LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Respecting our San Carlos Tribal Elders: Return the Holy Ground Crosses from Oak Flat

My name is Karen Kitcheyan Jones. I am an enrolled member of the San Carlos Apache Tribe. I have lived here most of my life with exception to grade school year where my late father's employment took us off the reservation. I can safely say my exposure to off reservation life is a blessing as I was encouraged to make friends with non-native people of other ethnic origin. It was this experience I gained much value of what family is. My upbringing involved our practice of the matriarch, my paternal grandmother passed on strong, strict, moral lessons to her family. She practiced this by example and when we were old enough to understand only then were we allowed to question. Mable Dosela Kitcheyan was our late Grandmother's name. We are not allowed to say the names of those who have passed on. This is allowed only in times to confirm our own identity.

My grandmother raised us in our sunrise ceremony circle, raised us in our own Healing Ceremony circle, with this foundation of our teaching I have the ability to tell you the truth. So with great respect I share with you this truth.

First, Yes our Apache people were a nomadic group of people who traveled by clan to harvest seasonal food.

Second, change came, boundaries were drawn and a year of exploring our earth revealed that rich copper and more land was taken. Now we live within what is 1.8 million acres that was cut down drastically. Much, much change has occurred for the good and the bad. Boarding schools began to break up the family bond, re-location to employ our people in the urban-environment. In the midst of all this change, grandmother reminded us not to fear but to cling close to God that our worship to protect what our culture and tradition has already laid out; our own foundation. To keep up with change, stay in school, keep away from people who may mislead you for their own gain and rob you of your way, prayer and dance. Be aware of what alcohol abuse could lead to and it will destroy you!

Today we see that drug abuse has already destroyed many of our beautiful people.

Third, Tribal government established another change which included a political agenda. Real issues facing our tribe or made up issues inspired by false information from our own tribal members who make a living on destroying and hunting people with their words. Another change that is highly influenced by money and special favor, this always keeps a one sided picture. Our tribal members face money concerns within the boundaries of our homeland. This is why I am taking the steps to clarify and make my statement that Oak Flat has no sacred significance to our Apache people. Yes, Acorn can be harvest there among many other areas on and off the reservation. Oak Flat does not influence nor determine the outcome to our on-going battle against our social ills, drug abuse, alcohol abuse, unemployment, housing issues, crime issues and education issues. I support the quiet elder members who have said "Oak Flat is not sacred. There are no sacred songs or sacred prayers that say Oak Flat is a Holy Place". These very elders also ask "Why is there a Holy Ground over there, WHY? That is not good".

Fourth, it has been said many times we are reminded by the statements that come from our sacred sweat that "Change will ultimately happen". Along with that statement, a true warning is also said "Do not let this change make you crazy!" Protect the sacred core of our people, culture, tradition, language. Protect our livelihood so that we continue to be strong and to welcome change gracefully.

I am a daughter to our creator God. I am a daughter to my parents who co-created this gift to my family as mother and grandmother. We must continue to let honesty generate peace, to let courage promote fairness and to keep praying for unity. So be mindful of respecting each other's uniqueness as we welcome others hand of friendship. I am my mother's clan and I am born for my father's clan. Please accept my statement of truth. Let it be known from this day forward that I will support valid issues that threaten our tribe. I will support our neighboring communities genuine concerns of water, environment and employment as that will also affect us here at home on the reservation. Furthermore, let it be known that I will support truth and fact and encourage all of you to call on your elders and the elders of our community as it is their voice that should be represented and respected – a voice that has not been at the forefront of the tribes endeavor. May we pray that the sacredness of our culture will no longer be exploited and the true representation, honor and integrity be restored to our ceremonies.

Finally, I call upon our leaders to respect the wisdom of our elders, and return the holy ground crosses as they have asked. As Apache people we were always taught to respect our elders and spiritual leaders, and as leaders of our tribal government, I ask that you honor the voice of the people of the San Carlos Apache Tribe.

