Civil Rights are Human Rights – Martin Luther King Jr. Day

By John Hernandez
Copper Area News

Monday was Martin Luther King, Jr. (MLK)/Civil Rights Day in Arizona. MLK Day became a federal holiday in 1983. It was signed into law by President Ronald Reagan. It would take the state of Arizona until 1992 to accept the holiday.

In 1986 outgoing Arizona Governor Bruce Babbitt, a Democrat used an executive order making MLK Day a state holiday. When the new Republican Governor Evan Mecham took office he rescinded the order saying it was unconstitutional. In 1990 the National Football League threatened to move the Super Bowl which had been promised to Arizona for 1993 if the MLK holiday was not made a state holiday. The voters overwhelmingly voted the holiday down. The NFL moved the Super Bowl to California. Arizona lost the chance to bring $500 million into their economy.

MLK Day was again voted on in 1992 and this time it passed. Twenty-two years later we have an African-American President and the Super Bowl is being played in Arizona. Progress in Civil Rights has been made since Martin Luther King, Jr. was assassinated in 1968 but there is still much work to do especially in Arizona. Over the last few years Arizona has garnered a reputation in other parts of the country as the "state of hate". Arizona's so called leaders fomented an atmosphere of hate and fear to promote their personal and political agendas. In promoting their agendas they systematically began oppressing the civil rights of others.

To honor Martin Luther King, Jr. we need to help others and stand up against those that seek to discriminate against and oppress others because of the color of their skin, sexual orientation, religion, gender, ethnicity, race, or disability. Civil Rights are Human Rights! As Dr. King said, "Injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere."

"Law and order exist for the purpose of establishing justice and when they fail in this purpose they become the dangerously structured dams that block the flow of social progress." -Martin Luther King, Jr.

Superior Fire Department offers free smoke detectors

Through donations by Capstone Mining Corp., OMYA Arizona Inc., and Home Depot, the Superior Fire Department is able to offer free smoke detectors to residents of one, two and three family houses in Superior. Working smoke alarms provide early warning of danger and are the single most important step in preventing fatal fires. They double the chances of surviving a fire. All residents and visitors should be protected by smoke detectors.

Those interested can obtain these free detectors in person at the Superior Fire Department, 236 Golf Course Rd., Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. If you are unable to come and pick up your detectors, or the crew is away on a call, you can call 689-5671 to have them delivered to you. Supplies are limited, and detectors will be provided on a first-come first-served basis. You will need to show proof of residency in the form of a utility bill or identification card listing a Superior address, and you will need to complete a short form.

Thanks again to Capstone Mining, OMYA and Home Depot for their generous support and commitment to the safety of the residents of Superior.

Job creation top challenge facing county board as Chase becomes chairman, Rios vice chair

By James Hodl
Superior Sun

Increasing job opportunities in Pinal County is the top challenge facing the Pinal County Board of Supervisors in 2015, according to the board's new leadership team.

Cheryl Chase, supervisor for District 2 encompassing much of San Tan Valley and some surrounding areas, was elected by board members as chairman for 2015, making her the first woman ever to hold Pinal County's top position. Pete Rios, supervisor for District 1 taking in the entire eastern side of Pinal County, was elected vice chairman.

"It is an honor to be thought highly enough to be entrusted with the position of chairman, and I promise to work with the county staff to meet the needs of this growing and changing county," Chase said. She succeeds Anthony Smith in that position.

Rios said he felt likewise honored though he is more seasoned in board leadership, having earlier served as chairman of the board of supervisors in 2009-2011 when it still consisted of only three elected members. The number of supervisors was expanded to five with the election of 2012 to reflect the substantial population growth Pinal County had undergone since 2001 and give citizens more local representation.

Despite Chase being a Republican and Rios a Democrat, their plans for the coming year are alike.

"We need to double down our efforts to attract high-paying jobs to Pinal County," Chase said. "We have residents with the talents and skills to hold such jobs but many have to leave the county to work jobs equal to their abilities. We need to bring such jobs here so they can work locally and not have to commute up to an hour daily to get to earn their livings."

Rios agreed with Chase, adding that the Pinal County economic development picture is brightening, but with it new challenges are emerging.

"Congress in December approved legislation approving the Resolution Copper land swap in the Tonto National Forest, thus enabling the company to go forward with the required environmental impact statement. This could mean the creation of mining jobs as soon as 2018," Rios noted.

"However, these will not be old-fashioned mining jobs. Resolution will use high tech mining technologies, with employees required to have skills in robotics and such. We'll need to have training available so county residents will have the skills Resolution Copper needs when it finally starts its operations near Superior," Rios explained.

Resolution Copper said it may create up to 3,700 jobs within 10 years that will create employment for people throughout the Copper Corridor.

