LETTER TO THE EDITOR

OTP: where bad days are made good again

I had the privilege of “accidentally” spending an hour or so in your town a little over a week ago. By accidentally, I mean my friends and I got lost on our way home after visiting the Biosphere some distance away from your charming town. That darned old GPS told us how to get home safely to Maricopa, Arizona, but not by the most direct route as it turned out. It was getting late and hunger and frustration was making us become quite cranky with each other.

Luckily, the town of Kearny popped into view and we decided to stop at The Old Time Pizza and Deli for dinner. As we entered the restaurant, a man at the counter asked me how we were. I was ahead of my friends and confided in a low voice, “Don’t ask. We’re lost.”

I tell you what . . . the guy at the counter (you know him as Gary Birkett, owner of the deli) proceeded to make our unintended visit to your town the highlight of my vacation. He laughed and joked with us, charmed Evelyn, my buddy’s wife to the max, insulted my friend, Joe, like a master comedian, played the guitar, made up goofy songs and calmed my own crankiness by making me laugh almost to the point of tears.

As I can imagine Gary saying, “well . . . if this was the “highlight” of your visit, it must have been a lousy trip.”, but actually, it was an AWESOME vacation made all the more special by this experience.

I like to call everything that happens to me an “adventure” even when I don’t particularly care for what is occurring. It reframes how I think about unpleasant experiences. When we first discovered we weren’t on the direct route home, I knew I didn’t EVER want to repeat the “adventure” of getting lost in Arizona.

However, after spending quality time in The Old Time Pizza and Deli in Kearny, I can honestly say, I’d do it all again in a heartbeat just for the experience of meeting Gary, your “hometown ambassador” to the world.

As we drove home to Maricopa, we all agreed we had never enjoyed getting “lost” so much. Thank you, Gary. I just wanted you to know how special you made that day for all three of us.

Sincerely,
/s/Kate Hollifield
Central Illinois

P.S. Gary, I hate to ruin your reputation by saying such nice things about you, but somebody’s gotta do it. <grin>

Simple precautions by motorists can prevent wildfires; ADOT provides tips for drivers to reduce wildfire danger

As temperatures heat up, the Arizona Department of Transportation is asking drivers to take extra precautions to prevent roadside wildfires.

Low humidity, high winds and hot temperatures are a dangerous combination that can lead to the rapid spread of wildfires. More than 50 percent of wildfires in Arizona are human caused according to the Arizona State Forestry Division.

"We are all responsible for preventing wildfires. Drivers should take a few extra precautions to prevent roadside fires from igniting," according to Arizona State Forester Jeff Whitney. "It can be as simple as ensuring your trailer tow chains are secure and not dragging on the ground."

ADOT suggests motorists follow these tips to prevent wildfires along Arizona's roadways:

- Avoid driving or parking your vehicle in tall grass.
- Never throw a lighted cigarette out of a vehicle.
- When pulling a trailer, attach safety chains securely; loose chains can drag on the pavement and cause sparks, igniting roadside fires.
- Look behind you before driving away from fire-sensitive locations such as areas with tall grass or campsites to check for signs of a developing fire.

- Observe "Red Flag" fire weather warnings. These warnings are issued when weather conditions are conducive to the easy start and rapid spread of wildfires.
  - Always use a spark arrestor on internal combustion engines.
- Drivers should also remember these tips when driving through smoke from wildfires:

- Drive with lights on low beam. High beams will reflect back off the smoke and can reduce your visibility even more.
- Look out for slow-moving and parked vehicles. Other cars may be traveling slowly due to reduced visibility. Emergency vehicles may be parked along the side of the

Outdoor fire restrictions in Gila County begin

(GLOBE, AZ)— With the current dry, windy, and hot weather conditions there is an increased danger of fire. Restrictions on open outdoor fires begin on Friday, June 5, 2015 for both the unincorporated areas of Gila County and the Tonto National Forest.

