Amy Byrd files to run as write-in candidate for Superior Council

My name is Amy Byrd and I am running as a write-in candidate for the Superior Town Council in the upcoming Aug. 2 election. I wholeheartedly believe in public service and plan to contribute my time and efforts to the towns well-being.

I am a lifetime resident of Superior and a graduate of Superior High School. Superior is and always will be my home. My mother, Sandy Byrd, came to Superior in the 60s and taught school here for 32 years. My father, the late Jack Byrd, came to Superior in the 40s and worked for Magma until it shut down in the 80s, then went on to work for the Arizona Department of Corrections for 20 years.

My service to Superior started in high school, where I volunteered as a cadet with the Superior Fire Department. After school, I accepted a part-time job as a public safety dispatcher for the Town of Superior. Being young and just starting out in life, I needed full-time employment to be able to support myself, so I resigned from the town to take a full-time job.

Most recently in 2020, I joined the Superior Optimist Club to volunteer my time and give back to the kids in our community. 2020 was the first year the Optimist Club did not have the annual Miracle on Main Parade due to the covid shut down. I decided to organize Superior's first ATV Christmas Cruise light parade. Together with the other riders, we rode up and down streets allowing everyone to enjoy the parade from the comfort and safety of their homes. Since then, this event has become a yearly tradition that continues to grow larger each year. I can honestly say, looking back at these experiences with the town, they are some of my most memorable times, being able to help and give back to the community I love.

Over the years, I have worked various medical and medical management positions until being hired by the Arizona Public Service in 2018. I am currently a Customer Project Representative with APS and serve not only my

Sen. Mark Kelly shakes hands with Frank Alanis, Vice President of the Pinal County Law Enforcement Association and Chief of the Superior Police Department.

Sen. Kelly touts funding for public safety in Pinal County with law enforcement, local officials

Last week, Arizona Senator Mark Kelly visited the Pinal County Emergency Operations Center which will receive $187,000 from this year's government funding bill. The Kelly-secured funding will support technology upgrades at the Emergency Operations Center, which will enhance operational coordination, communication, and public safety efforts throughout the county.

During his visit, Kelly toured the facility and met with the county's emergency management team and local officials to discuss how the funding will support public safety and law enforcement. Kelly was joined by the Chairman of the Pinal County Board of Supervisors Jeffrey McClure, Pinal County Emergency Manager Chuck Kmet, Pinal County Attorney Kent Volkmer, and Town of Superior Chief of Police Frank Alanis.

Kelly, a former EMT and the son of two police officers, has continued to work in the Senate to deliver the federal funding and resources first responders and law enforcement need to keep Arizonans safe. Earlier this year, Kelly helped secure over $4.4 million in this year's government funding bill for police departments and public safety efforts in cities and towns across Arizona.

Pinal Board of Supervisors approve election for transportation tax

The Pinal County Board of Supervisors voted last week to approve calling an election to allow the voters of Pinal County to approve a 1/2 cent sales tax to fund transportation improvements across the county.

Voters will see this new ballot measure on the Nov. 8, 2022, ballot. If approved, all purchases in Pinal County will have an additional half cent sales tax added to each purchase. The funds collected from the PRTA tax have been held in escrow by the Arizona Department of Revenue due to legal challenges posed by the Goldwater Institute.

This past spring, elected officials from throughout Pinal County were dismayed (PRTA). While the Supreme Court, agreed that the PRTA transportation plan was valid and that the voters approved the plan, the taxing method was not legal. When voters approved the 1/2 cent sales tax in November of 2017, there was a two-tier taxing method, any purchase over $10,000 would not require payment of the tax. The Supreme Court ruled that the PRTA and the county could not develop a tiered tax system without approval from the State Legislature.

The original tax approved by voters in 2017 planned for the communities of Superior, Mammoth, Kearny and Eloy to each receive upwards of $300,000 a year to fund road maintenance projects in their communities. The Pinal Regional Transportation Authority (PRTA), formed to manage the funds collected, was the local authority tasked with ensuring the projects move forward. The board was composed of Mayors or elected officials from Pinal County and the local municipalities.

Superior hosts fabulous Fourth!

The Town of Superior Youth Council coordinated and hosted the annual Independence Day celebration. The event included free hot dogs cooked by the Red Bear Outfitters, free Dirty Sno (snow cones from a regional snow cone truck) and watermelon, along with free swimming and activities at the Superior Public Pool. The celebration concluded with a laser light school at the Magma Field on Panther Drive.

Each year the Superior Town Council votes to determine if the Fourth of July should include fireworks. Due ongoing fire dangers, the council voted to hire the laser show for a third straight year. The laser show is funded by the Town of Superior along with several partners in the community including BHP, Resolution Copper, Save Money Market, OMYA and Red Bear Outfitters.
