OBITUARY

Loretta Mae Ross

Loretta Mae Ross was called by God to be forever with Him on April 25, 2014. Surrounded by her loved ones, she died peacefully. She was 80 years old, and was preceded in death by her father and mother, Floyd and Wilma Weil, and her older brother Floyd Weil, Jr. She is survived by her devoted husband of nearly 62 years, Richard William Ross; her younger brother (and spouse) Lester Weil (Peg); her two sons (and their spouses) Stephen (Ann) and David (Terry) Ross; nine grandchildren (and their spouses), Jennifer (Matt Rylski); Chris (Bobbie Joe); Ben (Jodi); Shannon; Joshua Brown (Julie); Patrice Brown; Chad Brown (Kendall); Justin Salgado; and Shelly (Adam Corrough); and 11 great-grandchildren, Luke, Taylor, Henry, Kaycee, Fallon (Ross); Ethan (Brown); Ariel, Angelina (Salgado); Colton, Hunter (Corrough) and Jake (Smith).

Loretta Ross was a coal-miner's daughter, born on a farm in Armstrong Mills, Ohio. Her family moved to Tucson in the 1940's, and she attended Wakefield Junior High and graduated from Tucson High School. She began singing on the radio at the age of four, and she sang in church choirs her entire life. Loretta worked as a Nurse's Aide at the San Manuel Hospital, and for many years as a Registered Nurse-Certified at St. Mary's Hospital on the nightshift. Loretta spent her entire life working with children and assisting the sick and dying - in church, at work and at home. Loretta had a warm sense of humor, and she demonstrated a deep compassion for her family, her patients, for babies and for animals of all kinds. Loretta's precious smile and her devotion to prayer will be greatly missed; she was deeply loved and cherished.

Loretta's memorial service will be held on May 10, at 10 a.m., at Vistoso Community Church (1200 E. Rancho Vistoso Blvd. 825-0652). Remembrances in Loretta's honor would be appropriate at any of the following organizations: Carondelet Health Network (www.carondelet.org); Vistoso Community Church (www.vistoso.org); American Lung Association (www.lung.org); Scleroderma Foundation (www.scleroderma.org); Alzheimer's Association (www.alz.org). Chandler couple posing as real estate agent and potential homebuyer sentenced for SaddleBrooke burglaries

Florence – John Gaw, 45, and Deanna Gaw, 42, were sentenced in Pinal County after pleading guilty to two counts of burglary, each.

According to a Pinal County Sheriff's Office (PCSO) Narrative report, John, an actual real estate agent, used an online system to identify homes for sale in SaddleBrooke and his wife, Deanna, posed as a real estate agent booking windows of time for the couple to be at the houses without the homeowners present. While the homeowners believed their house was being shown to a potential homebuyer, the burglaries ensued.

On July 10, 2012, homeowners, suspicious of the couple, reported them to the Pinal County Sheriff's Office, providing a description of the man, woman and vehicle they were driving. That same day, a PCSO Deputy saw the vehicle matching the description with an expired Nevada license plate and pulled the vehicle over on Highway 77, as it traveled into Pima County.

After the PCSO Deputy noted latex gloves, women's jewelry and collector's coins on the floorboards of the vehicle and further noted the couple matched the description of the suspicious couple reported to police, he requested back-up from the Pima County Sheriff's Office. After establishing probable cause, the Gaw's were arrested on suspicion of burglary and fraud.

The Pinal County Attorney's Office filed indictments against the couple and on July 29, 2013, John Gaw accepted a plea agreement and was sentenced to a 3.5 year term at Arizona Department of Corrections with five years of supervised probation to follow. Deanna Gaw accepted a plea agreement, on April 14, 2014, and was sentenced to 2.5 years at DOC with a three year term of probation to follow.

Arizona Workforce Connection opens at AJC

By John Hernandez
San Manuel Miner

The Arizona Workforce Connection and Adelante Juntos Coalition (AJC) held a ribbon cutting ceremony to announce the opening of a one stop center at the AJC El Centro Youth Center in San Manuel. The ribbon cutting ceremony was attended by local business people, non-profit organizations, and employees of Central Arizona Government (CAG). The one stop center offers the use of two computers to file for unemployment insurance, family assistance programs such as SNAP, seek employment and apply for jobs all on-line. It is part of the CAG Workforce Investment Act (WIA) that works with individuals and businesses to develop a skilled labor force for employers. The WIA is a federally funded program.

