

OBITUARIES

Jordyn Seth William Avelar

Jordyn Seth William Avelar earned his angels wings and entered eternal life on Good Friday, April 3, 2015 in Oro Valley at 2:43 PM.

His spirit is carried on by his wife Paige Avelar; son Ryder; parents, Pete and Tani Avelar of Mesa and, David and Lori Belliveau of Superior; sisters: Brytni (Shawn) Lindsay of Superior an Cori Lynne (Adam) Croy of Panama City Beach, Fla; brothers: Joshuah (Bonnie) Landspurg of Gilbert and Jacob Ewing of Mesa. His sister Alyssa paved his way to eternity in 2005.

Jordyn was an extremely personable soul and was actually known as "The Mayor" in his childhood neighborhood. He knew where everybody in the neighborhood lived and made friends with everybody in the neighborhood from age 8 to 80. No one was a stranger to Jordyn. His parents and siblings knew that his gift of gab would charm a snake and could easily sell ice to inhabitants at the North Pole. He would also give the shirt off of his back to help a stranger in need. As his final unselfish deed, Jordyn had his organs donated to Donor Network of Arizona.

His Celebration of Life was held at Tumbleweed Park, 2250 S. McQueen Rd. in Chandler, Az on April 19, at the McDowell Mountain Pavilion from 10 a.m. - 2 p.m. In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations be made online to www.gofundme.com/r4bwkk (Support for Paige and Ryder).

Pinal County reviews response to measles outbreak

FLORENCE - In January, the Pinal County Public Health Services District (PCPHSD) found itself in the middle of a developing international story.

Four members of a Kearny family following a December trip to Disneyland had contracted the measles virus.

None of them had received their MMR vaccination.

"Measles is one of the easiest diseases to spread," Public Health Director Tom Schryer said. "I consider ourselves fortunate that it didn't spread to more people that came in contact with that family."

PCPHSD released a media statement on January 22, alerting the Town of Kearny that a family had contracted the disease.

It became a race against the clock for the staff at PCPHSD to investigate every place the family visited and to contact every person who might have been near them when they were out in public.

"Data became extremely important,"

Assistant Director of Public Health for Operations Kore Redden recalled.

"We had to find out those people who had come in contact with this family and determine their vaccination status because measles is easily spread to those who are not vaccinated."

Because Measles is highly infectious, PCPHSD committed most of their staff to the investigation and response. Director Schryer said "We worked with schools, healthcare providers, the infected family and used the State immunization registry to determine who was at risk based on their contact with the family or lack of vaccination and then did all we could to immunize those who were susceptible."

One set of employees proved to be extremely invaluable to the investigative process.

School Health Liaisons are placed in many public schools throughout Pinal County. It's a program that offers health education for students and help with any health-related issue the school sees as a need.

"The School Health Liaisons were one of the keys to helping us out during this outbreak," Schryer noted. These people are official county employees. They are trusted by school staff, students along

Public hearings set for proposal to annex nearly 14,000 acres of land to Superior

By James Hodl

closer to the Boyce Thompson Arboretum by skimming its northern boundary and augment local efforts to encourage tourists visiting this attraction to also shop and dine in Superior during their trip. And according to Superior Attorney Stephen Cooper, annexation would give the town local control over land use in territory brought within the new city limits.

The latter reason is considered especially important now that the Resolution Copper Mining (RCM) project near Superior is moving toward beginning operations, and the company will need a place for tailings storage.

Tailings consist of sand, clay, dirt and leftover materials after copper ore has been mined. Which RCM must store permanently in impoundments that must comply with strict environmental rules to control dust, prevent acid and rock drainage, and protect water and other resources.

RCM said in 2013 it would need 3,000 to 4,000 acres to store tailings for its new copper mining operation, and was looking at sites west of Superior and on Forest Service land for that purpose. Such sites could include Potts Canyon, Hewitt Canyon, Gonzales Pass and Silver King.

To get the tailings to the storage site, RCM also has permission to improve existing roads with the forest and to develop additional roads to the site.

Having a say in land use near Superior could assure that any problems that could eventually adversely affect the quality of life in the community could be forestalled.

According to RCM, its mining operation would positively impact to economy of Superior by creating 1,400 jobs with the company and another 2,300 construction jobs. RCM expects its mine to remain in operation for a minimum 40 years.

A spokesman for the US Forest Service in Phoenix said it is not unusual for communities to annex mostly unpopulated territories outside their town limits for the purpose of managing its use for the betterment of the community.

The public hearings are open to the public and all persons are invited to attend and be heard on the annexation plan.

