Recall election really is all about the mine

I find it quite interesting that the upcoming Recall Election for August 27, 2013, pitting pro-mine advocate Mila Lira against current Council Member "Kiki" Peralta, really IS all about the mine! In searching public records for campaign financial disclosures, I obtained the list of contributors to Ms. Lira's campaign. The majority of these individuals do not live in Superior, BUT they are also closely affiliated with the Resolution Copper project. Records indicate that the Vote Mila 2013 Political Action Committee received substantial monetary assistance from the following:

- Kimberly Wold, Donor, the past Arizona State Director for US Senator Jon Kyle from 1998 – 2013

- Snell & Wilmer, a full-service business law firm with more than 400 attorneys practicing in eight locations throughout the western United States and in Mexico, including Denver, Las Vegas, Los Angeles, Phoenix, Reno, Salt Lake City, Tucson, and Los Cabos. This is a firm with a long history of providing quality legal services to the mining industry, including Resolution Copper (RCM). They have brought some of the toughest mining projects in the Southwest to fruition, and they understand the issues of heavily contested mining projects.
- Richard Mallery, Senior Partner and Attorney, Donor

- DMB Associates, a high-powered real estate company based in Scottsdale whose common link with Resolution Copper is that they share, or have shared, the same public relations firm, Gordon C. James Public Relations Co. This firm develops branding and media campaigns, and they list RCM as a client.
- Charley Freericks, Executive President, Donor
- Dea McDonald, Senior Vice President, Donor
- Michael Davenport, Real Estate Broker, Donor
- Sundt Construction, a Phoenix-based construction company who specializes in mining and industrial projects.

They installed the RCM #10 shaft cooling system, receiving over $9,000,000 for the job. They were also contracted by RCM to repave a 1 ½-mile segment of the roadway from the US Highway 60 to the #9 and #10 mine site.

- David Crawford, Owner and Chief Executive Officer, Donor
- G. Michael Hoover, Chief Operations Officer, Donor
- Jeff Williamson, Senior Vice President, Donor
- Clint Sundt, Mining Area Manager, Donor
- Superior Copper Alliance, Donor, Recall Committee formed after the Superior Town Council took action to not support the RCM land exchange legislation. Their membership is made-up of RCM supporters.

- The remainder of the list I identified as local donors—who are also RCM supporters. You can read the full report on the Town's website at: <http://bit.ly/13vOAsx>

The campaign financial report (as of August 6) indicates that over $3,200 was collected. This is surprising since I hear that most local candidates receive under $500 for their campaign. However, the biggest surprise for me is that the majority of Mila's funds came from outside our community—and more specifically, from companies doing business with RCM.

You have to ask yourself: WHY does the funding for a local recall campaign in a small, rural community come from big-name contributors, outside of Superior, who all have done business with and profited from this mining project?

In my opinion, this recall election is nothing more than blatant support of the RCM project and land exchange before many critical questions and issues are resolved.

It is for this reason that I support the Town Council's decision to oppose the legislation and based on this, I fully support Soyla "Kiki" Peralta for re-election. She is not all about the mine; she's all about the entire community.

Sincerely,
/s/ Sonnie Sansom

Support your local police!

On August 15, 2013, the Town Council voted 4 to 3 to move one more step towards replacing our police department with the Pinal County Sheriff's Department. Their intent is clear now, but they have not yet disbanded our local police. The Pinal County Board of Supervisors has the final say and they are listening even if our own Town Council won't. We have just a few days to make our voices heard. A petition requesting that the responsibility for maintaining law and order in Superior should remain in the hands of our local police department is currently circulating in Superior. If you want to keep our police department, please sign the petition and tell your friends. The petitions are located at Save Money Market, Porter's Café and His and Hers hair Salon. Thank you to all of those 220 people who have already signed. If you signed the petition the first time it went around in June, please don't sign it again. Thank you for your support.

Diverse rainbow of people

I've been hearing the term "outsider" in town, usually used by people who are afraid that our town will be over run by people who don't look like they do, or people who are of a different background, people of a different economic class, etc, etc. This is unfortunate.

Perhaps we should all remind ourselves that, like our nation as a whole, our little town is made up of a very diverse rainbow of people, something we should all be very proud of. None of us are "outsiders."

I find it ironic that some of the same people who are bellyaching about "outsiders" are the very same individuals who want to invite the Pinal County Sheriff's Department to take over our police department. If someone is truly afraid of a destructive takeover of our town, they should oppose this ill conceived and costly idea.

