Roy graduated from Hayden High School in 1962. He later received a diploma in 1964 from Lamson Business College as an Accountant, and finally in 1966 he earned his certificate from Phoenix Union Vocational College, where he would then work as a machinist and maintenance mechanic at ASARCO for 35 years, eventually retiring in June 2011. Roy was also a member of the Copper Basin Lions Club for many years. He was president for two years and enjoyed organizing fundraisers with other Lions Club members.

He received the European, African, and Middle Eastern Ribbon and Victory Medal. He also received an honorary ring for his contribution in capturing the bridge at Remegan. Company B, 309th Infantry Regiment, 78th Division, 7th Army (Lightening Brigade). Rifleman 745. Marksman rifle. Once out of the Army, he continued his education and earned a degree in refrigeration and air conditioning.

Alvin worked as an electrician and general manager for Magma Copper Mines for an accumulative 36 years. He enjoyed working with his hand and problem solving. He played guitar and sang. He had a voice like an angel. He was active in serving Jesus throughout his lifetime, going where God sent him without fear or doubt. He described himself as a "peacemaker". He enjoyed traveling and being "free". Camping, bed rolls, tackling the impossible job, or helping a relative or neighbor! He had a great sense of humor and an eye for beauty. He was loved and respected by his large family and by those in the community wherever he was, be it Mammoth, Oracle, Tucson, Glendale, or Peoria. It really didn't matter what city Alvin was in, wherever he found himself, at work, servicing in church, singing to shut-ins, or rehabilitating from his own stroke in 2015, he was witnessing, telling people about Jesus.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dad Was There

June is here, with Father's Day coming up, it's time to honor the dads!

I am so thankful for my father, even though it seemed like he was gone at work most of the time. He probably had to with seven of us kids at home. Along with a little baseball, how to swim, how to use a hammer, I was taught to be honest, respectful of others, to work hard and to do my very best in every situation.

I worked at my father's grocery store in grade school, where I probably learned the most from my father. By about the fourth or fifth grade I had learned everything there was to learn, (or so I thought)! I decided to go into business for myself.

My dad encouraged me in all my early business ventures; mowing grass and plowing snow in the cold Ohio winters. Little did I realize at the time, my dad had subsidized my businesses! I used the family rakes, shovels, lawn mower and tractor for my jobs. Looking back I think he paid for the gas too!

Just like God, our heavenly Father, he was there to love us, support us, encourage us, and giving us all the tools we need to succeed!

My dad was there, even when he wasn't! I remember getting into trouble and my mother (who seemed to always be there when I got into trouble) would say: "wait till your father gets home"! With those six words he kept me in line even though he wasn't home! Having a father around made all the difference in the world!

Today in America 43% of our children live in a home without their birth father! How it hurts me to think of families without their dads.

At Family First we are here to support our fathers. Through our Fatherhood program we encourage the dads to be the best they can be, to support and encourage the mother of their children and to love them. We are also here to support the moms without a father in the home. We help the single moms fill the role of both for their children, sometimes which can be hard.

Dads – be there for your kids, be there for the mother of your children! Whether you realize it or not; you are the biggest influence in your child's life—there or not!

It's been said, moms are the glue that holds families together, I believe dads are the wood! They are the building material all our children need to grow, to build into happy, healthy, and successful lives!

Let's all take time this Father's Day to honor the dads, all that they do and have done, and remember the ones who are not with us now!

God Bless,
/s/ Frank and Clare Grochocki

Wildcat Dumping in the Copper Corridor

In 1971, the cartoonist Walt Kelly drew a two-panel set featuring Pogo and his friend Porkypine. The first panel shows them walking in a beautiful forest. Porkypine says, "Ah, Pogo, the beauty of the forest primeval gets me in the heart." Pogo, stepping on a nail, replies, "It gets me in the feet, Porkypine."

The second panel shows them gazing at the same forest, and the whole area is filled with old tires, cans, broken glass, and other items. "It is hard walking' on this stuff," says Porkypine. And Pogo, his head on his hands, says, "Yep, son, we have met the enemy and he is us."

I feel the same way about the amount of wildcat dumping in this part of Arizona. Recently, the Kearny firing range was despoiled with someone's trash, and more incidents of malicious trashing have been reported along the Gila River. Last year, people invaded private property on the high point of a wash in Kearny to dump a considerable amount of garbage.

