OBITUARIES

Dolores 'Nancy' E. Celis

Dolores "Nancy" Escarcega Celis, 88, went to be with her Lord on Jan. 20, 2020 in Kearny, Arizona, surrounded by her loving family. She was born June 23, 1931 in Bisbee, Arizona to her parents, Ramona and Mariano Escarcega.

She was a loving and devoted wife, mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, sister, cousin and friend. She delighted in providing a welcoming, loving Christian home for her family and friends. She was a lifelong and dedicated member of the Infant Jesus of Prague Catholic Church in Sonora, Arizona and Kearny, Arizona and regularly volunteered and served in different capacities in the parish. Among the family she was known as our "prayer warrior" continually advocating for her family and friends. For over 20 years she was employed by the Ray Unified School District cafeteria, eventually retiring as head cook.

Mom taught our family so many valuable lessons concerning faith, serving the Lord and each other. In addition, we had the privilege of enjoying meals from the best cook in the Copper Basin area. We remember her spirit of service and will eternally miss her sense of humor, tenderness, honesty, generosity and graciousness.

She was preceded in death by her beloved husband, Gilbert; parents, Ramona and Mariano; brothers, Hector and Mariano; and loving grandson, Nathan Garcia.

She is survived by her children, Samuel Celis (Mickey) of Kearny, Dr. F. James Celis (late wife-Norma) of Kearny, Nanette Yescas (Arturo) of Kearny and Peter Celis (Lorrie) of Kearny; sister, Eva Garcia (Gilbert) of San Antonio, Texas; and brother, Manuel Escarcega of Superior. In addition, she was blessed with 18 grandchildren, 31 great-grandchildren, 5 great-great-grandchildren and numerous loving cousins and great friends.

Rosary was 9 a.m. on Monday, Jan. 27, 2020 at Infant Jesus of Prague Catholic Church in Kearny. Mass was 10 a.m. and the interment took place at the Fairview Cemetery in Superior, Arizona following the Mass.

Raul Chavez Mendoza

Raul Chavez Mendoza was born Dec. 16, 1923 in San Pedro, Arizona to Herlinda Chavez and Luis G. Mendoza. He was the eldest of four children, Raul, Celia, Luis, and Humberto and was preceded in death by all three siblings.

Raul graduated from Hayden High School in 1941 and attended The University of Arizona majoring in business.

In 1943 he was inducted into the Army Air Corps and served his country as a bombardier of B-29 airplanes. He was honorably discharged from the Army Air Corps in 1946.

Following his discharge from the service he began his chosen life long career as a businessman, opening Hayden Home Supply in downtown Hayden. Raul continued to serve the home furnishing needs of Hayden, San Pedro and neighboring communities until the time of his death on Jan. 4, 2020.

Raul was an avid golfer and family "vacations" usually revolved around golf tournaments in Globe, Safford, Douglas and Rio Rico where he was usually joined by fellow golfers and friends from Hayden and Kearny.

Raul is survived by his wife of 69 years, Sophie; children, Gloria (Pete) Rios, Raul (Lupe) Mendoza Jr., Celia and Ernestina; seven grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Rosary and Memorial Service for Raul Mendoza will be held Saturday, Feb. 1, 2020, at 10:30 a.m. at Mountain View Cemetery in Hayden, Arizona.

Rural jobs initiative announced at State of the State; New partnership with Local First Arizona Rural Development Council aims to strengthen talent pipelines across Arizona

With a focus on building opportunity for all Arizonans, Governor Doug Ducey announced in his State of the State

Address a new partnership with the Local First AZ Rural Development Council (AZRDC). Recognizing that “small business is the backbone of our economy,” the Rural Jobs Initiative will focus on getting rural Arizonans back to work while bolstering our local economies.

According to federal statistics, Arizona’s job growth rates are flourishing - ranking our state as having the fourth fastest-growing economy in the country. Yet, in taking a closer look at the numbers, we realize the data gathered by the Bureau of Labor Statistics and the US Census Bureau is significantly skewed by the growth of metro Maricopa County; overlooking the dire reality of rural Arizona.

It is projected that thousands of manufacturing, construction, and healthcare jobs remain open in each county. On one hand, there simply are not enough people to meet the demands of the growing needs. On the other, those being trained for the positions lack the necessary skills industry employers require. In fact, 98% of colleges nation-wide believe they are producing a skilled workforce, while only 11% of business leaders agree.