The ribbon was cut by Diana Polanco of Adelante Juntos. Dave Franquero, an employment specialist with the Work Investment Act Dislocated Worker Program spoke about the services offered at the new one stop resource center. The one stop center provides information on jobs, training, education and resources for both adults and youth. The youth program is for those between the ages of 14 and 21 who meet income eligibility criteria. The income criteria are based on family size and income. Some of the services provided to youth include: help obtaining your high school diploma or GED test; work readiness training; assistance with tuition and books; and career guidance.

Adult services and programs include: basic skills education; career development; GED pre-testing and preparation; on-the-job training; referrals to community agencies; and career and educational training. A one stop center is also available in Mammoth at the Mammoth Library. The two new one stop centers are a welcome addition to the Tri-Community and will provide much needed services to the people of the community. If you have a computer and would like to learn more about the Arizona Workforce Connection and the WIA visit their website: www.azjobconnection.gov. Better yet, visit the one stop center at the El Centro Youth Center.

Dignitaries cut the ribbon making the Arizona Workforce Connection officially open for business.

The 99% Ride pays a visit to Oracle

By John Hernandez
San Manuel Miner

Gregg and Helen Vinson hosted a couple from Amsterdam for a few days at their home in Oracle. Samantha Soekhoe and Wouter (Walter) van Eenbergen are a support team for cyclist Dirk Spits who is riding his bike from the tip of Alaska to the southern tip of Argentina. The purpose of the ride which is over 17,000 miles in length, is to raise funds for educational, art and athletic programs for children in Central and South America. The 99% Ride does cycling rides around the world to raise funds and awareness for children in need. They believe that everyone can give 1 percent of their time, money or knowledge to help others.

Samantha and Walter drive ahead of Dirk and give talks to service organizations and at people's homes to promote the charity and raise funds. They act as media liaisons contacting press and media to maximize exposure of the ride and raise awareness of the projects the 99% Ride benefits. They have also spoken at elementary schools encouraging children to set goals and work towards achieving their dreams. They were in Tucson this past week and visited Oracle due to a chance meeting with a man in San Diego that turned out to be Helen Vinson's brother. He heard them saying they were going to Tucson next and he told them that his sister lived in a nearby town called Oracle. He told them to look Helen up and maybe she could help them. He gave them Helen's contact information.

On Monday, Gregg and Helen held a fundraiser at their home for the 99% Ride, inviting a number of people from Oracle to the event. Everyone got to meet and socialize with Samantha and Walter. Walter and Samantha provided a slide show about the 99% Ride and answered questions from the audience. The two explained how they have limited their expenditures on food to six dollars a day. Their reason being that the average family in Central and South America survives on $10 per day. The fundraiser raised $1,200. It probably helped that Gregg was offering one pound of his Jojoba range fed beef for a donation of $100 or more.

On Thursday Samantha and Wouter were heading into Mexico where they will meet Dirk in Mazatlan. Dirk is in La Paz, Baja Mexico where he was looking for a dentist to have a root canal procedure. Samantha is fluent in Spanish which will be invaluable on this part of the trip. She is the Chairman of Corazon Inquieto Foundation in Bolivia. You can follow the progress of Dirk's ride and follow the adventures of the team and learn about the 99%

Ride and how you can donate by visiting their website www.99percentride.org.

Petition opposing medical marijuana dispensary received at hearing

The Pinal County Planning and Zoning Commission held a hearing on April 17 concerning the special use permit for the Pinal County Wellness Center medical marijuana dispensary looking to open in the town of Oracle. The proposed site is located at 1800 W. American Ave. According to the meeting agenda packet, a petition with 119 signatures of Oracle residents opposed to the dispensary was received. Fourteen letters in opposition were also received. There were no letters or petitions received in favor of the dispensary.

At the commission hearing nine Oracle residents spoke out against the medical marijuana dispensary being located in Oracle. Only one person spoke in favor and he was the current property owner. Dr. Glen A. Wilt, Jr. His legal counsel David Dow was in attendance. The commission voted unanimously to recommend denial of the special use permit to the Pinal County Board of Supervisors based on the public opposition presented at the hearing. The board of supervisors will make the final decision at a regular board session scheduled for May 28.

