OBITUARY

Robert Joe Guzman

Robert Joe Guzman left his family and friends to return home to the Lord on Friday, July 12, 2019. Joe was born on March 19, 1956, to parents Pancho and Betty Guzman.

FUNERAL NOTICE

Susan Sims

Funeral services for Susan Sims will be held Friday, July 19, beginning with a visitation at 9 a.m. at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Hayden. The Rosary is at 9:30 a.m. and the Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Interment will follow at Mountain View Cemetery in Hayden and a luncheon will be held at Leo Terrell Hall.

Susan was born Feb. 23, 1961. She passed away on July 14, 2019 in Scottsdale, AZ.

A full obituary will be published at a later date.

He had 63 years filled with love, laughter, family and friends.

Joe is preceded in death by his parents Pancho and Betty, sister Norma, brother Jimmie and daughter Anjelica.

He is survived by siblings, Frank Guzman, Daniel (Irma) Guzman, John (Brooke) Guzman and Laura (Michael) Real; children, Marisa (Pedro) Gallego, Jacque (Dennis) Pool, Robert RJ (Jordan) Guzman and Brittany (Jason) Short; and grandchildren, Pedro, Ismael, Maribel, Ezra, Keiston, Kolton, Serena, Orlando, Kendall, Leighton and Cyenah.

Joe was a sports, hunting and fishing fanatic. He loved watching his Green Bay Packers play. Any time he could be glassing for prize winning bucks he was happy or tossing his line for all the fish he could handle. His love of sports, hunting and fishing has been passed on to his children and through his grandchildren. Joe will be missed for his personality, wild spirit and famous apple pie. We love you.

Services for Joe were held on Wednesday morning, July 17, 2019 at St. Joseph's Parish in Hayden, Arizona. He was laid to rest at Mountain View Cemetery.

FCC robocall ruling offers hope; in the meantime, just hang up on dodgy callers Seniors may get robocall relief if a new Federal Communications Commission [FCC] ruling prompts phone companies to implement technologies that automatically block them. Dan Weber, an advocate for older Americans, says the ruling is a step in the right direction.

The president of the Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC] reports that "while it is still early days, it appears the major phone service providers are ready to cooperate. It was good news when Verizon was quick to 'welcome' the ruling."

Verizon issued a statement hours after the FCC announced its decision. In it, the company stated that it is "putting robocallers on notice. We've got their number and we're taking big steps to stop them from doing what they're doing."

Meanwhile, Apple has announced a new software update will be available in the fall that can automatically block unwanted spam callers.

Weber says, however, that he is taking a wait and see attitude regarding these latest efforts to rein in phone scammers. "It's a lucrative crime and the perpetrators are tech savvy enough to find new ways to prey on the elderly."

He cites an article on the FCC ruling published by Politico, which noted that: "experts warn that callers slinging bogus tax bills and insurance schemes might still find a way to get through. Calls originating from overseas could present a technical challenge. And the measures are voluntary: phone companies won't be required to

Firefighters respond to nearly 50 wildfires over July 4th weekend

The 4th of July holiday weekend keeps Arizona firefighters extremely busy.

The Arizona Department of Forestry and Fire Management reports, between Thursday, July 4, and Sunday, July 7, firefighters responded to 46 wildfires across Arizona, on all land jurisdictions. Those 46 fires burned a combined total of nearly 4,000 acres.

Most of the fires over the holiday weekend were human caused, including vehicles parked in tall grass, debris burns, and welding.

Fire activity remains high across the state, including the desert areas, due to an abundance of grass from last year's winter rain and snow.

Residents need to use caution when conducting outdoor activities that require an active heat source and should have water nearby if debris burning or using any equipment with an open flame.

