Mammoth families seek answers in double murder case

By John Hernandez
Copper Area News

There is probably nothing worse than having your child or grandchild die before your time has passed, unless it is losing your loved ones to a senseless, violent act.

The DeSantiago and Reynoso families of Mammoth have experienced the tragedy of losing a loved one to a vicious, cowardly murder. The double murder of Mark Reynoso and Maria DeSantiago on Jan. 31, 2017 has left both families dealing with the horror and grief of this tragedy. The people of Mammoth are also living in fear with the knowledge that a killer or killers may be on the loose in their community.

On Tuesday, Jan. 30, 2018, one day before the first anniversary of the double murder, the Pinal County Sheriff's Office held a press conference to bring attention to the unsolved case and make a plea to the public for information leading to the capture and conviction of those involved in the murders. Members of the Reynoso and DeSantiago family were present. Joe Reynoso, Mark's father and Marcela DeSantiago, Maria's sister spoke lovingly about their loved ones and the grief they are dealing with.

Joe spoke about how he missed Mark and Maria. Maria worked with him every day at the restaurant and Mark was his helper. "There's nothing he couldn't fix out there," he said.

Mark's mother Laney reiterated this, in a later interview with the San Manuel Miner, while crying, to remind everyone that "Mark was a Jack of All Trades and a master of all of them."

Joe talked about the difficulty of his life since finding the bodies of both Mark and Maria. He is reminded every day of the tragedy as he drives by the crime scene every morning on his way to work. He said he makes the sign of the cross twice as he passes. He still dreams of them working together.

Marcela DeSantiago described her sister as a good mother and hardworking woman. Both Marcela and Joe reminded everyone that Maria and Mark had children left behind that are now being taken care of by family members. They both pleaded for information to bring the killer to justice.

"We're not going to give up. We don't give up," Joe said. The detective handling the case is Joe Bonucci. He said that they need the help of the public to solve this case. There is speculation that the murder may have been related to a car accident that Mark was involved in where three people lost their lives which happened nearly two years to the day in 2015. Mark was facing manslaughter charges at the time of the murders.

Detectives looked at robbery as a possible motive but if it was, the robbery was not carried out. There was no forced entry of the apartment and physical evidence at the scene leads them to be-

Joe Reynoso appeals to the public for information about his son's murder. His son, Mark, and his girlfriend, Maria De Santiago were killed a year ago.

Duarte, a guard, shot 4-of-5 from the field, including 2-of-3 from three-point range, and was 4-of-5 from the free throw line.

Junior Cedric Mendoza

contributed with 10 points and four rebounds. Sophomore Sammy Lopez and freshman Dominic Hernandez finished with nine and eight points, respectively. Hernandez also had four rebounds.

The Panthers ended their season with a record of 7 – 13.

Copper Corridor communities pledge support for Expect More Arizona

By Mila Besich-Lira
Copper Area News

The Town Councils of Kearny, Hayden and Superior have all passed resolutions in support of Expect More Arizona. The overall goal of Expect More Arizona and the Center for the Future of Arizona is to improve educational attainment by 2030 throughout the State of Arizona. Expect More Arizona has taken a great amount of care to ensure that every community in the state is aware of their progress meter and the need for non-partisan collaboration to attain educational goals for Arizona.

“For the first time, Arizona has a vision for education and a consensus among our education community. The Education Progress Meter enables diverse groups from across the state to work together to address critical issues within our education system while making problem-solving relevant to local communities,” said Lattie Coor, chairman and CEO of the Center for the Future of Arizona. “The Progress Meter is an asset to Arizona and will be instrumental in informing education policy, strategic decision-making and investments to help Arizona prepare our talented young people for success while driving the prosperity and opportunity for all who live here.”

The communities of the Copper Corridor often struggle with youth retention: young people leave due to lack of jobs and educational resources. One tradition the Town of Superior utilizes to celebrate academic achievement is the annual invitation of the Senior Class to the May Council meeting. The Council congratulates each graduate and presents them with a custom key chain and blank key with a letter. The letter congratulates them and encourages them to follow their dreams but to consider coming home when they have reached their education al goals. The towns of Kearny and Hayden are working on ideas that encourage this collaboration as well. The Town of Mammoth is planning on having Expect More Arizona to a future council meeting as well.

