Refuting the reasons for recall

This is an open letter to the residents of Superior regarding the reasons for recalling me and the purpose of the upcoming Aug. 27, 2013 election.

Reason #1 was stated as “violation of open meeting laws.” I am curious to know exactly what open meeting laws I violated. Since the issues seem to revolve around the termination of the mine’s mutual benefits agreement, you should understand that I am not responsible for setting council meetings or developing the agendas for those meetings.

The initial action to terminate the agreement was made after an executive session held at the end of a regular council meeting. I was named as the spokesperson for the council due to the fact that the Mayor and two other council members needed to recuse themselves from any discussion or actions regarding the mine. I made a motion based upon discussion during the executive session. That decision was not mine alone. Another council member seconded the motion and the vote was unanimous with four council members voting.

The next meeting was a special council meeting with a specific topic of action. There was no call to the public listed. According to our town attorney, this is not a required activity under Arizona Open Meeting Law. The Mayor, who recused himself, turned the meeting over to me as the spokesperson for the topic on the agenda. I ensured that the council and public stayed on topic during the meeting. Again, I did not act alone in the decision-making as the vote was unanimous.

I don’t see that I violated any open meeting law provisions during either of those meetings.

Reason #2 was stated as “maleficence,” which is defined as evil. I am curious to know if this was simply a misspelling of the word malfeasance, which is defined as the commission of an act by a public officer that is unequivocally illegal or completely wrongful. Again, I did not act alone in these decisions, so I am curious to know why I have been singled out.

I don’t see that I was malfeasant in any of the actions described above.

As a reminder, the principal reason for the termination of the amended and restated mutual benefits agreement with the mine was due to the fact that a previous council member, Hank Gutierrez, was found guilty of acting under a conflict of interest to ensure the agreement was passed. Once he was found guilty, it was immediate cause for terminating the agreement. It is not my intent or that of any members on the Council to repeat that mistake. That would be malfeasant!

Finally, I want to say that I am committed to all the residents for the future of our community. I will continue to stand alongside my fellow council members to focus on all the issues and consider the next generation in my decisions instead of the next election.

Sincerely,
/s/ Soyla “Kiki” Peralta
Superior Town Council Member

Superior adopts 2013-14 budget, plans for property tax increase

By Nina Crowder

Superior's budget process is underway and the Superior Town Council is trying to balance dropping property values with the increased need for revenue.

During the regularly scheduled Superior Town Council meeting on July 18, the council hosted a public hearing for the 2013-2014 Budget and Property Tax Levy. Pat Walker of Walker Consulting provided a PowerPoint presentation with an overview of the Council's work on the budget, the 2013-2014 budget, 2013-2014 property tax levy, the adoption of the tentative budget, the deadline to publish the final budget (July 29, 2013) and the adoption of the property tax levy (August 6, 2013). Walker said Superior's existing assessed value declined from $10,414,636 to $7,696,791, which equates to a 26 percent decrease. It would have decreased further except there was a $151,022 amount added for new construction. The proposed levy can go up by $11,516 with no truth in taxation requirement. The primary rate is currently $5.5260, meaning property owners pay $5.5260 per $100 of assessed value. A home in Superior that is assessed at $75,000 currently has a property tax bill of $414.45 (10 percent of $75,000 is $7,500 multiplied by $5.5260 for a total of $414.45). Walker explained that the same house would now be assessed at $54,341. Increasing the property tax rate to $7.6269 would not change the amount of the property tax owed by the homeowner (10 percent of $54,341 is $5,434 multiplied by $7.6269 for a total of $414.45). Walker also discussed the changes to the General Fund Revenues. The sewer property taxes included revenues of $396,654; the billing for ambulance refusals would reduce the overall transfer to ambulance fund by $113,738 (no increase to General Fund revenue but a decrease to transfer to Ambulance fund); an increase sales tax rate by 2%; the town recoups costs of $35,000. The changes to the General Fund Revenues require a 60 day notice on the Town's website for a new tax or fee or increases to existing tax or fee before approval or disapproval; notice made June 25, 2013, earliest effective date for sales tax increase would be November 1, 2013; for fees, earliest to approve or disapprove would be August 23, 2013. The Council has planned to make a $389,949 payment against the debt owed to the HURF fund due to interfund loans made in previous years. The regular meeting was convened to Special Meeting and a motion was made to accept Resolution No. 546, A Resolution of the Mayor and Town Council of the Town of Superior Adopting a Budget for the Fiscal Year Ending the 30th day of June, 2014, and Adopting the Maximum Alternative Spending Limitation, the motion was passed. The Special Meeting was adjourned. The Regular Meeting Reconvened and the Mayor and Council reviewed reports from the Fire Department,

Sales and property taxes on the rise in Superior

I want the people of Superior to know that the town council intends to raise the sales tax 2 percent to 10.7 percent in a budget agreement on Aug. 6, 2013. This would mean Superior residents and visitors would be one of only four towns in the state of Arizona paying the highest sales tax rate! What it also means is that folks, both residents and visitors would cease to shop in town and take their business elsewhere. I think this would be defeating the purpose of why the counsel wishes to see the tax raised.

