Panthers post win over Lincoln Prep

By Nathaniel A. Lopez
Superior Sun

The Superior baseball team kicked off last week with a home game against Lincoln Prep.

The Panthers started off the first inning by gaining a 2-run lead. The boys continued to show their control of the game, by scoring 5 more runs in the second inning. The Panthers' defense showed strong, as they kept Lincoln Prep from scoring until the sixth inning. The boys ended the game with a victory, and a final score of 8-4.

Marcos Galindo pitched 5.2 innings, giving up only 4 runs on 4 hits, with 13 strikeouts. Adam Lopez came in and pitched 1.1 innings, with 2 strikeouts.

The boys ended their week with an away game against Miami. The game was in anyone's hand until the third inning, where Miami began to gain control. The evening ended with Miami claiming the victory over Superior with a final score of 1-12.

"It was a tale of two different games this week," commented head coach Manuel Ortega. "If we want to make it to state, we have to do a better job of making plays. Errors are what hurt us. We have to sharpen up, and make plays, period."

Last week the Superior Lady Panthers softball team traveled to Tolleson High School to compete in the West Valley Softball Invitational.

The first game of the tournament was against Window

Rock. The game began with a 1-1 first innings, but Window Rock began to gain the lead. In the fourth inning, the Lady Panthers pulled ahead by scoring 7 runs. Leading the team at the plate for that game was Mira Estatico who went 3 for 3 with 2 RBIs. The game ended with a Lady Panther victory of 9-6.

Later that day the girls played against Heritage Academy, where they suffered a tough loss of 16-1. Day two saw the Lady Panthers play against American Leadership Academy of West Foothills. The girls spent the game trying to catch up to their opponent, but fell short in the 3-13 game. The following day, the girls played against American Leadership Academy of Ironwood, where they were shut-out in the 0-10 battle of a game.

Women-owned businesses provide

Last year, the U.S. experienced record entrepreneurship levels. For the first time ever, the nation surpassed a million establishment openings. Women, in particular, drove entrepreneurship in the country. According to a report by American Express, 42 percent of all businesses are women-owned businesses, employing 9.4 million workers and creating $1.9 trillion in revenue.

Like many communities across the county, Superior, Arizona is reaping the economic benefits of entrepreneurship. Over the past few years, we have seen our revenue double and much of that is as a result of our women owned businesses. Approximately 83% of the small businesses owned in Superior are women owned. This strong economy and fact that we have growth in women's entrepreneurship indicates there are many opportunities in our community for entrepreneurs.

We realize that creating a sustainable economy requires entrepreneurship and dedicated business owners, but it also requires organizations to support these endeavors. Superior is very much aware of this and has made it a priority. Our Chamber of Commerce works hard to make sure existing businesses have resources and feel supported.

The Superior Enterprise Center also works to support existing businesses, but the primary focus is to support entrepreneurs and help them take their visions to reality. Another area of focus for the Enterprise Center is supporting workforce development and creating pathways to careers to build an economy that is sustainable. These entities in tandem with the Town government help to create an infrastructure that can sustain an inevitable economic downturn and continue to thrive.

The Superior Enterprise Center will host a Small Business Bootcamp March 24 10:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Resolution Copper in the news

For the past several weeks, many national news outlets have been sharing stories on the activities and protests by environmental groups and Apache Stronghold, who have long protested the Resolution Copper project. Much of this news comes as the Ninth Circuit court is expected to rehear the Apache Stronghold v. United States case this week in what the court calls an “en banc” hearing. This means that the full panel of 11 judges will hear the case.

The lawsuit was originally filed in February 2021 in federal court. Originally the court rejected the case after three judges heard the arguments and ruled against Apache Stronghold. In November 2022, in an unprecedented announcement the Ninth Circuit court announced they would rehear the case “en banc”.

The Apache Stronghold case is a religious freedoms case: Apache Stronghold is arguing that Oak Flats is a sacred place and that the mining operations will prohibit their right to worship under the freedom of religion amendment. Joining the Apache Stronghold fight to Save Oak Flats are leaders from Sikhs, Jews, Muslims, Catholics, Mormons and Mennonites. These religious groups have joined the support for Apache Stronghold in fear that if the case is lost there could be other religious freedom setbacks.

