OBITUARY

Elizabeth Laura Seide Welch

Elizabeth Laura Seide Welch, 88, passed away on Dec. 24, 2017 surrounded by family at Mary and Pete's Assisted Living Home in San Manuel, Arizona.

Liz, as she was known by friends and family, was born Nov. 25, 1929 to Henry W. Seide and Jessie E. Rider Seide on the family farm in Twin Brooks, South Dakota. She was the youngest of four children.

Liz married the love of her life, William E. Welch on Feb. 7, 1948. They moved to Lead and then Terryville, South Dakota where William worked as a miner at the Home Stake Gold Mine.

In November 1955, she followed her husband to San Manuel, Arizona for a job at Magma Copper Company. In the summer of 1966 they moved into their newly built home in Oracle, Arizona.

Liz was very active in the community. She was a Cub Scout Den Mother and helped her husband with the Oracle Senior League. She was a member of the Funsters and Elks Club in San Manuel as well as the Archery Club where she competed in archery contests. When the need arose for someone to take over the Oracle 4-H Club she stepped up and took it over and became the Community Leader. She helped San Manuel start up their 4-H Club as well by working with the County Extension Office. While in 4-H, she arranged and worked many gymkhanas for the surrounding area and also helped run the Oracle ropings.

Liz had a hand in planning and running the 1973 Oracle Centennial celebration. She became a member of the newly formed Quadrille Team and performed in many quadrilles. When Mr. Marion Mifflin wanted to build a center for the Oracle community, Liz and her husband didn't hesitate. With their efforts as well as others, they raised enough money for the Oracle Community Center to be built. Liz played Bridge every Tuesday with her friends at this same center until she became too ill to continue.

Liz enjoyed playing cards and had a passion for knitting and crocheting. Family and friends have many of her creations.

She loved camping in the White Mountains and became a camp host for over 20 years with her husband at the West Fork campgrounds of the Black River. She met people from near and far becoming good friends with some of them.

Liz is survived by her husband of almost 70 years, William E. Welch, and their children, William (Rose) Welch, Catherine (William) Damron, Randy (Kathy) Welch, and Margie (Terry) McGovern. She is also survived by nine grandchildren, Brigette Martin, Robert Welch, Victoria Laetsch, Nicholas Welch, Stephanie McGovern, Tyler McGovern, Catherine Damron, Patrick Welch and Jeremy Welch; and 21 great grandchildren, as well as many nieces and nephews.

She is preceded in death by her parents, sisters Melba Tillman and Maelou Bosley, brother Henry R. Seide, and son Patrick Welch.

Liz was friend and "mom" to many and will be greatly missed. She asked that no services be held. Instead, there will be a gathering of friends and family at the Oracle Union Church in Trowbridge Hall, Sunday, Jan. 14, 2018 at 3:30 p.m.

Lane closure continues on State Route 77 near Mammoth

The Arizona Department of Transportation advises drivers to plan for the following restriction on SR 77 near Mammoth as a four-month pavement-improvement project continues:

- Southbound SR 77 will be closed between Hollywood Drive and Miguel Road for road improvements from 4 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily through Friday, Mar. 2.
- Drivers should allow plenty of extra travel time and plan for delays. A pilot car and flaggers will guide traffic through the work zone.
- Vehicles are restricted to 12 feet in width and 100 feet in length.
- Watch for intermittent shoulder closures on north- and southbound SR 77 from milepost 113 to milepost 120 through April 2018.

The $4.3 million, 120-day project is located in Pinal County, north of Mammoth, between mileposts 113 and 120. The work includes milling the existing asphalt and replacing it with new asphalt and a double chip seal coat application.

Drivers should proceed through the work zone with caution, slow down and watch for construction personnel and equipment.

Young man killed in accident Monday

An Oracle man was killed Monday after colliding with a semi truck hauling an oversized load.