Today the statistics around educational attainment are grim, low teacher pay, low math and reading scores. The goals by 2030 are to have education attainment at 60% from today's 40%. To increase post high school education enrollment from 53% to 70% to increase high school graduation from 78% to 90%, improve the percentages of skill students passing the 8th grade math and third grade reading scores and to improve quality early learning.

In the adoption of the resolutions the Town Councils agreed that education must be a top priority to ensure a strong economic future and higher quality of life. In the communities of the Copper Corridor, there is usually positive collaboration amongst the schools and the municipalities; however the disconnect often happens at the state level, where funding is based on enrollment, making it harder for small schools to compete for teachers and are often left stretching resources.

Expect More Arizona®
THE MOVEMENT FOR

The jobs of tomorrow will require all young people to attain higher education and skills. Expect More Arizona has online resources and ideas to help everyone understand the importance of working on education attainment. You can learn more about the Progress Meter online at www.ExpectMoreArizona.com.

One could call Magma Avenue the “Avenue of Relaxation and Wellness” – one that very busy road is the home of Sole to Soul Awakening, Superior Skin Care, Untangled Hair and Centrix Health Resources (Reflections Hospice). But what everyone may overlook is the home of King Chiropractic, which is located inside the office suites of Pamela Peck at 18 North Magma.

When you walk into Dr. Susan King’s suite, you are instantly greeted with a sense of calm and relaxation – not the typical “White Coat” experience one may feel when visiting a doctor’s office. You will also be greeted by her very sweet dog, Lu Vee, who is a two-year old Akita, who is practicing to become a therapy animal. Dr. King wants people to know her as a person, a person who is passionate about helping people feel better and help them achieve their optimal health.

Chiropractic care is a natural form of healthcare that uses adjustments to the spine to improve alignments of the spine. Most importantly these adjustments help to restore proper function to the nervous system, which can help your body to heal naturally. The nervous system helps the entire body to function and operate.

Dr. King opened her practice in Superior after many of her patients encouraged her to come to Superior. When she started to look for a place she found Pam Peck’s offices and felt it was a good fit, especially since could bring Lu Vee to the office

Practice What God Has Revealed to You

The apostle Paul in his letter to the Philippians (4:9) says to us: “Whatever you have learned or received or heard from me, or seen in me – put it into practice. And the God of peace will be with you.” In Luke 8:21 Jesus says that those who hear God’s Word are to put it into practice.

Colossians 3:17 tells us - “whatever you do, whether in word or deed, do it all in the Name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him.”

The failure to practice the things of God only results in frustration and anxiety. There is a tendency to go backwards in your sense of direction and life purpose. Also, earthly things are of no heavenly value.

You are to set your heart and mind on the things of heaven, instead of on earthly things. This is done by practicing what God has revealed to your heart. It will fill your heart with joy and peace as His blessings help you to fulfill your life purpose.

with her. Her main office is in Apache Junction and she was previously located in Kearny. Dr. King has been practicing Chiropractic Care for over 30 years. She earned her degree from Palmer College of Chiropractor in Davenport, Iowa.

King Chiropractic does not use the “twist and crank” method of adjustments, she uses a special table that helps people to feel more comfortable with their adjustments. Those wishing to try her chiropractic care can visit her practice on Tuesday and Thursday. Appointments are not necessary; she encourages patients to drop in and treatments are $40. A first time patient will go through a brief interview on their health to determine the treatments needed. Dr. King explains that her goal is to help feel better and maintain wellness. She is not one to push treatments on patients if they are not needing one.

“Regular chiropractic care is like getting the oil changed in your car. It helps keep everything running,” she said.

lieve the shooter never entered the apartment.

It appears the motive may be more "personal," according to the detective. There is a good chance that Mark and Maria knew their killer.

Lab reports show that one weapon was used in both shootings. A vehicle believed to be a 2000 - 2001 dark gray Ford Ranger was reported in the area during the time of the shootings.

"We can't bring those lives back, but we can bring some closure to the family," Pinal County Sheriff, Mark Lamb said. "We know we can solve this case but we need the help of the community to do so."
