OBITUARY

Miguel ‘Mike’ Arredondo Garcia

Miguel (Mike) Arredondo Garcia was born on Feb. 28, 1939 in Tucson, AZ and passed away in Mesa, AZ on June 15, 2014.

Mike, son of Mike and Jessie Garcia, grew up in Superior and was part of the family business, El Porvenir Tortilla Factory. He graduated from Superior High School in 1958 and then attended Arizona State University (ASU) where he met the love of his life Norma Carrera (Garcia) on Oct. 12, 1959. In February 1962, they were married in Ajo, AZ and had two beautiful daughters, Rebecca and Sara Garcia.

Mike graduated from ASU with a degree in Engineering and joined the US Air Force. After the Air Force, Mike, Norma, and the girls lived in Mesa where he worked at Motorola as an Engineer. He traveled the world, working in their Semi-Conductor division for approximately 25 years. In retirement, Mike traveled, spent time with family and friends. He enjoyed his many breakfasts in the desert outside of Superior and would go on Safari (camping) with his many friends up to the last years of his life.

Mike was loved and respected by all and leaves an empty void in our day to day life but is very much alive in spirit and our hearts.

He was preceded in death by his beloved wife, Norma C. Garcia; parents, Mike and Jessie Garcia; and sisters, Rebecca Garcia and Dalia Garcia Brito. He is survived by his daughters, Rebecca Garcia (husband Randolph Marwig) and Sara Garcia; his sister, Ofelia G. Lopez; three grandchildren, eight great-grandchildren, and cousins, nieces and nephews.

County's tentative budget: balanced and addresses priorities

FLORENCE - The Pinal County Board of Supervisors adopted the 2014/2015 fiscal year tentative budget in the amount of $378,079,096.

The tentative budget, presented by County Manager Greg Stanley, does not raise taxes for the upcoming year. Stanley explained that the general fund was decreased by $9.6 million, while the overall budget increased by just over $4 million due to monies set aside in the case any debt is issued for capital infrastructure.

Pinal County keeps on lowering its overall portion of each tax dollar it takes in. Based on the 2013/2014 fiscal year for each dollar of property tax paid, the county receives only 24 cents. This is quite a change since 2010/2011 where 31 cents was received into county coffers. The rest of the tax dollar portion goes to school districts, Central Arizona College, cities and towns along with other entities.

Some of the challenges faced by the Supervisors in developing a balanced budget is that new construction added to the assessed valuation is still slowly bouncing back. General Fund non-property tax revenues are growing modestly and issues with Immigration and Customs Enforcement along with potential fund sweeps are still undecided at this time.

Despite the challenges, the Supervisors have kept county priorities funded. Improvements to Hunt Highway are continuing with Phase I nearing completion in August. Phase II will begin at the end of the year. Pinal Airport and San Manuel Airport are also continuing to grow as economic development assets of the county. Projects at both airports are included in this budget. Road safety and dust control projects are also figured into the tentative budget.

Looking at the general fund, 64 percent of it goes to Public Safety (Sheriff, County Attorney, Superior Court, Probation and Justice Courts). General Government operations takes up 23 percent, while Health Care and other expenses takes up the rest.

Once the Tentative Budget is adopted, it can be decreased or parts of the budget can be reallocated. However, the total budget cannot be increased. The Final Budget is to be heard and adopted on July 2, 2014.

County approves medical marijuana dispensary

By John Hernandez
San Manuel Miner

At the regular session meeting of the Pinal County Board of Supervisors held on June 18, a decision was made on the application for a special use permit that would be used for a medical marijuana dispensary in Oracle. After listening for over an hour to a number of speakers from the public both for and against the dispensary, the supervisors voted 3 to 2 in favor of approving the dispensary location in the building located at 1880 W. American Ave. Voting against the measure were Supervisors Pete Rios and Cheryl Chase. The supervisors in favor of the measure were Steve Miller, Anthony Smith, and Todd House.

Around 20 residents of Oracle attended the meeting with some of them speaking out against the approval of the special permit. Pinal County Sheriff's Department Chief Deputy Steve Henry spoke about the concerns of the sheriff's department which included that it is still a violation of federal law, impaired driving while under the influence of medical marijuana, and the possibility that it will open the door to other crimes. Jim Knupp, public information officer for the Pinal County Attorney's Office also spoke out against the dispensary. The Executive Director of Bloom Dispensaries, Lezli Engelking gave a power point presentation explaining her company's management policies in exceeding all regulatory standards mandated by the medical marijuana law and how Bloom believes in giving back to the community. She said that there have not been any problems in any of the state dispensaries. The dispensary in Oracle will be called Bloom Oracle. Others that spoke in support of the dispensary were Jesse Lopez, vice-president of AZ4NORML who answered questions pertaining to medical marijuana laws. NORML is the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws. A professional lobbyist also spoke in favor of medical marijuana and the dispensary. Someone pointed out that the medical marijuana law is a voter approved law and that the residents of Oracle voted 55 percent to 45 percent in favor of medical marijuana. To view a video of the hearing go to the Pinal County Government site pinalcountyaz.gov. Rita Pena, owner of the building where Bloom

Oracle will be housed was contacted a few days after the hearing. She said that she is glad that the building is now rented and that it was difficult for her to attend the meetings because she felt people looked at her in a negative way. "I am more for having our community grow in a healthy way," she said. "I hope that true patients will have medical marijuana more accessible to them and that the revenue will help the community."