Jazz Read named Volunteer of the Year

By Chaille McGrew
San Manuel Library Board of Trustee

The San Manuel Library has announced the 2013 VOLUNTEER OF THE YEAR. The volunteer is Jazz Read. Jazz is a three year volunteer at the Library but actually more like a little whirlwind as she is constantly looking for things she can do to make our library a more welcoming and better functioning place. She and a fellow volunteer reorganized and rearranged all of the material that must be stored in the "behind the desk" area which is greatly appreciated by her fellow volunteers. She also is very willing to do extra shifts when others cannot be there. Not only is she busy doing projects in the library she came up with the idea for our very popular "Crochet and Conversation" afternoons which she hosts. Her outgoing personality makes all our library patrons feel welcomed. Thanks, Jazz for being such an asset to our library and congratulations on being the 2013 Volunteer of the Year!

SPATS Theater presents 'Welfarewell'

By John Hernandez
San Manuel Miner

The SPATS theater group is presenting the Pamela "Cat" Delaney play "Welfarewell" beginning Friday, April 25 and running weekends through May 11. The play is a social satire, comedy about an 80-year-old former stage actor, Esmeralda Quip who can no longer make ends meet living on a meager fixed income. She finds herself in debt and way behind on her rent due to choosing medication and food over paying her landlord. Finding herself in jail over an incident with her landlord, she finds that it's not so bad in prison. You have a comfortable bed, three meals a day, free medical care, a roof over your head and the ladies she meets are nice if somewhat odd.

Using her many years of life experiences and crafty mind, Esmeralda devises a plan to get her self sent to prison but the justice system has other ideas. Will Esmeralda be able to play the system or are the odds stacked against her? Whatever happens, you will laugh and enjoy her attempt to do the time by doing a crime.

The play is being directed by Van Howell and produced by Rose Milan. Jan Aalbutts plays Esmeralda Quip. The other cast members, some of them playing multiple parts are: Rose Anne Weaver, Christiana Oberth, Michelle Eagan, Julie Szekeley, John Wasley, Kathleen Piermarini, Becky Greer, and Mark Henderson.

Opening night is Friday, April 25 at 7 p.m. at the SPATS Theater, 730 E. American Ave. in Oracle. Tickets are $15 with $1 refundable at the door with a food bank donation. The schedule is April 25 and 26 at 7 p.m.; May 2 and 3 at 7 p.m., Sunday matinee, May 4 at 2 p.m.; May 9 and 10 at 7 p.m. with a final Sunday matinee on May 11 at 2 p.m. For reservations call 520-896-9496.

Oracle, Superior schools win ADE grants to upgrade security for students

By James J. Hodl
Copper Area News

Two area school districts have been awarded grant money for projects to improve the safety and security of their schools from the Arizona Department of Education (ADE).

The Superior Unified School District received the larger of the two grants of $98,550 to make major security upgrades at John F. Kennedy Elementary School and Superior Junior/Senior High School. The Oracle Elementary School District received a $9,889 grant to upgrade student security in its schools.

Superior and Oracle were two of only 10 school districts statewide to receive ADE grants under a one-time revenue allocation in the Arizona state budget for the current fiscal year. The 10 districts were selected from among 187 applications as having both the most pressing needs and the best planning for achieving their security goals. The grant money was limited to the purchase and installation of security hardware.

With its grant money, Superior will install campus-wide video surveillance systems in both its schools and an interlocking door system at its junior/senior high school. Oracle Elementary will upgrade the locks on classroom doors to better protect students from imminent threats posed by outsiders.

"I'm very excited about the security improvement projects made possible by the ADE grant," said Patrick O'Donnell, superintendent of Superior Unified. "Improving security at our schools has been a priority since I arrived in Superior last July," he said. "The surveillance system consisting of high-definition television cameras and monitors will provide a view of everything happening inside and outside the schools, including the playgrounds. We'll be able to catch any threat to student and teacher safety and act on it immediately," he said.

O'Donnell praised Arlynn Godinez, director of curriculum and programming, for doing the hard work that resulting in the district receiving the grant.

"Without Godinez's efforts, the security improvements would not be happening at this time," he noted.

"Fantastic!" was the reaction of Superior Police Chief Mark Nipp on learning of the

Oracle Elementary School District
Superintendent Dennis Blausier

school safety improvements grant.

"It's never wrong to be extra cautious when it concerns our children," he said. "With the problems happening around the country, being proactive in maintaining a safe environment inside a schools is a benefit for the entire community."

Improved student safety also will result from upgrading the locks on classrooms at schools in Oracle. According to Oracle Superintendent Dennis Blausier, should a lockdown of classrooms be necessary, they all can be bolted only through a lockbox. With the upgraded locks, teachers can lock doors from the inside of classrooms as soon as a safety threat is known, thus trimming response time in setting up protections for students, he explained.

