County Makes Important Donation for Veterans

This is a picture of the former Mobile Health Clinic.

The recently released movie American Sniper has launched a conversation in this country on the treatment of our veterans once they returned from combat activities. This includes veterans from WW II, Vietnam, etc. It's a conversation that is overdue when you see the effects of soldiers suffering from PTSD and other injuries, some seen, some unseen.

In December, the Board of Supervisors unanimously voted to sell (donate) our unused Discovery Class RV Conversion vehicle to Hiring and Helping Our Heroes of Pinal County Incorporated for one dollar.

The RV had been purchased by the county in 2007 for use in the Maricopa area as a mobile public health clinic.

We received a grant from the Gila River Indian Community to purchase the vehicle. In 2012, the county opened a permanent health clinic in Maricopa making the RV obsolete.

Since that time the RV sat unused in our fleet yard.

Conversations between our Public Health Director and the Director of "Hiring and Helping Our Heroes of Pinal County" led to this donation.

There are approximately 38,000 to 40,000 veterans in our county. During the winter months, that number increases dramatically when the winter visitors arrive. There is only one Veteran's Administration office for the county located in Casa Grande. That means a lot of our Veterans have a long drive to receive the services they earned.

The good people at "Hiring and Helping Our Heroes of Pinal County" have high hopes for the services this RV can bring to our Veterans throughout the entire county. The RV is to bring such services as medical and mental healthcare, offer access to a Veteran's Administration representative along with bringing a navigator to help users access a variety of services.

I am pleased that we were able to help this dedicated group of volunteers looking to give our Veterans that extra help they need. One thing I did ask - is that when they repaint, or cover the van to their logo and colors, to please put on there that this is a gift from the people of Pinal County and Gila River Indian Community. I hope that you will be as pleased as we were to help bring better services to those who need it.

Pinal County Should Not Subsidize the Federal Government

Subsidizing the federal government. Not exactly the words everyone wants to hear.

There has been a lot of speculation on why the Supervisors cancelled the contract with with Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE).

Pinal County had the contract with (ICE) to house their detainees. In short, we were losing millions on an agreement that was signed in 2006. In a prudent move, the Board directed our Internal Audit to look at the contract to see what the true numbers were when it came to what we were receiving from ICE.

Following that audit along with an independent audit, it was determined the taxpayers were actually subsidizing the federal government to the tune of $3.5 million a year.

In 2013, the Sheriff even created a contract coordinator position to oversee negotiations from the Sheriff's side. I personally supported the creation of this position because it showed that the Sheriff was also very concerned about the loss of taxpayer money. A memo from that office to ICE admits the department was losing around $2 million a year.

Looking at the costs of running the detention center, in fiscal year 2011/12 the per diem rate recommended from the study conducted by MGT, the break-even point to house ICE detainees was determined to be in the area of $13.7 million. Instead we were bringing in only $9.6 million due to a per diem rate set in 2006. That is quite a loss to the county general fund.

Fact, we were losing money and the Board of Supervisors stepped up and took the necessary action to remedy a bad financial deal. It is terribly unfortunate to have to lay off 43 employees in January. I have worked among those people and I feel for their situation.

It's time to stop playing politics when it comes to the taxpayer's money.

Hall of Fame set to induct seven new members

By Mila Besich-Lira
Superior Sun

There is no doubt that over the course of 80 plus years the Superior Unified School district has educated and graduated some of the finest student. Many of those students have gone on to achieve great things and have made contributions locally, regionally and even globally. From military service, education, politics, healthcare and social services the list goes on and on, Superior students from early on through today continue to make a difference in this world.

The Superior High School Hall of Fame committee is set to induct seven new members into the hall of fame this Saturday, March 7. The ceremony will begin promptly at 4 p.m. at the Superior Jr. Sr. High School in the Manny Ruiz Gymnasium. There are still a few tickets available for the ceremony and celebration. Tickets are $25. Please call Roy Chavez at 520-827-9133 or Barbara Chamberlain at 520-250-3624 to order your tickets.