Respectfully submitted,
/s/ Karen Kitcheyan Jones
San Carlos Apache Tribal Member

Oak Flats nominated as sacred site

By Mila Besich-Lira
Copper Area News

During late 2014, the officials within the Tonto National Forest along with the San Carlos Apache tribe filed the nomination paperwork to designate the Oak Flats campground as a culturally and historically significant site. The nomination application is now at the desk of the the Keeper of the Record at the National Register of Historic Places, National Park Service.

The nomination application process has gone through multiple layers of federal government review prior to it being finalized by the United States Keeper of the Record in Washington D.C. The application was submitted by to the Forest Supervisor, Neil Bosworth. Once it was reviewed by the forest supervisor it was sent the regional office of the Western Forest Service in New Mexico. The application process allowed for Pinal County Supervisor Pete Rios to submit a letter from his office to support the nomination or offer comments against the nomination. Following

In December, Supervisor Rios wrote a letter of non-support for the application and included letters from local residents who opposed the nomination of Oak Flats as a culturally significant site. Those letters and comments were to be included with the nomination application that was sent to the regional forest service offices in New Mexico. The application was received by the National Register in Washington D.C. in May. The National Register took comments for and against the nomination through Monday, June 29, 2015. At press time is was

PCSO still seeking tips on Kearny River Fire

By Mila Besich-Lira
Copper Area News

The Pinal County Sheriff's office is still taking tips regarding the Kearny River Fire. Last week in a press release issued by PCSO, it was announced that the 1,400-acre blaze was suspicious in nature and human caused.

At this time no arrests have been made and the fire remains under investigation.

The blaze burned for three days and forced the evacuations of 300 Kearny residents. Five structures were lost early on in the fire. There were no major injuries.

"We believe the fire was started near the livestock corrals in the northwest part of the town," Sheriff Paul Babeu said. "At this point, we have ruled out accidental causes for the Kearny River Fire and are now looking at who was seen in the area when the fire started."

State and local fire crews are still monitoring remains of the fire and say it is 100% contained.

If anyone has information about the suspicious origin of the fire, please call the Pinal County Sheriff's Office at 520-866-5111.

Always a Sense of Community

Once a person asked me what was one of the best parts about living in Pinal County. I immediately responded: "No matter where you go, there is always a sense of community."

No one need look further for the sense of community than the Town of Kearny.

Last week we saw a response to the Kearny River Fire that brought in volunteers from all walks of life. From the guy who works the day shift at Asarco to persons being held by the Arizona Department of Corrections. All had the same goals – save lives, save Kearny and put out the fire.

I am sending my sincere appreciation to all of those departments who responded to help contain and control this blaze.

- Kearny Fire Department
 - Superior Fire Department
 - Oracle Fire Department
 - Eloy Fire District
 - Superstition Fire & Medical District
 - Tri-City Fire District
 - Winkelman Fire Department
 - Globe Fire Department
 - Queen Valley Fire District
 - Regional Fire and Rescue
 - Copper Basin Railroad
- One group I would like to specifically point out is the Arizona Department of Corrections Female Wildland Fire Crew. These folks are trained to handle these types of emergencies and they worked as hard as the crews on hand. The best part though, is that they were treated as firefighters by their peers and not as prisoners. It would be nice to see some of these people on fire crews once they have served their sentence.

This was a tremendous undertaking considering the salt cedar trees that burned hot and created a lot of smoke. I am also sending my thanks to Check Kmet and county employees who manned the Pinal County Emergency Management office. We had a lot of employees from the Sheriff's Department to our Animal Care and Control Department involved in assisting the firefighting efforts in the Town of Kearny and the surrounding area. Again, my sincere appreciation to all who helped in this time of need for the people of Kearny.

Ready to Celebrate

I'm looking forward to the Fourth of July celebration in Hayden this Saturday. I like being an American, I'm proud to be a native of Arizona, and I'm especially pleased to be living in Kearny. It's a town where people band together to rescue animals from a fire, and where James Ruiz passed out cases of bottled water to anyone who needed it. The Mormon Church opened its doors to all, and fixed food for all the emergency crews. People were helping out all over the place during the fire, simply because the help was needed.