According to the Arizona Department of Public Safety, at approximately 1 p.m. Monday, Jan. 8, a 2007 two-door Pontiac driving southbound on Hwy. 77 attempted to pass southbound traffic, crossing over the centerline north of Oracle Junction. A northbound 1998 Freightliner semi went off the road to the right in an attempt to avoid a head on collision with the Pontiac. The Pontiac sideswiped the semi and struck its oversized load. After colliding with the truck, the Pontiac struck the northbound guardrail and the driver was ejected.

The driver, later identified as Dakota Allen Roth, 20, Oracle, sustained fatal injuries and was pronounced dead at the scene. The semi driver was not injured, said DPS Trooper Kameron Lee.

The highway was completely closed from the time of the accident until 4:45 p.m. Traffic was routed around the accident on Willow Springs Rd., Freeman Rd. and Hwy. 79, and via the Florence-Kelvin Hwy. The case is still under investigation.

San Manuel

By Andrew Luberda
San Manuel Miner

All Warner Smith wanted was a fighting chance, and like he did on the gridiron at San Manuel High School then the University of Arizona, Smith fought hard until the end.

Smith passed away on Tuesday, Jan. 2, 2018. He is survived by his wife Becky and daughter Carlee. Our deepest sympathies and prayers go out to Warner's family and friends.

Smith, who grew up in San Manuel and resided in Tucson, was diagnosed with Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS), more commonly known as Lou Gehrig's disease.

ALS is a rapidly progressive, invariably fatal neurological disease that attacks the nerve cells (neurons) responsible for controlling voluntary muscles. The average life expectancy once an individual is diagnosed is 2 – 5 years.

No cure has yet been found for ALS.

Smith was diagnosed nearly four years ago.

A 1991 graduate of San Manuel High School, Smith earned a football scholarship to the University of Arizona (1991-94), where he was an All-Pac 10 offensive lineman. He was drafted by the Indianapolis Colts and enjoyed a brief NFL career before it was ended by injuries.

His San Manuel upbringing made him an admiral opponent versus ALS

"Growing up in a mining town instilled a level of toughness that helped me throughout my whole career," Smith told the Miner during an interview in 2016. "It

Some Indian History

As I had previously written, Annie Forbach was the daughter to James W. Brandenburg who had settled along Aravaipa Creek in 1888 with his wife and four older children before Annie was born there in 1891.

According to Annie's memoirs, numbers of Indians from the San Carlos Indian Reservation would ride horseback to Aravaipa Creek in the summers, and they really enjoyed the creek water where they would spend days washing and bathing and having a good time. They evidently did lots of work gathering the wild black walnuts, mesquite beans, and the saguaro and prickly pear fruit.

Annie also mentioned what she named as an Indian Reserve that was located twelve miles down the Aravaipa from the ranch of her parents, and where the Indians farmed the land. She also stated "An old Indian who was a kind of Chief lived at the Reserve, and his name was Chiquita".

According to my research, the Chiquita that Annie mentioned had to have been Capitan Chiquito Bullis who died in 1919, after which ownership of the one hundred-sixty acres allotted for him by the United States Government went to his heirs in 1920. In 1920 his son,

GEORGIE DIGS!

By Georgie Wood
Special to Copper Area News

Elin Chiquito Bullis, was allotted one hundred-sixty acres adjoining that Allotment just upstream, then in 1921, one hundred-sixty acres just upstream of the Elin Chiquito Allotment was allotted to John L. Bullis, another son to Capitan Chiquito Bullis.

The story about those allotments and what happened to them is included in my published book, A CREEKSIDE STORY - FROM BUCKBOARD DAYS TO ECOTOURISM.

was a childhood and a high-school career that I wouldn't trade with anybody."

"I think I was incredibly lucky to be raised in the miners' lifestyle that I don't think exists anymore," he added. "When the mine was still open there was commonality between everyone that was there and that was special. I don't think you can find that anywhere else."

Tucker Johnson, a lifelong friend, classmate and teammate of Smith's, called the pair's friendship "one in a million."