Fortunately, the final word on our police department is up the Pinal County Board of Supervisors, not the town, or Superior's government. We should all be sure to sign one of the petitions opposing this hostile takeover by an outside force. Do it soon!

Gaston named interim manager; council votes to continue negotiations with PCSO

By Nina Crowder
Superior Sun

The Superior Town Council has decided to continue negotiating with the Pinal County Sheriff's Office for police coverage in the town of Superior. The council is looking for a five-year contract with Babeu's office. There was some discussion about whether to continue talks or retain the town's police force.

Councilmen John Tameron and Hank Aguilar made the motion and second.

Near the end of Thursday's meeting, the town council went into executive session and upon return a motion was made by Councilwoman Soyla "Kiki" Peralta and seconded by Aguilar to hire Margaret Gaston as interim town manager effective Sept. 2, 2013. The motion was approved. Gaston has been working with the town as town clerk and has served as the interim town manager for the town of Kearny.

Kane Graves mentioned the upcoming Prickly Pear Festival on Aug. 24. This one day event will showcase local restaurants which have a special signature dish celebrating the ripe fruit. The event is free.

Graves also updated the town council that on the September agenda there will be information on the Magma Hotel project.

There were a few special presentations. Elizabeth Magallanez presented a certificate of appreciation to Sylvia Perez for all her hard work with the records area. Perez worked for a year and a half going through boxes. The boxes had mixed paperwork from different years. She went through everything by box and after separating all the paperwork, she organized everything and put them in binders. Mayor Jayme Valenzuela said, "Thank you very much for your hard work and dedication to the town."

Councilwoman Peralta announced that she had received some funds to donate and she chose the Friends of the Library and Red Bear Outfitters. Peralta said she felt that the Friends of the Library are on a tight budget and could use a little extra; they graciously received a donation of $75. The Red Bear Outfitters were also chosen since they do a lot for the community without much recognition;

Superior to celebrate the humble

"Yum" is not the first word that comes to mind when most people view a hardy, spiny prickly pear plant.

But visitors to the Second Annual Superior Prickly Pear Festival on Aug. 24 will learn to peel and eat the succulent spiny pads, or nopales, or turn the juicy rosy-purple fruits into juice, syrup, wine, beer and all sorts of tasty main and side dishes.

The festival, set in the old copper mining town of Superior, is the only one of its kind in the country and celebrates all things prickly pear.

The event, sponsored by the Superior Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with the Boyce Thompson Arboretum, will begin with an early-morning hike to Old Pinal City led by Tonto National Forest Archeologist Scott Wood. The hike is free. Meet at the Superior Municipal Airport, on Highway 60, at 6 a.m. for the moderate two-hour walk. Wood will discuss the colorful history of the once thriving mining town and how both Native Americans and European settlers utilized the local wild desert plants. From 8 to 10 a.m., the Superior Fire Department will be dishing out a pancake breakfast – with prickly pear syrup – on the patio at Porter's Cafe, 404 Main St.. A donation of $6 is requested for the breakfast, with all proceeds going to the firefighters.

Chandler brewer Pete

Rendek and his son, Greg, will lead a three-hour morning workshop on brewing a unique Prickly Pear India Pale Ale, starting at 9 a.m. Rendek tailors his program to amateurs who can begin with small batches and a minor investment.

The class is limited to 20 and advance reservations are required. There is a fee of $25 per participant. To reserve a place, call Lynn Heglie, festival chairman, at 520-827-9398.

From 1 to 2 p.m., Jerry Temanson, of High Desert Vineyard and Winery in Globe, will talk of the fun -and problems- of making prickly pear wine. The talk, at Porter's Cafe, is free and includes a tasting of a country prickly pear and pomegranate wine.

The Superior Senior Center, at 734 Main St. will be the hub for foodies interested in taming the spiny, prickly plants. From 10 to 11 a.m., Carolyn Niethammer, the Tucson native foods expert and author of several bestselling cookbooks including "American Indian Cookery," "Cooking the Wild Southwest" and "The Prickly Pear Cookbook," will demonstrate three new recipes, including a prickly pear and onion relish.

"You're Not Going To Eat

That, Are You?" is the title of native food doyen Jean Groen's entertaining talk, beginning at 1 pm. Groen, well known to fans who pack her prickly pear workshops at the Boyce Thompson Arboretum, will show visitors how to gather and juice the fruit, or tunas, and safely de-spine the pads for use in a variety of nutritious and delicious salads and desserts.