Gila County remains committed to helping residents protect their property from wildfires, as well as providing resources to the Tonto National Forest and local Fire Departments for quick response to fire starts. Gila County has facilitated the establishment of a total of 43 locations that have adequate water resources available for rapid response to fires, including 25 that have been established with water dip tanks and military surplus water holding bladders. In the heavily forested areas, this allows for no more than a five minute response time from any fire start to an available water source. In Gila County there are at least 100 fire starts in a typical season. Since 2006, this system of water sources has held all but two of the fire starts to 15 acres or less. The exceptions were the Water Wheel Fire and the Poco Fire.

Gila County Ordinance 11-02 stipulates that each time the Tonto National Forest issues fire restrictions, similar restrictions will apply to all unincorporated areas within Gila County. This excludes all cities, towns and Indian Reservation lands. The ordinance prohibits residents from building, maintaining, attending or igniting open outdoor fires, bonfires, campfires, or fireworks. Each violation pursuant to this Ordinance shall result in a civil penalty not to exceed $500.00 for each violation. The complete ordinance can be found at: <http://bit.ly/1QfB7wR> under "Open Outdoor Fires."

According to Sheriff Adam Shepherd, "The Gila County Sheriff's Office has a zero tolerance policy on violations of the County's Fire Ordinance and the public should expect our officers to be on full alert during this year's fire season."

The Tonto National Forest Restrictions prohibit most types of fire or fire-causing activities including smoking

Businesses are Good for Kearny

Norm's Hometown IGA is a big plus for Kearny and the whole Copper Basin. It follows upon the revitalized NAPA store and the increased presence of the Family Dollar.

These businesses are good for us because they create wealth for the community. They take the talents and abilities of Kearny people and compensate them with money which benefits the community.

It is wonderful to see the good things which are happening at the IGA. There is new employee recognition; there is a greater variety of produce; there is a real desire to provide the kinds of products the community desires. The delicatessen has had a surge in popularity since Norm has encouraged the people who run it to provide from their own skills what the customers want.

On another subject, the parts have begun arriving for the rebuilding of the filtration plant (remember our brown water?). The work on the plant begins this week. After the work is finished, there may be more brown water as the lines clear and the filtration starts to kick in, removing the manganese and iron solids. Remember, our water will still be highly mineralized, so keep on making use of reverse osmosis filters or bottled water.

This has been a tough year for the town budget, mostly owing to our water infrastructure. Our water lines have reached the end of their productive life, we put in a new well, we made improvements on the chlorination facility and on the sewage treatment plant. This made a big hole in our budget, and the bills are still coming in.

Now we are working with different engineering firms than in the past. We are seeking grants for large infrastructure projects which we expect will be better engineered than some of those in the past. In some ways we are better off than other mining towns, for our infrastructure is only fifty years old and not over a hundred years like many of the other towns.

Finally, there is enough water behind the San Carlos Dam to allow us to meet the town's needs this summer, thanks to El Niño which gave us a long, wet spring and the promise of earlier monsoon rains. It still makes sense to conserve, of course, which has the added benefit of saving money on our water bills. We won't have El Niño every year!

The next regular meeting of Town Council is Monday, June 15, at 7:30 p.m. at Town Hall.

Hayden-Winkelman Schools seeking public input on mandated budget cuts

By John Hernandez
Copper Basin News

The Hayden-Winkelman Unified School District #41 Governing Board needs help from the public. It wants to know what the parents and property owners in the district think about some proposed changes to the budget as mandated by the Arizona State Legislature and governor.

The district is requesting input and comments concerning the School's District Plan for proposed District Additional Assistance reductions pursuant to Arizona statute. The law requires that the Governing Board include the percentage of classroom spending in the combined categories of instruction, student support and instructional support. It is the intent of Governor Doug Ducey and the Arizona Legislature that school districts increase the total percentage of classroom spending over the previous year's percentages in the combined categories of instruction, student support and instructional support.

Because the Hayden-Winkelman School District has been classified as a "C" district, they must allow 30 days after the public meeting held on June 4 for the community to submit comments and recommendations to the Governing Board.

