LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Mr. President, Show Us Your Tax Returns!

The citizens of the United States of America need to see Donald Trump's tax returns and we need to see them now. The reasons are multiple and pressing.

With many verified connections between the Trump campaign, his administration and Russia, those returns may shed light on the ties between himself, his family and a hostile foreign power.

Pulitzer Prize-winning reporter David Cay Johnston wrote last May in an article about Trump's history with the mafia, "No other candidate for the White House this year has anything close to Trump's record of repeated social and business dealings with mobsters, swindlers, and other crooks." President Trump's tax returns may offer insight as to the reality of this claim.

Release of two pages of 2005 tax returns establish that the Department of Treasury/Internal Revenue Service tax code forced President Trump to sharply increase his tax liability by invoking the Alternative Minimum Tax (AMT) option. Will his coming tax reform initiative further advance his own and his families interests by eliminating the AMT and substituting other rules more favorable to himself and his family? Without his tax returns we won't know and suspicions are sure to fester.

The Emoluments Clause of the United States Constitution forbids the president from accepting money from foreign governments. His ownership of the Trump Organization, and all the loans, deals and promotions all over the world that come with it, may put him in active violation of that clause. His tax returns when made public may help confirm or deny this Constitutional offense.

On Saturday, April 15, Copper Corridor residents will rally with hundreds of thousands of like minded citizens in a clarion call for President Donald J. Trump to show us his tax returns. As controversy swirls and conflicts of interests loom, tax reform and budget decisions take center stage. The need for transparency and accountability grows ever more urgent.

Mr. President, show us your tax returns!

Stand Down aims to help Pinal County Veterans access services

Florence, Arizona – Honoring/Hiring/Helping Our Heroes of Pinal County (HOHP) is hosting Pinal County's 5th Annual Pinal County Veteran Stand Down April 15, 2017. Local service providers will offer Veterans haircuts, health screenings, legal assistance, emergency housing options, employment support services, vision screening, as well as food stamps, VA and Social Security benefits, Child Support Info, Pinal County court issue review and much more!!

In military active service, a Stand Down is a necessary mental and physical break from combat. Military personnel spend a few days in a safe place to rest and recuperate before returning to frontlines. For the Pinal County Veterans Stand Down it is a safe place to go and access services that the Veteran and their family may need. The event also educates Veterans on services that are available to them that they might not be aware of.

This year the committee has added a special area for OUR female Veterans. Even though all services will be available to them an area will be dedicated to honor and serve them!!

The Stand Down also aims to reach as many homeless Veterans and Veterans at risk of becoming homeless as possible, connecting them to services that will allow them to get on the path to self-sufficiency.

Veterans are asked to check in for the event on:

Registration begins at 7 a.m.

Game & Fish warns again about potentially rabid wildlife; SaddleBrooke woman treated after bite

TUCSON, Ariz. – Three recent reports involving foxes and a skunk, common carriers of rabies, is prompting the Arizona Game and Fish Department to ask the public to exercise caution around apparently ill wildlife and to seek medical attention promptly if bitten by one.

A clearly ill fox was found on the front porch of a home March 30 off Sweetwater Drive, and an apparently ill fox was observed March 28 in a pool area near homes in the Picture Rocks area. The fox off Sweetwater died, and the Picture Rocks fox was euthanized. Both were submitted for rabies testing.

A woman was bitten March 26 by a skunk in her garage in SaddleBrooke. She was treated for rabies at Oro Valley Hospital, but the skunk escaped.

“Avoid contact with and don’t approach wildlife that is behaving abnormally or appears to be ill. If you believe that you see a rabid animal, call us at 1-623-236-7201 or the Pima County Health Department at 520-724-7797 immediately,” said Regional Supervisor Raul Vega of Game and Fish in Tucson. “In addition, avoid touching any dead wildlife that you may find, and keep your pets away from them as well.”

Vega added that pets such as dogs and cats, as well as livestock like horses, should be regularly vaccinated for rabies. In addition, dogs should be on leashes when outdoors, and a veterinarian consulted if any domestic animals are injured by wildlife, he said. Unvaccinated animals exposed to wildlife with rabies must undergo a four month quarantine.

There have been nine confirmed cases in skunks, foxes, bats and bobcats in Pima County thus far this year, as well as seven in Cochise County and five in Santa Cruz County. There were a total of 137 cases among those species in the three counties last year, including an infected horse. Pinal County had one rabies case in 2016.

Rabies is a preventable viral disease most often transmitted through the bite of a rabid animal. The rabies virus attacks the central nervous system, causing encephalitis (swelling of the brain). It is almost always fatal once symptoms appear.