Drivers should avoid pulling off to the side of the road into tall grasses, ensure tow chains are properly secured, and vehicles are inspected before getting on the road. Campers need to check

CAC's College for Kids 2019 focuses on animal biology

This summer, children exiting grades two through six are studying animal biology during College for Kids at Central Arizona College's Aravaipa Campus. Students are participating in various STEAM activities and experiments around the college campus. Students are divided by age groups and each has adopted a mascot. The 8-9 year olds are the 3-Toed Sloths; 9-10 year olds are the Sandhill Cranes; and the 10-12 year olds are the Rosy Boas. There are 50 students and 10 group leaders participating this year. The program is under the direction of Jamie Wolgast and teachers, Angela Lopez, Robin Garcia and Denise Fisher. The program aide is Cheyenne Carter and volunteers are Daniela Camarillo, Isabella Kimmel and Phaius Wolgast. James Carnes | CBN

These College for Kids students are hard at work on their projects. The summer program keeps kids learning even while they are away from their classrooms.

Savannah Magallanez and Derek Craig are in the Sandhill Cranes group and are working on their desert dioramas.

Ariana Arbizo and Nevaeh Ramirez work with teacher Denise Fisher on their desert dioramas.

Under the watchful eyes of teacher Angelan Lopez, students Camille Bentley, Hannah Dean (group leader), Brina Morales (group leader), Olivia Boatman, Dominique Martinez and Julissa Garcia work on their art and science projects.

It's not lions and tigers and bears, but giraffes and snakes and wolves. Students Isaac Zazueta, Parker Elkins and Alanie Hise show their artistic sides. Pictured with the three are Director Jamie Wolgast and teacher Robin Garcia.

Central Arizona College supports manufacturing industry

As part of a regional consortium of community colleges and industry partners, Central Arizona College will receive $1.2 million in federal funding to develop industry-recognized apprenticeships in manufacturing. Pima Community College will lead the $4.23 million federal grant to develop Arizona's consortium project, named the Industry-Recognized Apprenticeship Model in Manufacturing, or i-RAMM.

Under i-RAMM, Central Arizona College, along with education partners Pima Community College, Estrella Mountain Community College, GateWay Community College, and Mesa Community College, will work with industry to develop apprenticeships that are competency-based and blend classroom and on-the-job experience.

The National Institute of Metalworking Skills (NIMS), The Manufacturing Institute of the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM), and the National Tooling & Machining Association and Arizona Chapter (NTMA and ATMA) will provide assistance to the consortium by offering workforce credentials, certifications and technical assistance for apprenticeships at employer sites and promote opportunities to their members in Arizona and nationwide. In collaboration with the Arizona Commerce Authority Office of Economic Opportunity, the model will be expanded to other participating employers and colleges in the Arizona Advanced Technology Network (AATN).

"CAC is pleased to collaborate with our educational colleagues and industrial partners in Pinal County to positively impact the manufacturing workforce," said Dr. Jackie Elliott, CAC President. "This enhances the work we have done as a member of the AATN to develop Automated Industrial Technology program curriculum, which is a result of our work with Pima and the Maricopa County Community College District, to address employer's needs."

Beginning this fall, CAC will offer a 16 credit

Automated Industrial Technology Certificate I and a 16 credit Automated Technology Certificate II. Students who complete these certificates will be able to troubleshoot, maintain, and repair a variety of automated electromechanical, product assembly, process control, and product distribution systems that use programmable controls and other methodologies to accomplish system management. These systems include robotic, mechanical, hydraulic, pneumatic, electrical, and electronic devices. Graduates will gain the skills to define, integrate, install, program, and maintain complex control and production systems.

After completion of the certificates, students may continue on to complete an Associate of Applied Science in Automated Industrial Technology.

For additional information about the Automated Industrial Technology courses, please contact Sandra Zires at (520) 494-5308.

San Pedro Valley Lions participate in Jim Click benefit raffle

The San Pedro Valley Lions are raffling off chances to win a new 2019 Jeep Grand Cherokee Summit, two round trip, first class airline tickets to anywhere in the world, or $5,000 cash. The raffle is part of the Jim Click Automotive Team benefit raffle sponsored by the Boys & Girls Club of Tucson. The Jim Click Team partners with non-profit organizations in Southern Arizona to sell the raffle tickets. Proceeds from the sales go to each selling organization.