Both Niethammer and Groen will sign copies of their cookbooks after their talks.

RESOLUTION COPPER MINE

OPEN LETTER TO OUR SUPERIOR NEIGHBORS

Dear Neighbor,

Many of us who work for Resolution Copper Mining, including me, attended the Superior Town Council special meeting on August 1. It was a pleasure to see such a good turnout and to see such strong interest in the future of the town and the mine. We thank the council for setting aside time to conduct the meeting.

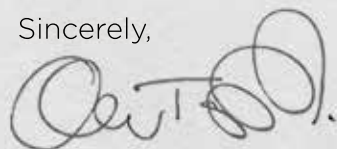

Council members explained their current stance on the project and the land exchange bill pending in Congress; many residents of the community and the region voiced their opinions. We hope the meeting might help us all open a fresh discussion about the issues faced by the town and the mine. We now have a better understanding of the council's concerns, and we are confident that we can work with all the council members to address them. Our hope is that we can regain the council's support for both the mine and the land exchange bill.

The council and the residents of Superior have helped us not just to communicate our plans better, but also to improve our plans in important ways. They have helped us earn the support we have, and the additional support we hope to earn in the months ahead. Our desire is to create a positive, constructive partnership between the council, the town and ourselves that will allow us to address both the short- and long-term issues we all face.

We hope to work with the council in an effort to reach agreement on how we can work together and define a path forward. Our goal is a solid, constructive relationship leading toward a better future for the community, the region and the mine. We anticipate that the mine will have a life of 40 years or more, and we recognize the importance of maintaining a strong relationship with the community throughout the mine's life.

As always, we are willing to discuss any question or concern you might have. Come by our office at 402 W. Main Street, call us at 520.689.3409, or email us at info@resolutioncopper.com.

Sincerely,

Andrew Taplin

Superior School Board setting new goals

By Nina Crowder
Superior Sun

Sometimes even the school board needs to go to school.

Last week's special meeting of the Superior School District Governing Board had the school coming to them.

Julia Smock with the Arizona School Board Association (ASBA) held a workshop for the governing board. Smock discussed the school board policies and informed the board that they can change the policies and adopt them as needed. The school board establishes policies that are their responsibilities. It is the superintendent's responsibility to translate them and put them into administrative action. There was a great deal of explaining the relationship and duties of the school board and the superintendent.

The school board and superintendent work hand in hand. Communication to the public, staff and parents plays a key role. The superintendent recommends and implements programs of school community relationships and keeps the community informed of district performance, policies, programs and procedures. The board adopts programs of school community relations and remains responsive to the community.

The school board commits to a vision of high expectations for student achievement and quality instruction and defines clear goals towards that vision. The board has shared beliefs and values about what is possible for students, their ability to learn and the system's ability to teach all children at high levels. They are data savvy, embracing and monitoring data both positive and negative. They use data to drive continuous improvements. They align and sustain resources, such as professional development, to meet district goals and to lead as a united team with the superintendent. Together they are a strong collaboration with mutual trust.

Setting appropriate agendas, making procedures, meeting procedures and school board communication was also addressed. The most important item was communication. Board members have to communicate with the superintendent. The superintendent needs to know that the board members are following the communication policy that has been adopted for the staff and community. If a board member acts outside of policy it can damage the school board and superintendent relationship as well as create confusion and distrust among the staff and community.

The district mission statement was discussed at great length. The current mission statement is as follows: It is the mission of Superior Unified School District to provide a nurturing environment that ensures that students will be provided an opportunity to attain maximum achievement, academically, socially, culturally, physically, ethically and emotionally. Students will work toward acquiring a social academic foundation essential for achieving individual and group success and will make contributions to continually improve self and society.

This mission will be accomplished by the board, the administration, the staff and the community by cooperating as a team and working together in a positive direction with curriculum/instruction as the number one priority.

Public records, meeting agendas, open meeting laws and educational philosophy were discussed as well. The school board is operating within the Arizona School Board Association standards.

Some of the goals the school board and superintendent said they would like to see are: increased academics, 'A' rating for the school, programs like music and art to add to the curriculum, and handicap improvements on the facil-

Resolution Copper discusses tailing sites with public

By Nina Crowder
Superior Sun

Where are the tailings going?
That was the question of the night at last week's forum hosted by Resolution Copper Company.

