PCSO launches Secureview® Tablets for inmates in an effort to reduce recidivism

The Pinal County Sheriff's Office is excited about its partnership with Securus Technologies which will bring technology to the inmates at the Adult Detention Center. This technology is aimed at preparing the incarcerated with 21st century skills to help them have a successful future. Inmates are now able to use tablets to help advance their education and gain new skills while they are incarcerated.

The sheriff's office is now equipped with a digital toolkit made up of the SecureView® Tablet as well as Digital Mail Center and in August, will be adding eMessaging, all from Securus Technologies.

"With tablets, inmates can stay in touch with family and keep their minds pre-occupied with educational and religious programming. We expect that it will help with behavior," said Sheriff Mark Lamb, Pinal County Sheriff's Office.

Securus offers the community tablets for free, and Sheriff Lamb says they occupy the time of the incarcerated in productive ways and allows inmates to have access to better opportunities. One example is the job search application, which is powered by Securus' Jobview application.

"For those who want to improve themselves, it opens up that door," he said. "Jobview gives offenders opportunities, so if they're getting out of jail, they know how to prepare for a job as

Understanding Your Liver

The liver is the largest organ inside the body. It sits under the diaphragm, behind the ribs on the right side. It is an organ that is appropriately named. You cannot live without the liver. It protects the body by breaking down toxins you are exposed to throughout your life.

This is why most drugs that are taken by mouth lose 50 to 80 percent of their potency right up front. Pharmaceutical medications ultimately are recognized as toxins, albeit useful at times. Their toxicity is the reason they carry so many side effects and the reason the liver tries hard to neutralize them.

One of the many other functions of the liver is to secrete bile. This bile travels into the small intestines where it emulsifies fat that has been eaten. This makes the fat digestible. A good amount of the bile is stored in the gall bladder, tucked under the liver, to be held in reserve for quick access during fatty meals.

Another function of the liver that is vital to the body is that of producing proteins that act as transporters of nutrients. These proteins are like trucks that get loaded with fuel and supplies and travel to needy consumers (cells) throughout the body via highways (blood vessels).

In addition to transportation duties, these proteins create an osmotic effect that keeps fluid inside the blood vessels. A person who develops severe liver damage (cirrhosis) will suffer a decrease in protein production and eventually lose the ability to hold in fluid.

This results in ascites which is a midsection swollen with fluid.

In addition to these roles, proteins from the liver also form vital structures in the immune and coagulation systems.

Cholesterol is another product of the liver. Though cholesterol is associated with

A conceptual view of the San Manuel Community Park. John Hernandez | Miner

Renovation plans for Community Park in San Manuel nearly finalized

By John Hernandez
San Manuel Miner

At a public meeting held at the San Manuel Community Center on Tuesday, July 23, 2019, plans for the renovation of the park were discussed. The San Manuel Neighborhood Park is located at the intersection of W. Fifth Ave. and Avenue A. In February 2019, the park was acquired by Pinal County from BHP which previously owned and operated the park and community center. The park will now be operated by the Pinal County Open Spaces & Trails Department.

Kent Taylor, Director of Open Spaces and Trails and Don McGann of Don McGann & Associates spoke about the Phase I Plan for the park. Pinal County has budgeted $300,000 for the park. $25,000 will be used to address safety concerns and correct code deficiencies, leaving $275,000 for park improvements. At a previous public meeting, San Manuel residents identified what they felt were highest priority. The current budget will allow for five or six of these items. Renovations could begin within a year.

The budgeted items that can be addressed during Phase I of the project include: improved parking with 2 ADA accessible spaces; basketball court on existing slab; chain link fencing; swings; accessible walking path; group ramada; play structure for children 5 – 12 years old; fabric shade canopy; tree plantings. There is also a future plan concept for the Community Park pending budget approval and funding.

