OBITUARIES

Clarence Authur Hayes

Clarence Authur Hayes, 67, also known to friends and family as "Tootie," passed away Thursday, Nov. 19, 2015 in Mesa Arizona.

He was born Jan. 8, 1948 in Harrison, Arkansas. He was a diesel mechanic in the United States Navy from April 1968 until his discharge in January of 1972. He then was an exploration driller around the southwest and Alaska until 1977 when he moved to Arizona to be closer to his family. In 1988 he and his brother George started the local ice cream trucks that everyone in town grew up with until they retired in 2013.

Clarence is preceded in death by his father, Glenn Hayes; mother, Euna Hayes; brother, Hercule Hayes; and loving brother-in-law, Joe Atchison.. He leaves behind his brothers, George Hayes of Kearny and Glenn Hayes Jr. (Margie) of Oklahoma; and sister, Dorothea Atchison of Kearny.

Clarence leaves behind lots of nieces and nephews who he helped raise. He really enjoyed spending time with his family and became one of the kids whenever there were kids around. He was loved by so many and will be dearly missed.

A graveside burial will be held at his final resting place in Duncan, Arizona, on Jan. 23, 2016.

William Rodriquez Villalobos

William Rodriquez Villalobos, 90, born Nov. 28, 1924 in Tormey, CA to Emilio and Maria Villalobos, passed away peacefully, surrounded by his family, Nov. 16, 2015 at TMC's Hospice Peppi's House in Tucson, AZ.

He was preceded in death by his wife of 37 years Elvira Villalobos and daughter Melinda Real. He is survived by his daughters, Juanita (Gerardo) de Luna and Elizabeth (Ralph) Rivera.

A self-taught man of deep faith, many talents and a loving husband, father, grandfather and friend. He will be missed by many.

Services were held Thursday, Nov. 19, 2015 at St. Joseph Catholic Church in Hayden. Interment was at Mountain View Cemetery, Hayden.

Pinal County offers holiday safety tips for leftover food

FLORENCE - The Pinal County Public Health Services District, Environmental Health Services would like to wish everyone a safe and happy holiday season. Holidays are times we share the kitchen with family and friends. With all the food being prepared as we celebrate, having leftover food is inevitable. Proper handling of leftover foods is one of the best things you can do to keep your family and friends safe from food-borne illness.

Put Foods Away Promptly

While everyone is busy celebrating, it is very easy to overlook the foods sitting on the counter or on the dinner table. Everyone is stuffed from their holiday meal and it can be difficult to find motivation to clean up. Also, there is a lot of temptation to leave foods out so we can nibble on them or so they may be available for guests who arrive late. The one thing that should be prioritized after the meal is to put the foods away. The "danger zone" is between 41°F and 135°F - the temperature range where food-borne bacteria multiply rapidly. The time that food sits on the counter should be minimized and certainly should not exceed two hours. Be sure your refrigerator holds a temperature at or below 41°F.

Safe Cooling

A lot of us assume that once food is put into the refrigerator that it is safe. Even after you put foods into the refrigerator it can still stay in the temperature danger zone for a significant period of time - allowing bacteria to multiply. Cooling the food down rapidly is very important to prevent illness. Here are a few hints to help you cool down your foods rapidly.

1) Keep the portion sizes small. Try to limit the depth of leftover foods to less than four inches. Realize that the outside of the food will cool first, but it can still take quite a while for the interior to cool down. 2) Keep the food uncovered until it is cold. This allows the cold air to flow across the surface of the food. The air flow is just as important as the temperature in cooling foods down. 3) Don't overload your refrigerator. Ensure there is adequate

Kearny Police Report

According to state law, there are two methods by which police may arrest suspected offenders. The suspect may be physically taken into the department and booked into jail, or the arresting officer may write a citation and release the suspect to appear in court later. All suspects are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law. Only criminal citations are listed. All damages are estimates.

Mayor Thankful for Local First Responders

Former Mayor Rose Bradford posted a picture to her Facebook page showing an EMS crew transporting a patient during a blizzard in Buffalo, New York. They were using a snowmobile since the roads were otherwise impassable.

The note stirred up memories of when I lived in Rupert, Idaho, right across from the hospital. One blizzard night the EMS and Fire Department received a call that a farmer, several miles away, was severely ill. They mustered snowmobiles and reached him as soon as they could. Then they carefully made their way back, with one crew member snuggled next to the patient to keep him warm. Thankfully, the patient recovered.

I'm thankful for our Emergency Medical Service crew and the Kearny Fire Department. They are caring, responsive to all calls, and professionally trained.