Another pending job creating project cited by Rios is Inland Port Arizona, a large railroad hub planned near Eloy. Located east of Highway 87 between Hume Road and House Road, the 1,637 acre facility will serve as a hub where goods arriving at the port of Long Beach, Calif. will be sent by rail car to be assembled into trains according to the goods' ultimate destination. The fate of this project is in the hands of the Arizona legislature, which will need to approve it so the Union Pacific Railroad can proceed with acquiring the necessary land.

Pinal County took a step backward in job creation when it decided not to renew an agreement with the federal government to house prisoners of the US Immigration Customs and Enforcement (ICE) unit in Eloy. According to Rios, ICE wanted to renew the pact with the same reimbursement funding. But since housing of ICE prisoners (illegal immigrants incarcerated prior to deportation) was already costing the county more what ICE was offering to pay, the county opted out. This resulted in Pinal County letting go about 100 corrections officers.

Supervisor Cheryl Chase

Supervisor Pete Rios

Some of these jobs could be restored with a planned expansion of the Eloy Detention Center, which could add up to 1,000 additional beds to house convicts from

Copper Corridor Economic Development Coalition receives broadband funding

The Copper Corridor Economic Development Coalition received $10,000 in additional funding from the Pinal County Board of Supervisors this month to help support the development of a plan to expand the broadband internet access in the Copper Corridor. The funding will not cover the cost of installation of the higher speed internet but the funding will help to bring providers and users together to determine what the costs would be to have the broadband internet in the area. CCEDC contractor Bill Bolin will be reaching out to local communities, first responders and local internet providers as they develop the plan.

Supporting a legendary resident, Florence Aldrete

Florence Aldrete

By Mila Besich-Lira
Superior Sun

One of the things that Superior does best is supporting our local residents who need help no matter what the need may be. A legendary resident, Florence Aldrete, is in need of prayers and financial support. A few weeks ago she was diagnosed with cancer and her illness is not allowing her to her work as a waitress and bartender at Los Hermanos.

Florence is one of those people in town that everyone knows. She is spunky and caring and she never misses a beat. She knows what's going on and she knows what needs to be done. She is a single mother and many times opened her home to other relatives who needed a place to stay. On any day you met up with her she could turn your frown into a smile just the way she carries herself, and now its time to give back to Florence.

Friends and family are planning a benefit tardeada fundraiser on Sunday, Feb. 15, 2015 at the Los Hermanos Ballroom. The event will begin at 1 p.m. and run until 6 p.m. Tickets are $15 per person including children or $25 a couple. Tickets include dinner and dancing. There will be raffle tickets sold and items auctioned. For more information on the event or to donate items for raffles or auctions please contact Richard Tameron at 520-689-5465 or Rosie Tameron at 480-695-1976.

Superior Home Tour takes over this weekend

On Jan. 24, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Jan. 25, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., the annual Home Tour take over Superior. This fun event offers tours of homes and buildings, a first class antique show, and an art show with local and regional artists. The Mata Ortiz potters from Mexico will also be featured along with speakers Wyatt Earp, "Doc Holiday... the Story Hollywood Never Told", Sam Lowe, longtime Arizona travel writer discussing his latest book "Arizona: Lens, Lyrics and Lore" and Steve Germick, Tonto Forest Archaeologist, sharing stories about Mattie Earp, who is buried in Superior.

Live music and entertainment on the veranda of the restored Magma Club is one of the stops on the tour. Know what a didgeridoo is and how to play it? Watch the Bernie and Doc Didgeridoo and Flute Show. Superior has a collection of eclectic homes....each one with a different personality. You'll see homes that have been renovated almost exclusively with repurposed and recycled materials, those with an artist's touch and some that you won't understand why they weren't torn down when you see the "before" pictures.

Don't miss the "puzzle house", made up of "pieces" from six different homes.

Superior is proud of its homes and is excited to share them. Visitors will go home with some great, affordable, ideas for their own projects. Bonus for all ticket holders: two for one passes to both the Boyce Thompson Arboretum and the Renaissance Festival, event partners. Tickets are $10 prepaid or $12 at the door. All tickets are good for both days. This event is hosted by the Superior Chamber of Commerce with Premier Sponsor Resolution Copper Mining. The tour begins at the chamber building, 165 W Main St., Superior, 85173. 520-689-0200. For presale tickets, call 520-827-1773. Or visit www.Superiorarizonachamber.org. and look up the Superior Home Tour on Facebook.

For those that like to hike, Bill Vogler, LOST trail steward, will lead a hike on Sunday, Jan. 25, to the old tunnel on the canyon portion of the LOST trail. The four and a quarter mile round trip hike will start at the chamber building at noon and end about 3 p.m. It's rated medium difficulty and includes a two mile relatively steep uphill walk on the old road. This hike gives you a chance to see the "Million Dollar Highway" that opened in 1922 and ran until 1952 and linked Globe to Phoenix.