This year the Hall of Fame will be inducting: Betty Blaylock (Educator), Edward Delgado (1963), Ronald Gomez (1963), Yolanda Najera-Ewing (1965), James Ray (1965), Fernando Vender (1958) and Lucy Wing (1963).

Betty Vergene Blaylock dedicated 25 years of her 44 year educational career as a teacher, leader and mentor for the Superior

High School Home Economics Program. Beginning in 1948, Mrs. Blaylock taught in Superior until 1953, joining her husband who traveled overseas with the Air Force. She returned to Superior High in 1968 where she remained as the Home Economics teacher until her death in 1989. She also taught in Illinois, Montana, New York and Athens, Greece.

Having taught three generations of students, Mrs. Blaylock not only had a passion to teach, but also encouraged her students to further their education and achieve their dreams. While in Superior, Betty was Director of the SHS Vocation Department, Fast Food Catering Service, Home Economics Related Occupation (HERO) Program and Food Service Program, teaching students how to plan, prepare, clean-up and do bookkeeping for school lunches and catering businesses. She encouraged male and female students alike to consider a career in the culinary field. Her efforts tripled federal funding for the SHS vocational programs.

Edward Fraijo Delgado is a SHS Class of 1963 graduate. He has traveled world-wide and throughout the United States regarding theological education, community development and organizational management. One of four children (Irene, Betty and twin brother Sam), born to Lupe and Luis Delgado, Ed realized early in his life that he wanted to help people through ministry. He and his wife Ida Lynda (Rojas) have three children, nine grand-children and one great grand-child, and currently reside in Carson, CA.

During his professional career, Mr. Delgado has worked as a professor, ordained pastor, cross-cultural team builder, staff recruiter, strategic planner, marketer and international holistic and transformational leadership development specialist, with over 34 years of management and administrative experience in 3 continents, 20 + offices and 17 countries.

Ronald Gonzalo Gomez was one of the first Hispanic officers hired by the Phoenix Police Department in 1967. He was assigned to Phoenix Union and South Mountain high schools during a period of student unrest. Ronald was also assigned to provide security for Cesar Chavez, during the labor leader's visits to Phoenix. Working with the "Conspiracy Squad" within the Organized Crime Bureau of the police department, Mr. Gomez received two Unit Citation Awards throughout his 14 years of service to the squad.

In 1988, after retiring from Phoenix PD, Mr. Gomez was hired by the AZ Attorney General's Office and assigned to the Drug Enforcement Agency, seizing drugs and assets worth millions, decimating the Somoza Drug Cartel. He was then reassigned to the U.S. Customs Phoenix Office Task Force, for his

Eight returning starters, experience give Panthers high expectations

By Andrew Luberda
Superior Sun

Last year, the Superior baseball team finished its season with a record of 11 –

9, including 7 – 7 in section play. It was good enough to get them a berth in the state tournament, where they lost in the second round to rival Ray, 9 – 5. They defeated San Carlos in the first round, 10 – 0.

The experience from last season, combined with eight returning starters has the Panthers entering the 2015 season with lofty expectations.

“(Our) season outlook is to win a state championship,” second-year head coach Manuel Ortega told the Superior Sun in an email. “We have the capability to do it. We just need to put it all together, like we can, and start playing good baseball.”

Sophomores Nicolaus Cruz (SS), Austin Navarrette (3B), and Edgar Galindo (P/RF) are among the eight returning starters along with seniors Matthew Zavala (C), Eric Oatis (1B) and Rickey Longoria (P/RF).

Last year’s varsity roster included eight freshman and four sophomores. With a season of varsity level baseball under their collective belts, they should be ready to compete at the highest level this year.

Ortega expects to field a good-hitting ball club. He wants to see his team batting average around .300 so the offense can “take a lot more pressure off our pitchers and defense.”

What else does Panthers’ head coach want to see his team do from game-to-game so it has the best chance for success?

“We need to work hard and be mentally tough,” he responded. “Once you lose the mental side of the game, that’s when mistakes happen.”

