LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Week of the Young Child celebrated by Superior Head Start

This week, April 13th is Week of the Young Child, an annual celebration sponsored by the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC), celebrating early learning, young children, their teachers and families. We can show our support for early learning by working with our children at home, being active in their school life and working to ensure that our public policies support early learning for all young children.

Week of the Young Child is a time to remind us that early years are learning years and parents are their children's first and most important teachers.

This week the artwork of Superior Head Start students will be displayed at the Public Library and Senior Citizens Center, in celebration of Week of the Young Child.

Sincerely,
/s/ Hilda Cardenas
Head Start Director

Hayden man arrested for robbery, kidnapping

A nightmare for one woman finally came to an end in Superior when police arrested a Hayden man accused of kidnapping, robbery and aggravated assault.

According to Superior Police Chief Mark Nipp, on April 4 at about 1:30 p.m., the Superior Police Department received a report of a woman being held in a vehicle against her will. The caller, Nipp said, provided dispatchers with a description of the vehicle, information which was quickly relayed to officers in the field.

Detective Lawrence located a vehicle matching the description and attempted to make contact with the driver. The driver fled from Lawrence and tried to evade.

Lawrence pursued the vehicle, winding through the residential streets of Superior before the vehicle fled eastbound on Hwy. 60. The driver, later identified as Jonathan Rabago, 24, Hayden, eventually stopped at milepost 228 on Hwy. 60. After an additional Superior Police unit arrived, Rabago was taken into custody without incident. The victim was located inside the car and was later safely returned to her home.

Nipp said that further investigation revealed that the female victim had been trying to get away from Rabago and had been beaten and robbed during the ordeal, which took place over a 24-hour period. The victim was able to make a call to a family member who then called police. The incident, Nipp reported, took place at several locations within Pinal County near Hayden and in Superior.

Rabago was arrested and charged with kidnapping, armed robbery, aggravated assault with a deadly weapon, possession of dangerous drugs and unlawful flight from law enforcement. Rabago was transported and booked into the Pinal County Jail in Florence. He is currently being held on a $20,000 bond and a preliminary hearing on his case was held yesterday.

Local Chapter of the Well Armed Woman to celebrate second anniversary

The Copper Basin Chapter of the Well Armed Woman is about to celebrate its second anniversary. For two years, the Copper Basin Chapter has been bringing the sport of shooting to women of all experience levels in our communities. Along with just the enjoyment of the sport, the chapter is also educating women on safety and correct use of firearms, self-defense with and without firearms, mindset when conceal carrying and many more topics. The goal of the chapter and the entire organization itself is to educate, equip and empower women as they strive to make important personal choices in their lives. Through the chapter, women are discovering their passion, developing their skills, finding their confidence and building new relationships within the communities.

With confident and capable instructors, this chapter is going strong and plans to continue for many years to come. Marti Stonecipher, Kari Ramsey and Renee Ramsey lead the Copper Basin Chapter and have been striving to educate and empower women since the start of the chapter in April 2013. These three women have attended many classes to further educate themselves so that they may be the best role models and leaders that they can be. Some of the classes they have attended include NRA Instructor Training, the Well Armed Woman Instructor Training, NRA Range Safety Officer Training, Defensive Handgun, Carbine Training, Hunter Education Instructor Training, and Individual First Aid Kit/Trauma First Aid, with many more classes on their to-do lists.

The Copper Basin Chapter has also made it a goal to be more involved in domestic violence awareness. The Well Armed Woman is so much more than just a shooting club. The Well Armed Woman focuses heavily on self-defense. Not only to teach women to be independent and confident enough to protect themselves and their families, but to help those who didn't have those skills at one time in their lives. They believe that all women should have security in their lives, no matter how that security may come.

One of the biggest and most exciting

No county abuse charges to be filed against O'Donnell; case referred to Superior Town Prosecutor

By James J. Hodl
Superior Sun

While the Pinal County Attorney's Office has declined to file felony charges against former Superior School Superintendent Patrick O'Donnell for child abuse and assault on a minor involving a special needs student, O'Donnell could still face lesser charges in Superior's local judicial system.

During an April 8 press conference in Florence, Pinal County Attorney Lando Voyles said after reviewing all the evidence in the case and turning to several other attorneys look for advice, he saw insufficient evidence to justify a felony indictment. So at the recommendation of Superior Police Chief Mark Nipp, the case has been handed to Superior Town Attorney Stephen B. Cooper, who will review the evidence to determine if it warrants the filing of misdemeanor charges against O'Donnell.