Superior students participate in MLK Day of

By Mila Besich-Lira
Superior Sun

On Monday while most of the students from Superior Unified School District were probably sleeping in or enjoying a day off from school on Martin Luther King birthday or Civil Rights Day as Arizona observes the holiday, several junior high and high school students took to Main Street to sweep sidewalks and rake dirt areas of the sidewalk.

The volunteer activity was coordinated by Roy Chavez, who has taken part in other MLK day of service activities in Phoenix and Eloy. He coordinated the event to provide local students with an opportunity to earn community service and also create an opportunity to teach students about the importance of giving back to the community.

About 14 students participated in the event and they swept, raked and picked up trash from the top of Main Street to Pinal Ave. Two of the students are taking child development and had to take their "Think it Over" robotic babies to the event. Chavez hopes to get more people involved in a day of service for next year.

With the students hard at work, Main Street is looking good and is ready for the Home Tour this coming weekend.

Lady Panthers snap five-game losing streak

By Andrew Luberd
Superior Sun

The Superior girls' basketball team ended its five-game losing streak, defeating San Manuel last Wednesday on the road, 32 – 17. The Panthers' last win came on Dec. 9 against, coincidentally, the Lady Miners.

The 32 points scored in the game by Superior surpassed the combined total points of their last three games – 29.

After defeating Hayden in their last game before the holiday break and winning the first two games afterwards, the Lady Miners have dropped three-straight games.

They've averaged less than 20 ppg during the losing streak.

Superior's upcoming schedule: Jan. 23 vs. Joseph City and Jan. 27 at Hayden.

San Manuel's upcoming schedule: Jan. 22 at Immaculate Heart and Jan. 27 at Ray.

All games are scheduled for 5:30 p.m.

Miners deal Panthers fourth-straight loss

By Andrew Luberd
Superior Sun

The San Manuel boys' basketball team handed Superior its fourth loss in-a-row last Wednesday, defeating the Panthers at home, 64 – 49. With the win, the Miners ended their own three-game losing streak.

Even with the win, the Miners have only won 2 of their last 7 games, but remain a game above .500 with a record of 10 – 9, which includes a 2 – 4 record in sectional play.

For the Panthers, now 5 – 10 on the season, it's their second four-game losing streak in their last 10 games. They lost four straight at the 34th Annual Copper Cities Tournament from Dec. 11-12. They defeated Cibecue and Hayden in their last two games before the holiday break and are winless since resuming play on Jan. 6

Superior's upcoming schedule: Jan. 23 vs. Joseph City and Jan. 27 at Hayden.

San Manuel's upcoming schedule: Jan. 22 at Globe and Jan. 27 at Ray.

All games are scheduled for 7:00 p.m.

Jesse Lopez catches a pass.

Annual Bluegrass Festival ready to roll

Get ready for fun! National acts, local favorites, an incredible quilt show, fabulous food, a giant model train exhibit, a classic car show and so much more are all on tap at the annual festival held at the Pinal Fairgrounds and Event Center. Two stages packed with talented musicians provide nonstop toe tapping music. The fun begins Friday, Jan. 23 and runs through Sunday the 25. Just $8 admission includes all of the entertainment.

Big name bands include Bluegrass Etc, James Reams and the Barnstormers, Silverado Bluegrass Band, Central Valley Boys, Marty Warburton and the Home Girls, Jeff Scroggins and Colorado, Sonoran Dogs, and more. Visit pinalfairgrounds.com for a complete list of bands and schedule.

The festival includes more than great Bluegrass music. Guests are sure to enjoy the Wild West Quilt

Show. A huge model train exhibit with real working trains will delight onlookers. The festival also includes a classic car show on Saturday. Attendees can vote for their favorite car. Saturday also features tractor pulls. Those looking for the unusual will appreciate the new Zebu Miniature cattle show.

"Campfires, camping and guitar picking are all part of the roots of the Bluegrass Culture says show director Michael Searle. While bluegrass harkens us back to a simpler time when cowboys traveled by horse and slept under the starry skies with a rolled up pack for a pillow and the dusty ground their bed, the show has melded tradition with modern day convenience. The show offers over 150 RV camp sites with limited power and running water. There is plenty of Arizona Desert available at the show for those campers looking for a purist experience," he continued.

Those who choose to camp at the show will be treated to an exclusive evening of campfires and picking parties. Guest and band members alike will join in for impromptu unplugged sets that will close each night out with delightful sounds and glowing embers.

