Leadership Matters: Keep Supervisor Rios

The Copper Corridor, as a region and Pinal County as a whole, is fortunate to have Pete Rios as our County Supervisor. Supervisor Rios understands the challenges of living in our remote, rural communities, and most importantly, he has never forgotten his roots throughout his political career. He understands that our communities often have unique needs and our challenges are often more complex than the rest of Pinal County. He is a tireless advocate and a champion for our region.

It is critically, important that we keep his steady leadership and experience as our Supervisor. With many challenges coming our way, due to the COVID-19 Pandemic, we need a representative that understands policy and can represent the needs of District 1. We do not know what the total economic fall out will be for both the incorporated and unincorporated communities. We need to keep a leader that we can trust, someone who isn't afraid to stick his neck out to fight for our district. We also need representation that will make sure our communities are not left behind as Pinal County continues to grow.

Supervisor Rios has always remained committed to the people of District One. As a Mayor, I call on him often to seek support or his advocacy for our community and our region. He consistently seeks out opportunities to serve the people of our district and Pinal County. He also brings a tremendous amount of governing experience that provides important guidance for all of Pinal County.

Join me in supporting Supervisor Rios. He provides the consistent leadership, that we need to navigate our County, now and into the future.

Please Mandate Masks in Pinal County

I am Artistic Director of The Oracle Piano Society, a nonprofit arts organization serving the unincorporated area of Oracle in Pinal County's Supervisor District 1.

I am writing in strong support of Supervisor Pete Rios' initiative to mandate face masks.

As the father of a medically fragile child, my family has spent enough time in the hospital to recognize the real-world impact of infectious diseases.

COVID-19 is no joke and, according to science, the only known way to prevent its spread is to socially distance and wear a mask.

Preventing the spread of COVID-19 will shorten its lifespan and will protect our vulnerable population.

Knowing this, it is astounding to me that anyone would resist wearing a mask or advocate against mask wearing.

The population most at risk, our greatest generation, made countless sacrifices during World War II. In addition to putting their lives on the line to defend our freedom, citizens engaged in many domestic sacrifices including rationing, volunteerism, and investing in the country.

Wearing a mask to protect that generation is the very least we can do.

I have enacted measures within my organization to protect the health and

While RIOS' opponent filed a frivolous residency challenge, which was quickly DISMISSED by the County Attorney, Rios focused his work on his constituents.

Supervisor RIOS and the Board have:

- Saved homeowners over $30 million in property taxes over the past few years.
- Attracted over 6,000 new and future jobs to Pinal County, including Lucid and Nikola Motors (which is located close to Eloy and Coolidge).
- Reduced property taxes year after year while maintaining a stable, healthy budget and providing pay increases to county employees.
- Rios fought for and delivered over $100,000 to Senior Citizen Centers for congregate and home delivered meals.
- Supported our Veterans by providing services and hundreds of thousands of dollars to Pinal County Veterans' groups.

Pete Rios has been selected four different times to serve as Vice-Chairman of the Board by his four Republican colleagues. He served three years as Chairman.

Strike lines down: Will the union go back to work?

By Mila Besich
Copper Area News

After nine months on strike, officials with the United Steelworkers announced that they made an unconditional offer to return to work to ASARCO. This news came after the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) issued a complaint against ASARCO alleging numerous violations of federal labor laws. In a letter to union members, the USW explained that NLRB allegations include failure to bargain in good faith, illegally declaring an impasse in negotiations and unilaterally implementing changes to the working conditions.

The strike lines at Ray and Hayden were removed on Monday morning at 6 a.m. as workers left the picket lines to await word if they would allowed to return to their pre-strike positions.

The Union's decision to end the current Unfair Labor Practices (ULP) strike and by making the unconditional offer to return to work will mean that ASARCO should return the union members to their pre-strike jobs and avoid any further financial penalties for the company. ASARCO has made claims that it has permanently filled the empty positions at all of their locations.

If ASARCO does not return the striking workers to their pre-strike jobs, the workers are eligible for back pay. Workers who are placed on a recall list would be considered laid off, and they would be eligible for unemployment.