"Obviously, Warner has been a big part of my life since I attended school," Johnson said. "To see him and know what he and his family going through now really breaks my heart because this guy is a machine and he always was. To see that machine kind of break down in front of our eyes is tough."

"He's more of a brother than a friend," he continued. "To see someone that I love like that and know what he is going to go through, that's why I'm doing everything I can to help."

Johnson is one of what he called a "chore group" of friends who have known each other for 35 years. They still hunt and "hang out" together.

Why has the small, close-knit group remained so close of the years?

"Probably because I guess we're all nuts," Smith responded in jest. "Just being from the Tri-Community I think everybody understands each other in a way, and has things in common with people, (that's different) from others who aren't from the area."

It's been that group of friends and more who have to come together to support the man Hopkins called a "local hometown hero."

"On the day I learned of my diagnosis, which was before the Ice Bucket Challenge, nobody really knew what ALS was," Smith recalled. "I can remember feeling like I was the only person on the planet and it was a very lonely feeling."

"I've completely did a one-eighty from that," he continued. "I'm touched and honored from the support I'm receiving from people."

Smith called himself the "same guy as always," despite having to move around by a scooter. He continued working at his full time job and enjoyed hunting and fishing through his illness.

Although he was keenly aware of his circumstances, as he said in a video produced by the Muscular Dystrophy Association, Smith knew some live with ALS for 20 years or more. His doctor says his diagnosis is slowly progressing and called ALS the "Snowflake Disease" – it affects everyone differently.

Smith said he tried to approach each day like his father did when his dad was fighting brain cancer – with dignity and not feeling sorry for himself.

"You can't wake up in the morning with a doomsday scenario," he said. "You have to keep living."

When asked how he defined "a chance," Smith answered no differently than you might expect anyone else with a wife and children, and without ALS.

"I want everything out of life that everyone else does and dreams of," he said. "You want to watch your daughter grow up and you want to spend time with my wife. You want all of those things that everybody else has. I'm going to wake up every day and fight for those things just like everybody else does."

Sting of the Wild at Oracle State Park

With all our gorgeous Arizona winter weather we're having (high 60s/low 70s), why not head over to the Oracle State Park this weekend and have a picnic? Or, take a hike? Maybe even learn something new?

Schmidt, is a biologist at Southwestern Biological Institute and is affiliated with the Department of Entomology at the University of Arizona. The colorful Dr. Schmidt takes

- Attend a six week academy each summer

The program is free for students that meet the program’s requirements, and are accepted. Students only have to give their dedication and time for the remainder of their high school years to receive maximum benefits from the program.

The Upward Bound program includes a fall and spring schedule of activities at the student’s high school and at the Central Arizona College Signal Peak Campus. Bus passes will be provided for students who need them along with stipends for exemplary participation. Fifteen hours of academic enrichment activities each month will allow students to receive tutoring assistance and workshops focused on time management, transitioning to college, and academic success. A mandatory six-week summer program offers enrichment classes and field trips on weekdays during the months of June and July.

The program may include classes in Reading, Writing, Math, AzMERIT, PSAT/SAT/ACT test preparation, science, foreign language, and other courses in specialized fields. Additionally, Upward Bound will take students to visit college and university campuses throughout the state of Arizona.

To receive an application or to find out further information please call the Upward Bound office at 520-494-5007 or email Julie Leonard, program manager at Julie.leonard@centralaz.edu. Students may also speak with their high school counselor.

APACHE LEAP

This is a major milestone and the broad consultation allowed us to understand the concerns of our neighbors and make adjustments to our plans to ensure that Apache Leap is fully protected in perpetuity."

The Apache Leap Special Management Area protects and preserves the natural character of this unique topography and its ecology, habitats and scenery by prohibiting mining, livestock grazing and overnight camping within the Apache Leap SMA.

The Forest Service conducted comprehensive government-to-government consultations with 12 Arizona tribes and specific measures were taken within the SMA to accommodate tribal concerns regarding public access, grazing and other protections for locations of cultural importance.