Vying for Fiestas Patrias Queen are Alisha Garcia and Emma Sanchez. Both girls reside locally with their families and range in age from 10 years old to 11 years of age. The girls and their families have been busy consulting with Marcella Garcia who is the queen candidates chairperson and coordinator of their fund raising activities. These fund raising events will continue until the week before the annual fiesta. Both candidates and their families will be selling fiesta tickets which count as votes for the candidates.

Alisha Garcia is 10 years old and the daughter of Irene and Ramon Navarro. She is in the sixth grade at John F. Kennedy Elementary School. Her eldest brother, Anthony, is in the US Army and stationed at Fort Knox, Kentucky. Her brother, Marcus, is a Superior High senior. # ASU biologist leads Arboretum Butterfly Walk Saturday, June 28

Why do some butterflies have iridescent blue-black wings - and a foul taste, repulsive to birds and other predators?

We asked Tempe resident Ron Rutowski - who teaches biology and has been a professor at ASU since 1976. Rutowski and his team of graduate and undergraduate students are fascinated by ways color is produced, employed and perceived in the animal kingdom - mainly focusing on ways insects use color as a visual signal - and how it's interpreted by their compound eyes. Research has taken him across North and Central America and Australia; we caught up with the engaging biologist, who says one of the most compelling insect interrelationships can be observed right here in central Arizona. Rutowski is very familiar with the butterfly fauna of the West; he's an AZ State Parks volunteer - and leads the next butterfly walk at Boyce Thompson Arboretum June 28 at 8:30am (weekend nature walks are included with $10 park admission).

Q. What months are best to see butterflies in Arizona?

A: Arizona gets two pulses of rain each year, the winter rains from November to March and the summer monsoon rains in August and September. Because butterflies are so dependent on plants - the adults for nectar to sip and the caterpillars for leave to munch - and because our most luxuriant plant growth follows the rains, the spring and fall and not the summer are good times for looking for butterflies. That being said there will certainly still be butterflies to be seen in June, just not quite as many individuals and not quite as many different kinds as in the spring and fall.

Q. You share interesting anecdotes about Pipevine Swallowtails. Why do these occur at Boyce Thompson Arboretum? What's unusual about them?

A. Dutchman's Pipe, the plant eaten by Pipevine Swallowtail caterpillars, is common at BTA and in the surrounding desert; what's unusual is the iridescent blue color of adult butterflies. For many years a focus in my lab has been on iridescent colors. These colors by definition are directional which means they change rather dramatically in appearance depending on the positions of the iridescent animal and the animal looking at it. Biologists have thought for years that this must present special challenges for the animal to make its iridescent color apparent to an intended receiver. So, how do they deal with this directionality? The Pipevine Swallowtail is a great subject for studying this question because they have iridescent blue patches on both their upper and lower wing surfaces. The blue on the upper wings surface is found only in males and is a sexual signal. So, how do males present this signal to females in courtship? The lower wing surface blue is part of their warning coloration that predators learn to associate with the fact that these animals are very unpalatable. So, how does the directionality affect the ability to predators to learn this association? Our answers to these questions should be helpful in understanding the behavior of other organisms with iridescent coloration and animal communication systems generally.

Q. Did you pin colorful butterflies into boxes when you were a kid?

A: No. I was interested and committed to biology by my early teens and at that time my focus was on birds. Birdwatching was an activity my father and I started doing together. My first real interaction with butterflies was as a high school senior in an advanced biology class that made regular trips to a nearby canyon in near Los Angeles and kept lists of animals and plants seen there over the course of a year. After high school my interest in birds persisted but became more focused on animal behavior and communication. When I got to graduate school I became quickly convinced by my PHD advisor, Dr. Thomas Eisner, of the many interesting and unanswered questions about communication in insects, especially visual communication in butterflies. That was the beginning of a focus on butterflies and the production and function of visual signals that has persisted throughout my career.

Q. Arboretum visitors saw a different side of your talents and interests last November - when did you start playing the fiddle? Where and when can readers here your band (Tri Rio) this month or in July-August?

