Happy Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving Day is apparently devolving into Turkey Day, football, and long naps. But I want to advance Thanksgiving Day as one single day when we focus on all the good relationships and happenings in our lives.

As your Mayor, I have worked with lots of people over the last four years. I'm not going to name names for fear of leaving many people off my list. Instead, I simply give thanks for people such as everyone in our Police Department, Fire Department, and Emergency Medical Services. Twenty-four hours, seven days a week, they are there for us. They are extraordinary people doing great work. They are also some of the "first givers" in terms of doing volunteer work of all kinds.

Our town's Public Works Department is made up of able and devoted people. Water, water treatment, sewer, roads, buildings, landscape, and more things than I can mention is in their bailiwick. They are always ready for any emergency and, to tell the truth, we have had lots of emergencies to deal with.

Kearny's Support Staff is renowned among similar towns for its devotion and competence. Unlike many small towns, our finances handled and our auditors are proud of their efforts. They handle everything that ties Kearny together, from finances to citizen groups (think of Senior Citizens and Journey to a Clean Kearny) and on to other things such as economic development, grant applications and management, and planning.

One big thing for which I give thanks is this year's rebuilding of our water filtration system after years of frustration. We had dirty water for many years. Now we don't.

Arizona Game and Fish officials release 11 Arizona Desert Bighorn Sheep into the Aravaipa Canyon Saturday.

Arizona Game and Fish release 31 Bighorn Sheep into the Galiuro Mountains

On Saturday, Nov. 26, 2016, with little fanfare, the Galiuro Mountains became home 31 new residents. Arizona Game and Fish relocated 31 Desert Bighorn Sheep, captured Friday in the Silverbell Mountains. Eleven were released at Aravaipa Canyon and 20 were released at Redfield Canyon near Redington.

Mark Hart, Public Information Officer for Arizona Game and Fish, said that of the 31 sheep released, six were rams and the rest were ewes. Ten were equipped with radio GPS tracking collars. Each group, he said, included one collared ram.

Hart said that a survey in 2015 counted 127 Bighorn Sheep in the Galiuros.

The Bighorn Sheep relocation program has been ongoing since 1973 in partnership with the Arizona Desert Bighorn Sheep Society.

Welcome to the neighborhood.

Maintenance 2 were the winners of the Food Drive Softball Tournament.

Asarco employees: softball tournament and food drive

Asarco employees last week collected more than 400 cans of food plus non-perishable food items for the St. Vincent de Paul Food Bank by playing a softball tournament.

Players and spectators were asked to bring canned goods or non-perishable items as admission to the games.

About 55 employees participated in the tournament, all having fun and playing for a great cause.

Enrique Lopez, who grew up in the Copper Basin area, was the organizer of the tournament.

The first game featured the Maintenance 1 and the SXEW employees. Game two paired the Maintenance 2 and Electricians. Winners of these two games, Maintenance 2 and SXEW employees, advanced to the final round of the tournament with Maintenance 2 winning the tournament 17-16.

“This is a good example where people working together can benefit the community,” Lopez said.

The employees plan a similar fundraiser for “Toys for Tots” on December 16.

A small portion of the food collected.

Get your generator tuned up and dust off those lights. It's time to start designing your float for the Winter Wonderland Electric Light Parade, Dec. 3, in Kearny.

Copper Basin Chamber plans 'Homemade Country Christmas'

Thanksgiving, Black Friday, Shop Hometown Small Business Saturday and Giving Tuesday are here. Spend wisely and give generously to your favorite charity. The Turkey Bowl Softball games between Hayden and Ray have been cancelled. Maybe next year.

There is just one week until the Electric Light Parade and Winter Festival which will be held Saturday, Dec. 3. The theme is Homemade Country Christmas. For the younger generations everything has been available. Electronics galore, from computers to every kind of phones, even the availability of fruits, nuts and candy. For the generation of those 60 and older we remember the brown bags given out at school or Church pageants filled with an apple, orange, walnuts and some kind of Christmas candy (peppermints, ribbon candy, or if you were lucky maybe a piece of chocolate). Tree decorations were paper chains, popcorn or cranberry chains and lots of tinsel so the limited number of lights really shone.

There were always plays at school and Church. Those were the days when religious themes were allowed in school. A visit from Santa was the best treat and if you were lucky enough to live in an area where there was snow that made it feel all the more Christmas.

