Southwest Wildfire Awareness Week begins: teamwork is key when it comes to wildfire prevention and risk reduction

Every year, wildfires burn thousands of acres across the state. Fires destroy properties, harm Arizona's natural resources, impact critical infrastructure, and disrupt lives. And every year, people continue to cause more than half of the state's fires. The Arizona Department of Forestry and Fire Management, along with its federal and tribal counterparts work diligently throughout the year collaborating on fuels reduction projects and providing public outreach and education opportunities to reduce wildfire risk.

As the Southwest Wildfire Awareness Week gets underway this week, there is no better theme than, "Preparing Together." The goal of "Preparing Together" echoes that constant teamwork between all state, federal, and tribal agencies. But residents and visitors must do their parts too because it takes a team to prevent wildfires.

Last year, according to DFFM's Arizona Dispatch Center, 1,444 wildfires were reported across all land jurisdictions, including State Trust, private, federal, and tribal. Of those fires, 941 were human caused. In total, 124,323 acres burned statewide in 2022.

Southwest Wildfire Awareness Week provides agencies a way to amplify wildfire prevention and outreach messaging prior to the state's critical fire time frame. To promote the week, DFFM and partners will focus on increased social media messaging, public service announcements, and public outreach events. On Monday, March 27, DFFM kicks off the week with Governor Katie Hobbs to host the agency's annual wildland fire outlook briefing at the State Capitol.

Over the last few months, a remarkable level of moisture provided much-welcomed relief to the drought-stricken state. But, with all of that moisture comes the potential for high fire activity in certain parts of Arizona. Once conditions dry out and temperatures warm up, a dry and

Airplane crashes at Superior Airport

On March 23 at approximately 9:30 a.m., first responders were dispatched to the Superior Airport after a plane reportedly crashed.

Officers from the Superior Police Department (SPD) and Superior Fire Department responded within minutes and found a plane on the runway with its nose end down.

The pilot was not injured and the plane sustained minor damage to the nose end. The pilot advised he flew out of Falcon Field Airport in Mesa that morning.

SPD made contact with the FAA and also the US Air Force command. SPD will be completing a report on the incident and working with the FAA.

Councilman Bruce Armitage was contacted about the incident happening on the runway and was of great help with his experience in aircrafts.

The airplane was removed from the runway and the pilot will be setting up a tow for his plane. The airport was back open for service later that same day.

"This was a great show of teamwork by the Superior Public Safety Departments," said Lt. Tim Chavez of the Superior Police Department.

Superior's first responders make their way to the scene of a minor airplane crash last week.

It's official: the Superior Police Department has 'motors'

Speeders, beware! The Superior Police Department has become more mobile.

One of Superior Police Department's goals is to introduce new programs that further promote Superior's reputation as a safe and attractive community. With that goal in mind, the department is proud to introduce its first patrol motorcycle and motor officer.

Officer Bastien is the department's first motor officer and will be riding the BMW R1200. Officer Bastien is an experienced motor officer. Prior to joining SPD, Officer Bastien was a motor officer at a Valley agency for eight years. When the opportunity arose to ride again, he jumped at the opportunity.

The motor unit will provide proactive enforcement of vehicle traffic laws, motorcycle patrol, parking enforcement, traffic collision investigations, and commercial motor vehicle inspections.

"This project took approximately nine months to come to fruition," said SPD Lt. Tim Chavez.

The BMW and upfit package (graphics, lights, and Lidar) were acquired through grant monies.

"We wish Officer Bastien well as he begins this new assignment," Chavez said.

Regenerating Sonora hosts Party on Pinal

Local non-profit Regenerating Sonora hosted a block party event on Pinal Avenue this past weekend. The event was held in the Leo's Community Center on Pinal Ave., the former Leo's Grocery Store.

The event included storytelling by local long time residents sharing their stories about the community and growing up in Superior and the sense of place. Those stories were provided by Tom Wright, Maria Salcido, Hank Gutierrez, Mike Montiel and the Superior Tech Club.

Sharing stories from an Arizona leadership perspective were Anna Maria Chavez with the Arizona Community Foundation, Adrienne Udarbe from Pinnacle Prevention, David Martinez III, from Vitalyst Health Foundation and Jenna Rowell from Local First Arizona. Following the storytelling, the groups gathered to discuss some of the missions of Regenerating Sonora such as Arts and Culture and growing a local food system in Superior. They also discussed regional Copper Corridor collaborations.

The event included free food and entertainment by the Superior Dance Company.

Regenerating Sonora has been actively providing community activities such as movie nights and open mic sessions at the Leo's Community Development Center. They are also growing LEHR gardens to help grow more local produce in Superior.

Panthers win close game against Ray; Lady Panthers split games in Mogollon double-header

By Nathaniel A. Lopez
Superior Sun

Superior's spring teams had some successes this week on the diamond.

The Superior baseball team played a close game when they met up with the Ray Bearcats last week. Taking the lead in the first inning, the Panthers scored 2 runs. The boys showed their ability to take control on defense, not allowing the Bearcats to score in six of the seven innings. The seventh inning proved to be where it mattered most. Scoring 5 runs, the Bearcats tied the game 5-5, by the bottom of the seventh. The Panthers were able to score one run, which proved to be all they needed as they won the close game with a final score of 6-5.

The Lady Panthers softball team had a busy time last week. They started their week off with a double-header against Mogollon. The first game was a tough one for the girls, who were unable to close the score gap, resulting in a tough 4-14 loss. In the follow-up game, the Lady Panthers didn't hold back. The girls were able to score 24 runs during the second game, and stopped Mogollon from scoring more than 13 runs. The game ended in a 24-13 victory for the Lady Panthers.

The girls ended their week at Epic Tourneys Softball Classic, where they played against Thunderbird. Superior suffered a tough loss as Thunderbird scored 23 runs in the first two innings. The game ended with a final score of 23-3.

dense fuel bed remains susceptible for ignitions. The potential exists for rapid moving wildfire within the grasslands where winds and terrain can influence fire behavior making it challenging for firefighters to contain.

Even with all of the rain and snow, people must not become complacent when working, recreating and playing outdoors. Always check the weather forecasts before burning debris, have a water source and shovel nearby, never burn on windy days, and use a spark arrester on tools. A bit of vehicle preventative maintenance goes a long way to keeping your travels and roadways safe. Check tires for any damage and proper pressure inflation. Tire blowouts have been known to cause fires. Always secure tow chains and never pull a vehicle off the road and into tall grass. Put out campfires completely: drown, stir and repeat. Target shooting and fireworks are never permitted on State Trust Lands. Fireworks are also not allowed on federal lands.

Homeowners can do their part by creating defensible space across their properties. Home repair, seasonal cleanup, taking care of plants, and removing trash and debris from around the home are just a few ways to prepare your home for wildfire.

This year, Southwest Wildfire Awareness Week runs March 26 – April 1, and is a joint collaboration between DFFM, the Bureau of Land Management, the USDA Forest Service, U.S. Fish and Wildlife, Bureau of Indian Affairs, the National Park Service, and New Mexico Forestry Division.

For more fire prevention or community protection tips, visit wildlandfire.az.gov or Firewise USA. Download DFFM's free mobile phone application from the App Store® or Google Play™ for additional resources, such as wildfire smoke forecasts, wildfire and fire prevention information, forestry resources and much more.