The dumping often takes place in the most beautiful of areas, especially along the Gila and the San Pedro. When I see it, I think, "Why would someone want to foul their own place of recreation, much less spoil things for others?" And it gets worse, for on holiday weekends people leave fecal matter and waste tissue in full view. It's not just a matter of broken glass and beer cans.

If the enemy is us, then the solution to the dilemma is to change our hearts and ways. Don't countenance littering or dumping in any form. Don't tolerate so much as a cigarette butt on the beach. An open window in a car is not an ash tray or the opening of a waste basket.

Cleaning up is costly and time-consuming. It can even be dangerous, because who knows what some of that dumped stuff is?

In Kearny, take advantage of the second Saturday free dumping at the transfer station. All county residents are entitled to landfill dumping vouchers at the Supervisor's Office in Mammoth (just bring proof of residence). RAD, the new sanitation service, schedules large-item and brush pickups. Just call them at 520-881-4227 for information and to schedule a pickup.

Celebrating a milestone birthday of the Copper Basin's own Mary Louise Eck

By Angelina Bauer
Copper Basin News

Did you know Pioneer Days used to be held where Norm's IGA currently stands? Or that the town basically used to end after Ace Hardware Store? Mary Louise Eck knows, because she was there. Soon-to-be 90 years old, Eck has lived in Kearny for over 50 years and is very much a part of Kearny history. With four children and three sets of twins for grandchildren, Eck started a legacy that will not be soon forgotten.

Eck was born in West Virginia, but grew up in Oregon, IL. After graduating from high school, she moved to Pennsylvania to attend college, and that was where she met her husband, Bob. Eck spent 14 years in Pennsylvania before attempting to make the cross-country trek to Tucson in 1959.

"We moved with 3 kids, 2 cars, and 1 cat," Eck laughed.

In Tucson, the Ecks owned a small fast food place. However, Tucson left them unsatisfied, so when a friend told them about the newly developing Kearny, they decided to move once again. "We wanted to find a place to raise our kids," Eck said. Kearny was that place.

In 1961, the Ecks moved to Kearny and opened Bob's Drive-In, located where the Kearny Veterinary Clinic currently stands. At that time they were only fast food place, famous around town for their freshly-made pizza and hand-dipped onion rings. They even served donuts and other breakfast items in the morning. Everything was made in-house and fresh by this family team. Working seven days a week, 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., at Bob's Drive-In was hard on her, but she did the best she could. Having four kids in various sports and activities at Ray meant a lot of after-school commitments. "I tried to go to all of their activities, but I was very busy. I made sure at least one family member was there to watch them, if I couldn't go," Eck shared. It was for this reason Bob's Drive-In started closing on Sundays. Eck knew that she needed to spend time with her kids.

It was 25 years later, after her retirement from Bob's Drive-In, that Eck became a force to be reckoned with in Kearny. After the hospital shut down, Eck helped create the Copper Area Health Volunteers, who were instrumental in getting the Kearny Clinic up and running. She also helped set up the Hand Me Up Shop. After getting an Associate's Degree from Aravaipa Community College and getting certified in Early Childhood Education, Eck even served as the Town Librarian for 14 years and remembers the transition from hand-stamping the books to the computerized check-out system. As if that isn't enough, Eck volunteered to proof-read the Copper Basin News and helped establish the Lutheran Church. Her husband, Bob, before passing away in 1995, helped set up the Moose Lodge and became a charter member.

And if that's not enough, Eck was named the 1992 Citizen of the Year by the Copper Basin Chamber of Commerce.

"I watched the town grow," said Eck. However, it would be more accurate to say she and her family helped the town grow. Without realizing it, the Ecks became the life-blood of Kearny.

Still involved and very opinionated, Eck is currently Vice President of the Copper Area Health Volunteers, on the Health Clinic board and Leadership Team of the Methodist Church. She is even part of the P.E.O., Philanthropic Educational Organization, a national organization of women that give scholarships to students in need. "Kids need to learn more; they can do anything with knowledge." Although the years have taken a toll on her health, Eck is restless. "I am still searching for my purpose." She hopes to get a nursing home built in Kearny. In the meantime, Eck reads when she can and loves to watch the sunset.

Mary Louise Eck's 90th birthday party will be held at the Church of the Good Shepard on June 17 from 2 - 4 p.m. The whole town is invited to come and wish her well.