The Panthers opened their season last Thursday with a 9 – 3 win at Miami. The Panthers scored eight runs in third inning to take the lead after trailing 2 – 0 at the end of the second inning. The added a run in the ninth, but the game was already in hand by then.

Upcoming schedule: Mar. 4 at San Tan Foothills (3:15 p.m.), Mar. 6 vs. Round Valley (game location TBA, 3:15 p.m.).

Boxing goes from hobby to

By Andrew Luberda
Superior Sun

Carlos Reyes, a 1995 graduate of Superior High School, had a different outlook on a boxing career as an 18-year old Pima College student, who was studying physical therapy, than he does now.

“(Boxing) was just a hobby,” the now 37-year old professional fighter told the Superior Sun. “It wasn’t something I ever thought I would pursue professionally.”

He apparently reserved the right to change his mind.

Reyes, a southpaw, scored a second-round TKO against previously undefeated Khalib Whitmore on January 30, 2015 at the Foxwoods Resort in Mashantucket, Connecticut. The light heavyweight fight, which was on the undercard of a championship fight televised on ESPN’s Friday Night Fights, was his second-straight TKO win.

At his current age – older by boxing standards – Reyes is ranked 11th by BoxRec.com and enjoying perhaps the greatest success of his career, which started at Main St. Gym in Superior under the direction of deceased trainer Eddie Tameron, whose family owns Los Hermanos Restaurant & Lounge.

“It’s been my whole approach to the game,” Reyes said about his recent success. “I try to be economical about who I fight and when I fight.”

“I take a lot of time to recover and make sure if I do take the loss I’m learning from it,” he continued. “When I get back to training I’m growing from (the experience).”

After playing football in high school, where he earned All-State recognition, Reyes said he started boxing just to “stay active.” He worked with Tameron and had only six amateur fights before he received an unexpected opportunity to enter a national amateur boxing tournament in Colorado as an alternate. He held his own against more experienced fighters, some who fought as many as 45-50 fights and had Olympic-team potential.

Still a student at PIMA College at the time, he promised Tameron he would dedicate himself more to boxing after finishing school – within a year.

Unfortunately, that time never came, at least not with Tameron, who passed away, leaving the young Reyes to train on his own.

He did just that, training at some of the most popular boxing gyms in Phoenix. After approximately 40 amateur fights, Reyes made his professional debut on July 25, 2003, at the Celebrity Theater in Phoenix. He won his first fight, a first-round TKO against Samuel Rodriguez, who was also making his debut.

Another fight followed two months later. Reyes won by unanimous decision against Garrard Williams after going the distance. He found mixed results in his next eight fights, which occurred sparingly over the next 10 years, between 2003 and 2012.

His personal life and boxing career changed for the better in 2012 after he was married and discovered a new training regime that he credits for his improved results in the ring.

Now an advisor for AdvoCare, a provider of innovative nutritional, weight-management, and sports performance supplements, Reyes says his training and stamina has increased significantly in the last year.

“I’m training the same way, but now I’m incorporating my supplements, eating better, and I’m getting totally different results,” he said. “I think it was the result of using the AdvoCare supplements.”

He trains every day, 5-6 hours per day leading up to a fight. He admits to taking one day a week off when he is not training for a fight. He says that routine helps him at his age.

“I train all the time now and make sure I stay active,” he said. “So getting back into the gym is not such a big transition.”

Eating right and his familiarity with the physical demands on his body as a result of his education in physical therapy are also important factors in remaining in tip-top shape.

“It’s a lifestyle and it has to be approached as such,” Reyes said. “You can play baseball and basketball, but you can’t

career for Superior High grad

play boxing. It's a fighting sport and takes a rigorous demand on your body."

Reyes currently lives in Venice, Florida, where he lives with his wife and three of his seven children, who range in age from six to 18-years old. He is now trained by Harold Wile, a recent inductee into the Florida Boxing Hall of Fame, and is promoted by Cornerstone Boxing.

He expects to parlay his recent performances into a title shot after "four or five more" fights. He plans to fight for the light heavyweight championship within two years.

