Cascabel Working Group, Friends of Aravaipa Region respond to BLM approval of SunZia project

Tucson, Arizona – On January 24, 2015 Secretary of Interior Sally Jewell signed the formal federal approval for the SunZia Southwest Transmission Project, a high-voltage transmission line that will cut north along the San Pedro River, destroying previously untouched wildlife habitat and disrupting primary wildlife migration corridors between the Galiuro and Santa Catalina/Rincon Mountains. The final route selected by the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) would irreparably harm some of Arizona's most important natural and cultural resources and irreversibly damage a unique and important ecosystem.

SunZia is proposing to build two 500-kilovolt transmission lines between central New Mexico and Arizona purportedly to deliver predominantly wind-generated electricity to Arizona and California. This project would create one of the largest new utility corridors in the western U.S. and cause significant harm in some of the most important wildlife areas in Arizona. The damage that this project would do to Arizona's lower San Pedro Valley region cannot be justified given the questionable and unproved claims that this project is needed to promote renewable energy resources.

"The harm this project will cause to our river valley is entirely unnecessary given that the project is not needed to meet any renewable energy needs in Arizona or California and would squander both financial and environmental resources if built," says Mick Meader, Co-Chair of the Cascabel Working Group, formed by Middle San Pedro Valley landowners concerned about the project. "California and Arizona have both demonstrated that they can easily meet present and future renewable energy needs with their own resources. Building this project will not increase the use of renewable energy, merely rearrange which resources are developed, if even that."

This routing would impact 40 years of conservation efforts by federal and state government agencies, corporations and conservation organizations, which have spent more than $40 million to protect more than 200,000 acres of valley lands. The San Pedro River is the last undammed river in the Desert Southwest and

San Manuel man killed after confronting deputy

An armed San Manuel man was shot and killed by a Pinal County Sheriff's Deputy Friday night, closing a section of McNab Parkway while detectives rushed to understand what happened.

According to the Pinal County Sheriff's Office, the county's 911 Communication Center received a call from a woman in the 200 block of S. McNab Pkwy., San Manuel. The woman said that a suspicious person had confronted her husband in the driveway of their home.

The subject, she said, had "squared off show-down style" with her husband and was brandishing a large knife. The subject then began to swing the knife around as if he was "practicing stabbing and jabbing." The subject next walked east towards a light pole and appeared to be in a "confrontation" with the wooden light pole. The subject began to "stab, shave and slit" the light pole. The subject then stood on one foot as if "teetering on the edge of cliff." A short time later he put his foot down and continued walking east.

After a uniformed deputy was dispatched to the call in a fully marked patrol vehicle, the subject was located within minutes near the Salt & Pepper Market. The deputy observed the subject was holding a knife in hand. The deputy made repeated verbal commands for him to drop the knife.

Instead the subject advanced towards the deputy and told the deputy he was going to harm him, Pinal County Sheriff's Office Public Information Officer, Tim Gaffney said.

The deputy pointed his department issued handgun at the subject and told him to stay back yet the subject with the knife still in his hand refused and continued coming at the deputy. The deputy feared for his safety and shot the subject.

The subject was later identified as Daniel Mejia, 37, San Manuel. He was pronounced dead at the scene. The deputy, Gaffney said, was uninjured.

Detectives from the PCSO Criminal

Daniel Mejia

Investigations Bureau responded to the scene to investigate. A family member told detectives that Mejia always carried two knives and he suffered from severe mental health issues.

Sheriff Paul Babeu stated, "Law enforcement across the country are frequently put into crisis situations involving people affected by mental disorders. Dealing with individuals who suffer from mental illness is often difficult as it carries the potential for violence. In this case, the deputy feared for his life as Mejia came towards him with a knife and he refused to obey his commands. Our thoughts and prayers go out to the Mejia family who lost their son and also to our deputy who was forced into this situation."

