So Where is Kearny?

This past weekend I went back to Winslow, where I spent my high school years and where I also served as an Episcopal priest before I moved to Kearny. It was a sad/happy occasion, the funeral of my wonderful nephew, Jim, who died just short of his 52nd birthday.

I saw many people I had not seen in years, both friends and family, and as we caught up on things I was asked, several times, "So where is Kearny?"

This question always surprises me. Why don't people, especially native Arizonans, know about Kearny? I gave most of them an answer that goes like this: "Kearny is a wonderful small mining town reached by driving East from Phoenix on Highway 60 to Superior. Turn south at Superior and drive 22 miles over two beautiful mountain passes and drop down into the Copper Basin where Kearny lies nestled above the banks of the Gila River." I have a similar answer prepared using Tucson as a reference point.

Maybe my answer to the question is part of the problem. It uses Phoenix and Tucson (two large cities) as the starting point. That might be a practical way to answer the question, but I am tempted to answer in a different way: "Kearny is in the heart of Arizona's copper industry, a driving force in Arizona's economy. It's on the Gila River, one of the great water sources for central Arizona. The elevation (2,000 feet) is also the population (2,000 people), and the beauty of the Sonoran Desert and the mountain ranges lies all around us."

Maybe I should use that answer more. It seems that many people in Arizona think that mining is a "used-to-be" thing, and they are surprised to learn that our mine is the second largest in Arizona.

There is more to Arizona than shopping malls and movie theaters, and Kearny is one of the best towns in Arizona because we don't have such things and don't have to drive in heavy traffic, either. And we are blessed with winter citizens from other states who know Kearny's wonderful qualities.

What do you say when someone asks you where Kearny is? Please let me know. You can find me most mornings in the Post Office.

Projects that will boost economy and jobs in eastern Pinal County outlined at Pinal Partnership meet

Progress reported on Resolution Copper Project, Arizona Sky Casino, CCA prison expansion

By James Hodl
Copper Area News

Economic and job prospects in district one of Pinal County are looking up, according to Pete Rios, who represents the district in the county board of supervisors.

Speaking at the Nov. 14 breakfast meeting of the Pinal Partnership at the Coolidge Center For the Performing Arts, Rios noted that several projects with the potential to create new jobs and boost the economy within the district have been proposed or are nearing conclusion.

District one is the largest of Pinal County's five board of supervisors districts encompassing the sparsely populated eastern section including the towns of Superior, Kearny, Mammoth, Dudleyville, Oracle and San Manuel. It also takes in parts of Florence and Eloy.

"Pinal County has much to offer," Rios said in his opening statements at the meeting which he hosted. "We have lots of open spaces, rivers that actually flow, and a ready and eager workforce. And we have a can-do spirit that gets things done, such as the restoration of the Florence County Courthouse. The proposal that Pinal build a new courthouse and level the old one for use as a parking lot. But the courthouse building is part of our heritage and history, so we renovated it and repurposed its use, leaving in place a structure that also makes Florence a tourist destination."

Gary Murrey, GM Apache Sky Casino, speaks at the Pinal Partnership meeting.

James Hodl | Copper Area News

Among future projects Rios proposed for Pinal County include an upgrading of Central Arizona College into an institution offering four-year degrees. He further proposed an upgrading of Route 77 to make the trip to the White Mountains and Aravaipa Canyon so the people from Tucson and Phoenix can get to the skiing, hunting and horseback riding areas quicker and safer.

Rios turned the podium over to speakers who addressed a major project that could soon have a positive effect on the Pinal County economy and spur job growth.

Work on the Apache Sky Casino on a 230-acre site along Highway 77 near Dudleyville is proceeding on schedule, said Gary Murrey, CEO and general manager of Apache Sky and its sister site, the 20-year-old Apache Gold Casino near Globe. Although a problem was encountered (unstable soil due to a high gypsum content) it was quickly resolved, enabling phase one of the project to open by April 2015, he noted.

Apache Sky will be an actual gaming facility, with up to 600 slot machines, 12 table games, six poker tables, and a full-service restaurant and lounge offering both indoor and outdoor patio seating. Once open, the casino will create 400 jobs for local residents.

In the second phase of the project, a hotel will be built with features that could include a theater, bowling alley and conference center, Murrey said. Both the Apache Star and Apache Gold casinos are operated under an agreement with the San Carlos Apache Tribe.

Corrections Corporation of America (CCA), already the largest single employer

Chris Bannon of Biosphere 2 was in attendance at the Pinal Partnership meeting.

Celebrating our Heritage with Christmas Music

Kearny - Celebrate our Heritage with music at the annual Electric Light parade in Kearny, Sat. Dec.6. Whether it is I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas, Silent Night, Here Comes Santa, or Joy to the World, music at Christmas warms the heart and gets us in the Christmas spirit.

This year brings many changes to the Electric Light Parade, which will now be known as the Winter Festival. Besides the name, the venue and the direction of the parade have also been changed. All activities will be held on Alden Street in the center of town.

The more things change, the more they stay the same. There will still be the same good fellowship, great parade entries, tasty treats and vendors.