His next fight is scheduled for March 26 against Michael Seals, a 32-year old light heavyweight with who is 18 - 0 with 14 KO's. The fight will take place at the Hialeah Park Racing & Casino in Hialeah, Florida.

Some fighters have suffered serious, life-changing injuries in the ring. Reyes says he'll know when to quit before that happens to him.

He and his wife have future plans outside the ring and his wife is supportive of his choices now and later. He post-ring career plans include helping his own children and other boxers.

"She's very supportive," Reyes said of his wife. "She's supportive of me achieving my dreams. We have a big purpose here. We're going to change lives after boxing and really impact our community."

Reyes enjoys seeing his family benefit from his boxing career but is also determined to help others benefit too.

"I'm going to be able to provide a different lifestyle for my kids and my family," he said. "I found the greatest thing I can get out of life is contributing."

When asked to name a person or persons who have made an impact in his career, Reyes noted former boxing champion James Toney and Toney's former trainer John Arthur. He included his parents, Joe Diaz, and Harold Wile as well. He wants to make a similar impact on other fighters. Opening a boxing gym to work with fighters is among one of his ideas for the future.

The southpaw fighter's greatest asset in the ring is his strong left hand. According to one friend, "It's a knockout punch."

Reyes says his six-year old son is a natural when it comes to boxing. Perhaps the little guy packs the same powerful punch of his father. If he does, how does dad feel about his son entering the ring?

"I could be comfortable with it just because I know I would take care of him," Reyes answered. "He would have a realistic approach to (boxing)."

One thing is for sure, when his career in the ring is finally over, he will still be involved in the game from the other side of the ropes. He vows to give the same support to others that he remembers receiving 20 years ago in Superior, a place with people still near and dear to him.

"Our best resource in the community is our heart," he said about the area where he grew up. "It's a community effort."

"Eddie was a pillar (there) with his restaurant," he added. "He was able to reach out and instill something in me. Heart is a good resource in our community and a lot of kids can have success there."

ability to infiltrate criminal organizations as an undercover agent. In 1994, Mr. Gomez received the Investigator of the Year Award from the AZ Attorney General's Office. In 1995, Ronald accepted a position with the AZ Department of Gaming as a special agent regarding compliance and compact requirements. He then moved to Investigations and Inspections Manager within the department, and in 2011 retired from the agency as Deputy Director for Tribal Operations.

Mr. Gomez firmly believes that his greatest personal accomplishment is his marriage of over 50 years to Annie, SHS 1962 graduate. They are both very proud of their family (2 sons, 2 daughters, 14 grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren).

Yolanda Najera-Ewing, Superior High School class of 1965 graduate, has always been proud of being a lifelong resident of Superior, and also living in the same house in which she was born. Very active in high school, she graduated as a member of the National Honor Society. She has been married to Robert for over 48 years and they have two daughters, each living on the East and West coasts of the United States. Some of her fondest local memories are of riding her father's "1929 Ford Model A", in the Superior 4th of July parades.

Her professional career began as Special Education Secretary for the Superior School District in 1976. For 12 years she served as editor for the Superior Sun, covering all types of local events from birth announcements, obituaries and major town activities. Followed by 2 years at Superior's Esperanza Boys Ranch, Yolanda went on to work for 17 years as a Paralegal/Translator-Interpreter with the Pinal County Public Defenders' Office. While with Pinal County, she was recognized by the AZ Public Defender Association for "Outstanding Performance & Exceptional Achievement" in 2006, and again in 2009 for "Extraordinary Contribution to Indigent Representation". Yolanda feels very privileged to have had the opportunity to help those with limited resources.

Mrs. Najera-Ewing served 32 years on the Superior Unified School District Governing Board (13 years as Board President). She was president of the school board the year the new junior/senior high school was completed. She served on the Superior Town Council for 7 years, and also the Town Planning and Zoning Commission for 2 years. Appointed by Judge William O'Neil in 1996, Yolanda served as a member of the Pinal County Juvenile Court Community Advisory Board, volunteering to work with court services for young people.

