Becca, as she was known to her family and friends, was born to Raul and Rosalia Beltran Sept. 10, 1953, in Ray, AZ.

Becca was raised in Sonora, AZ, and moved to Kearny, AZ in 1962 where she attended Ray schools. While in Kearny she was hired by ASARCO in Hayden being one of the first females to be hired. During this time she had a work injury that required her to take medical retirement.

On March 28, 1975, she gave birth to a baby boy named Raymond Beltran. Then in 1977 she met and married Henry Gaona and became a mom of three boys and two girls, Richard, Mark, John Henry, Anna and Artie. Becca was married to Henry until his death on Dec. 11, 1997.

Becca and Henry had two more daughters, both "New Year's Day" baby daughters. First Felisha was born Jan. 3, 1978, being Kearny's first baby of the new year. Then on Jan. 1, 1983, Rachel was Tucson's first baby of the new year and was announced on Tucson's local TV station.

Becca's hobbies were watching Western movies on TV, doing "Word-Find" puzzles, cooking, camping, fishing and going to the Casino. # Young people are moving out of rural Arizona. Local First Arizona is asking: What can help them stay?

(May 19, 2023) — Young people between the ages of 16 and 24 from rural Arizona are wanted to give feedback about jobs, housing, educational and recreational opportunities in their communities and why they have stayed or moved away.

Small towns and cities are facing a similar challenge: Young people are moving to larger cities, causing local jobs to remain vacant and threatening the long-term viability of communities.

The survey will ask young Arizonans what they love about the rural places where they grew up and how towns can support them to stay. What do they need and want in terms of careers, education, housing and recreation to continue to call rural communities home?

The survey of rural youth and young professionals is being conducted by the nonprofit economic-development organization Local First Arizona in collaboration with the Partnership for Workforce Innovation.

“As Arizona’s Rural Development Council, Local First Arizona is working closely with rural, tribal and business leaders to meet the needs of workers and employers across the state,” said Kate Stuart, Local First Arizona senior programs manager for rural development. “We are seeing critical challenges to recruiting employees in rural areas, even when businesses waive just about all qualifications and provide on-the-job training, and to retaining the young workers they do hire.”

“This survey will provide important feedback for local leaders so they can better serve young singles and families as they develop industries, housing developments, training programs and community activities in rural Arizona,” Stuart added.

Local First welcomes responses to the online survey from young people in rural communities anywhere in Arizona, but is focusing specifically on eight communities: Blyas, Holbrook, Globe, Hayden, Kingman, Miami, Superior and Winkelman.

These communities represent a spectrum of success and complexity in growing their younger demographics. Responses from residents in these areas will provide valuable insights to other cities and towns looking for answers.

For example: Hayden, in Pinal and Gila

More delays announced for Resolution Copper permitting

The United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) announced on Thursday that they needed more time for tribal consultations and to review the Resolution Copper Final Environmental Impact Statement (FEIS). They made the announcement by briefing the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals that more time was needed for review and tribal consultation.

In March an attorney from the United States Forest Service announced that the FEIS would be re-released sometime this spring during his testimony to the 9th Circuit Court en banc hearing for the Apache Stronghold vs U.S. Government. The case for Apache Stronghold is contending that the approval of the Southeast Arizona Land Exchange and subsequent approval of the Resolution Copper FEIS would violate their rights to practice their religion freely if the Oak Flat Campground is destroyed or not available to be used.

Many close to the project were expecting the EIS to be re-released in the next few weeks. The Resolution Copper FEIS was first pulled for further review in March of 2021, and during the summer of 2022, additional tribal consultation was ordered.

There is no estimated timeline when the consultation would be completed.

counties, has lost nearly half its working-age population over a decade. The 19-64 age group has shrunk from 575 to 296 over that time, according to the 2020 U.S. Census. Seven percent of Hayden's residents work in the town, with 80% commuting 25 to 95 miles away to jobs as far as Phoenix, according to a study by the Partnership for Workforce Innovation.

The youth exodus is a phenomenon that many rural areas in the country have been grappling with. Census data show that deaths outnumbered births in eight out of 15 Arizona counties and more than 50% of U.S. counties in 2020, which can indicate fewer younger workers available to replace retiring Baby Boomers. This can impact job growth and the sustainability of essential services such as healthcare and education.

