Copper Corridor resident named the 2017 Pinal Champion for Young Children

SAN MANUEL (May 23, 2017) – First Things First recognizes Gracie Laguna as a 2017 First Things First Pinal Champion for Young Children.

The award is given to local champions who actively volunteer their time to raise public awareness of the importance of early childhood development and health. Champions spend a significant amount of time volunteering with FTF and building public awareness about the importance of early childhood issues. Laguna was recently recognized at the FTF Pinal Regional Partnership Council's May meeting.

Laguna, who lives in San Manuel, has volunteered with First Things First to raise educate and inform parents and caregivers living in the Copper Corridor about the funded programs available to give parents the tools they need to help their children birth to age five be prepared for kindergarten success.

"I got involved because Information and resources in our area are so limited," Laguna said. "I wanted to help spread the word about the available tools and resources from First Things First funded programs that support their children's development and health. They not only help children be prepared for kindergarten but they also help the parents understand their children's development at an early age so they can support them along the way."

Laguna is the proud mother of eight children, 16 grandchildren and a grand-dog. She has worked with children for the last 17 years in various roles and since 2011 has been with the Mammoth Head Start program as an early childhood home-based teacher.

Laguna engaged in awareness-building efforts above and beyond her role with Head Start including:

- Hosting information tables at First Avenue Elementary School Spring Fling, Mammoth Library Spring Round-up, and Dr. Seuss Family Reading Night to promote early childhood awareness and the importance of daily reading.
- Attending training on early childhood messaging at the Head Start Mammoth site and inviting other Head Start staff to participate.

- Organizing, promoting and participating in the Week of the Child 2016 event in San Manuel.
- Co-leading the Copper Corridor Early Childhood Connection networking group, which focuses on early childhood awareness and leading the Read On Arizona initiative in the area.

- Leading the effort to promote the Dolly Parton Imagination Library and signing up over 150 children for this book-gifting program.

For more information about Laguna and your local regional council partnership please visit: <http://www.firstthingsfirst.org/regions/find-your-region> and click on your region.

About First Things First – First Things First is a voter-created, statewide organization that funds early education and health programs to help kids be successful once they enter kindergarten. Decisions about how those funds are spent are made by local councils staffed by community volunteers. To learn more, visit firstthingsfirst.org.

Tips to protect health in extreme heat

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) reminds local residents about steps they should take to protect their health from the extreme heat.

People suffering from heat stress may experience heavy sweating; weakness; cold, pale, and clammy skin; fast, weak pulse; and nausea or vomiting. Early signs include muscle cramps, heat rash, fainting or near-fainting spells, and a pulse or heart rate greater than 100.

People suffering from heat stress should be moved to a cooler location to lie down. Apply cool, wet cloths to the body especially to head, neck, arm pits and upper legs near the groin area where combined 70 percent of body heat can be lost; and have the person sip water. They should remain in the cool location until recovered with a pulse heart rate is well under 100 beats per minute.

Signs of the most severe heat-related illness, heat stroke, include a body temperature above 103 degrees Fahrenheit; hot, red, dry or moist skin; rapid and strong pulse; and altered mental status which can range from confusion and agitation to unconsciousness. Call 911 immediately and take steps to cool the person.

While children are especially vulnerable to heat illnesses, they may be unable to explain what is wrong but may act differently than usual. In extreme heat, consider changes in a child's behavior to be heat stress.

Similarly, people with communication-related disabilities may have difficulty expressing a heat-related problem. In extreme heat, look for a change in behavior as a sign of heat stress.

Older adults face additional risk of heat stress and heat stroke, for a variety of reasons. The National Institute on Aging's fact sheet explains more about how extreme heat can affect seniors.

To help prevent heat-related illness:

- Spend time in locations with air-conditioning when possible.
 - Drink plenty of fluids. Good choices are water and diluted sport electrolyte drinks (1 part sport drink to 2 parts water) unless told otherwise by a doctor.
 - Choose lightweight, light-colored, loose-fitting clothing
 - Limit outdoor activity to morning and evening hours
- As air conditioning use increases, electrical grids can become overwhelmed causing power outages. In power outages, people who rely on electricity-dependent medical devices, like oxygen concentrators, may need assistance so

Mourning the Death of a Kearny Councilwoman

Kearny Town Council Member Lana Dalton died this past weekend. She had a long battle to keep above the ravages of her illness. She succeeded in so many ways, in continuing to work, keeping up with the responsibilities of serving on Town Council, and in keep a cheerful face even when it was difficult. I was pleased to be present last year when the League of Arizona Cities and Towns presented her with a certificate of appreciation for her sixteen years of service as an elected official. Thank you, Lana. Well done, servant of the people.