James A. Ray, a graduate of the Superior High School Class of 1965, began his professional career in law enforcement while still attending NAU, working as a Campus Security Officer. During this time he married his wife Terry (they have two children), and worked 2 to 3 part-time jobs until graduating from college. In early 1969, James was hired by the Phoenix Police Department, where he served as a patrol officer for almost a year, before taking a position with the federal government.

In 1970, Mr. Ray was hired as a Special Agent by the U.S. Secret Service. While assigned to the Phoenix Field Office, James conducted criminal investigations, performed undercover work and traveled extensively in support of the President, Vice-President and foreign dignitaries. By 1973, James was transferred to Washington, D.C., where he worked in a protection assignment with the President, Secretary of State and Secretary of Treasury, until he was permanently assigned to the Vice-President's Detail. Mr. Ray worked at the White House when Vice-President Agnew resigned due to a criminal investigation, followed by President Nixon a year later because of Watergate.

In 1976, James was transferred to the San Diego Field Office, where he again conducted criminal investigations and traveled in support of protection obligations. After 21 years of investigative work and detail, Mr. Ray retired from the U.S. Secret Service Department.

In 1991, James was hired by the San Diego County District Attorney's Office as a DA investigator, where he conducted criminal investigations and ultimately was promoted to a supervisory position.

Fernando M. Vender, graduate of the Superior High School class of 1958 was the son of Gustavo and Esperanza Vender, and the youngest of seven siblings. His father taught him how to read at an early age, and also advised him to make his dreams come true through education. Though growing up in a small town, Fernando did not think small. Involved in many high school activities, Mr. Vender developed a great interest in literature, drama and music; so much so that he was a singer in a local band named "The Lonely Ones". After college, Fernando started his professional career as a teacher in Nogales, AZ, focusing on the Upward Bound program (assisting low-income first-generation college students). He was loved and very well respected in Nogales, and was known as "El Profe".

While in Nogales, he married Maria Michel. They had four children and eventually moved to Phoenix, AZ, where he taught Special Education for one year at McClintock High School, and also taught English to adults, with one special student being his mother. In 1981, Fernando suffered a great loss with the passing of his wife Maria, wherein he raised his children as a single parent. Mr. Vender left the educational field and became Deputy Director of the Guadalupe Organization and then served the community as Town Manager. As manager, Fernando helped organize a trade agreement with Mexican President, Jose Lopez Portillo, creating funds to build a Mercado providing financial stability for Guadalupe. In 1977 and again in 1984, Mr. Vender was invited by AZ Governor's Raul Castro and Bruce Babbit (respectively), to participate in Arizona and International events and functions.

After his service with the Town of Guadalupe, Fernando became General Manager at Univision, the first Spanish TV station in Phoenix, and then took the position as General Manager of Arizona's first Spanish radio station, KNNN. Taking a position with the AZ Department of Economic Security, Mr. Vender retired as Chief Public Information Officer, after 24 years of service to the State of Arizona.

He enjoyed his retired life reading many books, doing crosswords, playing dominoes, watching the Diamondbacks, and spoiling his 3 grandchildren. His generosity and selflessness were basic characteristics of his life. On October 11, 2013, Fernando M. Vender passed away, leaving a legacy of hard work, friends and family.

Lucy Wing is a Superior High School graduate from 1963. Lucy's professional career found her in New York City, where she gained world-wide recognition as a food writer, editor and consultant for a number of magazines, cookbooks and food companies. She honed her food experience via working in the test kitchens of CPC International, makers of Best Foods Mayonnaise, Mazola Oil, Karo Corn Syrup, Skippy Peanut Butter and Argo Cornstarch. Her food articles have appeared in Good Housekeeping, Family Circle, Self and Cuisine magazines. In 1983, Lucy was Contributing Food Editor at Country Living and later became Food Editor at McCall's magazine. In 1986, she returned to Country Living as Executive Food Editor, where she produced a monthly food and gardening feature titled "From Lucy's Country Kitchen or Garden". In 2011, Lucy was honored with the Professional Achievement Award from the Council of Alumni and Friends of the John and Doris Norton School of Family and Consumer Sciences.

