Accident claims the life of Superior woman

A fatal accident on U.S. 60 east of Superior took the life of a Superior woman and sent an Apache Junction woman to the hospital.

According to the Arizona Department of Public Safety, the accident occurred at 7:11 a.m. on Monday, Aug. 14 on westbound U.S. 60 at milepost 231.7.

A passenger vehicle, driven by Christina Magallanez, 31, from Superior, was traveling westbound on US 60 when she crossed over into the eastbound lane of traffic. A pickup truck was traveling in the eastbound lanes when the driver saw the passenger vehicle in her lane. She attempted to avoid a collision by swerving into the left but she was struck head on by the passenger vehicle.

Christina Magallanez died at the scene from her injuries. The driver of the pickup was transported to the Chandler Regional Medical Center for treatment of injuries.

The accident is under investigation, DPS Public Information Officer Quentin Mehr said in an email to Copper Area News.

Plans made for upgrading Superior's Wastewater Treatment Plant to better match current needs

By James J. Hodl
Superior Sun

Plans are taking shape to upgrade Superior's Wastewater Treatment Plant to better meet the town's current needs and to be operated at a lower cost.

"Originally built in 1974, the current plant is suffering aging problems that has resulted in more frequent maintenance," said Superior Town Manager Todd Pryor. "As the plant is single unit, scheduling downtime for maintenance also has become problematic."

A recent study indicated that the plant may soon not meet inspection standards set by the Arizona Department of Environmental Quality nor safety criteria from the U.S. Occupational Safety and Health Administration, thus causing Superior concern.

"Likewise, when the plant was built, Superior had a larger population and thus a greater flow of wastewater to process. The volume of wastewater is now lower but the plant is built to run only at full capacity," Pryor said.

In upgrading the plant, plans call for the treatment apparatus to be divided in half, with only one side operating at a time under normal conditions, he noted. Wastewater treatment can be shifted between the two chambers as the other side receives preventive maintenance. And both sides can be operated at once under rare conditions when wastewater volume increases due to weather conditions.

Being able to operate the plant at half capacity much of the time also will decrease the overall cost of operating the plant, Pryor noted.

To pay for the upgrade, Superior applied for a $1.2 million grant from the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Additional funding will come from the town's enterprise funds and from an increase in wastewater treatment/sewer fees charged to property owners.

At present Superior homeowners are charged for sewer services at $13 per month, which according to Pryor is among the lowest rates in the state. The plan is to raise the sewer rate by $3 to $16 per month in 2018 and raise it an additional $3 each year until it reaches $28 per month in 2022. This would still be less than the current statewide average for wastewater services of $30.98 per month. Residential customers in San Manuel pay $54.43 per month. San Manuel is unincorporated and does not have a sewer district. A private company owns the wastewater treatment plant.

Wastewater services for commercial customers would go to $36 per month next year while industrial rates will continue to be negotiated based on usage.

To begin wastewater services, homeowners will pay a $25 startup fee. Homeowners who discontinue wastewater services while they are away for an extended length of time will likewise be assessed $25 to restart their services on their return.

Superior also plans to tighten up collection of past due wastewater service charges by adding a late fee of $5 per month onto past-due payments. Accounts over 90 days in arrears will be sent to a collection agency. Accounts more than 120 days delinquent will have a lien filed against their property. Accounts more than 12 months in arrears will have sewer services disconnected following 30 days written notice.

Superior will offer a Utility Assistance Program to allow residents to apply for a temporary reduction in rates based on need.

In planning to upgrade the Superior wastewater treatment plant, the town is taking into account that needs will continue change. The town currently expects population growth to be low in the foreseeable future, with much of it occurring midtown along Main Street from Pinal to Magma roads. But local economic changes could speed up or slow down the trend, the making the twin-chamber redesign able to provide optimum treatment at optimum cost no matter which way things go.

The current plant processes an average 500,000 gallons of wastewater daily.

Rural Policy Forum, Copper Basin Chamber and Prickly Pears

The Arizona Rural Policy Forum took place in Thatcher and Safford this past week. Over three days, the group held presentations and discussions, learned more about Graham County, and made helpful connections with agencies and government workers. I found myself wishing that members of the Arizona Legislature could have been present to learn more about rural issues. There was a good turnout of supervisors from the counties, however. I attended in my capacity as a board member of the Copper Communities Economic Development Coalition (CCEDC). It was a worthwhile experience.