Use your imagination and decorate your float following the theme of a Homemade Country Christmas. Sounds

'Posole Friday' and Thanksgiving Weekend Fall Festival at Arboretum

Thursday after most overstuffed Thanksgiving eaters retreat to the couch for a nap, Chef Eric will be tending his backyard smoker,

checking and basting a 10-pound, chipotle-seasoned pork shoulder over six mesquite-smoke-accented hours to make the base for a savory pot of posole -- which the Chandler Chef will sell by the $5 bowlful on 'Black Friday' at Boyce Thompson Arboretum starting at 10:30 a.m. Nov. 25.

What's Posole? A New York Times food reviewer wrote: "This savory and hearty, rather soupy stew made from dried large white corn kernels simmered for hours, is traditional and easy to prepare. Stir in a ruddy red purée of dried New Mexico chiles to give the stew its requisite kick. This is satisfying, nourishing, fortifying fare. The corn stays a little bit chewy in a wonderful way (canned hominy never does), and the spicy broth is beguiling."

Daily admission is $10, and the Arboretum is open 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Thanksgiving Thursday, all day Friday - and next weekend brings the annual Fall Foliage Finale Festival with arts-and-crafts vendors, hot-spiced cider and live music beneath the famous grove of Chinese Pistachio trees. Arboretum staff report foliage appears to be later than usual this year: honey locust trees are in lovely color this week, but the stately Chinese pistachios were barely beginning to show orange hues at leaf tips last week. Check the progress of Fall color and see new photos posted daily at facebook.com/btarboretum

Thanksgiving weekend's Fall Foliage Finale Festival Nov. 26-27 capitalizes on yearly color. Avondale recording artist Russ Braman will be onstage Saturday beneath the canopy of colorful trees along with two other guitarists; arts and crafts vendors nearby include Mesa ceramic artist Ellen Winstead, San Tan Valley jewelry artisans Barbara and Adi Pohan, and more. Chef Eric Naddy of Tall Order Catering will have hearty soup and chili for $4-a-bowl (carry cash); and our popular hot-spiced cider will be available each day until supplies run out. Sunday music features Nouveau Papillon: Scott Schaefer and Mark Bensette Aux Bois sharing the stage and filling Queen Creek Canyon with ethereal flute, harp, didgeridoo and guitar starting around 11 a.m.

Ray High School's annual Senior Interview Day was held on Monday, Nov. 21, giving potential graduates a chance to see how it works in the real world.

All seniors participated in a mock interview with former Ray High School graduates who have gone on to be successful in their chosen field. Seniors have to present themselves as if it were a real interview and are asked to dress professionally and have with them their application, cover letter, and resume - which are completed in their senior English class in the weeks prior to the event. Instruction on job interviewing skills and how to conduct themselves in an interview is also provided.

Each student had a 15-20 minute interview with their assigned interviewer. They are then evaluated on their application materials and interview and feedback is provided to them on their evaluation form. The experience helps better prepare seniors for real life interviews as they participate in their job search in the future.

Each interviewer was assigned six seniors to interview and from their pool of applicants they award a "Top Job Applicant Award" to the senior in their group who they would have offered the job to. This year's Top Job Applicants were Charly Romero, Jonah Cude, Ryan Amos, Marcus Munoz, and August Patterson. The Top Job Applicants then had a group interview with the 5 interviewers and the overall winner was Charly Romero who received a $100 Amazon gift certificate.

What to do after a non-injury, fender bender collision: 'Quick Clearance' keeps motorists, emergency responders safe, traffic moving

PHOENIX – If you're involved in a freeway fender bender, the misconception that it's best to stay put can leave you in danger, create hazardous slowing and lane changes for all drivers, and increase risks for emergency responders.

That's why the Arizona Department of Transportation and Arizona Department of Public Safety need you to know about the practice of Quick Clearance, in which drivers involved in minor crashes that don't involve injuries get their vehicles out of travel lanes as soon as it's safe to do so.

No one wants to be in this situation, but with a vehicle crash occurring almost every five minutes in Arizona, everyone should know how best to stay safe following a minor, non-injury collision.

Reasons for practicing Quick Clearance begin with a state law that requires a driver involved in a minor crash without injuries to remove a vehicle from the roadway if it is operable and can be moved safely. Doing this is safer for drivers involved in the crash, fellow motorists and emergency responders.

"Many drivers have been taught not to move their vehicles until law enforcement arrives on scene, but that is not correct," said DPS Sgt. John Paul Cartier. "Every traffic incident management principle confirms drivers can greatly impact safety, reduce congestion and reduce secondary collisions. Drivers who comply with Quick Clearance state law make a positive difference in many lives."