Both grant-supported projects will get underway soon in both districts. In Superior, the video surveillance system is being acquired from and installed by Tempe-based Logicalis Co. and should be completed by July 15, just before students begin classes in late July under its modified schedule that staggers student attendance to make maximum use of existing school facilities.

To power the new security system, Superior Unified School District is proceeding with plans to make both of its schools nearly energy independent by the installation of solar panels to generate the electricity each school uses. According to O'Donnell, solar panels already provide 90 percent of the electricity needed by the high school. Additional solar panel installations on the elementary school also

Oracle to improve ability to lockdown classrooms during security threats; video monitoring systems to be added to both Superior schools will provide most of its electricity needs, he said.

Both O'Donnell and Blausier admitted that these security systems are needed even in small rural towns like Superior and Oracle due to the current problems occurring in schools nationwide where students are put in jeopardy by both intruders and from fellow students.

Ruby James, superintendent of the Eloy Elementary School District, knows exactly what they are talking about. A few months ago, the pursuit of a man following a shooting incident by the Pinal County Sheriff's police came close enough to one of Eloy's schools to consider a lockdown.

"It would have helped if we have a working alert system where we could inform parents by cellphone or email whenever the school is put on lockdown due to a safety threat to let them know the situation and that their children were safe," James said. "Such a system will cost about $8,000, which we currently haven't the funds to acquire," he said. "You can imagine the safety projects we could perform with a $100,000 grant," James noted.

Another Eloy safety need is a new camera surveillance system to monitor school property. The old system was disabled by thieves stealing the cameras. Eloy would like to acquire a new system consisting of compact dome cameras that can be hidden in ceilings and other structures.

"If the Queen Creek Unified School District received an ADE grant there are two areas that we have discussed that we feel would be a good investment to improve school safety," said Superintendent Tom Lindsey. "One would be erecting better fencing at some of our older campuses to make them more secure by creating a single point of entry. We also would install more security cameras at school sites and on buses," said Lindsey.

"Schools in the Florence United School District already has an alert system and it provides peace of mind knowing we can assure parents their children are safe should anything happen," said Chris Knutsen, assistant superintendent.

The top safety priority at the Florence district involves dangerous "rush hour" traffic in the parking lot of Posten Butte High School in San Tan Valley, he noted. Because the lot is flat with parking areas marked only with painted lines, there have been some traffic altercations as drivers during drop-off and pickup hours jockey to get ahead of other cars.

"Adding concrete barriers at the end of parking spaces would limit traffic to proper lanes and thus making it less of a free-for-all," Knutsen said.

The Coolidge Unified School District is currently studying what safety improvements are needed at its schools. To move this program forward, the district recently created the new position of School Safety Officer to help with the study and to create a safety manual for all schools that will detail procedures should safety problems arise, said Superintendent Charie Wallace.

Unfortunately there will be no school security improvement grants awarded next year, said ADE spokesman Ashley Dammen. The budget for next year recently approved by the Arizona state legislature and signed by Gov. Jan Brewer does not include funding for such grants.

Mountain Vista School in Oracle will be able to upgrade its 'lockdown' procedures thanks to a grant award.

After a long application process ... the winners!

Securing an ADE grant under the School Safety Program was no easy task for any school district.

The total grant money available was only $911,000 and was limited to purchasing security hardware, which was defined as door and gate locks, intercom systems, public address systems, security alarms and lighting, perimeter fencing, and surveillance cameras and monitors.

The rules for applying for grant money was not announced until Dec. 13, 2013, and the request applications had to be filed by Jan. 31, 2014.

On applications, school districts had to provide detailed descriptions of what security projects they wanted to perform along with the estimated cost. They had to list the types of hardware needed, quantity of each, and the location each would be installed on all school campuses. Districts had to explain how the hardware supports their emergency response plans and the hazards that could trigger such an emergency.

As ADE wanted the grant-receiving schools to get the most protection for the cost, districts had to provide on the applications evidence of the effectiveness of the purchased systems, and the systems' ties to local police and fire departments. Timelines for system installations had to be provided in advance.

Grant recipients were announced on April 1. ADE would provide the funds in four monthly installments from April through July. All security improvement work has to be completed by July 31 with the winning districts having to file reports on the installations and how the systems were working by Oct. 29, 2014.