Prior to her 15 years at Country Living, she was the Food and Equipment Editor at American Home magazine. She edited a number of cookbooks including: Country Living Country Mornings, Family Circle ABZ's of Cooking and the Good Housekeeping Illustrated Cookbook. Ms. Wing also created recipes for Anne Willan's Look & Cook Asian Cooking and Reader's Digest Quick & Delicious Cookbook. Indoor Grilling for Dummies is her latest cookbook. Lucy has also consulted for Campbell, Hershey, Lipton and the Barbecue Industry Association. During her 42 year career in New York, Lucy has "rubbed elbows" with food luminaries Julia Child, Jacques Pepin, Lidia Bastanich, Martha Stewart, Sara Moulton and even Emeril (BAM!) LaGasse. She is also affiliated with the prestigious international women's culinary organization, Les Dames d' Escoffier.

One of 11 children (all attended college), born to Soho and Daisy Wing (owners/operators of Wing's Supermarket & Café), Ms. Wing recently retired and moved back to Superior, where she opened the Jade Grill Asian BBQ, located on Highway 60. Jade Grill (featured in a TV segment of AZ Highways and also Sunset magazine), offers a unique dining experience, bringing grilled dishes popular in Southeast Asia to the Copper Corridor.

Ms. Wing served over 12 years as a board member of the Boyce Thompson Arboretum, supporting the Gloria Wing Ong Children's Learning Center and the Wing Memorial Herb Garden.

B. In Table 8 above, UFA means usable floor area for the primary use of the building, excluding bathrooms, storage area, hallways, and so on. §14.4: PARKING SPACE AND MANEUVERING DIMENSIONS 14.4.D: Compact Parking: Compact parking spaces shall be eight (8) feet wide by fifteen (15) feet long. §14.6: ADJUSTMENTS TO PARKING REQUIREMENTS §14.6.A: Modified Parking Requirements in the Town Center Zone District: 1. Modified parking requirements have been developed for the Town Center Zone District as an incentive to preserve and maintain existing historic structures and to encourage new structures that are compatible with the historic character of the downtown area. The Planning and Zoning Commission shall have the authority to approve a request for a parking adjustment subject to the provisions of this Section, the decision of which may be appealed to the Town Council as provided in §3.7 of this Ordinance. 2. For land uses located in the Town Center zone district, off-street parking requirements may be modified by the Planning and Zoning Commission by utilizing any combination of the following methods: a. A reduction of the required number of parking spaces by thirty (30) percent. b. The crediting of on-street parking spaces which are adjacent to the frontage of the designated structure/site towards the total number of required off-street parking spaces required for the use, provided that a determination is made that such on-street parking will remain available for public parking during business hours in the future. c. Allow the use of off-site parking in parking lots that are located within four hundred (400) feet of the structure where the applicant has provided adequate incentives for the use of such parking lots. d. Allow vehicles to back out onto alleys/roadways where it is determined that visibility is good and such backing out of vehicles can be done safely. e. Allow fifty (50) percent of a parking lot, located on the site of the structure/use to be compact spaces. f. Allow tandem parking where it is determined that such parking would be effectively and safely used. g. Provide for in-lieu fees where such fees are applied to an identified parking district or other similar mechanism that will contribute to the development of public parking within the general area. 3. Notice of an application for a parking adjustment shall (1) be published in a newspaper of general circulation not less than fifteen (15) days prior to the date set for a public hearing before the Planning and Zoning Commission/Town Council and (2) the notice shall also be mailed to property owners, as shown on the latest County tax role, within a three hundred (300) foot radius from the external boundaries of the property proposed for the modification. 4. Findings for Approval: The Planning and Zoning Commission and/or the Town Council shall find as follows: a. The proposed parking modification and use of the structure is necessary or desirable for the greater development of the community, is in harmony with the various elements and objectives of the General Plan, and is not detrimental to existing uses or to uses specifically permitted in the Town Center zone district. b. That approving the proposed parking adjustment and use will significantly improve the possibility that structures will be preserved and maintained. c. That the required parking cannot be provided without the approval of the requested adjustment. d. That the proposed parking scheme will function safely and will not harm the integrity of the structure or the surrounding neighborhood. 5. Off-street parking and loading requirements, as specified in this Article may be further modified by the Town Council for properties located within the Town Center zone district when it has been determined that every effort has been made to comply with the provisions of this Article, specifically Sections 14.6 and 14.7, and the Town Council determines that it is in the best interest of the Town to further waive the parking requirements set forth in this Article. 6. As a condition of approval to the granting of a reduction in required parking, the Planning and Zoning Commission may require the granting of reciprocal access and parking agreements with surrounding properties, recordation of conditions, covenants, and restrictions, or creation of other legal instruments to assure the permanent continuation of the circumstances under which parking requirement reductions were granted. §14.7: SHARED PARKING §14.7.A: A maximum reduction of thirty (30) percent of the minimum parking requirements for individual uses may be granted by the Planning and Zoning Commission where joint use of parking facilities or other factors will mitigate peak parking demand. §14.7.B: Requests for parking reductions resulting from joint usage shall be supported by information that generally follows the format described below. 1. Initial project review involves documentation and quantification of proposed land uses and anticipated functional relationships between the parking needs of different land uses. The initial review will consist of data gathering regarding general location of parking facilities, surrounding land uses, predicted pedestrian patterns, and similar variables which affect parking needs. 2. Adjustments for shared parking includes calculating the number of off-street parking spaces required for each land use within the area proposed for joint parking based upon requirements of this Article. §14.7.C: In granting a parking reduction for shared use of parking facilities, the Planning and Zoning Commission shall make one or more of the following findings: 1. The report justifies the requested parking reduction based upon the presence of two (2) or more adjacent land uses which, because of their substantially different operating hours or different peak parking characteristics, will allow joint use of the same parking facilities. 2. The report finds that the use otherwise adheres to the parking standards in this Article. 3. The report finds that the clustering of different land uses is such that a reduced number of parking spaces can serve multiple trip purposes to the area in question. §14.7.D: As a condition of approval to the granting of shared parking, the Planning and Zoning Commission may require the granting of reciprocal access and parking agreements with surrounding properties, recordation of conditions, covenants, and restrictions, or creation of other legal instruments to assure the permanent continuation of the circumstances under which parking requirement reductions were granted. # Open Your Heart