Public hearings on a proposal that would increase the size of Superior by nearly 13,700 acres of land west and north of town will be held on April 30 by the Superior Town Council at Superior Town Hall beginning at 7 p.m. The territory targeted for annexation is several times larger than the land within the current Superior town limits.

Several reasons were given for the proposed annexation, which would include land owned by the US Forest Service inside of Tonto National Forest. By controlling the land, Superior could reap construction sales tax for US 60 highway improvements. The town limits would be

Norm's Hometown

By John Hernandez
Copper Area News

Norm and Myra Warren were both born and raised in the Kearny-Ray area. They have lived here nearly all their lives and raised their family here. They have five children and 11 grandchildren. Both of their parents still live in town. Their roots, friends and family ties are deep in the community. Norm and Myra are the new owners of what was once Gordon's IGA. Their store is now named Norm's Hometown Grocery. They are proud of their hometown and the name reflects this.

The Warrens took over the grocery on April 1. Yes, "April Fool's Day," they laughed. "It was always a dream that I would own my own store," said Norm. Myra always wanted to own her own business so when Norm was asked if he was interested in buying Gordon's IGA, they thought long and hard about it. We had known that Gordon's was selling out. Rumor was they going to shutdown like they did in San Manuel but the truth was they were always going to sell it. Norm and Myra felt it was "better for someone with local interests and experience" to own the store. "Norm knows how to run the store well," said Myra.

Norm has 35 plus years working for Gordon's IGA, 28 of those years as manager. He started as a carryout boy at age

16. He has worked every department except the meat department. Gordon's always supported the community but lived in Tucson. The Warrens are part of the community and will continue to support it. "We are blessed to have this opportunity," said Myra.

"We will definitely make some changes," said Norm. "We have a lot of ideas but will take it slow. We want to try new products and revamp some departments." Norm's Hometown Grocery will remain members of the Independent Grower's Alliance (IGA). If customers have a special request for a new product we will do our best to get it in the store and try it out. They will be lowering prices for several categories of products. Store hours are Monday through Saturday, 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sundays, 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The Warrens said they will continue to run ads in the newspapers. They have a website where customers can look at weekly special coupons for free or greatly reduced items. The website is normsiga.com. They are also on Facebook. Norm's Hometown Grocery wants the local people to know they are still here for them and really need their support. Norm and Myra said they want to thank their loyal customers in Kearny and those from the Hayden-Winkelman area that have supported the

Lady Panthers hold off fourth-ranked Miners

By Andrew Luberda
Superior Sun

After suffering a loss at fourth-ranked San Manuel earlier last week, the sixth-ranked Lady Panthers returned the favor in an 8 – 7 victory against the defending back-to-back state champions last Friday at home.

The Lady Panthers held an 8 – 5 lead after four innings, but solo runs in the fifth and seventh by the Miners made it close at the end.

Cierra Navarrette almost single handedly carried her team to the win, going 2-for-4 with a triple, homerun, and four RBI. Gabby Salcido was the Lady Panthers' other hitting hero with a pair of hits, including a double.

Ivie Lopez earned the complete-game win, allowing seven runs – four earned – on 10 hits. She struck out three and walked none in her seventh win of the season.

Upcoming schedule: April 24 vs. Ray (4 p.m.) and April 27 at Gilbert Classical Academy (doubleheader – 2 p.m. & 4 p.m.).

Panthers pick up much needed win versus Miners

By Andrew Luberda
Superior Sun

After losing four-straight games, the 10th-ranked Panthers' baseball team was in desperate need of win heading into last Friday's game against the eighth-ranked San Manuel Miners.

Two hits each by Nicolaus Cruz and Elias Olmos helped the Panthers' upset the Miners, 7 – 5. The win moved the Panthers' back into the top 10 of the AIA rankings.

Cruz, a sophomore, relieved starting pitcher Edgar Galindo and picked up the save, preserving Superior's ninth win of year and fourth at home.

Galindo, another sophomore, made his fifth start of the season and pitched four innings, allowing one earned run on five hits. He struck out two and walked seven Miners' hitters.

Austin Navarrette had two RBI in the win.

Upcoming schedule: April 24 vs. Ray (4 p.m.) and April 27 at Gilbert Classical Academy (doubleheader – 2 p.m. & 4 p.m.).

(March 17, 2015) – Vantage West Credit Union (www.vantagewest.org), Southern Arizona's largest credit union, has introduced a new scholarship program as part of its continued commitment to financial readiness. The program, which selects recipients based on a number of criteria, including academic merit, the quality and content of a written essay, and a student's character as demonstrated by activities and volunteerism, awards five $1,000 scholarships for students who will be enrolled in college this fall.