Pinal County Sheriff's Report

The Pinal County Sheriff's Report is taken from the daily logs, based on the information provided by deputies. All persons arrested are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Shining a spotlight on a local business

This letter is about a sidelight to that tragic accident that killed and injured those men coming home from work. One young mother, Chasity Brownrigg, lost her husband in the wreck, then shortly afterwards lost her dad to a stroke or heart attack.

She and her husband had recently bought a vehicle from Oracle Ford, which now, because of the loss of income, she would be unable to pay for. When the folks at Oracle Ford heard this, they agreed to take back the car and refunded her money, then donated a significant amount to the fund-raising effort.

That kind of compassionate, people-focused action is something too often lacking in businesses that would think only of the hassle of paperwork and their loss of income. It's good to know we have that kind of business in Oracle.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Much missing from Sheriff's case for 'worst financial decision'

Sheriff Paul Babeu presents his case for "the Worst Financial Decision in Pinal County History" in a letter to the Feb. 11 Miner but important data is missing from his business case. There are also some obvious red flags.

First, although the sheriff tells us the county receives @$11M of revenue per year from ICE, I cannot find the matching cost side of the business case in his letter. Further, although he has been managing the jail for some years, it appears that he requested the Supervisors hire an outside firm to do a staffing study to determine appropriate staffing levels in the jail. I would expect any executive who has been in a job for this length of time to know the full annual cost of his operation along with the ongoing annual out of pocket costs. It is a red flag for an executive not to know or pretend not to know. A reviewing executive would infer that the cost side might be an ugly story our jail manager would prefer someone else tell. It also appears that, from reading sources other than the Sheriff's letter that the revenue and cost equation is well known by county professional staff and the businessmen on the Board of Supervisors.

There have been reports that federal detainees in the jail, who had not been convicted of any crime, were subject to harsh conditions that did not meet the standards for treatment set by the federal government. This is a red flag that perhaps corners were already being cut and the cost

Showing support for local law enforcement officers on the 'frontlines'

This is the time that fellow 'Sheepdogs', the protectors of society, to rise to the support of their partners who work the frontlines on a daily basis to protect society from the 'wolves' and the effects of diseases resulting from drug/alcohol abuse that are popping up in our midst more and more. Through the officer involved shooting of an impaired and threatening individual, we continue to see the effects of these curses to society.

And of equal concern, is the mental anguish that our law enforcement has to endure when no other option is left, but to take a life, in the performance of their duty. Even the most durable and strongest of our police, in these occasions, are impacted forever.

We, of the Oracle Neighborhood Watch, extend our sympathies as well as our support and commendation to the deputy and fellow resident of Pinal County that was involved, for a job well done. We salute you and thank you for your service in these times of great stress and emotional anguish.

/s/ Ron Thompson

On Behalf of the Oracle Neighborhood Watch

problem would be difficult to solve.

Clearly, the Board of Supervisors were convinced that the deal with ICE was bad for county taxpayers and that it could not be solved without a very significant price increase. It is always a sad thing to have shut down a losing business, but it happens every day around the world. (It is more rare to shut down losers in tax supported government). The blame game between managers of failing businesses is also a common thing when a business goes down, but Mr. Rios raises a point about customer perception. After the activities in Oracle last Fall, (and considering the long list of issues Mr. Babeu has had with federal law enforcement) how could our ICE customer, the source of the money in the deal, trust Pinal County after everything that happened? How can you embarrass your ICE customer that way and expect them to negotiate a better contract to save the jail when they have so many other better managed jails to choose from? The answer is that you can't and no smart K9 unit bites the hand that feeds him.

There have been other red flags over the last few years that the Sheriff's office had some issues with budget management. Everybody has problems managing to their budgets but we have the issue of civil forfeiture funds being used for the Sheriff's favorite charities. We also had the issue of how the Sheriff acquired and distributed "free" surplus military hardware contrary to DOD program rules. This could all just be creative management on the part of Mr. Babeu. We are accustomed to creative management and flaming letters of defense from the Sheriff's office whether or not the explanations, counting and accounting makes any sense.