In a letter to Union members, officials stated that this allows the Union to be in a stronger negotiating position for a fair contract.

There was no indication from ASARCO on their plans to return the Union members to their pre-strike positions.

Nine months ago, the United Steelworkers began protesting unfair labor practices by ASARCO. Workers took to the picket lines in Hayden at the smelter complex and at the Ray pit near Kearny.

On Monday, July 6, the picket lines in Hayden at the smelter complex and at the Ray pit near Kearny were eerily vacant as striking workers began preparing to return to work.

The extreme fire danger has forced the temporary closure of the Tonto Forest.

Mila Besich | Sun

Tonto National Forest closed

Officials with the Tonto National Forest announced that effective July 2, 2020 the nation's sixth largest forest would be closed. The closure came after 224,500 acres have burned on the Tonto National Forest in 2020. Increasingly dry and hot weather also affected the decision to close the forest. There is not a date set to reopen, officials will determine a reopening date based on monsoon moisture and a decrease in fire danger across the forest.

Currently the Tonto National Forest is fighting the Polles Fire in Rim Country. The Polles Fire was caused by a lightning strike on Friday and is burning in the Matazall Wilderness. The communities of Pine and Strawberry are on alert at this time and the Tonto National Bridge State Park is closed. Crews will be working to develop a fire line to protect these communities.

The forest closures and ongoing fires comes as a double whammy for the communities adjacent to the Tonto National Forest. With campgrounds, trails and picnic areas closed over the entire forest, this means fewer visitors to the area and decreased traffic to local stores and restaurants by those who recreate on the forest. There was a noticeable absence of ATV and four-wheel drive groups visiting local restaurants in Superior over the weekend. COVID-19 has increased the demand for recreating outdoors and the forest closure does affect the local economy. The fires could affect the whole Copper Corridor. Many segments of the Arizona Trail are affected by fires across the State of Arizona; the repairs to the trails are not only costly but are also destructive to the scenic beauty of the trail.

The Legends of Superior Trails (LOST) shared a map showing that the LOST trails in Superior which were still open, however the segments on the Tonto National Forest are closed. This includes recreation in Arnett Canyon and the Jungle/Pinal City area.

"These are areas that locals can often find some respite from the heat and enjoy outdoor recreation," said Mayor Mila Besich.

The Tonto National Forest also has several near-by higher elevation recreation areas such as the Pinal Mountains, Rim Country, and Pleasant Valley (Young) areas that are also affected. Bruzzi Vineyard in Young, Arizona shared with local media outlets that the road closures affected access to the businesses in their community of Young.

"We all want to protect the forest and ensure everyone remains safe," said James Bruzzi from Bruzzi Vineyard. "The forest closure is an additional hardship for our businesses on top of COVID-19. Our communities near the Tonto provide places for people to enjoy physically distant recreation, now we can't even offer that."

The following areas of the Tonto National Forest are open: Roosevelt Lake, Bartlett Lake, Canyon Lake, Saguaro Lake and Lower Salt, Tortilla Flat Restaurant and the Roosevelt Lakeview Mobile Home park.

What Arizona teachers think about re-opening schools for the 2020-21 school year; Expect More Arizona releases results from statewide survey

Arizona educators have many concerns about getting back to teaching and want to be a part of the decision-making process as schools consider their reopening plans. This, according to results from a survey of Arizona educators released by Expect More Arizona.

“The COVID-19 pandemic has created unprecedented challenges for schools all over the world and Arizona has been no exception,” said Christine Thompson, president and CEO of Expect More Arizona. “Spring closures reminded our community that educators are some of the most dedicated and necessary professionals out there.”

According to the survey, 79 percent plan to return to the classroom with 18 percent still undecided. Only one quarter of respondents indicated that the pandemic influenced their decision.

But concern about the virus remains. Half are concerned or very concerned about their safety and health when they return to their classrooms in July or August. By far, teachers’ biggest concerns about returning to school are the health and safety of staff (67%) and students (62%). Other key areas of concern include student mental health (37%) and helping students catch up (35%).

Nearly 10,800 classroom teachers voluntarily completed the survey. While a majority of respondents were from Maricopa County (59%) every county was represented in the survey.

