I'd like to apologize to Mayor Valenzuela for the photo I sent to the Superior Sun last week. The photo of his campaign sign for sheriff, and several others, were taken at the Community Clean up, after many hours of slinging trash. It was all in fun and was never intended to be malicious or offend anyone.

Superior: Taking a Look

By Mila Besich Lira
Superior Sun

The year 2013 definitely flew by in the blink of an eye. The odd numbered year brought much attention to Superior as local leaders and community groups rallied for their causes. New businesses opened and the community saw construction begin on the Magma Hotel. Residents got involved in local governance and many new faces in leadership have come to be, all in 2013.

The Superior Chamber of Commerce hosted its annual events. Despite bad weather for the Home Tour and Apache Leap Days, the events still generated revenue and helped them push forward in their goal to purchase a building for the Chamber. The group expects to be moved into their new building on Main St. in early 2014. The second annual Prickly Pear festival was once again a success. This year, the Chamber recognized Manny Ruiz for his ranching contributions to the area and state at the Noche de Vaquero event. Mike McKee another one of Superior's legendary residents served as the Grand Marshall of the 25th Annual Apache Leap Mining Festival Parade.

The Superior Unified School District swore in a new school board member, Tony Donlin, along with returning members Mila Besich Lira and Cyndi Benson. The board embarked on a visioning and planning process for the district "Superior Vision 20/20" has become an important planning tool for the district. The Elementary and High School saw an increase in their state letter grade. Thousands of dollars in scholarships were awarded at the honors assembly, many of those dollars were given by local groups and businesses. In June, the district said goodbye to Pete Guzman, who had been the superintendent for over a decade. After conducting an extensive interview process, the board welcomed Patrick O'Donnell in July. The SHS student council hosted what was one of the biggest homecoming events in recent history. New community events and traditions were added to the school including the DECA Fill the Bowl Event to benefit the Superior Food Bank and the Community Thanksgiving Dinner.

The Superior Optimist Club and Rotary Clubs rang in the 2013 by hosting the annual New Year's Dance. Both clubs continued to serve the community with their individual programs and activities. The Rotary Club handed out dictionaries, and thesauruses to third graders and hosted students of the month from the High School and Junior High at their monthly meetings.

The Superior Optimist

Club hosted its annual Honor Roll Banquet and awarded five graduating Seniors with laptop computers to assist them with starting their college careers. The Optimist also helped to co-sponsor the annual Superior Substance Abuse Events including the Win to Swim and Halloween Parade. The Superior Optimist Club recognized the Red Bear Outfitters for their ongoing contributions to the community. This year the Red Bear also hosted a community Christmas party and assisted with the Town of Superior, Fourth of July events along with their other community contributions.

The Town of Superior hired a new manager Kane Graves in early 2013. Under his direction, the town reversed their position of support for the Resolution Copper Project. These actions created much controversy in the community and residents opposed to those decisions founded the Superior Copper Alliance. The Town Code was also revamped to meet today's needs. Mayor Jayme Valenzuela ran unopposed for his position as mayor. Councilmembers Chris Tomerlin and Irene Hansen lost their election bids to incoming Michael Alonzo and Steve Estatico who took office in June.

The town leadership continued to face many financial challenges. Resolution Copper paid for the town to hire municipal financial consultant Pat Walker. Walker proposed several adjustments which the council adopted to help get the town back on a positive financial path.

After almost a year of discussion and community input, the town council voted not to contract with Pinal County Sheriff's Office and keep the local police department. By the end of the summer, the Town hired Margaret Gaston to be the interim Town Manager and hired Steve Cooper to be the new town attorney, following Graves' resignation. In August, Councilmember Soyla "Kiki" Peralta was recalled; Mila Besich Lira won the recall election with a two to one margin.

Other groups in the community continued to serve in their various capacities. The Little League hosted another successful season with multiple teams that represented the league at state tournaments. The SHS Hall of Fame inducted 10 new individual members and the 1972 State Championship Baseball team. The VFW hosted its annual Memorial and Veterans Day ceremonies; both remain an important tradition in Superior. Local churches and the Superior Food Bank continue to serve those in need.