Rabies can be prevented in persons who have come into contact or have been bitten by wild animals through prompt administration of anti-rabies vaccine and rabies immune globulin.

In Arizona, the principal rabies hosts in Arizona are bats, skunks, and foxes. These animals carry their own distinct rabies virus variants or “strains.”

When rabies activity within these animal groups increases, rabies can “spill over” into other mammal species, such as bobcats, coyotes, javelina, cats, dogs, horses, cows, etc. Rabid animals may appear disoriented or intoxicated, salivate heavily or appear thirsty.

Approximately 15 people are exposed to rabid animals in Arizona annually. People who are exposed must receive vaccine and anti-rabies serum treatment to prevent infection. Prevention information is available at: <http://bit.ly/20CuVnF>.

The Arizona Game and Fish Department has trust responsibility for managing more than 800 native wildlife species – the most of any inland state – for current and future generations of Arizona citizens. <http://bit.ly/2mouR8P>

In Arizona, the skunk is one of the principal rabies hosts. Arizona Game and Fish Department warns Pinal County residents to leave these animals alone. A bite can result in painful treatment for rabies.

The new casino has over 300 slot machines, black jack and three card poker games. There is a bar and a gourmet food truck. The nationally recognized food truck is operated by the Whiskey Ranch Grill. They have appeared on the Food Network show, Chopped and on the Travel Channel programs, BBQ Pitmasters and BBQ Crawl. Tommy Duncan, Jr. is the owner. They compete against each other and other professionals on the national barbecue circuit. Whiskey Ranch is based in Gilbert, Arizona. CEO Matt Olin says in the future the casino will bring in other food trucks, up to four at a time with different types of cuisine.

The opening of the casino is a boost to the economy in the area. It has brought jobs and it is believed that it will eventually bring other businesses and growth to this side of Pinal County.

The Tribute Artist: a gender bending laugh fest

By John Hernandez
San Manuel Miner

Go see The Tribute Artist, the latest production of the SPATS Theater. It is a fun filled, gender bending, cross dressing romp in a Greenwich Village townhouse full of ribald humor, sexual suggestiveness and scheming men and women and girls that are boys and men that are women who love men and women who love women and are all confused and suffer the frailties of being human.

But leave the kids at home. This is definitely an adult comedy.

The play by Charles Busch is about an out of work female impersonator, Jimmy who takes on the persona of Adriana his elderly landlady who dies in her sleep. Adriana had no living relatives or friends. Jimmy pretends to be Adrianna to keep the townhouse long enough to sell it and share the profits with Rita his lesbian friend and a real estate agent. Some say the worst real estate agent in New York.

Their "fool proof" plan runs into problems along the way when three characters with an interest in the townhouse show up. Christina, out of work, depressed with very low self-esteem. If it wasn't for bad luck, she wouldn't have any luck at all. Christina, played very well by Christine Oberth, is the heir to the townhouse but there is a catch, Adriana can live in the townhouse until she dies which means it can't be sold for the millions it is worth unless some type of agreement is made.

Rachel/Oliver is Christina's daughter turning son who is dealing with being transgender and her mother's depressing attitude. Rachel/Oliver is played by Becky Greer. Rodney, played by M. Van Howell is Adriana's much younger ex-lover from many years ago with dark secrets of his own. Will he discover Adriana's not who or what she used to be?

The whole cast does a wonderful job. Melissa Sears does a good job as Rita. Rose Ann Weaver played Adriana before she dies and lets you know why she had no friends. Imo Baird does a remarkable job as Jimmy/Adriana. Seeing him in drag is worth the price of admission. Imo pulls off not only having to play a woman, Adriana, but channeling other characters he has impersonated in the past such as Marilyn Monroe, Katherine Hepburn and Bette Davis when the time calls for it. Don't call Jimmy a female impersonator, he hates that term. He prefers being known as a Tribute Artist.

The Tribute Artist has one more weekend to go. Shows are on Friday, Saturday and Sunday April 7, 8, and 9. Be sure to get your tickets by calling 520-896-2017.

The Tribute Artist is directed by June Rettig. Producer is Cinnamon Schiek. Stage managers are Rose Milam and Roxy Brown. Shane Milam is the light & sound technician and Lisa Trease did the hair and makeup.

On the set of the Tribute Artist at the SPATS Playhouse.

Post Office's Clark celebrates birthday in a Mammoth way

By John Hernandez
San Manuel Miner

Jessamy Clark has worked at the Mammoth Post Office

for 15 years. Because there is no home delivery of mail in Mammoth, residents go to the post office to pick up their mail. Over the years, she has gotten to know everyone in Mammoth and they know her.