At 3 p.m. there will be a few vendors with their hand crafted items for early stocking stuffers. The parade will line up in the Kearny Town Hall parking lot at Jamestown starting at 5 p.m., then, will travel up Tilbury to Alden where the floats and marchers will stop in front of the judges at the Pinal County Building and proceed to the parking area between the ARC and Kearny Drug. Clubs, organizations, school groups and individuals are encouraged to participate. Glow sticks are great for lighting and there are battery lit strings of lights for easy decoration.

The Junior Chamber members will have hot chocolate and cookies for sale and the Chamber will be selling posole and menudo.

If you have not received a parade application in the mail drop by the Chamber office, if the office door is closed there will be some on the rack by the door. There is no charge to enter. The forms need to be submitted by by Wed. Dec. 3 so that parade entry comments can be written up for the Master of Ceremonies. It is first come first served for the lineup.

The Love Light Ceremony with Luminarios will be held Friday, Dec. 19 at 6:30 pm. Angels may be purchased from Joan McCallister or at the Chamber office and Junior Chamber members are selling luminarios. Both are in memory or in honor of friends, relatives or anyone you want to honor. There will be a booth set up during the parade to sell both items. This is a very sentimental tribute with the luminarios lighting up Alden Street. The Angel love lights proceeds go to a scholarship and luminarios proceeds will go to a charity of the Junior Chambers choice.

Are you ready for the parade? Get those generators and lights out!

1 (12 pound) whole turkey
1/4 cup olive oil
2 chopped apples
3 tablespoon minced garlic
2 tablespoon fresh chopped rosemary
1 tablespoon chopped fresh basil
Salt & pepper to taste
1 (20 pound) bag high quality charcoal briquettes
Hickory chips or chunks

Mix the olive oil, garlic, rosemary, basil, Italian seasoning, black pepper and salt. Set aside.

Wash the turkey inside and out; pat dry. Loosen the skin from the breast by slowly working your fingers between the breast and the skin. Work it loose to the end of the drumstick

With hand, spread a generous amount of the rosemary mixture under the breast skin and down the thigh and leg. Rub the remainder of the rosemary mixture over the outside of the breast.

Place chopped apples inside the turkey

Place the turkey in a roasting pan. Add about 1/4 inch of water to the bottom of the pan. Place hickory chips in water around turkey.

Place the charcoal into the bottom pan of the smoker. Light the coals and wait for the temperature of the smoker to come to 240°F. Place turkey pan onto the grill grate.

Add 2 handfuls damp chips on the coals at start of cooking, then a handful every couple of hours during the cooking process. Leave the lid on! Continue smoking until the internal temperature of the turkey reaches 180°F or keep going until the coals die out. Approximately 6 hours (30 minutes for every pound).

Bearcats looking for scorers in 2014-15

By Andrew Luberd
Copper Basin News

The Bearcats boys' basketball team will need to replace two-thirds of its average points per game. The departure of Dominic Bravo and Quentin Camacho leaves a scoring void that needs to be filled.

Returning varsity starters Destry Yocum and Josh Miramontes are expected to replace some of the lost scoring from last year. The seniors are the top returning scorers on this year's team.

Seth Harmon, Ramon Martinez, Roy White and Adonis Klockenga are returning players with varsity experience. "We lost our starting guards," Ray head coach Jeff Cude said in an email to the Copper Basin News. "We are going to have to get some good inside production from Destry and Ramon."

Cude is satisfied that he can replace the high-scoring combo of Bravo and Camacho.

"We have some good guards coming back who are playing well in practice," he said.

Finding a player or a group of players to replace the missing points from last year is not the most important part to being successful on the court this season, according to Cude.

"We need to play well defensively as a team to be competitive this year," he declared.

The Bearcats open their season next Tuesday, Nov. 25, at Ft. Thomas. The game is scheduled for 7 p.m.

PINAL PARTNERSHIP

in Pinal County, will soon add additional jobs as it adds 744 beds to the Eloy Detention Center, said John Glutch, former warden and current consultant to the facility.

A privately owned and operated prison, the Eloy Detention Center already has about 1,600 beds which are used for housing prisoners from within Arizona and from other states, and in housing illegal immigrants earmarked for deportation by the US Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) agency. The additional 744 beds will require building two additional prison blocks, creating temporary construction jobs and later additional full-time prison jobs, Glutch explained.

The additional beds will be used to incarcerate female prisoners and to house illegal immigrant families prior to deportation, he added.

A major milestone in the development of Resolution Copper block cave mining project near Superior was within days of being realized, Dave Richins, Resolution's principal government affairs advisor told the audience.

Work on the No. 10 shaft was nearing the target depth of 6,943 feet and will likely be reached before Thanksgiving, Richins said. The current progress was made possible by the installation of state-of-the-art ventilation and cooling equipment that ended the suffocating heat that was slowing work, he explained.

Resolution Copper's Superior operation is using the block cave mining method used at more than 20 countries around the world. This method has environmental, safety and cost advantages that make it suited to mining large, low-grade, deep ore bodies that otherwise would not be feasible or economically viable using alternative methods such as open pit or cut and fill, Richins noted.