The Apache Leap SMA was added to the bipartisan legislation that passed Congress in 2013 to facilitate a land exchange between the Tonto National Forest and Resolution Copper. As part of the exchange of land, Resolution Copper will contribute 142 acres of privately held land and forgo 697 acres of unpatented mining claims that will become part of the 839 acre Apache Leap SMA. More information about the land exchange implementation is available on the Tonto National Forest's website on the topic: <http://www.resolutionmineeis.us/usfs>. The US Forest service also has more information on the Apache Leap SMA at: <http://www.apacheleapsma.us/>.

HLI Copper Corridor graduates new leaders

The Copper Corridor Economic Development Coalition has partnered with Valle del Sol for the past three years to host the Hispanic Leadership Institute (HLI-Copper Corridor). This year the 10 week course was held at the Central Arizona College Aravaipa Campus.

During the program the participants learn about how to work with the media, they learn about the governance of non-profit organizations and how local and county governments work. They also focus on setting their own interpersonal and professional leadership goals.

The CCEDC has been the driving force in bringing this program to the area. The future of the region will depend on strong leaders to serve in each of the communities throughout the Corridor,

“I am extremely grateful to have HLI in the Copper Corridor. The program is extremely helpful in recognizing, developing and enhancing the talent that already exists in the area to become more focused on serving the residents in the Copper Corridor,” said Pinal County Supervisor Pete Rios.

The CCEDC is the community supporter for the program and the program was sponsored through financial support from Freeport McMoRan and Resolution Copper along with scholarships sponsored by ASARCO, Capstone and KGHM.

Valle del Sol has been developing leaders across the state for many years. The Copper Corridor program is one of their newest programs in the state. The 2017 class is the fourth class to graduate from HLI Copper Corridor.

“HLI Copper Corridor is the newest Hispanic Leadership Institute program, and perhaps has become one of the most important,” said Adam Falk, the HLI program director. “In just 10 weeks, leaders from across the Copper Corridor have the chance to learn more about the issues facing this region and to meet the people working on those issues. Participants take part in activities that help them to embrace their abilities, and are given the skills to ‘activate’ their leadership potential directly after finishing the program. The alumni are not only the next generation of Copper Corridor leaders, they are today’s leaders helping to shape and drive the future of the communities they serve.”

In November, the Class of 2017 HLI-Copper Corridor graduated from the program. Participants graduating included Tino Flores of Kearny, Tomas Sublosky of Hayden, Christie Cothrun of Miami, Ruben Castro of Superior, Lisa Brazil of Globe, Nancy Hinojos of Kearny, Louie “Chacho” Bracamonte of Winkelman and Jesse Leetham of Globe, Lillian Martinez of Dudleyville and Shelbi Lindesmith of Globe.

During the graduation there are several awards given out to local leaders. This year the Pete Rios Leadership award was awarded to Maria Munoz. Maria is a instrumental leader throughout the Copper Corridor. She is an Academic Advisor for CAC where she travels throughout the Copper Corridor to help local students transition into higher education. She is the Vice Mayor of Hayden and is the treasurer of the CCEDC.

“Maria is a leader that everyone can count on,” said Mila Besich-Lira as she presented the award. “She is more than a leader – she is a friend, a sister and a daughter that many people depend on.”

A new award this year was the Magallanez Family HLI-Alumni Award. This award was named in honor of the family of Max and Elizabeth Magallanez. Elizabeth and her family have been active participants in the HLI-Copper Corridor program. This year’s HLI-Alumni Award was awarded to Mike Montiel. Mike was recognized for his ongoing support of Veteran advocacy throughout the Copper Corridor and his efforts in developing a school garden at the elementary school in Superior. The Magallanez family was also very honored to have an award named after their family.

The 2018 HLI-Copper Corridor program will be held in the Globe/Miami area and will begin in late September. Applications will be open in the spring for the 2018 class. For more information on the HLI-Copper Corridor program, contact the CCEDC at 520-490-8433.
