Pinal County to take on Richter cases after Pima sentencing

Florence, AZ - Upon sentencing in Pima County, the Pinal County Attorney's Office intends to ask the court for a trial date against Sophia and Fernando Richter on charges they face in Pinal County.

A Pinal County Grand Jury indicted the Richters on a total of 24 counts. A Pinal County Grand Jury indicted 34-year old Sophia on nine counts, including three counts of Child Abuse, alleging unreasonable confinement, Class 4 Felonies; three counts of Child Abuse, alleging emotional damage, Class 4 Felonies; two counts of Kidnapping, Class 2 Felonies and Dangerous Crimes against Children (DCAC); and one count of Kidnapping, a Class

Our FACs work to decrease investigation times of child abuse crimes, from an average of six months and 12 interviews per child, to one interview in one day. My goal as Pinal County Attorney, remains keeping our Pinal families safe," said Pinal County Attorney Lando Voyles.

Volunteer Opportunities, Swap Meet and Holiday Fun for Kids

I was sitting on my couch, nursing a bad back, when the Christmas Light Parade took place. It was a shame to miss it. Not only did everyone say how excellent the lights were, but I missed seeing the “first ever” entry from the Town of Mammoth, driven by Mayor Don Jones, who has challenged the Copper Basin mayors to take part in each others’ activities.

The Town of Kearny has many activities going on right now. The joint Task Force for developing the concept of a four-town police department has a session coming up in Winkelman on Tuesday, Dec. 15. The Kearny Town Council will hold its monthly meeting on Monday, Dec. 21, at 7:30 p.m. This meeting will include an Open Hearing on water rates and their connection with the refurbishing of our water tanks, along with other improvements to our water and sewer infrastructure.

The call is also out for Kearny residents to consider becoming fire assessors through the FIREWISE program of Arizona’s Department of State Forestry. A two-day training session will held in Constitution Hall on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 12-13. Please give Town Manager Anna Flores a call soon to learn more, at 363-5547.

A training session for people who want to learn more about the work of the town’s Volunteers in Patrol (VIPS) will also be held at Constitution Hall on Sunday, Dec. 20, at 2 p.m. Again, please call Anna Flores for more information.

We hope to have 15 or more new people at these training sessions. Both provide vital services to all of us.

The Man Who Killed Santa Claus

Santa Claus was killed in 1932 in Mesa, Arizona. Naturally this tragic event took place during the Great Depression. The horrific occasion was witnessed by hundreds and in fact was the climax of a Christmas parade. Traumatized children broke into uncontrollable sobbing as the tears fell like waterfalls.

In 1932, the Great Depression had cast dark economic clouds across the nation and the rural community of Mesa was hit hard by financial woes and its citizens were in dire straits. Things were so bad that it looked as if the annual Christmas parade would have to be cancelled. That was when the colorful editor of the Mesa Tribune, John McPhee, came up with a flamboyant promotional scheme to save the Christmas parade.

McPhee had the notion of beginning the parade beside an open field on the outskirts of town. A small plane would circle overhead and Santa Claus would skydive into town, arriving not by reindeer drawn sled but floating

Celebrating National Miners Day

Saturday, Dec. 6, was National Miners Day.

It is a day to recognize and honor each and every miner: past, present and future. It was not until 2009 that a resolution establishing Miners Day was passed by Congress. It is still a little known day around the country. The goals and ideals of a National Miners Day is for people to celebrate and honor the contributions of miners and encourage Americans to participate in local and national activities recognizing the contributions and sacrifices miners have made throughout history and continue to make today.

Congressman Nick Rahall from West Virginia, one of the introducers of the bill which created National Miners Day, said of miners: "Throughout our Nation's history, the American miner has risked life and limb in order to produce the raw materials that fuel our economy, the energy that heats our homes, and the resources that ensure our security. Without these selfless and dedicated miners, American society would never have flourished, nor would it continue to function. It is fitting, therefore, that we recognize and honor these brave workers who have served our Nation quietly and faithfully for so many years."

There is a reason that Dec. 6 was chosen as the day to honor miners. On that day in 1907 in the Fairmont Coal Company's mine at Monongah, West Virginia, 362 miners were killed in the worst industrial accident in U.S. history. Most of those killed were immigrants, the majority Italian, some were children.

The month of December in 1907 was known in the coal fields as "Bloody December." On Dec. 1 in Fayette City, Pennsylvania 34 miners died in an explosion. The Monongah mining disaster followed five days later. On Dec. 16, 57 men were killed in an explosion in Yolande, Alabama. On Dec. 19, in Jacob's Creek, Pennsylvania an explosion killed 239 miners. In 19 days, 692 miners lost their lives.

McCombs selected for first 'Yard of the Month' in Kearny

The beautifully-landscaped yard of Wayne and Doris McComb at 354 Hartford (the corner of Tilbury and Hartford) is the first Yard of the Month selected by the Journey for a Clean Kearny committee.

When the McCombs moved to Kearny a few years back, they came to a home which featured a mature mesquite tree in the front and a large saguaro in the back. They worked to improve the yard with more desert plantings and small patches of grass to add a note of green. Their friend, Ron Hamilton, arranged to get them several large decorative rocks, including one behemoth which broke his trailer axle and leaf spring during the move! The little mountain in front features a seven-foot-tall Blue Agave and a large Variegated Agave, along with other desert plantings.

Drive by and take a look at this water-efficient, low maintenance yard.

MINERS DAY

In 1907 a total of 3,242 miners were killed in mining accidents nationwide. The Monongah and the other mining disasters would lead to the creation of the United States Bureau of Mines by Congress in 1910.

