuel High School classes of the '50s and '60s sought to honor, but they extended the ceremonies to include other Veterans from the Tri-Community, those who served in World War II, Korea, Vietnam and Desert Storm. They honored the Purple Heart Medal recipients and the memories of servicemen who were killed during World War II.

The Veterans Day Celebration was held Saturday, Nov. 10, at the San Manuel Elks Lodge. Local VFW Post members Margarito Benjano and Lloyd Bradshaw presented the colors and Frank A. Martinez, another VFW Post member, lead the Pledge of Allegiance. Following the National Anthem, sung by all in attendance, Pastor Emeritis John "Tinker" Roybal offered the opening prayer. Dinner was provided and served by the family of Frank A. Martinez.

Alfred Trejo, who served 30 years in the Navy, served as the emcee for the ceremony, which included a moving candlelight tribute to the Fallen 7, brave young heroes who sacrificed their lives in Vietnam.

Following a Native American Prayer, offered by Alberto D. Chavez, another local Veteran, the families and friends of the Fallen 7 were invited to share thoughts about their lives.

Darrell Klesch talked about his friend Allen Ingram.

"The Marines were tough guys over there," Klesch said. "They had it tough."

The Marines were deployed for 13 months at a time. Klesch, who was drafted into the Army, said that his deployment was for 12 months. He said he was heartbroken over his friend's enlistment in the Marines. Allen enlisted while still in high school. Klesch, who was a few years older, was drafted and arrived in Vietnam just two weeks before Allen was killed.

"Allen was killed in his 13th month," Klesch said. Klesch said that he sent Allen a letter shortly after his arrival in country promising that he would find him. The letter was returned to him unopened.

While it was hard on him, it was devastating to Allen's parents, Klesch said. "From that moment on, their whole world fell apart. Allen was their only son," Klesch said. "The sun set and went down in their hearts for Allen."

Alberto D. Chavez lights a candle as each of the Vietnam 7's name is spoken.

Jennifer Carnes | Miner

'50s and '60s honor the Vietnam 7

Allen was a little more than two months shy of his 19th birthday.

Other families spoke about their loved ones too.

Stephanie Benetone shared a story about her older brother, Mark Bateman.

"When I think of Mark, I don't think so much about him as a soldier, although I was very proud of him. I think about how much we used to fight when we were growing up until I was about 12 and he was about 14 and then we became friends. I think mostly because he wanted me to listen to him play his guitar and applaud. I was his audience," she said. "He was getting really good at it."

One of her favorite stories, she said, was that no one in her family knew he could sing. One night, Stephanie remembered, she went to a school dance at San Manuel High School and was shocked to find her brother playing in the band.

"Mark got up and sang Twist and Shout. His voice was so good," she said.

Stephanie went home after the dance and told her mom who was just as shocked.

Mark was 20 years old when he was killed.

The ceremony ended with a presentation to each of the Veterans in attendance and a thank you to all who served.

Natural Gas Safety

Wherever you live, work, or play.

NATURAL GAS LINES

can be buried anywhere, even in areas where homes don't use natural gas. So it's important that EVERYONE knows how to recognize and respond to a natural gas leak, wherever they are.

A LEAK MAY BE PRESENT IF YOU:

SMELL:

a distinct sulfur-like odor, similar to rotten eggs, even if it's faint or momentary.

HEAR:

a hissing or roaring coming from the ground, above-ground pipeline, or natural gas appliance.

SEE:

dirt or water blowing into the air, unexplained dead or dying grass or plants, or standing water continuously bubbling.

IF YOU SUSPECT A LEAK

- Exit the area or building immediately. Tell others to evacuate and leave doors open.
- From a safe place, call 911 and Southwest Gas at 877-860-6020, day or night, whether you're a customer or not. A Southwest Gas representative will be there as soon as possible.
- Don't smoke or use matches or lighters.
- Don't turn on or off electrical switches, thermostats, or appliance controls; or do anything that could cause a spark.

VETERANS

Veterans Day comes only once a year, but we should remember our Veterans and their families every day of the year.

If you know a Veteran, tell them thank you for their service. If you see an active military member, tell them thank you for their service. They sacrifice much to protect our freedom and the rights and privileges we have in the United States of America. Let them know how much they are appreciated.