Yep, it's hot. I have stayed close to home, grateful for my 60's-era house with its good windows, insulation in the "hot side" of the walls, and a new air conditioner.

I remember, on these hot days, how hard it was for families when the Kearny pool could no longer be safely used; the kids and parents both suffered. And I remember how the whole town came together to help raise funds to refurbish the pool; how volunteers provided mechanical and electrical work; how the Rotary auction provided a night of wonderful entertainment as we all sought to outbid each other.

This week I read that the pool is suffering financially. The number of swimmers is down, and the pool rates are higher than those in Hayden and neighboring towns. Well, I'll tell you that I'm not surprised. For many years the pool has not broken even financially. It has always relied on extra-budgetary gifts and donations of talent and supplies.

Yes, it costs more to swim in Kearny. The rebuilt pool costs more to operate, because its water needs to be chemically balanced throughout the year, not just during the summer months. And we just don't have the number of children we used to have. Ask anyone from the school about that! Council member Samantha Misita already knows the problems; right now she is seeking our advice and support.

The Town of Kearny has had to begin charging adults $2 for what used to be the "free swim" period in the evening, and it

ALONG THE GILA

By Sam Hosler
Special to Copper Area News

also offers a new weekly pass for $9 (which covers a 6-day week). The pool employees are doing a great job, and swimming lessons are being offered. Check with Town Hall for more information.

You know, after Rosalia's Café closed, the spot next to the General Kearny Inn looked grim in its emptiness. Now, thank goodness, the new Whistlestop Café is busy serving up breakfast and lunch and will have a dinner menu in the future. Kearny has a good "café culture" of people who like to eat out on a pretty regular basis. A little variety is good for all of us, and so is new light in the windows.

I have heard that jobs are available at the State Prison in Globe, at the Apache Sky Casino in Dudleyville, and with Cementation, a contractor helping build the Resolution Mine.

I also heard the news this past week of the death of Frank Kush, the legendary football coach at Arizona State University for so many years. Do you know that Coach Kush came often to Kearny? One of his former players is our own Judge Dave Orzell. They would spend their time at the Kearny Golf Course hitting some pretty long balls. Coach Kush was 88 years of age when he died. I know Judge Orzell misses his friend, mentor, and golfing buddy.

Klondyke soldier's remains returned to his family after 67 years missing in action

By John Hernandez
Copper Area News

The Defense POW/MIA Accounting Agency announced on May 12, 2017 that the remains of Army Pfc. Manuel M. Quintana, 19, from Klondyke, Arizona have been identified and will be returned to family members for burial. Manuel enlisted in September 1949 and was reported as Missing in Action on July 27, 1950 near Hadong, Korea after his unit was overwhelmed by North Korean forces.

Manuel's remains were escorted to Boulder City, Nevada where he was buried at the Southern Nevada Veteran's Memorial Cemetery with full military honors on May 19, 2017. Manuel's sister, Mary Moreno and several nieces, great nieces and nephews were in attendance. Staff Sergeant Nicholas Mapes, grandson of Mary Moreno, presented her with the flag from Manuel's coffin.

Manuel Munoz Quintana was born in Klondyke, now a ghost town, on Dec. 22, 1930. He was the youngest of five children born to Gertrude Munoz and Emanuel Quintana. Manuel's father died when he was one year old. His mother later married Nick Baker and three more children were born. The family lived on a farm in Klondyke and later moved to Safford where Manuel graduated high school shortly before joining the Army.

It was a long journey for Manuel's return to his family, spanning 67 years and thousands of miles. The journey began when the remains of an American soldier were found in a shallow grave along the Chinuju-Hadong Highway in December 1950. The remains were then buried at the Masan United Nations Military Cemetery as Unknown X-183. They were later exhumed and transported to the U.S. Army's Central Identification Unit in Kokura, Japan for identification. In 1955 the remains were determined to be "unidentifiable" and moved to the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific also known as Punchbowl in Honolulu, Hawaii.

