OBITUARIES

Mary Louise Eck

Mary Louise Eck, 93, went to see the Lord on Saturday, Nov. 7, 2020. She passed away due to complications brought on by COVID-19.

Born to the Reverend Jacob E. Dale and Mary A. Dale on June 20, 1927 in Wheeling, WV, she experienced a long life of service to her family, her church and her beloved community of Kearny. Mary Louise and husband Bob (who preceded her in death in 1995) operated Bob's Drive-In from the early 1960s until the mid-1980s where their children learned the valuable lesson of work ethic. After retiring from the Drive-In, Mary Louise never slowed down. She returned to university to complete what she started in her younger years and achieved a degree in Early Childhood Development. Soon after, she received the position of Town Librarian. As an avid reader, she loved to work with young people to promote the idea of "reading is fundamental" to success in learning. She especially enjoyed the children and the Story Hour for the young ones just learning how to read. Other interests included babysitting many of the local kids who, by now, have grandkids of their own. She also proofread for the Copper Basin News, Superior Sun and San Manuel Miner for several years.

Mary Louise believed that service to community was important and served in many organizations, including being a member of the Board of ARC, a member of P.E.O., the Board of the Copper Basin Community Health Care Foundation, the Library Board and Friends of the Library, and was named Kearny Citizen of the Year a few years back. Mary Louise was a member of a team of dedicated, concerned citizens that believed that maintaining health services in this area was essential. As a means of supporting the clinic, the team started the Hand-Me-Up Shop whose volunteers continue to serve the community today.

Being a daughter of a Lutheran minister, Mary Louise was deeply rooted in her faith. Along with a couple of other believers, they were instrumental in starting a mission Lutheran Church that met in the former Episcopal Church which eventually became the Hosler's home. After several years the congregational members dwindled and services were closed, so she found a new church home at the Church of the Good Shepherd (Methodist) where she was a member of the Leadership Team, sang in the choir and participated fully in all events and many Bible studies.

Mary Louise is survived by her four children, Richard (Linda) of Tyler, Texas, Cynthia Parker (Neil) of Chandler, George (Julie) of Mesa and Robert "R.E." of Apache Junction. She was blessed with 10 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren, all of whom, along with many other relatives and friends, will miss her, but realize she's now where she wanted to be.

Sam Hosler summarized Mary Louise's life best in an article he wrote about her in 2014 when he quoted Jesus. Jesus said, "I came not to be served, but to serve."

No immediate services are planned at present due to COVID-19, but a "Celebration of Life" service is planned after the pandemic has subsided.

Any that feel compelled to remember Mary Louise through gifting, please consider donating to the Church of the Good Shepherd, the Methodist Church of Kearny.

HWUSD getting a makeover

The Hayden High School and Leonor Hambly K-8 Elementary School classrooms are getting a new look with the old carpet being replaced with polished concrete. The project is being done through a school facilities flooring grant for more than $500,000 and it is in the final stages, said

Superintendent Gregorich.

"After decades of efforts to hide the many stains and wear and tear, the HW School District will replace the carpet with flooring that should last a lifetime. In addition, the amount of labor to maintain the polished concrete flooring is much cheaper and healthier for those who suffer from allergies," Gregorich added.

Gregorich also said the high school gym and elementary cafeteria are receiving air conditioning units with a second $500,000 grant through the school facilities board. He had dreamed about these projects for many years and finally received approval. Both are also in the final stages of installation.

"I cannot wait for the first volleyball game in August of 2021. I will be able to sit in the bleachers and enjoy the game in comfort. It was often too hot to sit in the gym. I had many fans complain it was too hot in the gym over the years. Swamp coolers in August just don't do the job in our area," said Gregorich.

The Hayden High School mini stage is being recarpeted and ready for its next big program, which I hope is soon," said Superintendent Jeff Gregorich.

Hayden cancels winter sports season; AIA recommends postponement

The Hayden-Winkelman Unified School District announced last week that it will continue distance learning online through the end of the first semester, Jan. 28, 2021. Along with it, the district canceled the winter sports season, including basketball and wrestling, at both the junior and senior high schools.

"The cancelation was due to the concern for the safety of the players and their families as COVID-19 numbers continue to rise," said HWUSD Superintendent Jeff Gregorich in a press release.

The district will revisit returning to on-campus learning in January. It's assumed a decision on the spring sports season will made shortly thereafter.

The AIA announced this week that a recommendation to postpone the start of the winter sports season throughout the state may be forthcoming. Schools in the Copper Corridor have been allowed to start practice under the matrix provided by the Arizona Interscholastic Association, however, no competition is allowed to commence until COVID-19 numbers decrease in Pinal County and elsewhere. Schools in Maricopa County have not been permitted to start practice and with the potential push back looming, those schools likely won't begin until January, at the earliest.

Florence Prison and the Mexican Revolution

Copper Area News has received some articles from a former corrections officer from Arizona State Prison. This retired officer spent 25 years with the Arizona Department of Corrections working all custody levels from juvenile detention units to Death Row. The author wishes to remain anonymous. He hopes to provide the readers with a view of what it is like working with inmates and what life is like behind prison walls.

INTRODUCTION

Antonio Villarreal

The job of a corrections officer is not easy. The nature of the job, working with men or women behind bars can be stressful. Working in high custody units can add to the stress. The Arizona Department of Corrections has a high staff turnover rate. One in five staff members quit within the first couple of years of being hired or use the training and experience they receive to transfer to Sheriff departments or Federal corrections. Maximum custody inmates are either there because they are doing

Like many former Arizona Department of Corrections employees and citizens of the town of Florence, I was shocked and saddened to hear that the original Florence prison yard was going to be shut down by the state. The old prison opened in 1908. For me it holds a lot of memories and an enthralling history. Many interesting characters including inmates and staff have passed through the gates. Even Hollywood celebrities have visited the prison. With that in mind, a few stories about the history of the Florence Prison seem appropriate.