The towns of Superior, Globe, and Miami had a large number of participants. I am glad that our own CCEDC is working cooperatively with the Southern Gila County EDC. I foresee some things that will benefit all our towns.

Summer Sunsets Gallery Exhibit at Boyce Thompson Arboretum

Photographer Roger Degler became captivated by Arizona's majestic sunsets four decades ago after moving to the Grand Canyon State; his art fills the gallery at Boyce Thompson Arboretum this month - and he welcomes visitors to his meet-the-artist reception Saturday, Aug. 19, from 10 a.m. to noon.

Saturday is also the 6th Annual Prickly Pear Festival in downtown Superior - a free event that celebrates prickly pears and other edible desert plants. Plan a day trip: check out Superior's unique festival, then stop by and talk about art and photography with Roger Degler at his gallery opening, just three miles west, at the Arboretum.

Roger's story echoes many other artists - starting as a kid with a Kodak Brownie camera; graduating to more serious photography with a 35mm SLR film camera in the 1970s and learning about photography as an art form.

"I'm an electronics and software engineer. I started learning electronics at age 11, fixing radios and TVs. I was soon building electronic kits and designing my own circuits. At age 15, I began programming computers. And that has remained my interest to this day," he said.

"Right from my backyard, or driving to-and-from work each day I see the beautiful sunrises and sunsets across the desert," said Degler. "This led me to purchase my first digital camera - a pocket-sized point-and-shoot; I began literally pulling over to the roadside during my commutes to and from work, shooting pictures of the rising or setting sun out the car window. I was hooked - soon I was hiking into the desert every colorful evening for new sunset pictures."

"What I love most, and try to capture in my pictures, are the

Superior Optimist Club

In August of 2004, 27 community leaders gathered to create the Superior Optimist Club. These community leaders had become actively involved in trying to start positive activities in Superior, after hearing about Optimist International the group inquired about starting a chapter of the international organization.

At first the group started out hosting movie nights and helping with local parades and recreation activities. As their membership evolved they eventually became the primary organizer of the annual Miracle on Main Street parade for Christmas and continued the Honor Roll Banquet tradition that began with Beta Sigma Phi many years before. The banquet celebrates the academic achievements of the students with a banquet and awards ceremony. As the years progressed the club continued to grow the honor roll banquet and now they award laptop computers to graduating Seniors who have earned the Honor Roll the first three quarters of each school year, from their 8th grade through Senior years. To date the club has awarded over 50 laptop computers to deserving students.

The Optimist Club also offers a scholarship in memory of their members who have passed away. They are also a sponsor of the Second Friday Special Events and Music in the Park each month. In addition to these community efforts the club also support the Superior Little League, Superior Food Bank and other youth and community activities as their budget allows.

The Great American Eclipse in the Copper Corridor

Humans have been paying attention to eclipses for more than five thousand years, according to NASA.

Petroglyphs in Ireland, clay tablets from Babylon and even ancient Chinese writings all point to solar eclipses. One passage translates in English to “the Sun and Moon did not meet harmoniously.”

On Monday, Aug. 21, Americans will witness the phenomenon of a solar eclipse. Although the total eclipse will only be visible from 14 states, a partial eclipse will be visible from rest of the United States, including Alaska and Hawaii. It has been named the “Great American Eclipse.”

A partial eclipse will also be visible in the Copper Corridor.

Local astronomer, Mike Weasner, is heading to Kentucky to witness and photograph the total eclipse. Weasner is a member of the Dark Skies Committee at Oracle State Park. He has been looking at the stars since he was just a young boy. In recent years, he has explored and tested ways of photographing the stars including using his iPhone.

Weasner will share a Powerpoint presentation in the living room of the Kannally Ranch House on Saturday, Sept. 23, beginning at 5:30 p.m. He will offer a slide show report on his solar eclipse experiences as part of an August Sky and Telescope Tour.

A solar eclipse occurs when the Moon passes between Earth and the Sun. On August 21, 2017, a total solar eclipse will occur and be visible along a band crossing the United States; first seen from land in the US at Oregon’s Pacific coast, and then it will progress eastward along a path through many states and finally passing offshore in South Carolina. (Oracle will see a partial eclipse with the Sun covered about 60%. Consequently proper and safe solar protection will be required to view/photograph the partial eclipse phase in Arizona.)

A Star Party will follow the program, 7-9 p.m., with telescope viewing and night sky interpretation, thanks to Tucson Amateur Astronomers Association.