Lastly we know our Sheriff did not plan to be our Sheriff when this problem came to a head. He had plans to be in the U.S. House of Representatives by now. Or, failing in that bid, he had widely reported hopes of being appointed to manage DPS under a new governor. It is always a significant sign when the boss starts looking for another job and in this case it is a good idea.

Sincerely,
/s/ Donald Cain

CCEDC offers leadership training to local residents; deadline to apply Feb. 27

By John Hernandez
Copper Area News

The Copper Corridor Economic Development Coalition is looking for local residents to step up into a leadership role in local communities.

But they aren't going to send those new leaders out into the public without a little training and guidance.

The Copper Corridor Economic Development Coalition or CCEDC has partnered with Valle del Sol to bring a Leadership Academy to the Copper Corridor area.

Valle del Sol is an organization that offers primary care, behavioral health and social services to communities in Arizona and New Mexico. They were founded in 1970 to fill the gap in behavioral health and social services provided to the Latino community and underserved populations.

They also have a very successful leadership development program, the Hispanic Leadership Institute (HLI), which is open to individuals of all diverse backgrounds. This is the program that the CCEDC plans to bring to the Copper Corridor.

The Hispanic Leadership Institute-Copper Corridor is a 10 week leadership institute designed to educate and assist individuals in developing their leadership skills to take an active part in the community by serving on a non-profit/government board or commission. The mission of HLI-Copper Corridor is "to promote individual development for increased participation in leadership roles and to serve as a principal education and networking resource for expertise and advocacy on leadership issues impacting Arizona communities." HLI-Copper Corridor will proactively assist participants with tools and skills to prepare for leadership roles at the local level and beyond.

"I have had the pleasure of addressing the Valle del Sol Hispanic Leadership Institute for a couple of decades," said Pete Rios, Vice-Chairman of the Pinal County Board of Supervisors. "I have consistently been impressed with the quality of candidates and the content of program. Besides teaching how to impact political and social systems, the Institute provides practical knowledge on the 'nuts and bolts' of the governmental process. I would encourage anyone who is interested in improving the quality of life for themselves, family and neighbors to get involved with this terrific leadership opportunity and become a voice for societal improvement."

The HLI-Copper Corridor plans on holding sessions in many different locations throughout the Copper Corridor so participants will be exposed to other communities and local leaders. The different sites have not been determined but will be based on those who plan to attend. Sessions will be held weekly for 10 weeks from 6-9 p.m. There is also a mandatory all day Leadership Retreat (date and location to be determined).

The curriculum will offer the participants an opportunity to become involved with top business and public policy authorities in a continuing dialogue about leadership and those issues important to residents of the Copper Corridor.

HLI-Copper Corridor has a competitive application process open to individuals of all diverse backgrounds. The tuition cost of the program is $200. The deadline for applications is Feb. 27. Sessions for HLI-Copper Corridor Class of 2015 begins Wednesday, March 18.

To apply go to <http://bit.ly/19rJCS1>. For more information call (602) 258-6797, extension 121 or email info@valledelsol.com.

Elizabeth Magallanez, President of CCEDC, is a graduate of the HLI Leadership Institute and is excited by the possibilities that this partnership brings to the Copper Corridor.

"The Copper Corridor has had the desire to sponsor a leadership academy that would be available to the residents of the Copper Corridor," she said. "We are happy to announce that through a partnership with Valle del Sol we will be able to offer the HLI-Copper Corridor Leadership Academy in the spring."

She said that this is a wonderful opportunity for anyone of diverse backgrounds who are interested in taking on more active roles in their communities to educate and assist them.