The entire evidence file was handed to Cooper during the April 9 Superior Town Council meeting. Cooper promised a quick decision on whether misdemeanor charges and a trial are appropriate. If Cooper opts to press misdemeanor charges, trial would be held in the Superior Magistrate Court.

Had the county pressed charges, O'Donnell would have faced one count of child abuse (a Class 4 Felony) and two counts of assault on a minor (both Class 6 Felonies).

The case began in mid-January when a 7-year-old special needs student accused O'Donnell of hitting his head on a table after O'Donnell escorted the boy off a school bus following an altercation with another student. Security video showed O'Donnell, who also is principal of Superior's Kennedy Elementary School where the boy attended first grade, tightly holding onto the child's wrist while taking him to his office to wait for a ride home. When the boy's older brother arrived to drive him home, he said he witnessed O'Donnell forcibly push the younger boy into a chair, which O'Donnell admitted to the police.

This prompted the boy's mother Michelle Thompson to report the incident to the Superior Police Department. During the subsequent investigation, police uncovered a second incident captured on video from Dec. 11, 2014, during which O'Donnell was seen slowly pushing a small table until it pinned the boy sitting in a chair between the table and the wall. The young student was not injured during the incident though continued to move and rock the table afterwards.

The December video appeared in a Jan. 25 report on ABC15 News, which prompted the Superior School Board to put O'Donnell on paid administrative leave. O'Donnell resigned as Superior School Superintendent in March.

Thompson also has pulled her special needs son out of Kennedy Elementary.

According to Thompson, her son had brain surgery two years earlier to correct problems causing him to suffer epileptic seizures, so any injury to his head while he is still recovering could be life threatening.

Following the Voyles announcement, Thompson told the media she was "disappointed in the decision." Stating that her son "was scarred for life" as a result of the incidents, she added that something should be done "before it happens to other children".

Throughout the press conference, Voyles repeatedly praised the Superior Police Department for conducting a thorough investigation and all the other hard work the department performed to bring the case to his attention. While Voyles didn't find the case rising to the level required

Ferguson, MO

I have been reading the Department of Justice report on Ferguson, MO and I am appalled that this type of systematic racial discrimination on the part of police, municipal court and the city government could exist today. It is as if Jim Crow of the Deep South has raised its ugly head again.

The report is so scathing that a judge, police chief and town manager have resigned. That it took a police shooting of an unarmed young black man and citizen protests before any action was taken says much about the lack of leadership and/or corruption in the Ferguson government and police department. The officer involved in the shooting, Darren Wilson has been cleared of charges but resigned in the wake of the furor caused by the shooting of Michael Brown.

A few of the facts brought out in the report included:

Ferguson's law enforcement practices are shaped by the city's focus on revenue rather than public safety needs. Police officers frequently detained people without reasonable suspicion and arrested people without probable cause. Ferguson has a population of 21,000; 16,000 of those people had outstanding warrants. Of those 16,000 warrants, 92 percent of them were issued to African Americans. Black residents were 68 percent less likely than others to have their court cases dismissed. While this went on Ferguson officials routinely dismissed parking tickets for their friends, colleagues and acquaintances. In 2013, the Ferguson Municipal Court issued 9,000 criminal warrants. During the same period the city of Boston, 30 times larger than Ferguson issued 2,300 criminal warrants.

Although it is easy to understand the frustration of the black community which comprises 67 percent of Ferguson's population, nothing justifies the recent shooting of two police officers nor the looting and property damage that took place during earlier protests. The shooting was a cowardly and despicable act which could have caused the deaths of others at the scene. The police showed professionalism and restraint in not firing into the crowd of protesters.

Ferguson is just one small town and I would be naïve to think that this type of government oppression and discrimination is not going on in other parts of the country. We all know that Arizona is not free of discrimination and corruption. Sheriff Joe Arpaio and the Maricopa County Sheriff's Office are known to racially profile Hispanics. Senate Bill 1070, the law

Third annual River Fest, celebrating the rivers of the Copper Basin

Travel over to the Winkelman Flats Public Park on Saturday, April 25, 2015 and enjoy guided birding and nature walks along the San Pedro with a festival celebrating the rivers of the Cobre Valley. The event will feature guided nature walks, a bird banding walk, live entertainment, vendor booths, food and amusements for the kids. The park is located on the corner of Highway 177 and 77 in Winkelman, Ariz. on the Gila River. The event is free and open to the public.

This year's guided hikes leave from the Winkelman Flats Park at 6:30 a.m. for the bird banding walk, the other walks of the 7B Ranch and the San Pedro River Preserve leave at 7:30 a.m. The walks will take participants to areas that not normally open to the general public, these areas are well known to be habitats for many bird species and native wild life. This is an experience that cannot be missed. These walks will have people back to the flats just as the River Fest begins.