Happy Birthday, Mary Louise, and thank you for all you've done for this town.

Tamatha Villar sworn in as chief for Hayden, Mammoth

By Jennifer R. Carnes
Copper Area News

Tamatha “Tami” Villar has come home. Oh, sure. She has never lived in the Copper Corridor. But this is home for her.

On June 1, she officially took her place at the helm of the Hayden and Mammoth Police Departments as chief. One of the things Villar is most excited about is the connection with the people of the Copper Corridor and the “warmth and richness of relationships.”

Villar officially retired from the Pinal County Sheriff’s Office on May 31. She began her career in law enforcement in 1997 at the Eloy Police Department after graduating from CARLOTA, the police training academy once run by the Central Arizona College. She then transferred to the county in 2000. She was the region’s Sergeant in 2004 and was promoted to Lieutenant and served out of the San Manuel office from 2007 to 2010. She came back in September 2012 but was reassigned in March 2014.

She never intended to go right back to law enforcement after she retired.

Instead, she planned to use her education degree and teach second grade.

“Rainbows and unicorns,” she said. That’s what she was looking forward to most about retirement.

But an opening as the regional police chief for the Hayden, Mammoth and Kearny Police Departments was announced and Villar quickly jumped at the chance to apply, excited about the possibility of returning to the Copper Corridor.

What began more than two years ago as a “what if” exercise at the monthly “Five Mayors’ Meeting” evolved into this position that Villar now holds. The Mayors of Kearny, Hayden, Winkelman and Mammoth, with input and assistance from the Mayor of Superior, began working on a process to hire a chief of police that could lead all three individual police departments. Winkelman pays a contract to the Town of Hayden to provide police services in their community. Hayden took the lead to manage the advertising, posting and interviewing of the police chief, in November they made an employment offer to Sgt. David Blue who has served as an interim chief for all three of the communities over the past year.

Blue turned the job down, so the hiring process began again.

In March, the Town of Kearny pulled out of the selection process, voting to hire its own Police Chief instead of sharing one with the other towns in the Copper Corridor. Kearny has offered the top cop job to Joseph Turitto. He has yet to begin working. The town is still checking his background.

In late March, Hayden offered the job to Villar. She assumed the position of Interim Police Chief on April 2 and was officially sworn in on June 6.

Villar is more than qualified for the position.

Tami has served on numerous boards and commissions, including the AZ POST Board, AZ Department of Juvenile Corrections Discipline Oversight Board, CAVIT LE Advisory board and others. She has vast training and expertise in Criminal Investigations, specifically in Sex Crimes, Homicide, Domestic Violence, Human Trafficking and Child Abuse. Most recently she was responsible for the Criminal Investigations Bureau at PCSO where she had direct oversight of all operations for the following units; Robbery/Homicide, Persons Crimes, Property Crimes, Anti-Human Smuggling, Pinal County Regional Narcotics Task Force, Pinal County Regional SWAT Team, Crime Scene Investigations, Computer Forensics, Sex Offender Registration and Tracking, Victims Services, and FBI Uniform Crime Reporting.

Throughout her 20 years in law enforcement, she served in various capacities as a Patrol Deputy, School Resource/DARE Officer, Detective, Sergeant (both in Patrol and various specialty units), Public Information Officer, Critical Incident Stress Management Coordinator, Lieutenant (Patrol, Media, Community Services, and Criminal Investigations), and Captain.

She holds a Bachelors Degree in Criminal Justice/Political Science, a Masters Degree in Human Relations/Counseling, a Graduate Certificate in Criminal Justice Education, a Graduate Certificate in Management and Organizations, and is a proud graduate of the 249th Session of the FBI National Academy.

Villar has a lot of work to do with the two departments. Both departments have been without structured leadership for quite a while and both departments are undermanned.

“There are great people and staff (at both departments),” Villar said.

Hayden has six full time officers and one civilian employee. Villar would like to hire one more full-time officer to round out the roster. Mammoth has three full time officers, with two more in the hiring process. Mammoth has been utilizing reserve officers to fill out the shifts.

When the departments are fully staffed, the officers will be able to cover the shifts 24/7 and pull back on the use of reserve officers for vacation coverage only.

She also plans to address the reserve program with the Mammoth Town Council. Most police departments do not pay reserves. Kearny and Mammoth, unlike 99 percent of other towns in Arizona, pay police reserves. Reserve officers, Villar explained, are usually retirees and are not usually local residents. She would like to recruit locally.

