First Lego Robotics return to Superior

Seven fourth and fifth graders from the John F. Kennedy School in Superior have been working over the past several weekends to build and program their robot for the First Lego Robotics competition on Saturday, Dec. 13, 2023, in Mesa at Red Mountain High School.

It has been several years since students in Superior have had the opportunity to participate in the First Lego Robotics program. The program curriculum is very rigorous and requires the fourth and fifth grade students to learn coding skills, building skills, and also learn how to have their robot complete required challenges. In addition to learning these important technical skills, the students are also required to engage their local community leaders on innovations for their community, present publicly about what they have learned and showcase how their team came together to accomplish the build and complete the challenges along with interpersonal and leadership skills that are also required as part of the curriculum.

Superior Town Councilmember Vanessa Navarrette met with the Copper Bots at the Superior Skate Park. The students suggested innovations like having a skateboard rental locker, where people could rent a skateboard at the park. The students also shared that the park needs a water fountain to fill water bottles when they are at the park.

The students also hiked with Mayor Mila Besich on the Legends of Superior Trails Queen Creek segment. During their interactions with Mayor Besich, the students shared about how to better market and promote the trails for families and young people and how hiking is a healthy hobby to do.

The course is taught by local residents Cathy Sommer and Eliana Ybarra. Both are teachers at the Coolidge Unified School district but have sought opportunities to offer these programs to students in Superior. When the Town of Superior recently signed their three-year economic and community development agreement, the funding to operate the First Lego Robotics program was included in the agreement. This covers a stipend for the instructors, curriculum and competition fees. The Superior Chamber of Commerce also helps to support the program by allowing the team to meet at the Chamber office weekly.

Students competing are: fourth graders, Madelyn

Arriola, Ariel Aparicio, Alivia Martinez, Brandon Torrio and Ruben Ybarra; and fifth graders, Joey Lopez and Natalie Lopez.

At press time, the results from the competition were not available.

Dear Santa ...

Children the world over have taken up writing utensils and paper to send their yearly missives of all sorts of good wishes along to the North Pole, where Santa received, reviewed, oohed, ahhed and chuckled over each in turn. These are the ones that our local children have written that Santa red lit (with Rudolph's nose) for us to share with the citizens of the Copper Corridor.

As per usual, we'll do our best to read and capture the words of each letter to Santa, but, we are just never going to do it as well as Santa can. Please forgive our mistakes and don't worry: Santa is more experienced at this task than we are!

Accident closes Webb Road near San Manuel

A rear end accident on Webb Road sent two victims to the hospital.

According to the Pinal County Sheriff's Office, on Dec. 9 around 6 p.m., a passenger car traveling westbound on Webb Road was rear ended by a pickup truck. The passenger car came to rest off the roadway in the desert, and the driver of the pickup left their vehicle to attend to the injured occupants of the passenger car.

Moments later, a third vehicle (another pickup truck) struck the now unoccupied pickup stopped due to the initial accident.

The driver and passenger of the passenger car were flown to hospital. The female was in stable condition, while the male was in critical condition.

"While the incident is still under investigation, it is safe to say there was no impairment in any of the involved parties," said Lauren Reimer, Public Information Officer for Pinal County Sheriff's Office.

LOST hosts thank you

Several years ago the southern access hiking route into Arnett Canyon on the LOST trail was set to close along with the historic Forest Road 4. Those heated public meetings brought about a spirit of collaboration between the Town of Superior, LOST, Imerys and the Forest Service to re-route the trail and the Forest Road 4 alignment.

After a few years of planning and then construction, the new re-route of Forest Road 4 was opened along with a new hiking trail into Arnett Canyon during the late spring of 2023. Imerys provided some in-kind construction support and the Forest Service moved quickly with permitting and funding needed for the project.

hike for sponsors

The original routes traveled through the Imerys perlite pits which posed a safety hazard for those using the area. Imerys plans to eventually re-activate the mining pits in the future and needed to begin to restrict access.

The Legends of Superior Trails board hosts an annual hike and lunch to thank the major sponsors and supporters of the LOST. This year's hike included the new route into Arnett Canyon with a hike to the spur where the trails lead into Pinal City and then on to Main Street in Superior.

"We are elated to see this new route open, and celebrate the many collaborative partnerships that were built to make this new re-route possible," explained Mayor Mila Besich who also serves as the CEO of the Legends of Superior Trails.

The Legends of Superior Trails Inc. is a 501c3 non-profit that is mission focussed on outdoor recreation promotion, trail maintenance and trail constructions in Superior and nearby areas. You can learn more about LOST online at www.superioraztrails.com

Coach Daniel Najera stated, "We had 15 matches in 4 days, and we were very competitive against some good teams. We're making the in-match adjustments we need to make, and we're getting better. Every team has its struggles but I'm very proud to see our team competing with humility, dignity and showing good character."

The Miners competed in the the Warrior Classic at Westwood High School in Mesa Dec. 15-16. Results were not available at press time.