This year the festival will feature water slides, bounce castles, and rock walls for the whole family to enjoy along with food booths, outdoor demonstrations and live entertainment. For more information on the event, register for a walk or sign up as a vendor please contact the Copper Corridor Economic Development Coalition, Mila Besich-Lira at 520-827-0676 or visit the event online at <http://bit.ly/CobreValleyRiverFest>.

"LIKE" US ON

Our mission is to promote business, the Town, and the quality of life in Superior and surrounding areas.

The Apache Leap Mining Festival was great and the Chamber thanks the 50 sponsors and 100+ volunteers that made it happen. More mining related companies set up exhibits than ever before, showing tremendous support to Resolution Copper and mining in general. The parade, which was the longest ever, kicked off the event and vendors served up great food and fun retail items. The Chihuahuas ran and ran and it looked like some of them actually knew what was going on! The carnival attracted the young and "young at heart" along with top entertainment all weekend. 17 people competed in the mining competition for the top prize of $1,000 plus another $1,250 in other cash prizes. Matthew Rabago walked away with this year's grand prize. Saturday night dozens of folks danced to the music of Superiorite Bobby Cook and his band. Thanks to all who joined us.

Ore Cart dedication to be held April 25 at Superior's Caboose Park

And then there were four.

First came Mammoth's Ore Cart, "Skeleton Crew Graveyard Shift." It was installed at the Miners Memorial Park on Hwy. 77 in Mammoth.

Many years later the second Ore Cart in the Copper Corridor's Ore Cart Trail was installed in Winkelman at the junction of Hwy. 77 and Hwy. 177. This one, called "A Penny For Your Thoughts," was installed in time for Winkelman's Centennial Celebration.

In January, Oracle's "Sailcart" which celebrates the history of Oracle's name, shared with a clipper ship of the same name, was installed in front of the Post Office.

On Saturday, April 25, Superior will become the next realized point on the Ore Cart Trail map as its Cart, designed by artists Sam Lane and Chuck Davison, is installed at the Caboose Park and Superior History Trail. Everyone is invited to the ribbon cutting and dedication ceremony which will take place at 1 p.m. The ceremony is hosted by the Superior Historical Society/Bob Jones Museum and the Copper Corridor Economic Development Coalition and is sponsored by Resolution Copper Company; Evelyn Cooksley in memory of Bud Cooksley; and an anonymous donor from the Legends of Superior Trail (LOST).

The park is located at 834 W. Hwy. 60. It is located on the north side of the highway across from Los Hermanos Restaurant.

All that is missing is the Superior Ore Cart and that will be installed in time for the ribbon cutting and dedication ceremony on April 25 at the Caboose Park and Superior History Trail.

Warrior Hikers visit Superior

By Mila Besich-Lira
Superior Sun

Over the weekend, the Superior VFW assisted the Warrior Hike organization. Two veterans Joshua Brewer from New York and Shawn Murphy from Auburn, Washington are hiking the Arizona Trail from Mexico to Utah as part of outdoor therapy for Post Traumatic Stress Disorder and also to bring awareness to veteran issues.

Brewer explained that hiking 20 miles a day really helps to work the bad thoughts out your head. "You are alone with your thoughts," he said.

Murphy explained that working with the VFWs also helps to connect older veterans from World War II Vietnam and Korea with younger veterans. "They get the opportunity to share their struggles," he said.

The local Superior Post provided meals and assisted with lodging at the Copper Mountain Motel. "Ravi at the Copper Mountain Motel really helped us out and provided us with a great room for these veterans," explained VFW Post Commander Gabriel Munoz.

The two started the hike on March 15 at the Mexico border. Along the way the the hiking duo has been aided by local Veterans of Foreign Wars; prior to their stop in Superior, they were supported by VFWs in Tucson and San Manuel. Their next stop will be aided by the VFW in Fountain Hills. Funding for the veteran hikers comes from generous equipment sponsors who provide, top of the line hiking gear for the hikers. The two will complete their journey on the Arizona Trail - National Scenic Trail in April.

At this time there are multiple Warrior Hikes going on throughout America. "There are teams on the Pacific Coast Trail, the Continental Divide Trail and the Ice Age Trail," explained Murphy. Murphy has hiked several of the national scenic trails and was most impressed with the Arizona Trail and the connector Legends of Superior Trail.