“Hiring and recruiting locally improves your longevity,” she explained. “The officers are more invested if they are

Game and Fish says leave baby wildlife alone

TUCSON, ARIZ. – The Arizona Game and Fish Department (AZGFD) has seized a deer, bobcat and javelina since June 2 that were illegally taken captive while young by Tucson area residents and reared as pets.

The mule deer buck was taken to the AZGFD Wildlife Center in Phoenix for treatment, and then will go to Bearizona in Williams. The bobcat was placed at the Arizona Sonora Desert Museum, and the javelina moved to the Southwest Wildlife Conservation Center in Scottsdale.

Taking captive and holding young wildlife is illegal take of wildlife, and illegal possession of restricted wildlife, in addition to being a public safety hazard. Circumstances warranted issuing only warnings in these cases.

“In the majority of cases, it is best to leave all baby wildlife alone. People’s desire to help seemingly abandoned animals can have unintended negative consequences,” said Regional Supervisor Raul Vega of Game and Fish in Tucson. “Although it seems humane to ‘help’ or ‘rescue’ baby animals perceived to be in need, wildlife reared in captivity by humans -- without the benefit of learning from their parents -- have a greatly reduced chance of survival if they are released back into the wild.”

In most instances, baby mammals should be left in place,

She wants to bring community service back to the departments “because the communities deserve it.” She wants the officers to be out in the community, interacting with the people.

“I have a passion for this,” Villar said. “I do this work FOR the community service.”

June isn’t the easiest time to take over two police departments. Villar has landed right in the middle of budgeting season. In spite of the lack of stable leadership over the years, the two towns have done a remarkable job keeping the departments well funded.

“Hayden,” she said, “has taken proactive measures to bring stability to the town and the department.” Mammoth Councilmembers, she added, are truly invested in the community.

“It’s not about a personal agenda for either council,” she said, adding that they have “realistic expectations” of the two police departments.

Villar has already begun working on the policies and procedures for the two departments, aiming for regional consistency. She hopes to extend that consistency through the Kearny area when Turitto takes his place in the Kearny Police Department. She and Turitto, Villar explained, have similar backgrounds and personalities. She is looking forward to working with him.

Hayden has some hurdles for her. The department has been investigating a series of arson calls in the San Pedro and Hayden areas. Villar said that Gila County has been helping the Town address issue of condemning abandoned properties. Town ordinances must be passed to give the police authority to clear out squatters in buildings that have no utilities (water, electric). The town is also in the process of finding owners of the properties and getting them to secure the properties, a very slow process.

The department is working with arson investigators from Globe and Phoenix to help them investigate the suspicious fires.

It’s a lot of work to be sure, but Villar is up for the challenge.

She’s always willing to stop and talk to the residents of the towns she now serves. She’s not hard to miss. She is in full uniform just like the officers under her command.

Welcome home, Tami. We can’t promise you unicorns, but you can definitely find some rainbows in the Copper Corridor!

Ray hurler signs NLI with SAC school

By Andrew Luberda
Copper Basin News

Ray High School baseball senior pitcher Noah Warren will continue his academic and athletic careers after signing a National Letter of Intent to Wayland Baptist University, an NAIA school located in Plainview, Texas.

The Pioneers' baseball team is one of nine members that competes in the Sooner Athletic Conference.

The left-handed throwing Warren, who also played first base for the Bearcats, learned of WBU through Ray Principal Curt Cook.

"I knew about the school through my principal and a family friend," Warren told the Copper Basin News. "I went to watch them play in Tucson and I worked out for the coaches. I went to visit the school and I just really decided it was the place for me."

According to Pioneers' pitching coach Todd Weldon, Warren threw about a 30-pitch bullpen session during WBU's visit to Tucson. Weldon admitted left-handed pitching is "huge" and Warren was very coachable, but it wasn't his athletic ability that attracted WBU the most.

"The first thing we look for is the off the field performance – character, academics and work ethic," Waldon said during a phone interview. "Noah exemplifies those things and is a very intelligent kid."

Warren's ability to perform on and off the field – he graduated with a 3.93 GPA – at an elite level earned him multiple scholarships to attend WBU.

"I saw a guy who would take care of business off the field and on the field as well," said Weldon.

