LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Help brighten the day for members of our Armed Forces

It has been years since the local chapter of Phi Theta Kappa has been a part of a Holiday Light Parade. This year Phi Theta Kappa will not only be a part of the Mammoth Holiday Light Parade, but we will be collecting unused Christmas Cards to send to members of our Armed Forces.

The Mammoth Light Parade is a very festive holiday tradition and Phi Theta Kappa is grateful to be able to take part in it this year. One of the keys of Phi Theta Kappa is service. This year after the light parade is over we hope when the kiddos stop by to see Santa, you will stop by and take some time to send a warm wish to injured and deployed troops, who won't be spending their holiday with their family.

In addition to being able to decorate a card for injured and deployed veterans, we will also be collecting any unused Christmas Cards in preparation for next year. If you are attending the light parade festivities this year, please take a moment to swing by the San Pedro Valley Lions Club after to donate some unused cards and send a warm holiday wish to those who risk it all to protect our freedom.

Merry Christmas from all those at Phi Theta Kappa Alpha Theta Delta Chapter.

Kearny Council to Consider Water Rates at Monday Meeting

This coming Monday, December 21, at 7:30 p.m. the Kearny Town Council will meet in regular session. This meeting will also include a special public hearing on increasing our water rates. This is a busy time of year, I know, but I hope a good representation of the town will be present to take part in this important matter.

You may have read my previous columns on the deterioration of our water and sewer systems. We have been told that in order to improve our system, we will have to raise rates specifically to cover future maintenance, which is a requirement in order to receive state and federal grants. Our present water and sewer rates are among the lowest in Arizona. We have not had enough money to cover current repairs, much less improve the system.

Those are the facts as I see them. Water is crucial to Kearny's life and growth. Please come to this important meeting.

I want to thank the ten people who volunteered for the FIREWISE training. We are sorry that the scheduled training was canceled, but we hope to reschedule it for a later date.

The Volunteers in Patrol (VIPs) training for new members is this Sunday, December 20, at 2 p.m. at Constitution Hall. The VIPs are important. They work in cooperation with our police department to patrol our streets, help at special events, provide assistance during natural disasters, and many other things. Couples are welcome to serve as VIPs, for VIPs usually work in pairs. Monthly trainings are held, and new members receive a background check and are fingerprinted, just like our officers are.

It's a fulfilling position. If you are interested, please contact Town Manager Anna Flores at 363-5547 for more information, or simply show up at the meeting this Sunday.

It's the time of year when cardboard boxes proliferate. Pinal County offers cardboard recycling in the bins behind the Pinal County Building (as well as plastic, glass bottles, and other paper goods). Please make use of them, but please flatten cardboard boxes before depositing them. Unflattened boxes fill up the bins quickly to overflowing. If all of us are considerate, more cardboard can be recycled.

The third meeting of the Task Force to propose an over-all police force for Kearny, Hayden, Winkelman, and Mammoth met yesterday (Tuesday) and considered radio communications, among other things. The Task Force meets about every other week to gather information and process it, developing the proposal to be presented to all the towns.

The town is grieving the unexpected death of Jeff Ramirez, a long-time, much-valued employee of the Town of Kearny. His funeral will be held this Friday, the Voters to be asked to approve and fund 20-year Pinal County transportation plan next November

By James J. Hodl
Copper Area News

A 20-year plan to develop a countywide transportation system consisting of a new and improved roads and transit systems throughout Pinal County is currently being drafted, with an eye on bringing it – along with a request to fund the requested projects – before voters next November.

The developmental effort was launched last August when the Pinal County Board of Supervisors voted to create the Pinal Regional Transportation Authority (PRTA) as a special public improvements and taxing subdivision of the state of Arizona under state statute 48-5302. The statute applies only to Arizona counties with fewer than 400,000 residents, of which Pinal County qualifies.

Overseeing PRTA will be one representative each from each municipality within the county, the county, and Central Arizona Governments (CAG), one of six regional districts in Arizona formed to support a number of planning activities, while complying with federal planning requirements. Each will have one vote when determining which projects go forward and in which order.

Andy Smith, CAG transportation planning manager, is overseeing PRTA.

To develop a balanced regional transportation plan, PRTA with the Pinal Board of Supervisors contracted with Dibble Engineering for transportation consulting services. The purpose of the plan will be to boost economic activity within the county by making it easier and quicker to get around. Both the needs of business and citizens will be taken into consideration, Smith said.

High on the planning list are roads bisecting the county that will function as a North-South Corridor (determining the route of the proposed I-11) and an East-West Corridor, the latter providing faster travel between Kearny and Maricopa. Other road projects will likely benefit Southern Pinal County, Hidden Valley, as well making major improvements to regionally significant roads.

The plan also could include transit systems, including buses and light rail, to areas where no public transportation currently exists. Park-and-ride lots would funnel customers into light rail systems.

At present there are only three bus services in Pinal County: Cotton Express in Coolidge, CART (Central Arizona Regional Transportation) connecting Florence with Casa Grande through Coolidge, and COMET (City of Maricopa Express Transit). These services operate primarily in morning and late afternoon rush hours.

But how much extra bus service the county needs is not known. A bus service linking San Tan Valley and Queen Creek with Gateway Mesa Airport folded years ago for lack of riders.

Two of three light rail lines proposed by the Arizona Department of Transportation would benefit Pinal County with the Phoenix-Tucson route going through Queen Creek, San Tan Valley and Florence; and the Phoenix-Globe line skirting the county's northern towns.

Once a balanced fiscally-sound 20-year transportation plan is developed, it will be presented to voters in November 2016, Smith said. Details of the plan will be released well before the voting date, Smith said.

To fund the 20 years of projects, voters will be asked to approve a 0.5% hike in the county excise tax. That would be in addition to the existing 0.5% excise tax county residents already pay to fund county road maintenance projects. The current 0.5% excise tax raises about $16 million annually.

PRTA was created to fill the gap left by a steady decline in recent years of federal transportation project funding. Currently the county only receives about $500,000 in federal transportation revenues.

Next November voters will get their say in the next 20 years of transportation in Pinal County.

TRANSPORTATION

Smith has already appeared before city and town council meetings throughout Pinal County to build support for the transportation project.

The need for the program to be balanced and provide improvements for all corners of the county was driven home when in November a Casa Grande councilman said he wouldn't be inclined to support a North-South Corridor highway if it ran through San Tan Valley, Coolidge and Eloy but missed Casa Grande. That would take business and economic development away from his town.

Hayden wrestler aiming for Championship

Hayden wrestler Mikee Mariscal has dominated his competition so far this season, not allowing any opponent to reach the second period against his while remaining undefeated with a current record of 10 – 0.

Mariscal, a sophomore and the Lobos' team captain, recently took first at 106 lbs. at a Chandler Prep Academy match.

As a freshman, Mariscal earned team MVP honors and has hopes of even more this season. "My goal is to be on top of the stands in the State Championship," he said.

At his current pace, Mariscal is well on his way to achieving his goal.