The district has identified five goals necessary to adapt to its vision statement, "Adaptability and Partnership leads to success for all":

- Increase student involvement within the community.
- Strengthen the home to school partnership.
- Implement District-wide character education program.
- Increase student achievement.
- Provide students with 21st Century technology skills.

Some of the ways to reach these goals includes: requiring community service as part of graduation requirements, providing monthly family activities, hosting a writing contest and monthly character assemblies, offering summer school and tutoring, and offering peer technology tutoring.

If you have a suggestion for the district that will help it achieve one of the goals listed above, or to make recommendations or comments, contact Superintendent Jeff Gregorich at (520) 356-7876 or email: gregorichj@hwusd.org. You can also visit the school and speak to him in person.

Superintendent Jeff Gregorich explains the school's strategic plan for the coming school year.

The Hand Me Up Shop

Congratulations to all the Ray Baseball Team and Softball teams for going so far in the Arizona State tournaments! And also to the recent graduates! YOU DID GREAT!

I last wrote about the Steak Cook Out events at the General Kearny Inn put on by the Kearny Rotary Club and all the local organizations that benefit from your $25 donation. They recently raised thousands to help the Town of Kearny rebuild the pool. There are many groups doing positive things in our community to help sustain our lifestyle.

Remember when Kennecott fully funded the Hospital? Those were the good old days. But changes came and the Medical Center was put on its own.

Let me tell you about a local gem: The Hand Me Up Shop on Tilbury Hill in Kearny, which is open Tuesday through Friday between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. Their phone number is 520-363-9683.

Mary Louise Eck and Zola Hall were inspired to found The Copper Area Health

Volunteers and opened the original version of The Hand Me Up Shop out of a room on the East side of the Medical Center Building. I recall when we first moved here in 1997 walking over to see what they had and actually buying some used items that our family needed to set up housekeeping. Since then, I've not only donated many items but sometimes find myself buying the exact same item back two months later! It is a F-U-N place to shop, because every time you stop in there are new items.

About 10 years ago, the shop relocated between Buzzy's and the newly opened Kearny Trading Post. When they moved into the bigger building, they needed more donations, and the timing turned out to be perfect for us. As members of the Copper Basin Sportsmen's Club and also golfers we worked with Don Monte to organize a joint rummage sale down where the West End Café is now. This was a massive sale that raised quite a bit of money but we had things spread out all over the parking lot and were worried about what to do with items that had not sold. Along came a nice lady who asked to take away EVERYTHING that was left, no matter what, and we said "Sure!" Well, that trailer full of used items made its way up Tilbury Hill and became sort of "seed" inventory so anyone who was involved with the Copper Basin Sportsmen's Club or the Kearny Golf Course back then actually had a hand in boot-strapping the upsized Hand Me Up Shop.

Dink Boydston let them use the building rent-free for several years, and eventually agreed to sell it to them. For the past decade the Hand Me Up Shop has been gradually improving their facility and actually making payments to acquire the building. The board of the Copper Area Volunteers has been very frugal in self-funding the acquisition as well as expanding the shop's storage area with a fenced-in and roofed side yard for large items. When the building purchase is complete they will be able to put their monthly mortgage payment directly into additional charitable donations!

Copper Corridor residents celebrate

Norm and Myra Warren received a warm Copper Corridor welcome on Saturday, judging on the number of folks who turned up to celebrate with the Kearny couple for the grand opening of their store, Norm's Hometown Grocery.

Politicians were on hand to shake a few hands and kiss a few babies.

There were even a couple of honest to goodness celebrities willing to entertain the crowd and, for those so inclined, to take selfies with. Marilyn Monroe and Cher were there. And Elvis made an appearance, thank you very much.

Norm and Myra took over ownership of the former Gordon's IGA on April 1 and had been planning for Saturday's grand opening ever since.

"It was always a dream that I would own my own store," said Norm.