The fire is over now, but I'm proud to say that people are still helping. A fund has been established at the Ray Federal Credit Union to help people at Stephens Trailer Park, and I urge your support. The Copper Basin Railway, before the fire, had cleaned up a large section of overgrowth on its right of way, and is planning to do more since the fire took place.

Thinking toward future safety and town improvement, the Winkelman Natural Resource Conservation District and the Town of Kearny are seeking ways to work together to restore and improve the lands along the Gila River, with a mind toward providing enhanced recreation, fire safety zones, and wetland improvements all at the same time. There will soon be a summit for the parties who might want to be involved in this substantial task. Bill Dunn, head of the Winkelman NRCD, is active in the statewide organization of conservation districts. He is a great friend of the Copper Basin.

The fire is out, but our towns are still not safe. Invasive, combustible salt cedar plants still border our perimeters. The monsoon season is here, but the needed rains also bring lightning, and we all remember that a lightning strike started the Shipman Fire.

Let's all take a look at our own yards. Are the areas around our buildings free of weeds and combustible clutter? Are vacant lots an invitation to a future disaster? We are the kind of people who help when help is needed. Let's all lend a hand to make Kearny safer.

If you need help cleaning up, please give a call to Town Hall at 363-5547. We have a few volunteers who are willing to work with you. We also would like you to call if you can be one of those willing volunteers.

Enjoy the fireworks. Celebrate our freedom. Continue being the kind of people who help simply because help is needed.

A Community says, 'Thanks'

A community is grateful and Norm's IGA in Kearny has provided a place for folks to say, 'Thanks,' to firefighters and first responders who helped protect the town during the Kearny River Fire.

Resolution Copper hires residents and equips them with technical skills and MSHA certification

This week, Resolution Copper welcomed three local residents from the region as technical trainees to work in various areas of the project to provide an opportunity to learn new skills and knowledge that are of interest to the trainees and significant to the project. The program runs for six months and all participants will become Mine Safety and Health Administration (MSHA) certified.

Michael Arriola will work as a core handler at Resolution Copper's Core Processing Facility. He is a resident of Superior and has an interest in the field of Geology. As a core handler, Michael will become forklift certified, receive task based training and warehouse experience.

Nicholas Garcia will work with our Environmental Department as an environmental technician. He will be doing the majority of their work in the field sampling wells, performing environmental compliance inspections and data collection. Nicholas was raised in Globe.

Brandon Talgo will work in the Water Treatment Plant. He will learn the full cycle of a water treatment facility and the associated data analysis skills. The water that Brandon will be monitoring comes from the dewatering process of the old Magma Mine workings. Brandon lives in San Carlos.

The technical trainee program is part of our commitment to develop local employment opportunities and to help local people gain the skill sets needed to work in a world-class mining operation.

Damian Garcia celebrates state win in math tourney; heads to nationals in Texas

Leonor Hamby K-8 would like to congratulate Damian Garcia for an outstanding performance at the State Math Championship in Tucson on May 9. His hard work qualified him for the National Math Championship in Houston, Texas. Damian continued to study and prepare for this big challenge. He went to Houston, Texas on June 5 and competed on June 6. He did an amazing job. He is a great role model for all students from a small school, proving the size of a school doesn't matter, as long as you have encouragement, hard work, and dedication. Teachers Jennifer Martinez and Brandi Navarro worked with him to prepare for competition. Helping out financially were: Hayden-Winkelman School District funded the trip, Leonor Hamby K-8 student council, Mrs. Lopez and all the NJHS students, and ASARCO employees for all the donations to help with all other expenses. Damian is very grateful for the HWUSD staff and community for their support and encouragement. Leonor Hamby K-8 is excited to continue the "Mathlete's Club" during the 2015-2016 school year. Delicious summer birthday parties for kids (StatePoint) Nothing beats the anticipation of your birthday when you are a child. But once school's out, it can be tough to gather all your child's friends due to summer camps and family vacations.