2 Chronicles 15:15 says – “They sought God eagerly, and He was found by them.” Isaiah 55:6, “Seek the Lord while He may be found, call on Him while He is near.” Psalm 119:10, “I seek You with all my heart.”

To seek means to ask and look for, to search and discover. If in our mind we desire to know the Lord – it is our heart that is eager to find Him.

This is a heart issue. God looks for people who really, really want a relationship with Him. It is a place of closeness and intimacy with the Lord.

Like any relationship, the more time you spend together, the closer you become. God wants you to really get to know Him. Open your heart to His great love.

Master Plan for trails in the works for Superior area

By Mila Besich-Lira
Copper Area News

Last week the Legends of Superior Trail Committee along with the International Mountain Biking Association hosted a joint kick off meeting to start mapping and planning for mountain bike, hiking and some equestrian trails in the area surrounding Superior.

About a dozen local residents along with outdoor enthusiasts from Kearny, Tucson, Scottsdale, Tempe and Gold Canyon attended the open house meeting. There is a tremendous amount of enthusiasm for this project and its potential impact. One type of trail that will be developed are gravity trails to be used specifically by mountain bikers who want a down hill rush.

The planning and mapping process will take about three to four months. Once the plan is complete the IMBA will present it to the LOST committee for modifications. The two groups will be working closely with the Tonto National Forest on the planning stages. Once the plan is complete the plan will need to have an environmental impact statement written about the project that will take two to three years for completion. Following an approved EIS/NEPA the trails will be able to be constructed.

The Legends of Superior Committee will be forming a 501c3 organization to be able to apply for grants to fund the construction of the trails as well as other trails in the area. Funding for the planning and mapping of the trail is being funded by Resolution Copper.