Norm and Myra felt it was "better for someone with local interests and experience" to own the store. "Norm knows how to run the store well," said

Myra.

Norm has 35 plus years working for Gordon's IGA, 28 of those years as manager. He started as a carryout boy at age 16. He has worked every department except the meat department.

"We are blessed to have this opportunity," said Myra.

Norm's Hometown grocery is located at 345 Alden Rd., Kearny. Check out the store's website at www.NormsIGA.com.

And if you were unable to attend the grand opening, next time you're in the store, be sure to shake hands with Norm and Myra and tell them congratulations.

Hayden-Winkelman students make third annual trek to DC, Philadelphia

For the third year, students from the Hayden-Winkelman School District took Washington, DC and Philadelphia by storm!

In their travels, students visited historical sites such as: Holocaust Memorial, Newseum Museum, Smithsonians, Gettysburg, Mount Vernon, Betsy Ross House, Congress Hall, U.S. Capitol, White House, Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial, Thomas Jefferson Memorial, World War II Memorial, Martin Luther King Memorial, Iwo Jima Memorial, Liberty Bell, Benjamin Franklin Printing House and Arlington Cemetery.

Two students, Clarissa Gonzales and Laryssa Torres, were honored to participate in Wreath Ceremony at The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Before returning home, students were treated to a quick stop at the "Rocky Steps" and watched a Broadway musical at the Kennedy Center.

Even though the trip was incredible, our students could not wait to come back home. They missed their families. Thanks to School Tours of America, especially Judy Demarest for taking care of us. Our deepest gratitude to everyone who helped make this trip possible.

up their sleeves and completely refresh the store. It now has an expanded inventory of used clothing and better organization for all the items in the store. And the visiting Nomads painted the store and remodeled the bathroom.

I mentioned donations. There are several kinds of donations at the Hand Me Up Shop. First of all the entire staff of volunteers donate their time, effort and labor so "THANK YOU" to them for making this all possible! Second, there are donations from the entire community in the form of goods, clothing and gently used items that people donate to the store. Third, every penny donated when you purchase an item gets recycled into our local community. And fourth, the Hand Me Up Shop distributes substantial cash donations to worthy organizations throughout the area.

go? Here's a partial list.

Since this is graduation season we'll begin with a $500 scholarship that is available to a student from Ray and also one from Hayden that are attending college to enter the medical field. To apply write them at: Post Office Box 22, Kearny, AZ 85137. More than $7,000 has been awarded so far.

The Hand Me Up Shop helps by paying a portion of the rent for the Ambulance Crew quarters up next to the Police Station, and they've helped fund initial training for some local EMTs and even advanced training for paramedics. These recipients repay the investment manifold by remaining in the community and contributing to our overall safety and providing emergency medical services throughout the area.

The Florence Food Bank receives a stipend that pays for the gas needed to bring the truckload of food out to Kearny. The Church of the Good Shepherd also helps out with this.

The Hand Me Up shop donates to the Family First organization to help pay for diapers for families with infants who need help.

They still provide funding to help with ongoing improvements and maintenance at the Kearny Medical Center. They provide equipment to the Kearny Senior Citizens Center for the medical equipment loan closet that provides canes, walkers, wheel chairs and other items to local seniors who need them.

Remember the Shipman Fire last year? Any family that has been affected by fire or flood is permitted free shopping and provided with blankets, jackets and other help at no cost. Local ministers have brought in needy families who have been helped out "on the spot."

And what is that large semi-trailer parked on the edge of the parking lot of the new Kearny Trading Post? A lot of people wonder about this. The Hand me up Shop puts their discards in it and are paid for them by the pound, so even discarded items bring in additional monies that can be used to help local families. Not a thing gets wasted!

Rose Bradford and the staff invite everyone to drop in and check out the Hand Me Up Shop on Tilbury Drive. And if you want to help make a real difference in the Copper Basin please consider volunteering. You will meet the nicest people in the Copper Corridor at the Hand Me Up Shop.