Copper welcomed the public and many elected officials including Mayor Rankin of Florence, Lerry Alderman of Globe City Council, Dave Richards of Mesa, Superior Town Council members, Mayor Jayme Valenzuela, John Tameron, Mike Alonzo, "Kiki" Peralta and Steve Estatico. Pinal and Gila county boards were also represented.

"We have held many meetings and they have been very successful and we appreciate everyone taking their time to come to the meetings," Taplin said. "We desire to have a positive and constructive relationship with the Town of Superior, the Superior Town Council and public so that we can work through this world class project."

The purpose of last week's meeting was to inform the public about the Resolution Copper Mine Tailings Project and answer questions the public may have. Resolution Copper Mine (RCM) will create 3,700 jobs. $5 billion or more will be spent to design and build the mine, and close to $1 billion has already been spent to date. The mine will be in operation for 40 to 50 years. The mine will create $220 million in annual wages. It will produce $61 billion in total economic benefits to the state of Arizona. The mine will generate $20 billion in total federal, state, county and local tax revenue. They plan to produce one billion pounds or more of copper each year.

During the life of the mine, the tailings storage will require 3,000 to 4,000 acres (4.6 to 6.2 square miles) of land. The tailings consist of sandy, clay, dirt and leftover materials after ore has been mined. They are stored permanently in impoundments that must comply with strict environmental requirements for controlling dust, preventing acid, rock drainage and protecting water and other resources, as well as reclamation and closure.

RCM's first choice for the tailings site was Pinto Valley but since it has reopened the option of using that site has been eliminated. There are several places they are

Phone and Internet Discounts Available to CenturyLink Customers

The Arizona Corporation Commission designated CenturyLink as an Eligible Telecommunications Carrier within its service area for universal service purposes. CenturyLink's basic local service rates for residential voice lines are $14.49-$16.47 per month, and business services are $31.60-$38.00 per month. Specific rates will be provided upon request.

CenturyLink participates in a government benefit program (Lifeline) to make residential telephone service more affordable to eligible low-income individuals and families. Eligible customers are those that meet eligibility standards as defined by the FCC and state commissions. Residents who live on federally recognized Tribal Lands may qualify for additional Tribal benefits if they participate in certain additional federal eligibility programs. The Lifeline discount is available for only one telephone per household, which can be either a wireline or wireless telephone. A household is defined for the purposes of the Lifeline program as any individual or group of individuals who live together at the same address and share income and expenses. Lifeline service is not transferable, and only eligible consumers may enroll in the program. Consumers who willfully make false statements in order to obtain Lifeline telephone service can be punished by fine or imprisonment and can be barred from the program.

Lifeline eligible subscribers may also qualify for reliable home High-Speed Internet service up to 1.5 Mbps for $9.95* per month for the first 12 months of service. Further details are available at centurylink.com/internetbasics.

If you live in a CenturyLink service area, please call 888.833.9522 or visit centurylink.com/lifeline with questions or to request an application for the Lifeline program.

*CenturyLink® Internet Basics Program – Residential customers only who qualify based on meeting income level or program participation eligibility requirements, and requires remaining eligible for the entire offer period. First bill will include charges for the first full month of service billed in advance, prorated charges for service from the date of installation to bill date, and one-time charges and fees described above. Qualifying customers may keep this program for a maximum of 60 months after service activation provided customer still qualifies during that time. Listed High-Speed Internet rate of $9.95/mo. applies for first 12 months of service (after which the rate reverts to $14.95/mo. for the next 48 months of service), and requires a 12-month term agreement. Customer must either lease a modem/router from CenturyLink for an additional monthly charge or independently purchase a modem/router, and a one-time High-Speed Internet activation fee applies. A one-time professional installation charge (if selected by customer) and a one-time shipping and handling fee applies to customer's modem/router. General – Services not available everywhere. CenturyLink may change or cancel services or substitute similar services at its sole discretion without notice. Offer, plans, and stated rates are subject to change and may vary by service area. Deposit may be required. Additional restrictions apply. Terms and Conditions – All products and services listed are governed by tariffs, terms of service, or terms and conditions posted at centurylink.com. Taxes, Fees, and Surcharges – Applicable taxes, fees, and surcharges include a carrier Universal Service charge, carrier cost recovery surcharges, state and local fees that vary by area and certain in-state surcharges. Cost recovery fees are not taxes or government-required charges for use. Taxes, fees, and surcharges apply based on standard monthly, not promotional, rates. ©2013 CenturyLink. All Rights Reserved. Pastor's Corner – Forty Days, Forty Nights

By Rev. Dennis Van Gorp Family Life Christian Center

In Matthew chapter 4, we find Jesus fasting for forty days and forty nights. Genesis 7:12 tells us that it rained upon the earth for forty days and forty nights. In Exodus 24:18 and 34:28, we find Moses on Mount Sinai with the Lord for forty days and nights.