Quickly moving your vehicle out of travel lanes provides a safer environment to inspect your car for damage. Moving your vehicle to the emergency shoulder, median or exiting the highway also provides a safer environment for first responders and keeps travel lanes clear for other vehicles, reducing the chance of a secondary collision. Of the 29 DPS troopers killed in the line of duty, 11 were struck and killed in secondary crashes on state highways.

ADOT and DPS are promoting Quick Clearance as part of a nationwide effort among transportation, law enforcement and other first responder agencies and organizations as part of National Traffic Incident Management Week (Nov. 13-19). On Wednesday and Thursday, many overhead highway signs statewide will display the following message:

FENDER BENDER?
SAVE YOUR REAR AND QUICKLY CLEAR

If you are involved in a crash, the first action to take is to make sure you and occupants in your vehicle are OK. Then, if your vehicle is operable, move to the emergency shoulder, median or exit the highway and call 911. Stay out of travel lanes, be alert and watch approaching traffic. Remember: Never leave the scene of a crash.

MAYOR

Next year I know that we will give thanks at this time for other things in Kearny's future. Grants and some loans will be involved, because we will tackle some overdue things in our infrastructure.

Let's keep doing things together. Please take part in the Planning Meeting which will take place Monday, December 5, at 6 p.m. in Constitution Hall. Mr. Brad Mecham of Central Arizona Governments is working with us to provide economic development and our ten-year plan for the Town of Kearny. This meeting is specifically for community input. Come: share your hopes and concerns, and listen as all of us offer our ideas. Thank you, residents of Kearny, and have a happy and blessed Thanksgiving Day.

Teaching young kids gratitude extends beyond the holiday season

As the holiday season approaches, it is the perfect time to teach young children a very important life lesson about gratitude that will extend beyond the season.

Gratitude is a higher level concept that can be tricky for toddlers and preschoolers, who by their nature, tend to be self-focused. Talking with young children about being thankful for not only material things, but for acts of kindness from others, is one way.

As children grow with gratitude, they become more understanding of the needs and feelings of others.

So, how do we teach our children to be grateful? Here are five tips from First Things First, gathered from child development experts and websites:

Teach children to say thank you to everyone who does something for them – their server at a restaurant, the older sibling who helps them pick up toys, or the friend who gives them a birthday gift.

Talk about the things you are grateful for. This can be done in many ways, from a blessing before dinner to keeping a family gratitude journal.

Tell your kids why you are grateful for them. Remind your children of your gratitude by using specific reasons why they are special and loved. For example: I appreciate the way you help your brother tie his shoes.

Support a charitable event or organization.

Whether you are donating old clothes or toys, participating in a food drive, or even baking cookies for a new neighbor, talk to children about what those actions mean to those who receive the kindness.

Be consistent. Like all skills, gratitude is not learned in one lesson.

The first five years offer the opportunity for children to develop the skills they need to be successful students and successful adults. Research shows that thankful people are usually more optimistic and are less depressed and stressed. So, when we teach our children to appreciate what they have – and what others do for them – we are helping them to become happier, healthier adults.

About First Things First – First Things First is a voter-created, statewide organization that funds early education and health programs to help kids be successful once they enter kindergarten. Decisions about how those funds are spent are made by local councils staffed by community volunteers. To learn more, visit FirstThingsFirst.org.

easy enough. Be sure to pick up an application at the Chamber office. This is a very important step in order to place the floats in order and a short sentence about the float so the Master of Ceremonies can announce your float as it passes. The Parade line up is at the area by the Teen Center with smaller floats lining up in front of Kearny Town Hall and larger floats will line up on Jamestown starting at 5:00 pm with the parade starting at 6:00 and ending at the GKI. Since it is dark at 5 p.m. it is hard to have to write last minute notes for the MC, therefore it is important to have a legible script ready at parade lineup.

Uptown on Alden there will be vendors with their homemade items which make great gifts. Menudo and posole will be sold in front of the Chamber office. There is no charge for the parade entries nor for the vendors. Just let Angela know at the Chamber office for vendor space.

Alden will be closed between the Bank and Ace as soon as the parade ends so the children will be safe as they rush to visit with Santa and Mrs. Claus.

One of the most memorable and inspirational events of the season is the Love Light and Luminarios on Monday, Dec 19. If there is a love one you want to remember, purchase an angel. At the ceremony the name will be read and the angel hung on the tree. Luminarios will be available for purchase from Junior Chamber members in honor of or in memory of whomever. The luminarios will be lit just before the Love Light ceremony.

Have a very merry Homemade Country Christmas from the Copper Basin Chamber Board members.