A. I started playing violin when I was ten after three years of relatively unsuccessful piano lessons. Over the years I have become increasingly involved in various non-classical musical genres including bluegrass, country, and jazz. Currently I work with a band called Trio Rio with Ronnie Glover and Don Paddock. We play fairly regularly at several venues in Scottsdale and Cave Creek. # Gabby Kipp represents Superior and Class of 2016 at HOBY Convention

By Mila Besich-Lira
Superior Sun

Gabby Kipp will begin her junior year at Superior High School with a new set of leadership skills. She recently attended a week long Hugh O'Brian Youth Leadership (HOBY) State Leadership conference at Grand Canyon University in Phoenix. Gabby was selected by the teachers and administrators at the Superior Junior Senior High School.

The mission of HOBY is to inspire and develop a global community of youth and volunteers to a life dedicated to leadership, service, and innovation. The seminar she attended is focused on helping high school sophomores to recognize their leadership talents and apply them into becoming effective, ethical leaders in their home, school, workplace and community.

During the week long conference student delegates from throughout the state of Arizona learned valuable leadership skills. Gabby explained that she would like to use her newfound leadership skills to help make her school more outstanding and help her peers be more respectful. During the conference the HOBY delegates were able to hear a guest speaker from Rachel's Challenge. Rachel's Challenge is a national non-profit that is dedicated to creating safe, connected school environments where learning and teaching are maximized. The teaching of this non-profit are based on the life and writings of Rachel Scott who was one of the first victims of the Columbine school shooting. "I would like to work to bring a Rachel's Story presentation to our school," explained Gabby.

Gabby is the daughter of Matt and Andrea Kipp. She has a brother Tyler Kipp who attends college at Central Arizona College. She is a member of FCCLA and plans to run as a candidate for the junior class vice president. After high school Gabby plans to attend CAC and transfer to the University of Arizona to study to become a pediatrician.

The Superior Optimist Club contributes funding to help support the tuition of the selected students to the HOBY conference. To learn more about HOBY visit their website at www.hoby.org. # He is an awesome God!

In 1 Corinthians 10:13 we read, "No temptation has seized you except what is common to man. And God is faithful, He will not let you be tempted beyond what you can bear. When you are tempted, He will also provide a way out so that you can stand up under it."

Every sin is common among humans. There is no new sin, because someone has already committed it before. Since we were created to honor God, we must not offend Him with our actions or words.

Not only are each of us tempted, even Jesus was tempted to sin. Is it wrong to be tempted to sin? No, it is not. If it was wrong, then Jesus would have been guilty of sin, but He never sinned. Temptation only becomes sin when we submit to it.

When it becomes too hard to say no, as it says in Titus 2:12, God provides a way out. Water heaters have a relief valve for those times when the pressure becomes too great. So do we! God will show us, if we ask Him, for a way to escape from the desires to sin.

Thank Him for helping you to stay away from sin. He loves you so much, He will help in any way possible to not fall into a life of sin. What an awesome God!

By Nina Crowder
Superior Sun

The Superior Rotary was visited by John Godec of Resolution Copper's, Community Working Group (CWG). Godec explained what the CWG is and what their goals are. Godec is encouraging people from the community to attend their monthly meetings and participate in them. Godec plans to visit other non-profit groups to try and get more people from the community and the groups or other individuals involved. The CWG was formed to assist Resolution Copper Company (RCC) in communicating with and understanding the concerns of Superior regarding the project and its potential effects on the community. The meetings are financially supported by RCC the group operates independently and is managed by a neutral third-party facilitator. The CWG is designed to help make better decisions that incorporate the interests and concerns of all affected stakeholders and to meet the needs of RCC and regulatory agency decision makers. The intent of the CWG is to invite a range of community interests to participate in dialogue and fact finding. Some of the topics that are discussed consist of all aspects of the Resolution Copper Project, recommended tailings site to include in the Mine Plan of Operations (which is being further evaluated in future studies), develop community outreach strategy to broaden awareness and they have many guest speakers that attend the meetings. The EPA requires Arizona Water Company to provide the following information:

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some constituents. The presence of various constituents does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about constituents and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Some people may be more vulnerable to constituents in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial constituents are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Constituents that may be present in source water include: (A) Microbials, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations, and wildlife. (B) Inorganics, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming. (C) Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban stormwater runoff, and residential uses. (D) Organics, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff, and septic systems. (E) Radionuclides, which can be naturally-occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations which limit the amount of certain constituents in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for constituents in bottled water which must provide the same protection for public health.

DEFINITIONS, ABBREVIATIONS, AND UNIT DESCRIPTIONS:

AL = Action Level, the concentration of a constituent, which, if exceeded, triggers treatment, or other requirements, which a water system must follow

CDC = The United States Centers For Disease Control

EPA = The United States Environmental Protection Agency

FDA = The United States Food and Drug Administration

MCL = Maximum Contaminant Level, the highest level of a constituent that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

MCLG = Maximum Contaminant Level Goal, the level of a constituent in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

MRDL = Maximum Residual Disinfection Level, the highest level of a constituent that is allowed in drinking water MRDLG = Maximum Residual Disinfection Level Goal, the level of a drinking water disinfectant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of the disinfectants to control microbial constituents.