Exodus 16:35 tells us that Israel ate manna for 40 years in the wilderness until they entered the Promised Land. Also, in 1 Kings 19:8 we find the prophet Elijah traveling for forty days and nights to reach Mount Sinai.

The number 40, in the Bible, refers to completion. Forty days of rain was the correct amount of time to flood the entire earth. God's instructions for Israel required forty days for Moses to take it all in. Elijah's journey to talk with God at Mount Sinai required a forty day trip through the desert wilderness.

God is not in a hurry. He wants you and I to get things right and do them correctly. He will take the necessary amount of time needed to prepare us for our next assignment from heaven, or for the next season in our ministry or lives. Do not get frustrated when you are in the middle of your forty day journey. I'm certain that forty days of walking through the desert wilderness was a tiring and monotonous trip for Elijah. So, hang in there. Your journey will be successful and you will reach your destination!

Panthers' youngsters getting much needed reps

By Andrew Luberda
Superior Sun

Head football coach Ryan Palmer has a roster full of young players on this season's team. Those younger players are getting all the repetitions they could ask for during training camp. With the graduation of several seniors, including two of the most decorated student-athletes (Louis Fuentes and Mario Padilla) to attend Superior High School, there are plenty of opportunities for the Panthers to gain experience.

"We're a really young group," Palmer said. "We lost nine starters from last year that had been starters for at least two years. We have a group that has potential and they show promise. It's getting them the reps and experience."

Most of the younger players are freshman who have not played at the varsity level but, according to Coach Palmer, will be counted on to perform against more experienced players on other teams.

"They are going to be asked to compete," Palmer said of his young roster. "It puts us at a disadvantage in that aspect but there is potential. I see it there."

The Panthers return only three players with varsity experience including Matthew Zavala, the only returning starter.

Coach Palmer said Fuentes and Padilla were great players and leaders for his program but their departure provides an opportunity for someone else.

"We need some of the younger kids to step up and fill those roles," Palmer said. "Like I said, we're learning and getting better every day."

Palmer said Nicolaus Cruz and Elias Olmos are currently competing for the starting quarterback position. He said the team is scheduled to scrimmage Salt River HS on Aug. 23, 2013 and expects their performances in the scrimmage will help ities. Other goals include: improve staff moral, increase staff salaries, school nurse, new playground and safety equipment, improve current school website, communication with public, increased enrollment, more food options for school lunches, improve technology and increased technology education. Ms. Smock went over some different ways to try and make these goals attainable. The school board and superintendent will be having some workshops before the regularly scheduled meetings to discuss steps in obtaining these goals.

In other business, Mila

Besich Lira, the Superior School Board president, recently attended a Rural Economic Development Conference. The conference provided information on different ways to obtain grants for the school, ways to develop new ideas and strategies, strengthen ability to operate, build and renew relationships, community services and economic development in rural schools, how to allow everyone the opportunity to obtain a GED and how to promote education across America.

"It was a very informative conference and I obtained a great deal of information," Lira said.

Just a few action items were discussed as per the agenda. An additional substitute teacher, Shirley McCauley, was approved and added to the Superior Unified School District list of substitute teachers. The school board discussed and approved Food Service Manager Melissa Perez's salary. William Duarte's salary will be discussed at the Sept. 4 meeting.

The Superior Unified School District Board's next regularly scheduled meeting is Sept. 4, 2013 at 7 p.m. at the John F. Kennedy Elementary Auditorium. Some of the items to be discussed are: a No Bullying Act, summer school, security and the Harding School Property. There will be a workshop for the board on Sept. 4, from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. The public is welcome to attend both meetings.

looking at now. There are competing interests for the land on U.S. 60 near Florence. RCM is looking to an area west of Superior on U.S. Forest Service land along with Potts Canyon/Hewitt Canyon, Gonzales Pass and Silver King.