The Agri-Country Bluegrass Festival is a rain or shine event. The main stage is indoors, as is the quilt show and train display. The festival is held at the Pinal Fairgrounds and Event Center at 512 S. 11 Mile Corner Rd., Casa Grande. Mark your calendars now for Jan. 23-25, 2015. Kids 12 and under are free! Admission for 13 and over is just $8 and includes all of the great entertainment. Camping is available on site and includes festival admission. For more details visits pinalfairgrounds.com or call 520-723-7881.

PINAL COUNTY BOARD

Arizona and other states.

Yet another job producer in the planning stage is the Phoenix Mart in Casa Grande, in which a Japanese company will have clothing items from head (hats) to toe (shoes) and accessory items for shipment to stores throughout the Western Hemisphere, Rios noted.

A major cog in plans to attract high-paying jobs to Pinal County is improving infrastructure, especially roads, which Chase said will better enable residents to get to their place of work and for companies to get deliveries and customers efficiently to and from their places of business.

Chase would like to see improvement of Hunt Highway – turning what was a two-lane blacktop providing the rural folk that used to live in what is now San Tan Valley a means to drive to a towns of Florence and Coolidge – sped up. Currently scheduled for completion in 2017, Hunt Highway is being turned into a major thoroughfare on which assorted retail and other businesses can locate and provide jobs for the still unincorporated town's burgeoning population.

Chase also would like to accelerate construction of I-11, currently planned to abut the northern and eastern borders of San Tan Valley, as it would attract additional businesses, Pinal County targets it to be a high tech corridor, to the area.

Road improvements also play large in other job-creating ventures. According to Rios, the board is working with the Arizona Department of Transportation (ADOT) to get State Route 77 widened and a half-mile spur road built to make possible the planned Apache Sky Casino near Dudleyville. A gaming facility with 600 slot machines, 12 table games, six poker tables, and a full-service restaurant, Apache Sky also will create 400 jobs, half of which the owner San Carlos Apache Indian Tribe promises will go to Pinal County residents.

These road projects hinge on the Arizona state legislature leaving the state of highway funding alone, Rios said. With a $1 billion state budget deficit looming, some in the legislature are talking about raiding the HURF (Highway User Revenue Fund) and transferring some of it to the Highway Patrol. The board will try to convince legislators that a HURF raid will hurt economic growth in Pinal and other counties, he explained.

Chase promised to use her position to further the interests of San Tan Valley, helping to turn the essentially residential community into an economic engine.

"San Tan Valley is unique in Pinal County that doesn't mirror any other town around it, and should be developed accordingly," she said.

Besides beneficial road projects, Chase has been meeting with local civic groups to see what can be done to turn San Tan Valley from a collection of subdivisions into a community. These include the two organizations trying to create a fire and medical district covering all or the northern third of San Tan Valley to provide the equivalent of a tax-supported municipal firefighting service covering all residents rather than just subscribers. While Chase voted to accept the impact statement of the San Tan Valley Fire and Medical District covering the whole community in September, the district's road to creation failed on a 3 to 2 vote. Voting with Chase was Rios.

PINAL COUNTY PUBLIC HEARING REGARDING USE OF CDBG FUNDS

Pinal County is expected to receive approximately $104,276 in FY2015 federal CDBG funds from the Arizona Department of Housing Regional Account (RA). Pinal County also intends to apply for $300,000 in FY2015 CDBG funds from the State special projects (SSP) account. CDBG funds must be used to benefit low-income persons and areas, alleviate slum and blight or address urgent need. Based on citizen input as well as local and state planning objectives a potential project has been selected to be forwarded to the State of Arizona with a request for funding. A public hearing will be held at the regular Pinal County Board of Supervisors at 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday, February 18, 2015 at the Board of Supervisors Hearing Room, 135 N. Pinal Street, Florence, AZ to discuss the potential project. It is expected that the Pinal County Board of Supervisors will select the final project at this hearing and adopt applicable resolutions. The potential CDBG project is named and described as follows:

Owner Occupied Housing Rehabilitation. Pinal County will apply for approximately $300,000 in SSP funds to rehabilitate approximately seven (7) qualified households through its single-family owner-occupied housing rehabilitation program. Pinal County will also apply to receive approximately $104,276 in RA funds to rehabilitate approximately five (5) qualified households through this same program. The beneficiaries of RA and SSP funds will be selected based on a waiting list and an income qualification process. Services will be provided to all areas of the County, except in tribal lands and FEMA-determined 100-year floodplains. Pinal County will use the ADOH approved housing rehabilitation guidelines. Assistance will be in the form of a ten or fifteen year forgivable deferred payment loans up to $50,000, or emergency repair grants up to $15,000. Rehabilitation services use in-house expertise, and rehabilitation work will use competitively procured licensed contractors.
