Edward Rutherford

Edward Rutherford was born March 8, 1938 in the copper mining town of Superior, Arizona where he spent a happy youth.

His father R. L. Rutherford was an engineer in the Magma Mine and patented several inventions including the widely used electronic mine shaft signal system. Ed's mother Katharine was born in Arizona Territory and was a school teacher in Superior where she met and married his dad. Her mother, Edith Crane was the post mistress in the town of Copper Hill near Jerome.

Ed grew up around his dad's electronics and metal shop, and learned skills he loved and perfected his whole life. He earned dual degrees of economics and psychology at Northern Arizona University in 1966 and a masters in economics at the University of Arizona, and went on to become a corporate officer with Valley National Bank in Tucson, until he retired to spend more time with his beloved radio control airplane hobby. He built, designed and flew RC airplanes and designed custom electronic equipment for them. He also collected and displayed vintage radio equipment. He was proud to be the president of the Avra Valley RC Flyers Club and very much enjoyed flying and being with his friends at the field.

He is survived and greatly missed by his wife, Cynthia; his daughter, Katharine; grandsons, Ryan and Jeffery; in-laws, Charles and Barbara and his dear friends, Roger, Tim, Dave, Weldon and many others and also his much loved kitties, Rusty and Callie.

He taught many people to fly and loved to share his knowledge and love of the hobby with others. He was a true kind and gentle man and is very much missed. Ed died Jan. 21, 2017.

In Your Biz

Superior Funeral Home

Rob Bulman of Superior Funeral Home

Rob Bulman purchased the Superior Funeral home in 2011. He has been in the funeral business for 20 years. He began his career when he was a Sophomore in college. His family had owned a farm and his father decided to retire but did not want Rob to go into farming, so he went to college and found a career in funeral services. Mortuary operation and end of life services are not often career choices that people discuss but they are essential services that at some point every family will need.

Rob explained that pre-planning is available at Superior Mortuary and those services are sometimes the best gift a person can leave their family, making all the decisions and choices in advance. He also stressed that funerals or celebrations of life can be customized to accommodate every need. The mortuary can also help those wishing to pre-plan purchase funeral insurance to cover the costs of a funeral. Those types of planning services are financed through an insurance company and are not maintained locally, which provides financial security to those who purchase funeral insurance.

Rob has worked in both a corporate mortuary and an independent mortuary before deciding to buy Superior Funeral Home. He moved to Arizona from North Dakota to purchase the mortuary. It doesn't hurt that in Arizona he has more days he can play golf! In 2013, he purchased the Miles mortuary in Globe