RCM has recently submitted an application to the U.S. Forest Service for permission to gather baseline data over a general area west of Superior covering several tailings alternatives. This means they have asked to do research which includes some drilling on the site. No decisions have been made. The application involves a review process under the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA). It may take up to a year before RCM can gain permission to gather the baseline data. NEPA is a public process, which gives opportunities for public input.

Frank Deal, the tailings manager for RCM, provided a power point presentation explaining what tailings are. He explained how they are stored, how they will be transported (pipeline), and locations they are looking at that included before and after reclamation. Many of the questions from the audience were answered in the presentation by Deal. A few questions required a little more explanation. He explained how the 3,700 jobs will be broken down. According to Deal, 1,400 jobs will be directly employed with Resolution Copper while the remainder 2,300 jobs will be with contractors as indirect employees. The ore will be hoisted through the shaft onto a conveyor and transported. The old Magma tailings site will never be used again. Legally they are not allowed to build or put together a tailing site like the Magma tailings site any longer. The legal aspects have changed. A question was asked about the possibilities of earthquakes due to the drilling but the RCM panel said they are not concerned with earthquakes.

The Resolution Copper Mine appreciates public opinions and questions and hopes to continue to work with the public, the Town of Superior and surrounding communities. If you have additional unanswered questions, please feel free to email Resolution Copper at info@resolutioncopper.com or call 520-689-3409.

There was a discussion for the approval of a deck and façade addition to the Copper Gecko deck. Resident and business owner Sonny Sansom presented the information. He said his business has increased, and he would like to build on a deck to the property he owns adjacent to the Copper Gecko. The proposed project meets the criteria needed for the project and Pinal County will oversee the project. This project was approved by the town council.

In other business, the council approved Resolution 543 and Ordinance 115 setting the tax levy amount and rate for the 2013-14 budget.

The council heard from resident Sue Anderson during the call to the public who had more information about the Prickly Pear Festival. There will be a hike to Pinal City, wine tasting, it is free and should be a lot of fun. She also asked for clarification on the vote for the PSCO negotiations.

The council heard a report on the Caboose Visitor's Center. A door is stuck and it has been for a while now. They also heard from resident Benny Hernandez during the call to the public about an incident that happened. He said that Pinal County Sheriff's Office was the only agency who helped him. Since the incident he has been harassed by a Superior Police Officer.

The Superior Town Council's next regularly scheduled meeting will be Sept. 4, 2013 at 7 p.m. The meetings are held at the Superior Senior Center, 360 W. Main St. Mayor Jayme Valenzuela openly encourages members of the public to attend the meetings.

The Panthers need to pay to attention to detail according to their coach.

“We need to do the little things right,” Palmer said. “Making sure we play the game the right way, making sure we aren't turning the ball over – taking care of the ball – and we're making the most out of our possessions.”

“As long as we can get our basic fundamentals (accomplished) and do the little things right – that is what's really important.”

Two students recognized for AIMS excellence

By Mila Besich Lira
Superior Sun

The AIMS test is not an easy test to pass. It is designed to challenge students and help schools determine where students are at in their academic careers. While most students pass the test and move on, it is not easy to excel in one yet alone all three subjects math, reading and science.

Two students from the Superior Junior-Senior High excelled at all three subjects in last year's AIMS tests. Those two students are Matthew Hernandez an eighth grader and Allison Martinez a Freshman.

The students were awarded a gift bag full of Superior Panther clothes, and other spirit merchandise donated by Ms. Sommers, the Woodmen of the World and the Superior Booster Club. The Superior Optimist Club gave each of the students a $25 Visa Gift Card.

Both of the students have big plans for their futures explained Billy Duarte, Principal at Superior Junior-Senior High School. "These two students have the potential to continue to make us proud through their hard work and great accomplishments," he said.

Matt Hernandez wants to be the best of the best educationally. He would like to attend NAU or ASU after high school to earn his degree as an engineer and then earn a Doctorate. His hobbies are running and he is always looking for new challenges.

Allison Martinez goals for high school are to exceed all her AIMS and maintain a 4.0 throughout her high school career. She would like to attend Central Arizona College for two years then transfer to the University of Arizona to major in Veterinarian Science. She plans on earning her Master's degree from one of the universities in Colorado. Her plans after college are to either to become a veterinarian here in Arizona or move to her family's ranch in Mexico to care for the cattle they raise with her skills. She enjoys volleyball, basketball, reading, practicing her French and crocheting.