As of May 31, the majority of Arizona teachers had yet to be included in school planning conversations, with 56 percent sharing they had not been included and 22 percent who had not yet been included, but who expected to be in the future.

“While no one knows what the next few weeks, months or even year will hold, it is essential that schools and other education decision-makers include student, parent and teacher voices in the process,” Thompson added. “The large number of participants in our survey speaks volumes about educators’ desire to be heard.”

Three in four respondents want to see rules requiring teachers and students to stay home if they are sick. Additionally, strict sanitation procedures and access to cleaning products in the classroom should be a priority for school districts, along with clear protocols and procedures for staff, parents, and students.

“Now is the time to rally behind schools to support our teachers and students,” said Thompson. “The costs associated with COVID-19 will be substantial, and at a time when budgets are already tight. We must ensure school needs are met so they can continue the vital work of closing achievement gaps and preparing the next generation of leaders, professionals, entrepreneurs and more.”

The survey was conducted by Expect More Arizona in partnership with the Arizona State Board of Education. Data was compiled and analyzed by Arizona State University’s Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College and Decision Center for Educational Excellence, led by Kristi Glassmeyer, Jeanne M. Powers, and Joe O’Reilly. Other groups assisted in sharing the survey with teachers, including the Arizona Department of Education, Arizona Charter Schools Association, Arizona Education Association, Arizona School Boards Association, Arizona School Administrators, Arizona K-12 Center, Arizona Education Foundation, Tucson Values Teachers and many more.

About Expect More Arizona

Expect More Arizona is a nonprofit, nonpartisan advocacy organization bringing communities together to create positive change in education at all levels. For more information visit ExpectMoreArizona.org.

Due to the high rate of responses and the number of open-ended questions in the survey, data is being released in three phases. Phase II will be a reflection on the Spring 2020 school closures. Phase III will include more about what is learned from the full survey, including the numerous open-ended questions, as well as specific feedback for policymakers.*

MANDATE MASKS

well-being of our vulnerable loved ones.

We will hold outdoor drive-in concerts until it is safe to convene indoors, we will conduct our educational programs online until it is safe to meet in person, and we will require masks at all events.

I am happy to make these accommodations but it should not be up to business managers alone to protect the health and wellbeing of the community.

In a time of national crisis, leadership matters.

I strongly support Supervisor Pete Rios' public initiative to mandate mask wearing and thank him for his leadership on this issue.

The other members of the Board of Supervisors must also take action to protect our vulnerable population and to shorten this pandemic.

You must mandate face masks.

It is a matter of patriotism and public safety.

Sincerely,

/s/ Dr. Stephen Cook

SAFETY, ELEVATED

SUPERIOR PLEDGE

Superior's small town, neighborly values have strengthened our community's resolve to remain even more focused on what makes us a special community during these challenging times. Throughout our entire storied history, Superior has been a community that cares about one another - long-time, multi-generational residents, as well as newcomers.

As we all unite to protect ourselves, our families, and our neighbors from the ravages of the coronavirus, we are committed to adhering to the guidances from federal and state government, and ask that our visitors and patrons do the same:

If you are sick, stay at home.

Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds.

Avoid close contact by keeping a distance of at least 6 feet from those around you.

Cover your mouth and nose with a cloth face cover when around others.

Cover coughs and sneezes.

Clean and disinfect frequently touched surfaces daily.

Be Blessed By God

Quoting from Psalm 91, a very current and important message from God. Tell the Lord: You are my refuge! My fortress! My God in whom I trust! You will rescue me from the plague of calamities, and under Your wings I have refuge, Your truth is my shield and protection. I do not have to fear the terrors of night or day.

I do not fear the plague that roams in the dark, or the destruction that causes problems in the daytime. A thousand, or even ten thousand may fall to their death, but it won't come near me. I watch with eyes wide open and see the punishment of the wicked.

I have discovered that if God is my refuge, no disaster will come my way, nor will any plague enter my house.

He will send the angels to care for me and guard me wherever I go. They will make certain I am safe, wherever I am.

Because I am known personally, by name, my Lord will protect and rescue