In May 2016, the body was exhumed and sent to the Defense POW/MIA Accounting Agency (DPAA) and the Armed Forces Medical Examiner System. Thanks to modern DNA analysis, Manuel was positively identified and arrangements began for his return home.

According to the DPAA, there are 82,547 Americans remaining as missing from World War II, the KOREAN War, Vietnam, Cold War, the Gulf Wars and other conflicts.

Register today for Summer Bridge 2017 at CAC

There is still time to register for Central Arizona College's 2017 Summer Bridge program. Recent high school graduates, including the classes of 2015, 2016, 2017, and GED recipients are invited to experience life as a college student this summer.

Summer Bridge will take place Aug. 13-17 at the CAC Signal Peak Campus (8470 N. Overfield Road, Coolidge, AZ.)

"Summer Bridge is a free five-day extended orientation to college. During Summer Bridge, students learn valuable skills in time-management, health and wellness, financial management and money matters, decision making, and many other topics crucial to success in college," explains Dianna Davis, Academic Advisor for TRIO. "Students live on-campus in CAC's residential halls, and are provided meals and all learning materials throughout the program."

For more than 15 years, Summer Bridge at Central Arizona College has provided students an engaging and exciting college orientation. The TRIO Summer Bridge program is the only all-inclusive residential college orientation program held in Arizona.

Among the benefits for students who attend TRIO Summer Bridge is the Peer Mentor program. Students are assigned a peer mentor and are encouraged to meet with their mentor as often as necessary throughout the fall semester while they adjust to college life.

Other benefits of being enrolled as a TRIO student include:

- Individualized advising and academic and social support to make college completion a reality
- Exciting trips throughout the semester
- Visits to all universities throughout the state of Arizona
- Application fee waivers for all in-state universities upon transfer

• Free tutoring, copying, faxing, and the use of laptops in the TRIO office
Students interested in Summer Bridge should log on to www.centralaz.edu/summerbridge to download a fillable application. Certain eligibility requirements are based on federal guidelines. Applications also may be obtained in the "T" Building (T204) on the CAC Signal Peak Campus.

For more information on TRIO and the Summer Bridge program, please call 520-494-5007, email: trio@centralaz.edu or log on to www.centralaz.edu/trio or www.centralaz.edu/summerbridge. TRIO staff can be contacted by email: Gail Nettles, TRIO Director, gail.nettles@centralaz.edu; Dianna Davis, TRIO Advisor, dianna.davis1@centralaz.edu; and Karla Sainz, TRIO Secretary, karla.sainz@centralaz.edu.

TRIO Summer Bridge is jointly-funded by Central Arizona College and a five-year, $1.3 million grant from the U.S. Department of Education.

For more than 45 years, Central Arizona College has been serving and educating the diverse communities of Pinal County. With five campuses and three centers located strategically throughout the county, CAC provides accessible, educational, economic, cultural, and personal growth opportunities for those of all ages.

Hayden finishes second in regional tournament

The goal of reaching the State Little League Tournament came to an end for the Hayden All Stars Minors last week as they fell to the Mt. Graham (Safford) team.

After defeating the Kearny All Start Team, the Hayden team took on the Mt. Graham All Stars in a Winners' Bracket game. The game was close for three innings with Hayden building a 3-2 lead. The game soon got out of hand for Hayden as fielding errors allowed four Mt. Graham runs, giving them a 6-3 lead after Hayden went down quietly in their half of the fourth.

The fifth inning was not good for Hayden. The Mt. Graham bats came alive scoring five runs to give them an 11-3 lead. Hayden's fifth looked promising, loading the bases with one out, but the Hayden bats went quiet stranding the runners on base. Both teams scored two runs apiece in the sixth, giving Mt. Graham the win 13-5.

The next day, Kearny took on the Morenci-Clifton team in an elimination game. This game turned out to be an exciting one. Kearny took a three-run lead in the second inning but lost the lead when Morenci-Clifton scored four in the top of the third. The Morenci 4-3 lead did not last long as Kearny scored four runs to take a 7-4 lead after three innings. Both teams scored a run apiece in the fourth with Kearny adding a run in the fifth for a 9-5 lead.