Although hard rock and open pit mining are not as dangerous as coal mining, the mines in Arizona and along the Copper Corridor have had their share of deaths and accidents. Over 50 workers lost their lives in the Mammoth St. Anthony, Tiger and San Manuel Copper Company mine, mill, smelter and refinery during the time they were operating. Many lives have been lost in the mines, smelters and refineries in Miami, Ray, Christmas, Hayden and Superior.

The miners and mining unions struggled for decades to have laws passed creating safety regulations and safer working conditions. They would also fight for social justice and equality as they tried to make a better life for themselves and their families. Miners have contributed more than the raw materials that help provide us with everything from the salt on our tables to computers, cell phones, automobiles and the highways we travel on. To all miners, thank you and work safely.

It would be nice to see the mining communities along the Copper Corridor and the state, as well as county and state governments recognize National Miners Day and perhaps hold events on that day to honor all our miners.

Have a service man or woman you'd like us to recognize? We are proud to support our military and will publish the information at no charge.

SKYDIVING SANTA

Christmas parade through town.

This event took place only five years after Lindbergh had crossed the Atlantic and aviation was still considered a risky venture. Merchants, wounded by dismal financial times, were willing to back any plan which might boost lagging Christmas sales. A small plane was rented and a stunt man was found who agreed to undertake the daredevil act, leaping from an airplane armed with only a Santa Claus suit and a parachute.

The morning of the big event, shortly before the parade itself, Santa was nowhere to be found. An anxious McPhee paced and stalled, sending people everywhere in search of the fugitive Santa. It was one of the elves who discovered Santa plastered to a bar stool in a local tavern trying to drink up some courage. The wayward Santa Claus was too intoxicated to stand. Determined not to cancel the flamboyant beginning of the heavily promoted Christmas extravaganza; McPhee asked the local merchants for volunteers to make the Santa jump. There were no takers. McPhee had to admit that he himself found the task a little daunting.

Desperation forced a desperate plan. McPhee put the Santa Claus suit on a department store dummy. The mannequin would be pushed from the airplane and float down into the field. McPhee, wearing a second Santa Claus suit would be hiding in the tall grass and leap out, greeting the crowd and quickly starting the Christmas parade before anyone could ask questions.

The moment arrived. A sizable crowd gathered on the edge of the field and all grew silent, waiting anxiously, when the sputtering of the approaching aircraft could be heard. Squinting into the sun, the people cheered when the tiny metal airplane carrying Santa Claus could first be seen. The pilot circled low above the crowd, hovering so close above the heads of the astonished spectators that they were able to see the department store dummy wearing the red suit standing in the doorway, his white beard flapping in the breeze. The plane ascended in a gradual spiral and at its peak the mannequin Santa was pushed from the doorway. The static line pulled but the chute failed to open. Santa fell from the sky, dropping, dropping, dropping to the earth in a red and white blur. As he plummeted to earth, white beard, red cap, and tangled chute waving wildly behind him, the children screamed. Santa landed in the field with a horrific splat. Women fainted.

Without the open parachute to create a wind drift, the pilot had badly miscalculated where the mannequin would land. By the time McPhee had run to where Santa crashed most of the crowd had already started to leave and were trying to comfort their sobbing children. McPhee leapt over the mangled Santa and went "Ta-Da" but no one was watching. The parade went on as scheduled but the most of the crowd went home long before it was over. Those few who remained were quiet. It almost seemed like more of a funeral procession than a parade. McPhee spent most of the next few weeks laying low. Christmas sales did not improve. McPhee continued a long career as a civic leader until his death 40 years later and did not mention the incident often himself. Still, the headline of his obituary could not help but mention the demise "of the man who killed Santa Claus." Editor's Note: Gary Every is a columnist who writes for the Copper Basin News' sister newspapers, Pinal Nugget and Oracle Towne Crier. We thought our CBN readers would enjoy this story about an Arizona event.

MAYOR'S CORNER

sponsored by the Copper Basin Chamber of Commerce is this Saturday, Dec. 12. It is beginning at 2 p.m. and should continue to grow.

Let all our children know about the story event at Norman's Hometown IGA on Friday, Dec. 18, beginning at 4 p.m. There will be several activities, and the presence of a special guest is promised.

My hope this coming year is that more of our younger residents will share their skills for the good of Kearny. Through the VIPs, the new FIREWISE program, and through Journey for a Clean Kearny, our community will become safer and more beautiful. We will continue to find new ways to improve our town when the Town Council starts work in January on the new ten-year plan for Kearny, which will include economic development. I'm looking forward to all these things, and I hope you share my anticipation for more good things to come.

Lobos fall to Sabercats

By Andrew Luberda
Copper Basin News

The schedule makers were not too kind to the Hayden basketball team, which opened its season with four-straight road games. After dropping its first two games of the season, Hayden lost its third-straight road game at San Tan Foothills on Dec. 1, 71 – 28.

The game was never in doubt right from the start as the Sabercats jumped out to an early 22 – 11 lead in the first quarter and extended the lead to 51 – 16 at halftime.

The Lobos continued to struggle offensively in second half but were able to slow down the Cats' offense in the second half.

Hayden faced off against San Manuel Monday. All three levels dropped games to the Miners. The boys' JV score was Hayden 19, San Manuel 52. The varsity girls' game was very close. The Lady Lobos had the score tied with the Miners at the half with 17 points each. But San Manuel pulled ahead in the second half, handing the Lady Lobos a 27-34 loss. In varsity men's action, the Lobos dropped the game against San Manuel 40-60.

Upcoming schedule: Dec. 9 vs. Bowie/San Simon and Dec. 14 at Ft. Thomas. Both games are schedule for 7 p.m.