"Young people are essential to sustaining vibrant local economies in rural Arizona," Stuart continued. "They

Meet Hayden's top seniors: Brandon Garner Jr. and Dionna Galindo-Benevidez

By Nathaniel A. Lopez
Copper Basin News

As the 2022-2023 school year comes to an end at the Hayden Winkleman Unified School District, it is going to be another summer break for some students, before returning back in the fall. For some students though, they will be stepping into the next phase of their life. Those students are the Hayden High School graduating class of 2023. The Copper Basin News would like to introduce and congratulate the Class of 2023 Salutatorian, Dionna Galindo-Benevidez, and Valedictorian, Brandon Dale Garner Jr.

Dionna is the daughter of Kimberly Benavidez, and granddaughter of Robert and Delia Benavidez. Her siblings are Aliana, Ceasar and Derrick Benavidez. Dionna has been a member of the National Honor Society since her freshman year.

After high school Dionna plans to attend University of Arizona and study to become an Emergency Veterinarian. For this next phase in life, she is looking forward to stepping out of her comfort zone, and living in the city for the first time. She is excited and ready to meet new people.

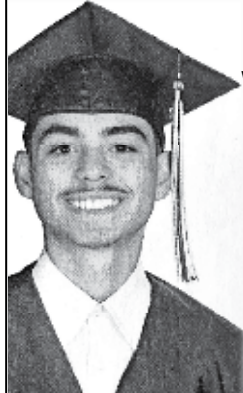

One of the things about high school Dionna won't miss is the overload of assignments given to her. As for the one thing she will miss, that will be hanging out with all of her best friends.

"Ten years from now, I hope everyone stays close to each other and I also hope that the community remains safe and peaceful. The only thing that could make me return to my community in my adulthood would be visiting my family, and if there were a drastic change in the school or town. That I'd be interested in seeing," Dionna said. "I envision myself living a good life and being a successful Emergency Veterinarian."

Brandon Dale Garner Jr. is the son of Brandon Sr. and Rose Mary Garner. His siblings are, Tyler and Ryan Garner, and Aaron Lagunas. Brandon played football, basketball and baseball throughout his high school tenure. He was also involved in National Honor Society and Student

"I think what I am going to miss most about high school is sports. Sports have been like a second home to me and given me a second family. I've made so many lasting memories and bonds because of being out on the field or court with my teammates. Not only with teammates though, but also coaches and the community. It really makes you appreciate all the support you have in this small town. I'm also going to miss just being at school with my friends everyday, and actually seeing everyone all the time. Of course things won't be the same once we all leave," stated Garner. One thing he will not miss about school is the drama and repetitive days.

After high school Brandon plans to attend Arizona State University and major in Mechanical Engineering, so that he can get his degree and be successful in the automotive industry. Brandon looks forward to meeting new people, trying new things, and traveling more for this next phase of his life. He is hoping to experience new things in college, and make friendships like in high school.

"Ten years from now, I vision myself being financially successful and happy with the people that surround me. While also working my dream job, and having a good image in business. My dream job being an automotive mechanic/business owner," Brandon commented. "What I want to happen in my community is for there to be some restoring around the area. As far as stores/businesses. Old buildings that aren't being used anymore to either be back in business again or to make it into something new. These things will obviously want to make me to return and help on these things, but I always have the plan of coming back to the community. This is where my family is, and will always be home."

Congratulations to the Hayden High School Class of 2023. Commencement ceremonies will be held Friday, May 26, at 7 p.m. at Lalo Serrano Memorial Field.

As we enter into fire season, the Dudleyville Fire District is encouraging its residents to keep their yards and properties clean from safety, health and fire hazards. Maintaining a 30 foot defensible space around structures means flammable fuels like weeds, brush and flammable items are removed or stored in more appropriate places. This defensible space provides a fuel buffer for the structure and a place for firefighters to do structure protection in the event of a fire. Please do your part prevent a recurrence of the Margo and Roach Fires. In addition, the department is always accepting applications for volunteers; please contact our Dispatchers at 520-357-6622 for more information.