The sixth was very exciting. The Morenci bats came out strong in the sixth, scoring five runs to take a 10-9 lead. Kearny did not back down. After two walks and a strikeout, disaster struck Morenci as a throwing error allowed two Kearny runs to come in, giving Kearny a 10-9 win and a rematch against Hayden.

The second Hayden-Kearny game was much like their first meeting. After three exiting innings of play and Hayden holding a 2-1 lead, they headed to the fourth inning. Just like the first meeting, Hayden held Kearny in the fourth to no runs, but the Hayden bats came alive, scoring eight runs on five hits and four walks to hand Kearny another 10-run rule loss to end their run in the tournament 11-1. The Hayden win gave them another shot at the Mt. Graham team.

The next Hayden-Mt. Graham game turned into a slugfest with Hayden taking a 9-8 lead after two innings. Both teams went down in order in the third with Hayden scoring two runs in the fourth to take an 11-8 lead after four innings.

The fifth inning was a good one for both teams. The Mt. Graham bats came out hot, scoring four runs to take a 12-11 lead. Hayden, in their half of the fifth, scored two runs to take a 13-12 lead into the sixth inning. Both teams went quiet in the sixth to give Hayden the win and another game for the championship.

The championship game looked to be a repeat of the previous night's game as both teams scored four runs apiece in the first three innings. In the fourth inning, the Hayden team could not score while the Mt. Graham team came up with three runs to take a 7-4 lead with two innings of play left.

The fifth inning was a slugfest as both teams sent 10 batters to the plate. When the dust cleared, Mt. Graham held a 12-9 lead. The sixth inning was quite. Mt. Graham went down in order, giving Hayden hope in their turn in the sixth but they too went down 1-2-3 to give Mt. Graham the 12-9 win and the championship.

The Hayden-Winkelman Little League Board wants to give a big thanks to all who came out, enduring the hot temperatures to support all the players. If you didn't come out, you missed a great opportunity to maybe see a future star baseball player.

Great games, Minor League All Stars!

The Hayden-Winkelman Little League Minors All-Stars take on the Mt. Graham All-Stars. Safford eventually took the championship.

Hummingbird feeder owners asked to watch for bats; nectar drinking bats being studied throughout Southern Arizona

TUCSON, Ariz. – Arizona Game and Fish Department (AGFD), U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and local researchers are seeking volunteers from throughout southern Arizona to monitor use of their home hummingbird feeders by nectar-feeding bats.

Those willing to participate in the project, conducted in partnership with the Town of Marana, should contact this project's Volunteer Coordinator, Emily Scobie of the Arizona Game & Fish Department at escobie@azgfd.gov. Volunteers will be asked to check their hummingbird feeders two or three times per week for signs of bat use and to provide information on bat activity at their location via a web-based data entry form. Photos of bats feeding are also being sought for species identification.

"If your hummingbird feeders mysteriously drained during the night last summer, the midnight raiders may have been bats," said AGFD Regional Supervisor Raul Vega. "Most of Arizona's 28 bat species eat insects, but two species drink nectar and eat pollen from plants such as the saguaro and agaves. These bats are becoming common visitors to southern Arizona hummingbird feeders in late summer and early fall."

In southern Arizona, there are two bat species that consume nectar: the lesser long-nosed bat, which is listed as federally endangered; and the Mexican long-tongued bat, an Arizona species of concern. These gentle, beneficial pollinators live in caves and mines. During summer nights, they travel in search of food, and over time, have found their way to hummingbird feeders in southern Arizona. The bats are migratory and return to Mexico in the fall.

The use of hummingbird feeders by bats has been documented in southern Arizona for many years. In 2006, large numbers of bats were detected foraging on hummingbird feeders in the urban areas surrounding the Tucson basin. Bats visiting the feeders is now being detected more widely in southern Arizona, and volunteers are currently monitoring them as far north as Mammoth in Pinal County, as far south as Nogales in Santa Cruz County, and as far east as Benson and Sierra Vista in Cochise County.