Jessamy was born in Cottonwood, Arizona and raised in Globe. She moved to Mammoth 15 years ago. She loves living here and the people who are always friendly. When not working, she enjoys spending every minute she can with her grandson, Oscar.

On Saturday April 1, Jessamy celebrated her 40th birthday with friends and family at the Mammoth Community Center. Jessamy's mother, Cathy Martin organized the party and invited the town to the party. Cathy moved to Mammoth two years ago. She loves the people and the friendly small town atmosphere.

Happy Birthday, Jessamy!

The Canyon del Oro High School Orchestra performed at Carnegie Hall in New York City on March 20, 2017. The talented young musicians led by Orchestra Director, Toru Togawa performed well.

The students enjoyed trip of a lifetime. They toured Ellis Island and the Statue of Liberty and took in the Broadway show Chicago. The group got to experience a performance by famed cellist Yo-Yo Ma with the New York Philharmonic. They got to see the magnificent view of New York skyline and Central Park from Top of the Rock, the 70 stories high observation deck at Rockefeller Center.

Congratulations to the CDO orchestra and Oracle's own Rachel Blair. Rachel is the Concert Master violinist of the orchestra. She performed with the orchestra in Oracle at the Oracle Center for the Arts in a benefit concert to raise money for the trip to New York. The Oracle Piano Society sponsored the concert.

Local artist Pat Dolan publishes book

By John Hernandez
San Manuel Miner

Pat Dolan

Oracle artist Pat Dolan has written and published a book about her spiritual journey through life. Her book, Stalking the Sacred, is a memoir that takes a look at death and dying and seeks to understand “what happens after death.”

Her journey from growing up Catholic to learning about shamanism, pre-Christian Celtic spirituality and the indigenous tribe of the Achar in the Ecuadorian rain forest is written with honesty, warmth and humor. The book is adorned with many of Pat’s illustrations including some of her “spirit animals”. She talks to animals, trees and yes, even the dead. You can discover her reality and perhaps an awareness of your own spirituality in the book.

On Monday, March 27, Pat read excerpts from her book at a book signing event held at the RLV OracleArt Horse Barn.

Pat lives at Rancho Linda Vista in Oracle. She teaches art and has exhibited her art nationally. She is a faculty member at the Drawing Studio in Tucson.

Stalking the Sacred is available at Amazon, Antigone Books (411 N. 4th Avenue in Tucson) or contact Pat at brightflame@mac.com.

Oracle residents and friends of Pat Dolan gather to hear a reading from Pat’s new book, Stalking the Sacred.

Proud miner for 36 years

By BILL HOWELL

Enrique “Wero” Ramirez completed 36 years of work at the Magma underground mine this past April.

Wero worked most of those years as an ‘ace’ transfer raise miner, but also has experience as a chutetapper, timberman, highpacker, drift miner, and stope miner.

During his transfer raise days, if you were to come across raises with the muck always cleaned up, tools and steel stored neatly, and the raise as straight as a rifle barrel, you knew you were looking at Wero’s raises.

This same attention to detail also makes Wero a good gunsmith in his spare time.

He takes pride in making every aspect of his work flawless.

Maybe this is why he has never had a reportable accident during these 36 years.

He made his footage because he worked smart and hard.

Some of his innovations include the ‘Wero Starter Steel’ (the exact drill steel taper for carbide bits), cribbing modifications, 18” bulkheads, and ‘Wero Boards’ to hold the top of the raise for other miners.

Wero went on salary in 1981 and his continued resourcefulness and efficiency meant being assigned to special jobs such as: DOSCO drifts, 2315 test block, 2615 mechanized blocks and the clean-up of the panel 11 mud run.

He has supervised all phases of mining and is currently supervising the transfer raise miners in the Kalamazoo.

His efforts over 36 years have had a good impact on Magma and he is a good example of what a professional miner can be.

Thanks Wero, for caring enough to do the best.

Cards of Thanks

Our most sincere and heartfelt gratitude for all the expressions of sympathy shown to us during the recent passing of our husband, father, stepfather, grandfather, and great-grandfather, Enrique O. "Wero" Ramirez. To all who traveled from near and far to share in our sorrow. For the Orozco primos for their love, presence and pictures; for the prayers, cards, visits, phone calls, flowers and food. Your thoughtfulness and generosity was deeply appreciated. To Ortiz for the amazing steel plaque he made for Guerrero. May God bless each and every one of you in His own special way. We especially thank Wero for his kind and loving heart. For all the memories he left with us. His joy at meeting each new great-grandbaby He will remain forever in our hearts.

Again, thank you.
With love and prayers,
Mary Ramirez and family