To combat this perennial summer birthday concern, some parents throw a big party during the school year and another smaller family shindig on the actual date. Others make sure the day is full of surprises, including yummy, unforgettable treats.

Here are some great ideas to make the day extra delicious, from three lifestyle and entertaining experts: Berry, Berry Good

"Every family has their special touches that turn children into excitement charged little bees buzzing around practically giddy with anticipation. For me, that was a can of whipped cream," writes food and lifestyle expert Coryanne Ettiene, reflecting on her childhood in a recent posting on her "Kitchen Living with Coryanne" blog. "The moment I would open the fridge door and see that bright red top, my heart would nearly burst from happiness while I let dreams of whipped cream swirl in my head."

With this in mind, a favorite easy recipe for birthday party strawberry shortcake gives the dessert a mini makeover with individual frozen shortcake bites, says Ettiene, whose nostalgia for her sweet childhood memories led her to partner with Reddi-wip on their summer #PartyReddi promotion, which challenges partiers to create recipes with the whipped topping.

unknown when the Keeper of the Record would decide on this nomination application.

The listing application is named Chi'chil Bildagoteel Historic District; the address for the application is listed as restricted and the town of reference is listed as Kearny (spelled Kearney), Arizona in the online listing. In addition to this nomination, the National Trust for Historic Preservation has also named the Oak Flats as one of America's top 11 endangered places. It was listed along with the Grand Canyon. According to the Trust's website, the organization has used the list of America's 11 Most Endangered Historic Places to raise awareness about the threats facing some of nations greatest treasures.

Since the Southeast Arizona Land Exchange and Conservation act was approved by Congress in December 2014, groups opposing the land exchange and the Resolution Copper project have continued to fight the project. The San Carlos Apache Tribe has been allowed to maintain a camp at the campground and install holy crosses in the campground. Those opposing the mine maintain the site and are planning to caravan cross country to Washington, D.C to continue to build their opposition. In mid June, Arizona Representatives Raul Grijalva and Ruben Gallego along with 10 other members of Congress introduced a bill to repeal the Southeast Arizona Land Exchange and Conservation Act. The bill has not been assigned to a committee at this time.

Storms come to Kearny

The monsoons have finally begun and have claimed the first casualty. High winds Saturday blew down this tree at the corner of Tilbury Dr. and Hartford Rd. in Kearny. Garbage cans were blown aground. Other trees and parts of roofs were also damaged in the wind.

You can make Ettiene's frozen bites by slicing strawberries across the waist (so the hole appears in the center), cutting small squares of angel food cake, and stacking them together with colorful paper straws through the middle. Place them in the freezer for up to an hour and serve with a small bowl of Reddi-wip for dipping. Or for even quicker birthday treats, add a slice of berry and a slice of angel food cake to serving spoons and top with the whipped topping.

Sundae Tea Party

Inspired by the spirit of the tea parties most girls love so dearly, Dawn Sandomeno and Elizabeth Mascali, co-founders of The Party Bluprints Blog, are sharing tips for a tea party with an ice cream sundae twist. This birthday party idea is perfect for summer and can be hosted indoors or out.

Set a table with personal sundae stations for each guest. Each setting should have its own parfait glass with ice cream and three soup spoons or tasting spoons with toppings.

Choose traditional options like sprinkles, mini-marshmallows, and flavored syrups or try something new like fresh fruit, pretzels or popcorn. Then add some fun by placing several cans of Reddi-wip on the table so each child can spritz her sundae herself. Just beware: whipped topping with real cream can go fast, especially with sugared-up fingers on the button, so have enough on hand.

For a fun setting, build your tablescape on a coffee table and provide colorful pillows for seating. Polka dots and stripes can evoke the vibe of a retro sundae shop.

Above all, show your child how special he or she is by celebrating the big day together. These memories can be the biggest treat of all.