Habitat conservation planning efforts by the City of Tucson, Pima County, and the Town of Marana have spearheaded these efforts to evaluate potential effects to these bat species in the Tucson basin. In part due to project volunteers detecting significant increases in the lesser long-nosed bat population, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service proposed removing the species from the federal endangered species list earlier this year. The de-listing of the species would mean a continued need to monitor bat activity and population levels. Additional information can be found at the project's official website sponsored by the Town of Marana. The 2017 hummingbird feeder monitoring program website can be located at the following link: <http://www.maranaaz.gov/bats>

Game & Fish warns about potentially rabid wildlife

Three reports involving foxes and a skunk, common carriers of rabies, is prompting the Arizona Game and Fish Department to ask the public to exercise caution around apparently ill wildlife and to seek medical attention promptly if bitten by one.

A clearly ill fox was found on the front porch of a home off Sweetwater Drive, and an apparently ill fox was observed in a pool area near homes in the Picture Rocks area. The fox off Sweetwater died, and the Picture Rocks fox was euthanized. Both were submitted for rabies testing.

A woman was bitten by a skunk in her garage in SaddleBrooke. She was treated for rabies at Oro Valley Hospital, but the skunk escaped.

“Avoid contact with and don’t approach wildlife that is behaving abnormally or appears to be ill. If you believe that you see a rabid animal, call us at 1-623-236-7201 or the Pima County Health Department at 520-724-7797 immediately,” said Regional Supervisor Raul Vega of Game and Fish in Tucson. “In addition, avoid touching any dead wildlife that you may find, and keep your pets away from them as well.”

Vega added that pets such as dogs and cats, as well as livestock like horses, should be regularly vaccinated for rabies. In addition, dogs should be on leashes when outdoors, and a veterinarian consulted if any domestic animals are injured by wildlife, he said. Unvaccinated animals exposed to wildlife with rabies must undergo a four month quarantine.

There have been nine confirmed cases in skunks, foxes, bats and bobcats in Pima County thus far this year, as well as seven in Cochise County and five in Santa Cruz County. There were a total of 137 cases among those species in the three counties last year, including an infected horse. Pinal County had one rabies case in 2016.

Rabies is a preventable viral disease most often transmitted through the bite of a rabid animal. The rabies virus attacks the central nervous system, causing encephalitis (swelling of the brain). It is almost always fatal once symptoms appear.

Rabies can be prevented in persons who have come into contact or have been bitten by wild animals through prompt administration of anti-rabies vaccine and rabies immune globulin.

In Arizona, the principal rabies hosts in Arizona are bats, skunks, and foxes. These animals carry their own distinct rabies virus variants or “strains.” Within these animal groups increases, rabies can “spill over” into other mammal species, such as bobcats, coyotes, javelina, cats, dogs, horses, cows, etc. Rabid animals may appear disoriented or intoxicated, salivate heavily or appear thirsty.

Approximately 15 people are exposed to rabid animals in Arizona annually. People who are exposed must receive vaccine and anti-rabies serum treatment to prevent infection. Prevention information is available at: <http://bit.ly/2oCuVnF>.

The Arizona Game and Fish Department has trust responsibility for managing more than 800 native wildlife species – the most of any inland state – for current and future generations of Arizona citizens. <http://bit.ly/2mouR8P>

Central Arizona College Foundation presents Governing Board with $146,820 for scholarships

During the June 20th Pinal County Community College District Governing Board meeting, the Central Arizona College Foundation presented a check for $146,820 to be used for student scholarships.

Maggie Dooley, Director of the Foundation expressed appreciation to community members for supporting students through their annual donations. She explained,

“The work of the Foundation, whether it be fundraising, friendraising or creating partnership to support the mission of the college, can only be successful with your help.”

Assisting Dooley with the presentation was David Snider, Foundation Treasurer. He commented, “I have served on the Foundation Board for four years and it’s been both educational and inspirational. There is a passion for assisting our Pinal County students and CAC. When students tell their stories at our annual meeting, we see firsthand how we transform lives.”

An additional $83,000 is in the process of being awarded directly to CAC students, for a total of $229,820 awarded in scholarship dollars this year.

For information about the Central Arizona College Foundation visit www.centralaz.edu/foundation.

On behalf of CAC, Dr. Jackie Elliott and Gladys Christensen accept the Central Arizona College Foundation check from David Snider and Maggie Dooley.