Current Ray head coach Frank Lechuga believe his now former ace will take a few positive traits to WBU, including Warren's desire to continue improving.

"His work ethic," Lechuga said. "He's very coachable and open to trying new things. He really works hard to make himself a better player, and that's the attitude needed when moving on to the next level."

During his two years at Ray, Warren posted a 15 – 8 record with a 2.98 ERA. Opponents hit only .213 against him and he fanned 165 hitters in 98 and two-thirds innings pitched. He did not allow a homerun during his Bearcats' career.

At the plate, he hit .375 with 70 RBI, 11 doubles and five triples.

As a result, Warren earned multiple post-season accolades following his senior season, including First Team All-Conference and All-Region. He was the lone 1A Conference player in the state to be named to and compete in the Arizona Baseball Coaches Association (AzBCA) All-Academic All-Star game. He was also named AzBCA First Team All-State.

Warren plans to study Biology at WBU with an emphasis in medicine, ultimately securing a career in occupational therapy.

His experience as a high school student-athlete has taught him lessons that will benefit him throughout life.

"It's helped me develop self-discipline," Warren said.

"It's also helped handle pressure in big situations. Whenever I'm called on to do something, I know I can do it."

"And, when God gives you a talent, you can hone it and get better," he continued. "You can achieve as far as you want and push your life forward with due diligence and hard work."

His greatest high school athletic memory?

A game-tying, bases-loaded triple in 7th inning of the playoff game versus Williams, when he was a junior.

In addition to his high school coaches – John Kuntz and Frank Lechuga – Warren knows his family helped in achieving some of his goals.

"This wouldn't be possible without my parents loving me, supporting me and taking me to practice 30 minutes away and having to sit there," he said. "They put up with me for four years of playing high school baseball. I wouldn't be here without them."

Godspeed, Noah.

Ray POY Pace signs with U of the Ozarks

By Andrew Luberd
Copper Basin News

Ray High School baseball senior shortstop Jordan Pace recently signed a National Letter of Intent to the University of the Ozarks, an NCAA Division III school in Clarksville, Ark.

The Eagles are a member of the 15-team American Southwest Conference.

Pace, the 1A East Region Co-Player of the Year, showed loyalty to the school that was most persistent during his recruitment.

“They showed a lot of interest in me. They called my parents first and I thought that was pretty cool,” Pace answered when asked why he chose school just south of the Ozark National Forest. “Then they called my coaches and out of all the schools (that recruited me) they showed more interest. I figured I liked them better.”

That, and perhaps a little influence from his mother.

“Their graduation rate to post-secondary school is 99 percent, so that’s what my mom liked,” he added.

In addition to his POY honors, Pace earned other post-season recognition, being named 1A First Team All-Conference and All-Region as well as Arizona Baseball Coaches Association 1A Conference First Team All-State.

During Pace’s four-year varsity career with the Bearcats, he batted .423 with 96 RBI. He hit 27 doubles, 10 triples and five homeruns and stole 28 bags in 30 attempts, a .933 success rate.

With those numbers, it’s no surprise that Eagles’ coaches believe Pace can compete for a starting position when he reports for the start of practice in August.

Pace credits his experience playing in the state playoffs with Ray and level of competition with the Arizona Black Sox for the opportunity to continue his baseball career at the next level.

“I believe playing baseball the last four years at Ray and at the level we performed helped prepare me for the next level,” he told the Copper Basin News. “Playing with Arizona Black Sox helped me as well.”

Frank Lechuga, the current Bearcats’ head coach, said Pace’s willingness to learn and adapt are among his greatest abilities. He referenced Pace pitching and playing first base this season as evidence.

“His learning ability,” Lechuga answered when asked which of Pace’s skills will translate the best in college. “Jordan was willing to listen and willing to change. He had awesome year as a sophomore and he was still willing to work accept new challenges and coaching.”

“All of that is going to benefit him at the next level and the team his going to play for,” the coach added.

Pace said he will visit the school later this summer and plans to study health science and pre-med. He’s looking forward to meeting new people and competing against a higher level of competition, but Kearny will always be in his thoughts.

What will Pace miss most?

“All the great memories of playing with my coaches and friends, and playing in a small community,” he answered.

One of those memories ranks as the best, according to Pace. A walk-off hit against Pusch Ridge in 2015, sending the Cats to the state championship game versus Desert Christian.