Panel caving is more efficient than other underground mining methods for this type of deposit and uses gravity primarily to break the rock. It will allow Resolution Copper to mine the most ore while creating the least amount of waste, he added.

The process begins with an initial round of explosives at the bottom of the ore body to break up the rock. Then rock is funneled downward and removed. The void created in the removal process allows gravity to continue forcing the ore body downward. Automated loaders transfer the ore onto trains, where it is transported, crushed, and then conveyed to the surface for additional processing.

Pre-smelter processing will be performed near Superior, Florence Junction and Magma Junction. Current plans call for shipping the copper ore to a smelter in Utah, though some smelting could be done in Arizona in the future.

Ultimately the Resolution Copper project could create 3,700 jobs in northern Pinal County, Richins said.

Repurposing of Biosphere II towering over SaddleBrooke into the world's largest earth science laboratory also can add to economy of southern Pinal County, said Chris Bannon, director of economic and enterprise development at the University of Arizona.

Current plans call for improving educational and research facilities (including a landscape evolution observatory) on the Biosphere II property and to build a conference center that can be used not only by scientific organizations but also for corporate events, Bannon said. Once these conferences are over, attendees can couple their trips into vacations taking them into Pinal County's Aravaipa Canyon and the White Mountains for hiking, hunting, bird-watching or simply to relax at one of the area's bed and breakfasts.

Scott Bender, Pinal County engineer, gave a progress report on the creation of a North-South Corridor through the county's rapidly growing areas to provide faster highway travel with a link to I-10. An impact statement listing four possible routes to the Arizona Department of Transportation in mid-October with public hearings on the plans scheduled shortly thereafter.

Tim Kanavel, Pinal County economic development program manager, also reported progress being made on Inland Port Arizona, a large railroad hub planned for Picacho near Coolidge. Located east of Highway 87 between Hume Road and House Road, the 1,637 acre facility will serve as a hub where goods arriving at the port of Long Beach, Calif. will be sent by rail car to be assembled into trains according to the goods' ultimate destination.

In the works for nine years, Kanavel is certain the project will get the go-ahead from the state next year as both candidates for governor made the railroad hub a priority project in their campaigns.

Coolidge Mayor Tom Shope also told of how Coolidge is repurposing an old school building ("where I attended elementary school years ago," Shope said) into an Artisan Village. To be redeveloped in stages, the facility will eventually provide work areas for artisans to create their crafts and galleries in which to sell them; places where entrepreneurs can launch new businesses; and flexible classrooms where educational programs and seminars can be staged. The Coolidge Chamber of Commerce also will relocate its offices into the Artisan Village.

Shope added that the Coolidge Center For the Performing Arts (built in 1977) was in the process of upgrading so that it can finally meet its potential as a venue for plays, concerts and performances.

CCAB musical concert rocks Kearny

By Nina Crowder
Copper Basin News

It was an incredible night of musical entertainment for all to enjoy at the Ray High School Auditorium. The Copper Community Action Board (CCAB) put together a terrific musical event. The CCAB is a group working toward the future prosperity and pride of our local communities. The CCAB has performed various clean up's in Dudleyville, Hayden, trash pick-up and overgrown weed removal from the Winkelman Historical Bridge, an ice cream social in Kearny and many other projects for the local communities.

Performers of the evening consisted of Brandon Drahos who is pursuing a career in entertainment and came from Los Angeles, Calif. and Anissa Newman has been singing for about four years. She enjoys photography as a hobby and is currently in school to be a health records administrator. Other performers included Joshua Godoy and his group from Snowflake, Ariz. He writes his own songs and one was in reference to Domestic Violence. Josette Kimmel sang beautifully and also played the Marshmellow Woman, she is currently attending Central Arizona College. Danny Fessenden played for Ray High School and many bands, he encourages young and old to learn to play and instrument or sing. Johnny Silva works for ASARCO, current fire chief of Hayden and president of CCAB. Johnny Angel is a Hayden senior who loves Frank Sinatra and is taking fire science classes through the CVIT program. Luciano "Lucky" Romero learned to play the guitar under the guidance of Adeline Martinez while helping St. Joseph's Children's Choir. He also helps the Ronald McDonald House, Better Together campaign and other foundations. Bernadette Munoz has been singing since her early teens and has made a local CD, she has also auditioned for television contests. All the performers were outstanding.

All the participant's musical talents were thoroughly enjoyed by over 100 people. The music was moving and a real pleasure to listen to! We are lucky to have such talented people in our Tri-Community and even the ones who came from long distances to perform for the community.

For more upcoming events or to volunteer with Copper Community Action Board email them at coppercommunityactionboard@ymail.com

com or visit them on Facebook at Copper Community Action Board. Special thanks to Martina Burnam for all the clean up and decorations and to the Ray High School board for the use of the auditorium to hold the event. The Copper Basin Chamber of Commerce was also a big help in sponsoring this event! Thank you to all the people and sponsors who help make events such as this special!