The largest car show in Superior history was hosted by the St. Francis Catholic Church. The car show was held in conjunction with the Fiesta's Patrias, another important community event. The show was dedicated to the memory of Joe Castaneda who was one of the main coordinators of the event. Joe passed unexpectedly right before the annual event. Marissa Estatico was crowned Fiesta Queen and her court was comprised of the other three queen candidates, Keana Torres, Malaya Martinez and Alessya Green.

While there was much to celebrate and commemorate, our headlines in the papers reported on plenty of meetings and town hall forums regarding Resolution Copper, including a visit from Representatives Gosar and Kirkpatrick. The congressional duo worked throughout the year to move the Southeast Arizona Land Exchange and Conservation Act through Congress. The Concerned Citizens and Retired Miners also kept up their cause to oppose the Land Exchange. They hosted an informative meeting to explain their reasons for opposition as well as a picnic at Oak Flats. In November, Resolution Copper submitted the much anticipated Mine Plan of Operations. The land exchange remains stalled in Congress.

There is no telling what Superior will see in 2014. Based on recent articles, the Magma Hotel should be complete in August, construction on the expansion of US 60 should begin, and our local groups will continue to support our community. Events are already being coordinated and planned.

Panthers get first win of the season

By Andrew Luberdia

Superior Sun

The Panthers boys' basketball team defeated Hayden Dec. 17 to earn its first win of the season. The Panthers recorded their highest point total in the 59 – 46 victory.

Junior Ricky Longoria was one assist from his first triple-double of the season. As it was, Longoria finished with a double-double with 22 points and 13 rebounds. He also added nine assists.

Panthers' head coach Ryan Palmer said the players on the team, especially the underclassmen, are progressing from where they were when the season started. As a result, they are playing more competitively.

"I can see they are starting to know their assignments more without having to overthink it," Palmer said. "I was happy with how we played."

Freshman Nicolaus Cruz contributed 11 points and three rebounds while junior Matthew Zavala added nine points.

With the number of underclassmen playing on the varsity team, their biggest challenge has been adjusting to the speed of the game. The more games they play, the more comfortable they become. Palmer knows it's part of the process. He's happy to see the team rewarded for their efforts.

"They're working hard to get better," Palmer said. "It's good to get the first win."

Head Start: Funding may be cut

As you all may know our country is in yet another economical hardship. And the funding for our Head Start program is at risk of being cut off from the government budget. This program is an essential stepping stone for our children's future.

For those of you unfamiliar with the Head Start program, this is a federal program that promotes the school readiness of children ages birth to five from low-income families by enhancing their cognitive, social, and emotional development. Head Start programs provide a learning environment that supports the children's growth in language, literacy, health, physical, emotional and social development. Head Start emphasizes the role of parents as their child's first and most important teacher.

I am a mother of 4 and so far I have 1 who graduated from the program and 1 currently enrolled and 1 on the waiting list. I have seen my children grow in so many different ways both socially and emotionally. From counting, to singing, reciting days of the week, colors and shapes. They encourage the interaction and participation with parents and their children. They want us involved in school readiness, and I believe in today's society this is what we need.

More and more children grow up without parent involvement, and these generations of children need it. I am very pleased to say that in the 3 years being a part of the Head Start program, they truly exceed the set standards and take pride in their work. Teachers and staff are constantly going out of their way to make sure our children are safe, happy, and learning. They develop a family like relationship with the children, which give the kids the confidence they need to want to go to school, and enjoy going to school. They provide resources to families who may be in struggle or in need of any type of assistance. Head Start makes a strong impact in the lives of the families enrolled.

I believe if we lose this, it's the children who lose out, and it's the children who are going to suffer. The funding for this program is not only needed, but is a necessity to our children's future. So I ask you to agree with me, and let our voices be heard to let the Congress know how important the funding to the Head Start Program. The funding for this program is not only needed, but is a necessity to our children's future.