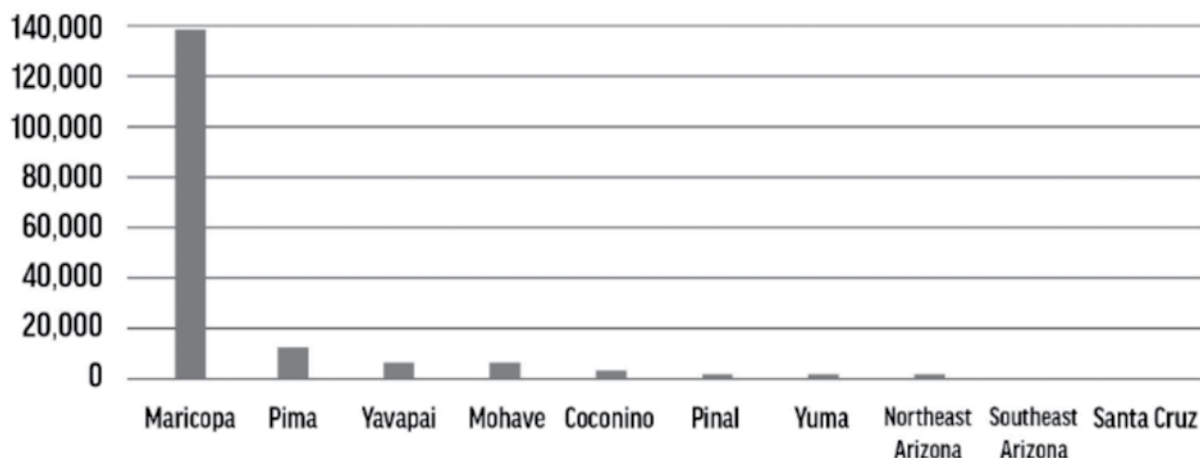

“In our work in rural Arizona, we continue to see a disconnect between employers and educators. This is resulting in a “No Workers vs No Jobs” disparity that is inaccurate and holistically problematic for rural development. Our hope is that TPM® may be a part of the solution, and we look forward to working with Governor Ducey to grow employment in Arizona’s rural area” said Liza Noland, Arizona Rural Development Council’s Director of Rural Programs.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce Foundation has created a nationally-vetted program to provide a strategic alignment between classroom and career. Talent Pipeline Management (TPM®) is a uniquely employer-led approach to workforce development. Industry leaders collaborate to analyze data, standardize competencies, and communicate data-driven workforce needs with talent providers to enhance their talent pipelines and address other workforce challenges specific to their region.

To implement the TPM framework, the AZ Rural Development Council will convene industry collaboratives by region to determine mutual pain points in staffing and upskilling. From there, the Collaboratives will gather accurate workforce data, draft standardized job descriptions and identify talent providers that can meet the needs identified throughout the guided process. A shared language between employers will allow for stronger partnerships with training and education partners, making a positive return on investment much more likely.

By engaging rural employers in the strategic development of skill-based talent pipelines, standardized position descriptions can be developed, marketing job opportunities to disconnected youth and other non-traditional workforce sources can be enhanced, and relationships between educators and the business sector can be improved in rural communities across the state.

Project Harvest Ripple Effect: visualizing Arizona's harvested rainwater

Project Harvest Ripple Effect has traveled to various Arizona communities that neighbor hazardous mining sites, including Hayden-Winkelman.

Thanks to the efforts of the Integrated Environmental Science and Health Risk Laboratory and University of Arizona, residents in the Hayden-Winkelman area recently were able to input their data on water collected on their property to learn the impact and influence of how water responds on the community.

On Monday, May 18, there will be a Hayden-Winkelman Open House for Project Harvest at 824 Thorne Ave. in Winkelman. There will be light refreshments and snacks. The real highlight, though, is to give feedback regarding Year 1 on Project Harvest.

Free training: Arizona Department of Education presents educational rights of students in foster care

The Arizona Department of Education will present Educational Rights of Students in Foster Care.

This training will be held on Feb. 28, 2020, 10 a.m. to noon, at High Desert Middle School, 4000 High Desert Dr., Globe, AZ 85501. Registration is free and open to the public.

Presenters, Joey Taylor and Amanda

Glass, coordinators with the Department of Education, explain that in order to make school stability for students in foster care a reality, it will require the collaboration of the child welfare agency, the school, the caregiver, the bio family, the courts, and anyone invested in lives of these students. Participants will learn the role of all parties involved and how to best advocate for students in foster care. Students in foster care often require special education services from the school. It is important that those who support students in foster care understand the special education process. Information on IEPs, special education protections, dispute resolution, due process, amongst other topics will be provided.

This training is hosted by CASA of Gila County. Please reserve your place by sending an email to Emily Nader at enader@courts.az.gov or call (928) 402-4427.

Ashes to Ashes

Winter is in full swing cold nights and days abound. No doubt that fireplace or wood stove is in full gear, cranking out the heat and keeping ya warm. After that warm evening you have a pile of ashes. You got them, now what are you going to do with them? Grab that bucket, shovel them out, and put the bucket on the patio till tomorrow. Next day, when the bucket is cool, you dump them on the far end of the property or out with the trash. Oh, I think you know the rest of the story, and it's not pretty. They sat for a day, the bucket was cold, and you saw no embers when you dumped them, what could go wrong?

Saturday, 2 a.m.: a mother smells smoke and escapes from the house with her two children in their pajamas. Their home and most of the contents are destroyed. The fire started in a bag containing ashes left next to the home's wood siding the prior evening.

Tuesday, 3 p.m.: an elderly man inside his home smells an acidic smoky smell and notices black smoke outside his backyard facing window. In seconds the house is filled with smoke coming through the open window. 911 is called, the fire department arrives. The fire is in the homeowner's compost pile. Fireplace ashes were deposited there two days ago. The homeowner is transported for smoke inhalation.

Monday, 4:30 p.m.: on Main St. just north of downtown, rush hour. A garbage truck has just dumped a "hot load" in the middle of the road. A passerby flagged the operator down saying there are flames coming out from the top of the truck. The road is closed, the fire department arrives. Wet burnt smelly garbage flows down the road and into the storm drains. Cleanup takes 5 hours. Hot ashes dumped into a trash can, the fire investigator's report reads. It could have been worse. A $300,000 garbage truck could have been destroyed, or worse, a home burnt down when the plastic trash can catches fire next to the home.

What could go wrong? Nothing this time, you were lucky. Next time make sure you use that metal bucket and let them sit for 3-4 days. Wet them down after you dump them in a cleared area. If you have to put ashes in the trash, wet them down in the bucket and bag them wet.

Don't let ashes make more ashes.