BHP is helping with the project and the County would like to see community volunteers get involved with the park. There is an Adopt a Park program where individuals, businesses, groups and organizations can volunteer to do certain types of work and maintenance at parks. For more information about Adopt a Park program, to view park plans or stay updated on the progress of the park visit pinalparks@pinalcountyaz.gov.

Local First Arizona Foundation holds stakeholder vision session for San Manuel

By John Hernandez
San Manuel Miner

More than 40 people showed up for a public meeting including Pinal County officials, BHP representatives and San Manuel business owners and community leaders. The meeting was sponsored by the Local First Arizona Foundation Rural Development Council. It was set up to find out what the stakeholders in the community see as their vision for San Manuel. What is needed in the town to make it sustainable?

Pete Rios, Pinal County Supervisor spoke and said that he needs an organized effort from people in San Manuel to give input about how Pinal County can better serve the community and determine what is needed in San Manuel.

Liza Noland, Director of Rural Programs was the moderator for the meeting. Attendees were split into three groups: Legacy which were people that have lived in San Manuel during its peak years when the mine and smelter were in full production; Youth and young families; and New Residents. The three groups were asked to have a discussion and then make a list of what they felt was needed in San Manuel.

The Legacy group would like to see a monument to the mining history of the area, a bank, grocery store and a Family Center for youth and family activities. The Youth and Young Families group wanted access to grants, volunteerism and engaged youth, a swimming pool with funding, jobs, an active airport, communication channel and youth programs beyond athletics. The New Residents saw as the needs: volunteerism, a family community center, Citizens On Patrol, a clean community, affordable sewer service, swimming pool, art and access to fresh foods.

Jill Bernstein of Arizona Beautiful, an organization that provides resources and knowledge about preventing illegal dumping and community beautification, also attended. She talked about funding being available to help with building restoration.

The next step is for a group to come forward or be organized to develop a non-profit that can sustain programming and can provide resources for the community. The group would need to be active in developing resources for the community and identifying priority issues and realistic goals for making San Manuel a better place to live in. They will not be able to do this without people willing to volunteer.

The next meeting will be held at Mammoth-San Manuel School District, 711 McNab Pkwy., San Manuel, on Wednesday, Aug. 28, 5:30-7:30 p.m. All are invited to this "town hall" style meeting.

San Manuel Miner

Boom, what you do to me!
It was a Hot Diggity Dog day at Family First Pregnancy Care Center & Diaper Bank in Oracle on Wednesday,

July 31, 2019. The Back to School celebration was well attended. The children and adults got to enjoy free hot dogs, a bag of chips and a drink. The kids also got to celebrate receiving a backpack filled with school supplies. The backpacks and supplies were collected by and donated to Family First by members of the Vista de la Montana Church in Catalina. Clare Grochocki, Center Director said a total of 90 backpacks were received by Family First.

Everyone had fun and it was a good way to start the school year. Thank you, Family First, for all you do in the community.

Members of the Vista Church in Catalina and Clare and Frank Grochocki celebrate back to school at Family First's Hot Diggity Dog last week. Vista Church donated backpacks for the center's back to school supply drive. (On the cover: kids had fun checking out all the backpacks that were donated. John Hernandez | Miner

The ABCs of life: how social-emotional development in early childhood is key to success later

Copper Corridor (August, 2019) – Parents who foster positive, nurturing relationships with their baby, toddler or preschooler will help the healthy development of their child's social-emotional skills that will serve the child later in life.

Important social and behavioral skills, such as motivation, self-discipline, focus and self-esteem begin to take root from birth to age 5. Successful people share these traits and families play a large role in helping children to learn these essential life skills.

“Families lay the foundation for babies, toddlers and preschoolers to be able to learn how to process the world around them,” said Kelly Lubeck, program manager for the family support and literacy team at First Things First. “Helping children learn skills that allow them to express how they feel, have empathy for others and work through conflict will serve them for their entire lifetime.”

First Things First encourages families to establish a nurturing environment during every stage of their young child's life.