Pace acknowledged he didn’t get to this point in his life without some assistance from very important people.

“I want to say thank you to my family, my parents and friends, especially my girlfriend,” he said. “They’ve been my biggest supporters and drove me to games and practices.”

Just goes to show, even the greatest need a little help once-in-a-while.

drop visibility to zero, as if every motorist is driving blind. Just as dangerous are the small dust channels that can whip across roadways in an instant, affording drivers little or no opportunity to avoid them. In such events, ADOT has developed the following "Pull Aside, Stay Alive" dust storm safety driving tips, which can help travelers survive a storm.

- Avoid driving into or through a dust storm.
- If you encounter a dust storm, immediately check traffic around your vehicle (front, back and to the side) and begin slowing down.
- Do not wait until poor visibility makes it difficult to safely pull off the roadway – do it as soon as possible. Completely exit the highway if you can.

- Do not stop in a travel lane or in the emergency lane. Look for a safe place to pull completely off the paved portion of the roadway.
- Turn off all vehicle lights, including your emergency flashers. You do not want other vehicles approaching from behind to use your lights as a guide, possibly crashing into your parked vehicle.
- Set your emergency brake and take your foot off the brake.
- Stay in the vehicle with your seat belt buckled and wait for the storm to pass.
- Drivers of high-profile vehicles should be especially aware of changing weather conditions and travel at reduced speeds.

ADOT uses an array of tools to alert motorists to severe weather events that can impact travel, including posting messages on overhead signs, the 511 travel information line and social media. During dust storms, ADOT's Traffic Operations Center staff is in constant communication with crews and law enforcement officers in the field, as well as partnering agencies, to keep current information flowing to travelers.

That information will improve soon. Later this year construction is scheduled to begin on a first-of-its-kind dust detection zone on Interstate 10 between Eloy and Picacho. The $12.8 million project, funded in part by a FASTLANE grant from the Federal Highway Administration, includes placement of multiple short-range dust-detection units between mileposts 209-219, plus one long-range unit.

More information on dust storm safety can be found at PullAsideStayAlive.com and safety tips for driving in rainstorms can be found at azdot.gov/monsoon.

Real-time highway conditions are available on ADOT's Travel Information Center at az511.gov, by calling 511 and through ADOT's Twitter feed @ArizonaDOT.

BABY WILDLIFE

untouched, unless obviously injured. Although they may appear orphaned, baby mammals are typically left alone by their mother for long periods of time while she forages for food and water.

Baby mammals that are immobile and at immediate risk of injury can be moved, if necessary, to a safe location nearby that provides appropriate cover. The mother will likely find the relocated baby by smell or hearing and continue to provide care, provided that people and pets stay away.

If a well-meaning person separates a baby mammal from its mother, it may result in euthanizing the animal unless a zoo or shelter can take it. Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD) in deer further complicates the issue, as a possessed fawn is suspect because Game and Fish cannot verify that the animal is not from a state where the disease occurs.

CWD, similar to Mad Cow Disease, is a fatal neurological condition. There have been no cases in Arizona, but there have been in nearby states. For more information, the public can visit <http://bit.ly/2reOgQV> for more tips and a list of licensed wildlife rehabilitators in Arizona.

And a big “thank you” to the people who clean up this mess on their own, and make the issue known to others. You are the solution... if the rest of us get on board.

On a happier note, when my wife and I bought our house in Kearny nineteen years ago, the first person we met was Mary Louise Eck, and we became next door neighbors. A better neighbor cannot be found. She and her family started Eck's eatery uptown. The family grew up here. Mary Louise served as Town Librarian during the library's formative years. She still serves on so many boards and committees that a full tally is impossible.

This Saturday, June 17, from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m., all of us are invited to mark Mary Louise's 90th birthday with a reception in Ray Hall of Good Shepherd Church. Mary Louise desires no gifts, even though her whole life is a gift to us. Just bring yourself.

Orzells receive Yard of the Month honors in Kearny

The Kearny Yard of the Month for June is that of Dave and Jo Orzell, at 426 Fairhaven. The yard is simple and shows real caring for beauty. Really simple, in that the yard is most a small green lawn and a large tree, with a few flowers under the shade. Really caring, in that the mulberry tree was planted in 1971, and watered and fertilized and pruned over the years to shape it and keep it healthy. It is one of the finest mulberry trees in Kearny, even with its age.