Tickets for the raffle are $25 each or five tickets for $100. Ticket entries must be received by Dec. 6, 2019. The drawing will be held on Dec. 13, 2019 at a site to be announced.

To purchase tickets or find out more about the raffle, contact Ruben Hernandez, Vice-President at (520) 429-5997.

Supervisors vote to open negotiations with Public Works Director Andersen for County Manager position

FLORENCE – The Board of Supervisors have ended a month of speculation and guessing by voting to begin negotiations with Public Works Director Louis Andersen for the soon-to-be open County Manager position.

The vote was 3-2 with Supervisors Todd House, Pete Rios and Anthony Smith in the affirmative, Chairman Mike Goodman and Vice-Chairman Steve Miller as no votes.

The County Manager position was posted in May after Greg Stanley announced his intention to retire in October. Three candidates were the finalist for the position – Andersen, Assistant County Manager Leo Lew and Chief Civil Deputy Attorney Chris Keller.

Following the vote, District 5 Supervisor Todd House said Andersen has demonstrated excellent professional aptitude in this position which he has held for many years. In conjunction with his professional history/education, Mr. Andersen and his family contribute in the public sector.

Chairman Mike Goodman said that he fully supports the outcome of the Board's decision, and looks forward to working with Andersen in improving our County.

"We had three extremely qualified and competent candidates for this position." Goodman said. "It was a difficult decision as we knew all of the final candidates would do a great job in this role. It was a very tough choice."

The County Manager is the top administrative post for Pinal County. The Board of Supervisors develop and vote on policy initiatives for the county, the County Manager is in charge of having those policies implemented.

take advantage of the call-blocking systems that the FCC is encouraging and could charge consumers fees for using them.”

Tech journalist and privacy advocate Paul Bischoff recently prepared an elder fraud analysis of phone scams targeting seniors for the technology research firm, CompariTech. The Bischoff report provides an eye-opening state-by-state assessment of elder fraud. He told AMAC that the FCC ruling to stop unwanted robocalls “is a step in the right direction but ultimately might not have the desired impact for consumers.”

The report revealed that seniors are primary targets for fraudsters accounting for 38% of scams and that there are an estimated 5 million cases of elder fraud annually resulting in $27.4 billion in losses.

“We are hopeful that the new focus on protecting the elderly from phone scammers will have a positive effect going forward. In the meantime, just hang up if a caller starts asking for personal information or makes threats. Don’t take their word for it if they say they are calling on official business. No official will ever ask for you to reveal account numbers, Social Security numbers, Medicare IDs over the phone.”

area fire restrictions before leaving for their destination. Stage I fire restrictions are in place on some state and federal lands.

Where campfires are allowed, always make sure they are cool to the touch before leaving. Drown campfires with water, stir, and then repeat until completely out.

As of today, 935 wildfires have burned more than 205,000 acres on private, state, federal, and tribal lands. Of the 935 wildfires so far this year, 94 percent of them were determined to be human caused.

If served within Arizona, you shall appear and defend within 20 days after the service of the Summons and Complaint upon you, exclusive of the day of service. If served out of the State of Arizona - whether by direct service, by registered or certified mail, or by publication - you shall appear and defend within 30 days after the service of the Summons and Complaint upon you is complete, exclusive of the day of service. Service by registered or certified mail outside the State of Arizona is complete 30 days after the date of filing the receipt and affidavit of service with the Court. Service by publication is complete 30 days after the date of the first publication. Direct service is complete when made. You Are Hereby Notified that you are being served as a defendant in the above-entitled action in this Court, and that in case of your failure to appear and defend within the time applicable, judgment by default will be rendered against you for the relief demanded in the Complaint. If you are served other than by publication, your failure to appear and defend would permit a money judgment, as well as loss of Arizona property, to be rendered against you. This Court has the power to render such a money judgment pursuant to the laws of this State, including Article 6, Section 6, Arizona Constitution; Rule 4(d) and 4(e) of the Arizona Rules of Civil Procedure; and 12-123, 12-124, Arizona Revised Statutes. Such jurisdictional power over nonresidents of Arizona and corporation incorporated under the laws of any other state or foreign country which have no legally appointed or constituted agent in Arizona, is conferred through the allegation in the Complaint that the claim arises out of an event you caused to occur within Arizona. You are cautioned that in order to appear and defend you must file an answer or proper response in writing with the Clerk of this Court, accompanied by the necessary filing fee within the time required and you are required to serve a copy of that answer or response upon the plaintiffs' attorneys whose names and addresses are shown below. Requests for reasonable accommodation for persons with disabilities must be made to the division assigned to the case by the party needing accommodation or his/her counsel at least three (3) judicial days in advance of a scheduled proceeding. Cards of Thanks