"As an alumna of HLI-Pinal, I enjoyed the 10 week curriculum and found myself anxious to get to the next class. Each session was extremely informative," she said, "and sparked great discussions regarding the challenges we face in our communities such as community issues, public/media relation skills and board/commission service and much more. This was a great networking experience and I can honestly say that I was truly inspired by some of the stories shared when we learned more about each other and our backgrounds. Most importantly I learned that we have to get involved and be part of the change."

In 2013, she attended the HLI-Reunion "Renew the Commitment." On the program, she said was a quote:

"Our ambitions must be broad enough to include the aspirations and needs of others, for their sakes and for our own" – Cesar Chavez.

"I couldn't agree more," Magallanez said. "I encourage anyone who has had a desire to learn about leadership or how to become a more effective leader to join us for the first ever HLI-Copper Corridor Leadership Academy."

Canyon region. “Siting this proposed transmission project in some of Arizona’s most sensitive and unfragmented lands is unacceptable,” said Sandy Bahr, chapter director for Sierra Club’s Grand Canyon (Arizona) chapter. “Due to the known significant negative impacts this project would have on the San Pedro Valley and the important habitat it provides, the impacts on cultural resources, and the fact that the project is just as likely to carry fossil-fueled electricity as renewables, Sierra Club strongly opposes the SunZia Transmission Line.”

In addition, the BLM’s use of an idealized and untenable energy development scenario to assess cumulative environmental impacts negates much of the analysis for the project. The BLM essentially dismissed public comment on the Draft Environmental Impact Statement, Resource Management Plan Amendments, and Environmental Assessment. Such dismissals are inconsistent with the National Environmental Policy Act’s requirements for a full analysis of reasonable alternatives; an assessment of the direct, indirect, and cumulative impacts; and the intent of the law to create the clearest possible picture of the project.

“We strongly object to sacrificing high-quality environmental values to such an inadequate and corrupted process and will work to correct this however we can,” said Peter Else, chair of the Friends of the Aravaipa Region, a group of lower San Pedro landowners and conservationists. “We cannot permit such an overt disregard for the intent of the law.”

The Cascabel Working

Group works to educate citizens about the Middle San Pedro River Valley, advocating for the protection of the valley’s environment, culture, and traditional land uses. Additional information about the Cascabel Working Group is available at www.cascabelworkinggroup.org.

Sierra Club is a conservation organization with 2.3 million members and supporters nationwide and chapters in every state, including the Grand Canyon Chapter in Arizona. Sierra Club’s mission is to explore, enjoy, and protect the wild places of the earth.

Friends of the Aravaipa Region is a network of conservation activists and local landowners dedicated to the protection of wildlife habitat in the lower San Pedro River watershed of southern Arizona.

One simple call to 811 gets underground utility-owned lines marked for FREE.

Whether you're a homeowner or professional excavator, every digging job requires a call — even small projects — so be sure to:

- Call 811 at least two days before starting any digging project
- Wait for the site to be marked
- Respect the marks
- Dig with care

Not calling can be life threatening and costly. You can harm yourself or others, disrupt natural gas service to an entire neighborhood, and potentially be responsible for injuries, repair costs, and criminal penalties.

Natural gas lines can be buried anywhere. If you ever suspect a natural gas leak, call 911 and Southwest Gas at 1-877-860-6020 immediately, whether you're our customer or not.

Atmospheric Composition and its Importance to Earth's Energy Budget and Climate

Monday, March 2, 2015 | 4:30 p.m.

Aravaipa Campus - E102

Dr. Jeffrey S. Amthor will address issues surrounding the dramatic increase of atmospheric carbon dioxide concentration (and other greenhouse gasses) over the past 200 years. He will discuss effects of green house gas concentration on solar and terrestrial radiation fluxes, ongoing changes in the atmosphere and physical properties of Earth's surface that affect climate, effects of the ocean on climatic change, and how increasing atmospheric carbon dioxide concentration increases plant growth and lowers oceanic pH. Some proposed quick fixes to slowing global warming will also be presented.

Giant changes made at local store