You may wonder, what does the prison at Florence, Arizona and the Mexican Revolution have in common? But, did you know that three important people involved in the Mexican Revolution of 1910 long sentences, are convicted of violent crimes or they are problem inmates while in prison. Inmates on Death Row are under a sentence of death and have nothing to lose by acting out against staff or other inmates. Officers must always be on the alert to prevent these inmates from harming other inmates or staff. To understand the type of inmates that are housed on Death Row, I will provide you with a few of their stories, the crimes they committed and some of their prison life.

- 1920 were once inmates at the Florence Territorial Prison. These inmates were Ricardo Flores Magon, Antonio I. Villareal and Librado Rivera. Not much is known of their stay at the prison but they continued to espouse their political ideas and advocate for the revolution while in prison and upon their release. Thomas Rynning was the first Warden of the Territorial Prison at Florence. He also played a part in the history of the Mexican Revolution in an incident that is considered to be a spark that may have ignited the revolution.

Ricardo Flores Magon is not a well known name in the United States but in the country of Mexico he is revered as one of the most important figures in the Mexican Revolution. Using his newspaper "Regeneracion" and his organizing of the workers for the Industrial Workers of the World (IWW), he boldly criticized the injustices of Mexico's military dictatorship led by Porfirio Diaz. Magon was an anarchist and one of the founders of the Parrido Liberal Mexicano (Mexican Liberal Party). He worked to build the revolutionary movement that would eventually overthrow Diaz. In 1904, due to his political alliances and his criticism of the Diaz government, he was threatened with death and forced to leave Mexico, fleeing to the United States.

In the United States, Magon and his associates continued to publish their newspaper and agitate for a revolution in Mexico. The Mexican and United States governments then began to repress him and his movement. His association with the Industrial Workers of the World or Wobblies as they were commonly known was seen as a threat to capitalism in the United States.

PRISON STORIES

In 1907, Magon along with Librado Rivera and Antonio I. Villareal were arrested in Los Angeles, California for alleged violations of the U.S. neutrality laws. They were held in jail for 20 months without a trial. In March 1909, they were moved to Tombstone, Arizona for trial. They were convicted of "Conspiring to Commit an Offense Against the United States" and sentenced to serve 18 months in the Territorial Prison in Yuma.

They were moved to the newly built Territorial Prison in Florence, Arizona where they were held incommunicado. They were not allowed to have any writing published nor could they write letters. It is known that Magon was able to smuggle out letters through his attorney. He would also sew articles and letters into his underwear. An inmate laundry worker sympathetic to the revolutionary cause would then remove the papers and have them mailed. Articles would then be printed in newspapers and magazines under the name of Magon's wife. Magon, Rivera and Villareal were released from the Florence Prison in 1910.

Magon and Rivera continued to advocate for the revolution, social justice and worker's rights. Villareal returned to Mexico and joined the fighting on the side of Francisco Madero against Porfirio Diaz. He would become a general and later Governor for the state of Nuevo Leon. In 1920 he served as the Minister of Agriculture in President Alvaro Obregon's cabinet.

Magon and Rivera would be arrested by the U.S. government again in 1918 for using the U.S. mail to incite murder, arson and treason. Editorials published in their newspaper called for all anarchists to revolt and spoke out against America's involvement in World War I. For these crimes, Rivera was sentenced to 15 years in prison. He would serve 5 years and be deported to Mexico. Magon was sentenced to 20 years. He would die at Leavenworth prison (some say he was murdered) in 1922.

In 1945, Magon's remains were repatriated to Mexico and now rest in the Rotunda de los Hombres Ilustres located in Mexico City. The Rotunda for Illustrious Men was created to honor all Mexicans who "gave prestige to the nation". In Mexico, many streets, schools, neighborhoods and some towns are named for Ricardo Flores Magon.

ASARCO donates masks and education supplies

On Monday, Nov. 9, Hayden-Winkelman School Superintendent Jeff Gregorich met with Asarco Mining Community

Outreach Coordinator, James Steward, and Grupo Mexico Facilities Manager, Sandra Elizonda, who provided masks and educational supplies for students. The donations were to help support our students and local school districts.

Superintendent Jeff Gregorich asked Mr. Steward if there was a reopening plan in progress?

Mr. Steward said, "With the price of copper going up, it makes sense to continue mining operations at ASARCO. Unfortunately, we do not have specific information or dates at this time."

"Our local economy relies on the long-lasting partnership with Asarco/Grupo Mexico and reopening the smelter to bring back workers is important for the local schools and community," Gregorich said.

They discussed the need for skilled workers for the copper industry. Asarco/Grupo Mexico supports the local college and career technical programs. These programs provide the skilled work force for the future.

CAC Aravaipa welding and industrial technology programs were in the process of ramping up their programs when the COVID-19 shutdown came and these programs were stopped. The college had invested hundreds of thousands of dollars into these programs.

"I was disappointed that COVID-19 temporarily closed the Aravaipa CAC welding and industrial trades programs. These programs are a big part of our local high schools' college and career readiness programs," said Mr. Gregorich.

"The college and high school had been working together to offer high-tech training to prepare local students for high paying industry level jobs of the future. Mining operations rely on these highly skilled workers for their future," added Gregorich

Both Gregorich and Steward agreed that these technical college programs are critical to the future of our community and Asarco/Grupo Mexico plan to work together to restore these programs as soon as possible.

Sandra Elizonda Grupo Mexico Facilities Manager, Hayden-Winkelman School District Superintendent Jeff Gregorich and James Steward Asarco Mining Community Outreach Coordinator stand six feet apart with some of the donations.