The 10 winning school districts and the sums they received are:

Globe Unified School District – $61,560
Washington Elementary (Glendale) – $99,857
Yuma Elementary School District – $93,110
Oracle Elementary School District – $9,889
Fowler Elementary (Phoenix) – $87,327
Tombstone Unified School District – $99,634
Cottonwood-Oak Creek School – $99,992
Chinle Unified School District – $99,966
Superior Unified School District – $98,550
Friendly House – $100,000

ADE defines a safe school as one that is free from violent and criminal behaviors and allows staff, students and community members to feel connected to the school and able to participate in its major functions – teaching and learning. Violent or criminal behaviors at school compromise the learning environment and put health and safety in jeopardy.

In the 19 – 2 win over Desert Christian last Thursday, the Miners scored in every inning on their way to the dominating victory.

Miners winning streak snapped

By Andrew Luberda
San Manuel Miner

Top-ranked Desert Christian ended the Miners' four-game winning streak last week with a 8 – 0 win. The Miners were shutout for the first time this season.

The Miners, ranked fifth in the most current AIA rankings, defeated Globe and Miami earlier in the week.

In the 5 – 1 win over Miami last Wednesday, the Miners jumped out to an early 1 – 0 lead before seeing the Vandals tie the game in the fourth inning. The Miners responded by scoring three runs in their half of the fourth and adding another run in the fifth on their way to the victory.

Anthony Garcia and Shane Kelly each had 2 hits against the Vandals. Garcia was the winning pitcher, throwing a complete game one-hitter. He allowed an unearned run on the one hit, seven walks, and struck out nine Miami hitters.

The Miners have won eight of their last ten games heading into Tuesday's sectional showdown with 7th-ranked Ray. The Miners beat the Bearcats in the first meeting between the teams on Apr. 4, 12 – 8. Shane Kelly and Anthony Garcia each homered in that game. Francisco Median had three hits.

The regular season comes to an end for the Miners on Wednesday with a home game versus Bowie. The game is scheduled for 3:45 p.m.

After last year's semi-finals appearance, the Miners are hoping to win a championship this year. They'll begin their quest this weekend after the release of the State Championship Brackets on Thursday, May 1.

Artist photographer loves vintage cars

By John Hernandez
San Manuel Miner

Linda Tabler is an award winning photographer and artist. She started out as a painter until her studio in Santa Barbara, Calif. burned down and destroyed all of her paintings. A friend gave her a 35 mm camera and suggested she start photography. She taught herself how to use the camera and with her artistic eye a new career was born. Photography has been her main medium since 1985.

Linda grew up near Omaha, Nebraska. When she was nine years old she began taking private art lessons. She studied under Fran Day at the Joslyn Art Museum in Omaha until she was 18. She has a Master of Fine Arts degree from the University of Nebraska. She has had her paintings and photographs in shows in Cincinnati, Santa Barbara, Nebraska, Kentucky and Arizona.

Some of the awards she has won include the Kodak Kinsa Award, photojournalism 1985; Merit Award, Carnegie Art Center, "Vision On Tap II", Covington Kentucky; Merit Award, Fitton Center for the Arts, "GHAE'02", Hamilton, Ohio 2002; and Best of Show, Period Gallery, "Faces", Omaha, Nebraska 2003.

One of her favorite subjects to photograph is vintage automobiles. She has been doing it over 20 years and was one of the first women photographers to do so. She calls it a labor of love. She said she loves the lines of vintage automobiles and prints her car photos on metallic paper for that chrome and metal glimmer of those wonderful old cars. Many of her pictures are taken at vintage car shows and she understands the love, work and care people put into the cars they display.

Linda was part of the recent Oracle Artist Studio Tour. She displayed her cibachrome (direct color prints), black and white prints plus hand colored prints of classic and vintage automobiles at the Carriage House at El Rancho Robles. Her photographs will continue to be on display through the end of the month at El Rancho Robles. You may see pictures of full classic automobiles, a shiny grille of a Coupe de Ville, a hood ornament from a vintage auto, or perhaps a bright red tail light of a '63 Comet sticking out of the snow. Her show pays homage to her husband Jeff who passed away a few years ago. She started her journey of car photography with Jeff on a back road in Kentucky during a snow storm. He was instrumental in her development as a photographer. Jeff knew all about vintage cars from their history to their makes, models and engines.

If you are a car buff, you will greatly enjoy the show and will probably walk away with a framed piece of art or ask Linda to photograph your classic car. Art fans will enjoy the beauty and creativity of Linda's works. Who knows, you might have seen Linda taking pictures at the Oracle Car Show this past Saturday, April 26. Linda Tabler Photography does art photographs, weddings and portraits. You can contact her at 859-250-5160 or lindatablerphotography5@earthlink.net.
