Hayden-Winkelman School District will open online

Hayden-Winkelman Unified School District students will begin the school year learning online beginning Tuesday, Sept. 8. Online only learning will continue through Nov. 12.

“The district will re-evaluate in-person instruction at the end of October to determine if it is possible to safely bring students back into the classroom after the first quarter,” explained Hayden-Winkelman School Superintendent Jeff Gregorich.

The district will provide on-site childcare services required in Governor’s Executive Order as needed as of Aug. 17 but students and families are encouraged to stay safe and continue to access learning digitally at home for the safety of children, parents and staff.

Hayden-Winkelman Unified School District has been on the national stage for the past several months as teachers, principal and superintendent have shared their own experiences with COVID-19 and the loss of their beloved colleague and friend Kim Byrd who passed away on June 26 due to the coronavirus.

“It has hit us very hard. We are still grieving as we prepare for a late start to the school year on Sept. 8. The delay in the start of the school year has provided teachers with the online training needed to be prepared for online teaching and learning,” said Leonor Hambly K-8 principal Pam Gonzalez.

One of the district’s teachers spoke out on Aug. 6 at the United States House of Representatives Select Subcommittee on the Coronavirus Congressional Hearing. Leonor Hambly second grade teacher Angela Skillings shared her concerns about risking the lives of everyone in our community by opening our schools to in-person instruction too soon. She and her colleague, Jena Martinez, also contracted COVID-19 while team teaching summer school with Mrs. Byrd. In the Congressional Hearing, Mrs. Skillings described opening schools too soon during the pandemic as a needless experiment that is too dangerous and will lead to more students, staff, parents, and grandparents becoming sick and potentially dying from COVID-19.

Gregorich also shared his story and concerns about opening school for in-person instruction safely with the Washington Post on Aug. 1. He described the idea of safely opening of schools as a “fantasy” and strongly believes that Arizona and other states that rush to re-open will lose more like Mrs. Byrd. Gregorich believes we need to open schools to in-person instruction when medical experts believe it’s safe. He is concerned that political pressure, not the medical experts may be driving decisions to open schools across the United States too quickly, which he believes is scary.

“We’re in the middle of a pandemic that we know is deadly to some and not others,” Gregorich said. “How can we open and risk the spread of COVID-19 in a small rural school community that has already experienced the reality of the coronavirus? Bringing students and staff together in our schools and classrooms just does make sense now and we know that. Why is it so hard to understand?”

CVRMC now providing cancer radiation treatment

Cobre Valley Regional Medical Center (CVRMC) is now providing cancer radiation treatment. There is no more need to travel great distances for this care. CVRMC is the first hospital in the State of Arizona to acquire a Halcyon System for Image-Guided Radiation Treatment. This innovative technology from Varian Medical Systems delivers precise radiation to cancerous areas of the body unmatched by any radiation therapy currently being administered.

Dr. Tam Nguyen, Radiation Oncologist at CVRMC, stated, "This is a very advanced machine and CVRMC is on par with the best hospitals in the country. The Halcyon matches the University of Pennsylvania Medical Center and the University of San Diego Medical Center. There are only 4 of these machines in the country and CVRMC is one of the 4 to have this latest technology."

CVRMC treated its first cancer patient using the Halcyon on July 7 and has seen a steady growth of patients over the past few weeks. "Having full-service Oncology here in our community touches my heart very deeply. My oldest daughter, Aubrie, had cancer. She received both chemotherapy and radiation treatments in Flagstaff," stated Evelyn Vargas, Patient Experience Officer at CVRMC. "You want the very best for your loved one and want to provide as much comfort as you can. Part of this comfort for cancer patients in our community is to shorten the distance to receive the very best treatment."

"The Halcyon has cut treatment time in half and precisely targets tumors to maximize dose while minimizing exposure of the surrounding healthy tissues and organs," said Dr. Tam Nguyen. Because of its versatility, the Halcyon system can be used to treat a wide range of cases, including prostate, breast, head and neck, and many other forms of cancer.

To facilitate a closer connection between patient and therapist during a Halcyon treatment, the system incorporates a couch-mounted camera that travels with the patient and a two-way intercom, making it easy for the therapist to monitor and converse with those receiving treatment.

For more information, contact CV Radiation Oncology at 928-402-2881.

The new Halcyon Radiation machine is such a huge addition to the many services CVRMC provides. CVRMC is one of four hospitals in the country to have this technology. This is truly something great for those patients traveling great distances, many times a week for radiation treatments for cancer. Copper Area News is committed to providing our readers with as much information as possible. We post a daily update on our Facebook page with the total positive COVID-19 Data. This graph shows the daily counts of positive cases for the past week as of press time on Aug. 18, 2020.

There are a few points we would like our readers to consider when following this data.

1. This will continue to be a rolling total of positive cases. It does not reflect recoveries or deaths. The Arizona Department of Health Services does not break out this data.
2. If you see a reduction in numbers from day to day it is most likely due to a data entry error or mis-coding of a zip code (at the state level).
3. This is all zip code based data; most of our zip codes include unincorporated areas. There is no way to track exactly which areas each of the positive cases are. Example, Kearny and Winkelman each have small communities in their zip code that are not in the Town's incorporated boundaries.
4. If you live in Gila County, please follow the Gila County Health and Emergency Management, Facebook. They have maintained their data on recoveries and current positive cases.
5. You can follow other data such as ICU bed use, Ventilator use and hospital capacity online: <https://bit.ly/3inh280>

Working together, we can slow the spread of the virus across the Copper Corridor. Wear a mask in public, remain physically distant (6 feet apart or more), practice good hygiene (wash your hands frequently, sanitize high touch areas) and stay home if you are not feeling well.

Camille Formo with Baby Jax following his heart transplant.

Jax has a new heart!

On July 23, after 47 days of waiting, Jax Ethan Formo underwent heart transplant surgery.

Even though Jax has received his heart, he continues to overcome obstacles related to this type of surgery. He wakes up and wiggles, he responds okay and can follow movement with his eyes but has a lot of work to do. The next big step is for Jax to come off his ventilator and we are hopeful this will happen in the next week.

Jax will still be at Phoenix Children's Hospital for some time while he continues to recover.

The family would like to thank everyone who bought tickets, sold tickets and especially those who donated prizes to ensure the raffle was a success.

Please continue to pray for Jax as he becomes stronger everyday to rejoin his family.

"Once again, thank you from the bottom of our hearts," Hyrum, Camille, Maddie and Jax Formo said.

Local leaders meet to discuss Kearny Ambulance Service

Decreasing revenues and a reduction in reimbursements on Medicare and Medicaid transports has put a tremendous amount of pressure on local ambulance/EMS providers.

The Town of Kearny ambulance, which serves from the divide on SR 177 to the Aravaipa and Dripping Springs areas, has been experiencing much financial distress. Current Mayor Debra Sommers announced, last month, that the Town would be disbanding the ambulance service in January.

A meeting last week called by Gila County Supervisor Woody Cline brought together the communities of Superior, Kearny, Hayden and Winkelman to discuss options to save the service. Pinal County Supervisor Pete Rios also attended the meeting and Resolution Copper participated. All committed to helping find a solution.