Back in His Loving Arms

The prophet Isaiah spoke these words in chapter 59, "Surely the arm of the Lord is not too short to save, nor His ear too dull to hear. But your sins have separated you from your God."

Like any good relationship, when one party goes in the wrong direction, it soon falls apart. If we allow sin to take control of our lives, our friendship with God suffers and falls apart.

Even in our sin, God still loves us. It is only the sin and wrong doing that He hates. His love breaks through the attitudes that caused the separation. We are set free from the pain and sorrow the Lord felt as we "did our own thing."

He is always listening from Heaven. So call upon the Lord, ask forgiveness and make the decision to always tell Him how much you love Him. His grace and mercy will surround your thoughts, attitudes and actions. You are back in His loving arms!

PASTOR'S CORNER

By Dennis Van Gorp

according to the ACLU, "inspired by the bigotry and intolerance of Arizona's elected officials," was used to oppress Hispanics especially undocumented immigrants. The law was also created to build a human commodity for the private prison industry and county jails. The legislature and governors in bed with private prisons, corruption at its worst!

Even in Pinal County our Sheriff has done his share of fear mongering against undocumented immigrants and has even appeared on a white supremacist radio talk show. On the Political Cesspool radio show, he called one of the hosts a "great American". The Political Cesspool has been criticized for its promotion of anti-Semitic, white nationalist and white supremacist views. The Southern Poverty Law Center says of Political Cesspool's creator James Edwards: "Edwards has done more than any one in America to promote neo-Nazis, Holocaust deniers and other extremists."

In December, Sheriff Paul Babeu, two of his deputies and Pinal County lost a judgment in the first federal legal challenge of SB1070. The suit was filed by the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) on behalf of Maria Cortes. The ACLU contended that Pinal County Deputies initiated and prolonged Cortes's detention with immigration authorities based solely on the suspicion that she was an undocumented immigrant, a violation of her fourth amendment right. Maria Cortes was granted a $25,001 settlement plus attorney fees.

The Ferguson report should be a wake up call for America. Changes are needed in our criminal justice system. City, county and state government officials need to take a close look at finding ways to prevent this from happening again. The news media and civil liberties groups need to keep a watchful eye on government agencies and make sure they are following the law and being transparent. The American people need to stand up and speak out against injustices and corruption if there really is to be "Liberty and Justice for All" in our country.

for a felony prosecution, he acceded to Chief Nipp's belief that the evidence warranted some prosecution even if only as misdemeanors.

It is hoped that Attorney Cooper doesn't take long to decide whether to prosecute O'Donnell. It took the Pinal County Attorney's Office nine weeks to reach its decision.

Because the case remains open, neither Voyles nor Nipp would comment on the evidence. And when a TV news reporter noticed Thompson and her family present, she asked Nipp if he had a message for them, with Nipp replying that he had already spoken with them in private – "as it should be."

Nipp also issued an appeal for other victims of abuse in Superior schools, if any, to come forward as the Superior Police Department places a high priority on protecting children.

WELL ARMED WOMAN

changes the chapter and the organization has experienced is becoming a non-profit organization. The Well Armed Woman Shooting Chapters became a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization on Jan. 1, 2015. With this change comes the ability to do so much more for the community. The chapters are now able to fundraise, not only for things they need within the chapter, but for other needs in the community. This also means that any donations given to the chapter are tax deductible. It's a win-win for everyone!

Along with being one of the leaders of the Copper Basin Chapter, Marti Stonecipher is also the new program director for the Well Armed Woman Shooting Chapters. She manages all the chapters nationwide. So don't think this is just some silly little girl's club. The Well Armed Woman Shooting Chapters is a huge organization that is doing huge things, and the Copper Basin Chapter is in the heart of it!

Currently there are over 200 chapters of the Well Armed Woman Shooting Chapters in 48 states and it is growing every single day. This is an amazing group to be a part of and if you were ever interested, now is the time to check it out. The first meeting is always free and is for all women 21 years old and up. There are some amazing benefits to becoming a member of the Well Armed Woman Shooting Chapters: discounts at businesses nationwide and online including 10 percent off at the Well Armed Woman online store. Also, members receive discounts with Glock! Yes that's right, discounts with Glock! Ready to join yet?

The second anniversary celebration meeting for the Copper Basin Chapter will be on April 19 at noon at the Copper Valley Christian Center. If you have any questions please email the leaders at copperbasin.twaw@gmail.com or you may call or text them at: Marti Stonecipher 520-400-8914, Kari Ramsey 520-827-9910 or Renee Ramsey 602-920-3765. Or you can find and message them on Facebook: www.facebook.com/TWAWCopperBasinAZ.