Many will remember that the Final Federal Environmental Impact Statement (FEIS), which would be part of the permitting of the mine, was pulled by the Biden Administration on March 1, 2021, to allow for more tribal consultation. It has been reported by Town of Superior officials that they were informed that by the Forest Service that tribal consultation has been completed and the agency is finalizing a review of the FEIS. Local leaders are optimistic that the FEIS will be released in 2023. Once the FEIS is re-released, there is expected to be a 45-day objection period and then the final Record of Decision can be signed by the Chief Forester of the Tonto National Forest. Once the FEIS is re-released it is expected that the Ninth Circuit court will hear suits filed by the San Carlos Apache Tribe and mining reform groups.

Resolution Copper continues to press on with community engagement and community projects throughout Superior, the Copper Triangle and across the local Native American communities. Resolution Copper has recently renewed multi-year agreements with Rebuild Superior Inc. to continue community and economic development work in Superior.

During this past year many community leaders and elected officials have visited the project. Most recently Pinal County Supervisor Jeff Serdy and the Pinal County Economic Development team. This past summer, Mayor Mila Besich and Councilmember Olga Lopez also visited the mine for a tour 7,000 feet below the earth’s surface.

“This project is good for Superior, Pinal County and the entire state of Arizona,” said Pinal County Supervisor Jeff Serdy.

To date the Resolution Copper project is one of the single largest private economic investments in the State of Arizona. It is expected to be a 7 billion dollar investment to get the mine in operation and once in operation it will be one of the richest and deepest copper ore deposits in North America adding 1 billion dollars to the state’s economy each year once in production.

At a recent meeting with Senator Sinema in Globe, Mayor Besich thanked Sinema for her support of the Resolution Copper project and asked for her help to have the White House look at this project urgently. During her visit Sinema expressed her goals to work with the Arizona Manufacturing and Defense Council to promote rare earth mineral development, and mining this copper in an environmentally sound way, here in Arizona. She has also been working to have copper listed as a critical mineral for national defense. This would mean mining projects producing copper would have priority.

Resolution Copper names Victoria Peacey as president, general manager

Arizona-based mining company, Resolution Copper, today named Victoria (“Vicky”) Peacey as the project’s new President and General Manager, responsible for overseeing all aspects of planning, development and operations.

A longtime copper and mining industry veteran who has served as acting Project Director since the summer, Peacey has held a number of leadership roles at Resolution Copper and Rio Tinto, which she joined in 2002. Most recently, Peacey was Chief of Staff to the Chief Operating Officer for Rio Tinto Copper. Her previous roles at Resolution Copper include Senior Manager Community and External Affairs as well as Senior Manager Permitting and Cultural Heritage, where she played a key role in community engagement and technical studies that built strong local support for the project. Earlier in her career, Peacey held a variety of operations and environmental positions with Rio Tinto Kennecott and Barney’s Canyon in Utah and Kennecott Eagle Minerals in Michigan.

“Vicky brings a depth of knowledge and experience to the Resolution Copper project that make her ideally suited to lead the team through this critical moment in its development," said Clayton Walker, Chief Operating Officer, Rio Tinto Copper. "Her strong ties to this community and commitment to responsible development and operations will help us build a model for mining copper in the future."

Resolution Copper is expected to be a critical player in the nation's clean energy transition, with the potential to supply up to one quarter of U.S. copper demand, adding up to $1 billion a year to Arizona's economy and creating thousands of local jobs in a region where mining has played an important role for more than a century. Working with community partners and Native American tribes, we are committed to helping build healthy, strong and resilient communities where we live and work.

"I have first-hand knowledge of how local community and Native American input has shaped the Resolution Copper project, and I am so grateful for this incredible opportunity at a time when the country needs domestic sources of copper and critical minerals more than ever," said Peacey. "We are deeply invested in rural Arizona's future which will become a key player in the new clean energy economy. We also remain committed to engaging in good faith and maintaining two-way dialogue with local communities, Native American tribes and all interested stakeholders so the project moves forward responsibly and sustainably. We are looking for a path to co-exist and preserve the cultural heritage of the Copper Triangle area while creating new economic opportunities that will put rural Arizona resources and workers at the center of the nation's clean energy transformation."