Submissions will be evaluated by a panel of judges. The application deadline is April 25, 2015.

"With these scholarships, Vantage West is investing in our community's future," Robert D. Ramirez, Vantage West president and CEO, said. "We're hopeful that these scholarships will alleviate part of the financial burden most young adults face when heading off to college. And, we are excited to have the ability to positively influence the financial stability of our future workforce."

Four of the scholarships are available to any student, and one is reserved for students enrolled in the Mammoth-San Manuel Unified School District. Applicants must either be Vantage West Credit Union members in good standing, or be the minor children of members in good standing. In addition, applicants must be full-time students for the fall 2015 semester, enrolled at a state or nationally-accredited higher education institution.

To apply, visit vantagewest.org/scholarship. Rules for the general scholarships and the Mammoth-San Manuel scholarship can also be found on the Vantage West website.

Head Start celebrates Week of the Young Child with field trips, father-kid activity

Superior - According to Teresita Olmos, April has been a great month at Superior Head Start, with the students learning a little something about the joys of springtime growth and renewal.

"The children began the month by listening to the Jack and the Beanstalk & the Carrot Seed stories. Each child took turns planting vegetable seeds inside the Head Start playground planters with the focus on "growing," said Ms. Olmos.

What else have the Superior Head Start students and staff been up to? While singing the song "Let It Go", from the movie Frozen, they have been hard at work (and play) creating different things to display for the Week of the Young Child. This year's theme for this special week is "All About Me." To see their artwork, visit the Superior Senior Citizens Center, the Superior Public Library, or the Superior Head Start classroom, where it will be on display all this week.

The children had a great time at Rose's Roses while touring the store. taking time to name the flowers and discuss several occasions of when to give which flowers to give; and, expressing how it feels to receive flowers. Each child was given a fresh carnation of their choice which the children later presented to their family member(s).

Kids and dads came together for the Fatherhood Outdoor Planting Activity held Friday, April 17th. Fathers and children took time to bond and to plant a variety of vegetable and flower seeds. Fathers volunteered in the classroom as part of the National Fatherhood Initiative.

"This is one of many parent volunteer opportunities enrolled families in the Superior Head Start program have available to engage with their child," said Olmos. "Parents are a child's first teacher."

Gentle Reminder: Remember to Do What is Right

Titus 3:1 & 2 says, "Remind the people: to obey the authorities, do what is good, do not slander anyone; be peaceable, considerate and humble."

It seems we need to be reminded to do what is right. It is the wrong things we do or say that just come natural to us.

The New Testament writers, Peter and Paul, sent letters to the churches with lists of right and wrong attitudes, thoughts and actions. They were concerned about the behavior of the church people. The gospels contain the same basic material from four different view- points.

We have the Bible, God's Holy Word, so that we can read it regularly – reminding ourselves of His rules, advice and desires for our lives. Pay attention to what it says, it will always lead in the right with parents and that reaps huge benefits for us as a public health entity. They are our eyes and ears in the communities we serve."

The cost of the handling the outbreak:
1,547 staff hours
$51,571.85 in salary and ERE
$34,429.35 in vaccines and other supplies
$86,001.00 Total cost

Schryer emphasized that this response to the measles outbreak expanded past the scope of public health. Many county departments had a role to play in assisting the department stop this outbreak. Members of the Emergency Management, Finance and Communications were named for their efforts in helping Public Health.

"We don't have a very large staff," Schryer explained. "We have a lean and very effective staff and we have a reason for that. Maintaining this lean staff allows us to use grant money to invest in the infrastructure that helps handle outbreaks like this".

Schryer added the key to keeping everyone focused to the job at hand is clarity and setting priorities.

"All of us have a regular 8 to 5 job and there are duties that have to be completed day in and day out," Schryer stated. "Public Health leaders have to give clarity to the staff to help them understand what is most important at this time, clearly public safety was most important".

There was an added bit of pressure put on PCPHSD and the Arizona Department of Health Services due to the timing of the outbreak. The Super Bowl was just around the corner and the last thing the most watched championship game in the world needed was to have Measles as the pre-game show.

"This was one of the reasons we stepped up our efforts," Schryer said. "This game was a year in the planning and every federal agency was in on the planning. They wanted it to go off without a hitch. And in the end, it did."

Schryer gave his thanks to the public health staff who handled this outbreak while he was out on medical leave. He stated "It is a testament to the strength and talent of our staff that they did a fantastic job when without me, it makes me very proud that we have such a great staff from top to bottom".

"One of the core reason county government exists are for issues like this," Schryer concluded. "We keep people alive that could have died or suffered permanent health impacts from this very preventable disease."