No reservation is needed for the star party; however, please call at 520-896-2425 for a reservation for the 5:30 p.m program. The program and party are free with park admission.

For more information on the eclipse, visit eclipse2017.nasa.gov.

If you are interested in Weasner’s iPhone astrophotography, visit <http://cjky.it/2w9NoOH>.

In zip code 85623, you will see a partial solar eclipse.

The eclipse will peak at 10:36:37 am MST, when the moon obscures 61% of the sun.

The mission of Optimist International is to Bring out the best in youth and promote optimism as a way of life. The Optimist's advice to business and success, simply follow the Optimist Creed!
The Optimist Creed
 Promise Yourself
 To be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind.
 To talk health, happiness and prosperity to every person you meet.

 To make all your friends feel that there is something in them.
 To look at the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true.
 To think only of the best, to work only for the best, and to expect only the best.
 To be just as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own.

To forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievements of the future.
 To wear a cheerful countenance at all times and give every living creature you meet a smile.
 To give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have no time to criticize others.
 To be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear, and too happy to permit the presence of trouble.

Corrections
 In our July 19 In Your Biz article about the Pickle Barrel Trading Post, we inadvertently switched the names of the couples. The original owners were Jim and Kelly Moss. Kevin and Sandra joined Jim and Kelly in owning and operating the business. Kevin and Sandra are pictured in the photo. My apologies for the confusion... I was too distracted by all the great merchandise. - Mila

 In last week's In Your Biz article we listed the business name as Superior Environmental Services when it should of read Superior Environmental Solutions. Our apologies to Mario and his team, they do work hard to find solutions for their customers.

ALONG THE GILA

the Chamber has elected Ginger Chester to be the new President of the Board. Former President Rosalind Padilla praised her youthful energy and new ideas. Ginger has posted a community survey on Facebook about our Halloween festivities, and hopes many people will respond.
 And, in my years here, I never realized that individuals can join the Chamber! Put me on the stupid list, because many of my friends who don't own businesses have been active for many years... I just never made the connection. So I will be joining to support our communities and businesses as best I can. Want to join me? Membership forms are available at the chamber office, in the rack inside the foyer of the Courthouse.

This Saturday is the Prickly Pear Festival in Superior. It has grown every year since it was started. I hope to attend for the fun of it and learn more about planning and bringing about events like this. I hope to see you there.

The Hayden Town Council will hold its regular meeting Monday, August 21, at 5 p.m. The Kearny Town Council meets the same night at 7:30 p.m. Check the local post office for the agendas, or visit town hall on Monday. Be an informed citizen and attend the meetings.

From people at the Rural Policy Forum, I learned that the tamarisk beetle is now on the Hassayampa River in Arizona, and that the beetle is also crossing into Arizona on the upper reaches of the Gila. It will probably reach us in a year or two. This could be good for us. If the larger tamarisks are gone, the beetles will feed on the emerging plants and weaken or kill them. But... the beetle is itself an invasive species feeding on another invasive species (the tamarisk). Will the beetle upset another aspect of the environment? We won't know for a long time.

Kearny Town Manager Anna Flores reports that tamarisk eradication continues on the firebreak and other areas around the Kearny Airport. The Winkelman Natural Resources Conservation District (WNRCD) meets this month and continues working on implementing the FEMA grant to work on the Gila. People in Dudleyville have been inquiring about making their homes more fire safe. There is lots of work for all of us to do.

Queen Valley FD receives 'Fido' bag donation from Chrome Angelz and the K9 Defender Fund

In an emergency, response teams have many tools to help those in need, however for canines and other pets this is not always the case.

Due to a generous donation from the Chrome Angelz and the K9 Defender Fund, the Queen Valley Fire District was the recipient of a Fido Bag from the FETCH Foundation and a Buddy Bag from the K9 Defender fund. These bags contain items such as specialized oxygen masks, splints, burn blankets and many other pet specific items to assist our first responders during a fire and or other emergencies where pets may be involved.

beautiful and daily artworks that God paints in our Arizona skies. Sunset photography has become a planned destination, instead of just incidental. Yes, I still pull over for a particularly opportune roadside snapshot - but each day I find myself keeping an eye on the sky, watching the cloud formations, paying attention to the wind direction - planning ahead, deciding where I can side-track during my evening commute; what time

I'll be able to get there to best take advantage of the surrounding landscape features and conditions above in the troposphere - for yet a new perspective on the setting sun. I plan special outings in order to get to places that I wouldn't normally pass on my daily commute.