Our family would like to thank relatives and friends who attended our mom's services. Many thanks to Father Jundeh for the beautiful mass and the wonderful volunteers from the St. Mary Center who helped with the luncheon, along with the generous people who donated the delicious food.

Special thanks to the Reyna family for your assistance and support during this difficult time.

The generosity of the Superior community is greatly appreciated.

God bless.
The family of Teresa U. Denogean

On behalf of the Camacho Family we would like to thank family, friends, and the Kearny community for all the kind words, thoughts and prayers during our difficult time. We would especially like to thank the vocalists who sang at the service and the ladies who served at the luncheon. Olivia will be dearly missed.

Sincerely,
The Camacho Family

Natural Gas Safety

Wherever you live, work, or play.

NATURAL GAS LINES

can be buried anywhere, even in areas where homes don't use natural gas. So it's important that EVERYONE knows how to recognize and respond to a natural gas leak, wherever they are.

A LEAK MAY BE PRESENT IF YOU:

a distinct sulfur-like odor, similar to rotten eggs, even if it's faint or momentary.

HEAR:

a hissing or roaring coming from the ground, above-ground pipeline, or natural gas appliance.

SEE:

dirt or water blowing into the air, unexplained dead or dying grass or plants, or standing water continuously bubbling.

IF YOU SUSPECT A LEAK

- Exit the area or building immediately. Tell others to evacuate and leave doors open.
- From a safe place, call 911 and Southwest Gas at 877-860-6020, day or night, whether you're a customer or not. A Southwest Gas representative will be there as soon as possible.
- Don't smoke or use matches or lighters.
- Don't turn on or off electrical switches, thermostats, or appliance controls; or do anything that could cause a spark.
- Don't start or stop an engine, or use automated (garage) doors.

For more information about natural gas safety visit

Taking your child outside can open up a whole new world of learning.

Keeping young children active and encouraging outdoor play boosts learning

Recently, the American Academy of Pediatrics suggested doctors start prescribing play for young children. "Play supports the formation of the safe, stable, and nurturing relationships with all caregivers that children need to thrive," the report said.

Summer is a perfect opportunity to take a drive to escape the summer heat and incorporate some outdoor activities that allow toddlers and preschoolers to spend time outside exercising their bodies and minds.

Play in an outdoor, natural environment helps engage a young child's senses. First Things First reminds families that a nature trip doesn't have to be a far-off place, it could be a neighborhood park or local splash pads. Here are a few activities to get you started:

- Go on a nature scavenger hunt - think of things you might see while outside then use the list to collect items as you walk.
- Show your child how to explore the forest floor or grassy lawn.
- Point out bugs.

- Talk about what you see, hear and smell.
- Observe patterns in a stream or rainbows made by splashing water.
- Have a meal outside.

Parents are also encouraged to allow their child some time for free play, where the child chooses what activities to do that will allow their imagination and creativity to take over.

For more ways on how parents can support their little one's development and learning through play watch FTF's short video at <http://bit.ly/FTFplay>.

Use the information above to find some time to get outdoors with your infants, toddlers and preschoolers, so they can learn, grow and thrive.

About First Things First – First Things First is a voter-created, statewide organization that funds early education and health programs to help kids be successful once they enter kindergarten. Decisions about how those funds are spent are made by local councils staffed by community volunteers. To learn more, visit FirstThingsFirst.org.