The town has gotten into trouble over the past by spending state monies that were deemed for another purpose and need to be paid back to the state. The reason they wish to raise our sales tax is to hasten the repayment process.

The other thing that the residents of Superior need to know is that at the same meeting on Aug. 6, the town council intends to raise your property tax another 2 percent per $100 valuation on your property, from 5 percent to 7 percent. Pinal County has finally gotten around to devaluing the homes in town and now the town intends to increase the property tax rate so they see no decrease in revenue. Thus, the 24 percent decrease in the valuation of your property you will be receiving will result in no decrease in your property taxes. And what happens if and when the values increase? Does the town intend to lower our rates then?

The reason I am writing to the editor is to let folks know of this dire situation because the town has not put the word out to the public what it intends to do. Yes, they put a small notice on the town website, but I wonder how many townspeople have computers to read the website or even know of its existence. The Mayor says he's trying to be "transparent" but I guess it's up to us townspeople to let the rest of the town know what's in store for them.

Come out to the town council meeting on Thurs. Aug. 1 at the senior center to voice your opinion on these matters. Come to the town meeting also at the senior center at Aug. 6 at 7 p.m., to let them know one more time how you feel before they vote on this matter.

The ability to built a vibrant economy in Superior is at stake!

Annual football combine prepares local football players

By Mila Besich Lira

On a sunny and humid Saturday afternoon, football players from Superior, Kearny, Globe, Miami and San Carlos tested their abilities in various football drills at the Superior Memorial Football Field.

The drills such as the long jump, 40 yard dash, tug of war, bench press and shuttle drill were all timed and measured to determine the winning team of the combine. The winning team received a gatorade sideline hydration station. Official times and measurements were not available at press time. The San Carlos Braves were in first place with the Superior Panthers a close second.

The participating teams and volunteers were treated to a hamburger lunch prepared by the Red Bear Outfitters at the Superior Public Pool.

The event has been coordinated for the past few years by former Superior resident Patrick Castillo of ABC Training LLC. Castillo also volunteers as the Superior Panthers athletic trainer during home football games. The event was also funded by Taylor Floor Installation, Stallings Insurance Company, Porter's Cafe, Red Bear Outfitters, Kathie Trendler, Ron Sprague, and Jerry Wiegert.

Resolution Copper postpones meeting on tailings, holds forums on mine operations and water

By Mila Besich Lira
Resolution Copper has announced that it will be rescheduling its community forum regarding the tailings to Wednesday, Aug. 14, 2013. The meeting is set for 6 p.m. at the Magma Club.
On Tuesday, Aug. 20, 2013, Representatives Paul Gosar and Ann Kirkpatrick will discuss why the land exchange for the project is important and necessary. That meeting will be held at the Superior Junior Senior High School Multipurpose room at 6 p.m.

Over the summer, Resolution Copper has hosted a series of informative meetings to educate the public on economic and environmental impacts that the project may create. Its last two forums were focussed on the block cave mining method and water use. Both forums were well attended and important issues were brought to light.

During the mining method forum several attendees asked why Resolution will not consider using the traditional cut and fill method of mining.

Ian Edgar the General Manager of Studies for Resolution Copper conducted the forum and explained the various forms of mining from cut and fill, panel caving and open pit mining. He explained that the Resolution ore body is a porphyry deposit and that was one of the primary reasons block cave mining has been chosen.

Many still questioned why Resolution could not deploy the cut and fill method which was used in the Magma Mine. Edgar explained that the when Magma was operating they were mining veins of copper and not a porphyry. Edgar also explained that the block cave mining they are planning to do is safer and more economical for the project. The cut and fill mining used by Magma would be five

Citizens of the Copper Corridor please be aware of a scam that is directed at the elderly in our area. There have been several cases involving this telephone scam.

It's usually in the range of $300 to $500 and they will call frequently gathering information about you. There are reports that the violators will call up to 25 times. Again they speak spanish and act like relatives. Some calls will involved multiple people acting like relatives as they gather more information.

To determine if the call is valid, ask them for the cellphone or home number or call a neutral relative to verify identity and tell them you will call back. The violators are using blocked phone numbers.

Resolution

to 10 times more expensive and also five to 10 times less efficient than block cave mining.

Before the mine can even start working Resolution will need to construct 70 miles of total preproduction development. This development will include additional mining head frames/mine shafts, tunnels, ventilation and hoisting.

Edgar also explained that the block cave mining will cause some subsidence at Oak Flats but the subsidence will not hurt Apache Leap. "The subsidence will be predictable, measurable and controllable," explained Edgar. The presentation showed that the subsidence zone is at least 100 feet away from the Leap.

The following week Resolution Copper hosted a forum on the water use and local hydrology. Greg Ghidotti the Hydrology Manager for Resolution Copper gave a detailed presentation on how waters are managed in the Superior area as well as how the mine will work to conserve and treat the waters used at the mine. Ghidotti explained that since the initial studies have been done Resolution has been able to further reduce water use by 17 percent and they are currently evaluating other methods to conserve and reduce water use.