ARC Volunteers Mary Guzman, Anna Sanchez honored

The ARC Board of Directors honored Mary Guzman and Anna Sanchez for their 44 years of service to the ARC Board and the Training Center at their annual Thanksgiving awards dinner.

A short four days after being honored, Anna Sanchez passed away, Mary Guzman, who has spearheaded every major activity in Superior, for many years, is ill. With the loss of such a good friend to the community, especially the Catholic Church, and the worry over the illness of another, this article, taking primarily from the words Rosalind Padilla shared at the dinner, was submitted a little later than expected.

Forty-four years ago, this past August, Joanne Sanchez, Christina Lopez, Mike Aguilar, Joey Schertz, and Rosie

Alvarado arrived on the Ray Elementary campus from Superior; Anna Quiroz and Cherie Tinsdale from Kearny; Billy Apodaca, Kenny Laughlin from Hayden; Joe Blanco, Lora Young from Mammoth; and John Bencomo from San Manuel.

Up until that day in August of 1969, these young persons sat at home, unable to go to school like their brothers and sisters. Anna Sanchez enrolled Joanne in Gompers Rehab in Phoenix for speech therapy. This was when the outskirts of Phoenix was 24th St and it was a long, empty drive on a two lane highway to get there, with no malls, casinos, freeways or anything else to break the monotony; just dirt and cacti.

The ARC of Northeastern Pinal County was formed in July. Mary C. O'Brien, the School Superintendent had realized that services were needed in the Northeastern area of Pinal County and had applied for a grant some months before. A teacher had already been hired, before it was known if services would be established in Florence or Kearny. In August, the word was given that Kearny was the location selected.

That was how Pinal Accommodation School, later to be renamed the Pinal Special Ed., began.

Enrollment increased quickly, and it became apparent that a program was needed for older students. Three years later, applications were submitted for an adult program. $5,000 in grant money was awarded to start the Training Program for young adults, with one stipulation: funds had to be matched, dollar for dollar.

The budget included the Pinal Accommodation School, the Centers matching funds, Special Olympics and other activities. The total amount needed was divided by the number of students. This meant that the figures changed each year, but, the fact that the parents had to endure much hardship and come up with hard won finances was a constant. That was a lot of burros, enchiladas, tamales, golf tournaments and bingos. Anna Sanchez took over this task for Superior and was assisted by her best friend Mary Guzman.

They worked side by side for the ARC, 44 years, watching the program grow. Sadly, after all the years worked and hardships overcome, the ARC is back to square one, with budget cuts forcing programs to close.

Joanne Sanchez, who was 15, attended the very first Special Olympics held in Arizona in 1969 at Balz School in Tempe. She was runner, bowler, swimmer, played volleyball, skied and loved to dance. "All the students are part of the Padilla family and we share great memories of our work with these families. Joe Sanchez was in charge of Little League and his family helped sell the most beautiful Christmas trees. For several years, he delivered them to our hours and we sold Christmas trees, from our yard, for the ARC," said Rosalind Padilla, in her speech, honoring the fine work of the ARC.

Continuing, she said: "Today, we honor Anna Sanchez for the care and understanding of her daughter, for the many hours of service to the Center and the ARC Board. For all of the thousands of dollars she raised on behalf of the Superior youth who traveled daily to Kearny from Superior, Approx 14,960 days. We appreciate all you have done."

"Mary Guzman we honor

you for standing by your friend Anna. Thank you for 44 years of service to the ARC, The Center Board, for the gallons and bushels of food you prepared and bingo cards you collected.. One thing I learned from working those Bingo Games is that you don't mess with Bingo Players. How many Tootsie Rolls did you help the Knights sell? Helping Mr. Schertz with his golf tournaments, Donkey Basketball, Pioneer Days and our great Christmas Bazaars. You have held every office of the Center Board, most recently being the membership chairman and without a computer. Mary you have shared the good times and the bad times with Anna. Every thing I said about Anna, you were at her side supporting her, even in the earlier years before school was available. What a great friend you are to work 44 years With AND For a friend and supporting the Center for Training."