Thank you to the SMHS Classes of the '50s and '60s for such a wonderful program.

following statement: “As we bid farewell to the smelter stack, we are reminded of all that it has represented to generations of our citizens. It is an iconic reminder of every miner, engineer, craftsman and staff who have worked the Magma mine. It has been a symbol of our mining history, the industry that created Superior and the families which made Superior a community. We will miss seeing this important and historic structure from our skyline, but we also celebrate the new era that is before us today – a new mine, abundant economic and community development opportunities and our community working together to create greater opportunities for the benefit of all – not only for today, but for future generations. Superior’s best days are truly ahead of us, and together we will establish Superior’s growth and prosperity in the 21st century.”

The next major phases in the West Plant reclamation project are:

- Removal and disposal of contaminated debris in December 2018
- Reclamation of surrounding soils in spring of 2019
- Seeding and rehabilitation of smelter site in summer of 2019

Resolution Copper understands the cultural significance of the Magma Copper smelter complex for the Superior community, and the company is funding a study for a legacy project to commemorate the town’s rich mining history. Resolution Copper proactively sought this opportunity to work with the community, including residents and elected officials. Under an agreement with the Town of Superior, Resolution Copper will review three project proposals, which are based on several months of gathering feedback from residents on how they would like to see Superior’s mining history preserved.

Resolution Copper is also funding major improvements to Superior’s US Highway 60 Park & Caboose Visitor Center, known for its feature landmark, a train caboose converted into a visitor center. Resolution Copper is collaborating with the Town of Superior on the park improvement project. The scope includes working with the Town to enhance the mining history trail, upgrading existing playground equipment to include new mining themed elements and landscaping.

Another part of Resolution Copper’s ongoing effort to celebrate the history of the Magma Copper Company smelter has been the work of our contractor, WestLand Resources, Inc. (WestLand). WestLand carried out detailed architectural documentation of the smelter, using an aerial drone to take high-resolution photographs and video of each structure. The drone imagery was processed with specialized computer software to generate both conventional architectural drawings of individual structures as well as three-dimensional models of selected buildings. The drawings and other documentation have been used to complete the standard Historic Property Inventory Forms for individual structures typically required by the Arizona State Historic Preservation Office.

WestLand has consulted a wide variety of early maps, photographs, company records and other documents. These sources together provide a better understanding of when the different parts of the complex were built and used, along with new details on the smelter’s role in the history of both Magma Copper and the community of Superior. WestLand has also been conducting oral history interviews with former Magma employees who worked either at the smelter or in other parts of the Magma operation. The interviews have been recorded by a professional videographer, and excerpts of the recordings will be used to produce a video history of the smelter for public distribution.

WestLand has presented its research in a series of public meetings in Superior over the last few months. In addition, WestLand is working on a booklet about the history of the smelter that will include historic and recent maps and photographs. The smelter history booklet will be available for public distribution on December 21, 2018.

In the interim, Resolution Copper has collaborated with the Town of Superior and Boyce Thompson Arboretum to celebrate the smelter’s connections to the community by displaying a collection of historical photographs of the smelter complex at Boyce Thompson Arboretum. The exhibition, titled Images to Remember: The Magma Copper Company Smelter at Superior, consists of large reproductions of historic and recent photographs, a video display, maps and construction drawings of the smelter. The exhibition is installed in the Benson House at the Arboretum and will be open to the public free of charge from November 20, 2018, through May 20, 2019, during scheduled business hours (Fall-Winter hours: Monday-Sunday, 8 am to 5 pm, October thru April). For more information on viewing the smelter exhibition, contact Boyce Thompson Arboretum at (602) 827-3000.

arrested. Many of the two nationalities are coming to the city and further trouble is feared."

Arizona was not the only state to see violence between the two nationalities. Los Angeles reported hundreds of Serbians and Austrians fighting in the streets with perhaps two fatalities. In Joliet, Illinois in the large foreign settlement of steel mill workers, a riot broke out. The riot started when several hundred Austrians invaded a meeting of Serbians and jeered the speakers. Fights broke out with fists and clubs. It spilled into the street and revolvers were drawn and shots fired.

World War I was a horrific war. The introduction of mechanized warfare, poison gas and aircraft led to many deaths. Military deaths by battle wounds or disease were 8,500,000. Of those 45,000 were Serbians and 1,200,000 Austrians. I wonder how many of those men fighting in the streets and saloons of Globe returned to their homelands to fight and die on the fields in Europe.