I'm also very thankful to our Volunteers in Patrol (the VIPs) who serve as the eyes and ears of our Kearny Police Department. They do much for us. I was especially thankful for all their help during the Shipman and Gila River Fires. I see them patrolling our streets, helping to keep us safe.

They are all caring volunteers. They are thoroughly vetted (background check and finger prints) and meet each month for training and organization. They have their own car and radio equipment, and usually travel in pairs so one person can drive while the other keeps watch.

There is a real need to have more VIPs in Kearny.

The ranks have dwindled recently, with some people "aging out," some moving away, and some for other reasons. Our interim Chief of Police, Dave Blue, joins me in urging all who are willing to consider service to come to the next meeting, Sunday, December 20, at 2 p.m. in Constitution Hall to hear more about being a Volunteer in Patrol. Most of us know someone who is a VIP, so use the next few weeks to learn from them about what they do. At the meeting, our police officers will be on hand to answer all questions and to begin the process, should you be willing, to become a certified VIP. All adults, male and female, are welcome.

I'm thankful that the Task Force for developing a police department to serve Kearny, Winkelman, Hayden and Mammoth is up and running. I will do my best to keep us all informed.

I'm thankful that many of our winter residents are back, and that some new people are in the mix. I know that many of them will be taking part in the Kearny Rotary Club's golf tournament here in Kearny on Saturday, December 12. It's a three-person Scramble to benefit

State Parks urge Arizonans to #OptOutside @AZStateParks for Black Friday

(Phoenix, AZ - November 19, 2015) - In collaboration with outdoor specialty retailer REI, Arizona State Parks invites Arizonans to #optoutside on Black Friday! Visit an Arizona REI store from November 21-25, 2015 and receive a free day pass for entry into an Arizona State Park. There are four REI stores in Arizona: Flagstaff, Paradise Valley, Tempe, and Tucson.

Park visitors opting to spend time outdoors rather than fighting the holiday shopping crowds can post photos of their experience at Facebook.com/azstateparks with the hashtag #optoutside. The ten photos that receive the most "likes" will win a free Arizona State Parks annual pass. The annual pass will give you entry to State Parks for one year.

Get into the true spirit of the season and #optoutside. Put off the holiday shopping, get outdoors, and burn-off those Thanksgiving calories by enjoying time with family and friends at one of your Arizona State Parks.

For information about all 28 Arizona State Parks, the Trails and Off-Highway Vehicle Programs and State Historic Preservation Office call (602) 542-4174 or (877) MY-PARKS. Campsite reservations can be made online at AZStateParks.com or by calling the Reservation Call Center at (520) 586-2283. Open 7 days a week, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. MST. Follow AZStateParks on Twitter and Facebook.

FOOD SAFETY

space to allow for air to circulate around cooling foods.

4) Don't hesitate to check food temperatures in your refrigerator after an hour or two to ensure that the food is cooling down rapidly.

Safe Reheating

Reheating is another important step in handling leftover foods. Use a food thermometer to ensure that leftovers are thoroughly heated. Make sure the food reaches a safe minimum internal temperature of 165°F. Bacteria can survive in leftovers that have not reached 165°F, possibly resulting in food-borne illness. Also, keep in mind that if foods are left in the temperature danger zone too long, even reheating them thoroughly may not be enough to ensure the food will not cause an illness.

Use Leftovers Quickly

Use your leftovers promptly. They should either be eaten or frozen for later use within about four days. Incorporate your holiday leftovers into your meal plans and recipes. Some of the best parts of a holiday turkey are the turkey sandwiches, turkey soup, and turkey 'al-la-king' that many of us enjoy in the days after the main meal. As soon as you know you won't have an immediate use for leftovers, put them in the freezer for later use. Frozen food will keep for much longer than refrigerated foods.

If In Doubt, Throw It Out!

If you ever have any reason to feel that your food is not safe don't hesitate to throw it away. The issues that cause disease in foods, such as bacteria, viruses, and toxins, are not always apparent. They are typically colorless and odorless. Keep this food safety saying in mind, 'If in doubt, throw it out!'

The Pinal County Public Health Services District has a goal to prevent disease, promote health, and provide nutrition services to the residents of Pinal County. Environmental Health Services conducts inspections of permitted facilities, monitors the community for disease vectors, and investigates public health nuisance complaints. If you would like more information on our programs, or to file a complaint, please visit our webpage at <http://pinalcountyaz.gov/ehs> or call 866-287-0209.