Resolution Copper will acquire the water needed for the project with three different methods. The first method to be used will be the dewatering of the mine, pumps will remove water from the mine and that will provide an estimated 1,842 acre feet per year.

The second method of acquiring water will be water banking. There are three steps to water banking, the first step is for Resolution Copper to purchase Central Arizona Project Water they then allow the farmers to use the CAP water instead of pumping it from the aquifer. This allows Resolution Copper to bank ground water for future use. The water will be banked in the nearby New Magma Irrigation district and the Hohokam Irrigation district near Casa Grande.

The third method that the company may utilize is purchasing annual allotments from existing CAP water owners. Currently Resolution Copper has banked 50 percent of its demand for water. The banked and CAP waters will be piped to the operation.

Ghidotti gave a detailed presentation on all the fault lines and aquifers in the area. He explained how those fault lines affect how the water flows. Many in opposition of the project have contended that the mine will affect the local ground water supply. Ghidotti explained that the aquifers serving Superior will not be affected by the mine project.

Recently well owners in Queen Valley have inquired with Resolution if there was any correlation with their wells running dry and the dewatering of the mine. Ghidotti explained that the wells running dry was due to the prolonged drought. Resolution has put many test wells throughout the area including Superior, Queen Valley and Hewitt Station

Road to ensure that the project is not affecting local wells.

A resident from the San Carlos Indian Reservation asked if the Resolution Copper was going to affect water in San Carlos. Ghidotti explained that the mine will have no affect on the San Carlos reservation because those are different aquifers and there are many mountains between the project and San Carlos, which will keep the project from affecting San Carlos's water.

Several residents including Councilmember Soyla Peralta asked questions about the water quality and if local water will be contaminated by the chemicals that come out of mining. Ghidotti explained that they will treat the contaminated water and any unsafe waste products will be kept out of the water supply.

He encouraged everyone to attend the forum on tailings, the tailings forum will have more detailed information on how the company will protect the water and air from contamination.

Questions on the NEPA came up as well. Vicky Peacey the Senior Manager of Environmental and External Affairs confirmed that the NEPA process will begin once the Forest Service receives the Mine Plan of Operations. She explained that Resolution Copper expects to have the Mine Plan of Operations completed and submitted by the end of the year but it could be as soon as September or October.

Superior Chamber meets with other county chambers

By Mila Besich Lira

At their monthly meeting the Superior Chamber of Commerce hosted the directors of several chambers in Pinal County. The round table forum helped educate members of the Superior Chamber of Commerce on how other chambers operate in the area.

Chambers represented at the meeting were: Larry Johnson, executive director of the Apache Junction Chamber of Commerce; Stacy Gramazio, president of the San Tan Regional Chamber of Commerce; Marquise Scott, the director of the Queen Creek Chamber of Commerce; and Susan Kerestes, executive director of the Florence Chamber of Commerce.

The question and answer segment of the meeting was moderated by Superior Chamber of Commerce board member Lina Austin. Austin serves on the board and is the former director of the Florence Chamber of Commerce and current director of the Future Forward Foundation.

The informative meeting allowed the attending chamber directors to share their experiences in dealing with local government relations, tourism, staffing, volunteers, economic development, disruptive board members, fundraising and communications.

Overall each of the directors stressed the importance of communication and collaboration with members of the chamber as well as local groups and government agencies.

Following the luncheon the chamber directors met with the board members from the Superior Chamber of Commerce for a collaborating session.

The Superior Chamber of Commerce meets on the third Wednesday of every month at noon at the Rolling Rock Gallery/Copper Triangle.

Copper Corridor receives $50,000 for economic development from County

The Copper Corridor Economic Development Coalition accepted a check from the Pinal County Board of Supervisors for $50,000 at its meeting last week in Aravaipa. Pinal County Supervisor Pete Rios along the Pinal County Economic Development Manager Tim Knavel attended the recent meeting to present the check.

The CCEDC board is comprised of local community, government and business leaders from the communities of Superior, Kearny, Hayden, Winkelman, Oracle, Mammoth, San Manuel, Globe, Miami, Dudleyville and Aravaipa.

The Coalition uses

those funds for economic development efforts for the region. Projects funded by the county funding include operation of the Mobile Visitor Center, Business Success Center and further promotion of the region to potential businesses and investors.

"The CCEDC is proud of Pinal County's continued support in our efforts to grow the regional economy," said CCEDC President Michael Carnes.

"In my opinion, this region is the most beautiful part of Pinal County. It has also been the area hardest hit by volatility in the commodities market with the opening and closing of mining operations," said Pete Rios. "Pinal County supports economic development directly through our staff and also by working with economic development foundations and coalitions who are often the 'boots on the ground' helping local businesses grow, expand and flourish."

"We know that the county's economic prosperity is linked to the opportunities that are created in all of our communities, which is why I am pleased to present this contribution on behalf of the Board to support the Copper Corridor Economic Development Coalition," Rios said.

The Copper Corridor meets the third Friday of every month at the CAC Aravaipa Campus. Meetings begin at 8:30am. For more information on the Copper Corridor Economic Development Coalition you can visit them online at: www.coppercorridor.org.