For babies, creating a nurturing environment starts by making them feel safe and loved. This helps them develop the capacity to form a strong social-emotional foundation.

EARLY CHILDHOOD DEVELOPMENT

Parents can talk, read and sing with their baby; maintain a consistent routine, so the baby knows what to expect throughout the day; and provide responsive care by smiling, laughing or cuddling with them.

Supporting toddlers in developing emotional skills begins with allowing children to express their feelings. Experts from the U.S. Department of Education say some ways include saying, “You look sad. Let’s see if we can make you feel better.” This lets your child know that you are paying attention to their needs and want to be there for them.

Lubeck cautions against using time out, which can be counterproductive.

“Time outs for big feelings are not helpful to children and can be isolating,” she said.

Parents can instead set a good example by talking about their own feelings or emotions, which will help a young child describe their own feelings. For toddlers, use pictures of different emotions and label them for the child. Let the child know it’s ok to have strong feelings like anger or frustration and that you are there to help manage those feelings. Show different ways to manage those emotions such as taking deep breaths or spending time with a comfort item, such as a stuffed animal.

For preschoolers, parents can encourage the child to draw a picture of what happened to make them upset and describe what they were thinking and feeling at each stage.

According to the National Association for the Education of Young Children, research shows that children with higher emotional intelligence are better able to pay attention, are more engaged in school, have more positive relationships, and are more empathic. As adults, higher emotional intelligence is linked to better relationships, more positive feelings about work. Helping young children develop emotional intelligence will have a positive impact on them today and as they grow.

unhealthy processes of the body, it is actually extremely important as the foundation of all hormones.

Other functions of the liver include the storing of sugar for future use and processing amino acids into usable substances.

As you can see, the liver is very complex in nature. Fortunately, it is very resilient as well. It can lose up to three quarters of its cells before it ceases to function.

A diseased liver is referred to as hepatitis. Hepatitis can be caused by one of the various viruses that one might come in contact with such as Hepatitis A, Hepatitis B, or Hepatitis C or one of a handful of parasites.

Alcohol and other toxins account for many diseased livers. In the U.S. and other industrialized countries alcohol-related hepatitis actually outnumbers all other types of liver disorders by at least five to one.

The liver is a favored location for cancer to travel to and colonize since it addresses all toxins that use the highways of the body (blood vessels).

An over abundance of iron or copper can also damage the liver.

When the liver becomes diseased, a person may start to feel pain in the right abdominal area under the ribs. They may also become sensitive to smells due to a diminished ability to detoxify these substances. At times a person may develop jaundice – a condition that turns the skin and eyes yellow.

Protecting and supporting the liver is essential to life. Prevention through the avoidance of toxins is, of course, the most protective approach. If, however, one is inadvertently overwhelmed by toxins, there exist substances and methods to recover a healthy organ.

One of my favorite stories regarding liver distress involves a small group of people in the northwest who went into the forest to pick mushrooms. They, unfortunately, picked the wrong ones and were poisoned. Of the five who became critically ill, four had to have liver transplants while the fifth recovered simply by taking large amounts of a common medicinal herb, milk thistle.

PCSO TABLETS

This tool is intuitive and requires no staff intervention. In addition to the job search, it also has applications that give those access to the phone, education, mental health, and the law library.

"We hope this will help inmates better their lives while they are in our custody. Our population is working with educators in our jail. They now have the opportunity to get a GED. We hope it will help with recidivism and makes them more employable. If you have a job, and you're good at it, then you don't have a reason to commit a crime and come back into my facility," said Sheriff Mark Lamb.

SecureView® Tablet also offers the Make Mine program which brings premium content through applications such as eBooks, Podcasts, Music and Games to the jail population.

"We are introducing games so that they will not be disruptive and not politicking in the pod about race or gangs. So, this is another option to improve the safety of those incarcerated and of the staff," Sheriff Lamb added.

The SecureView® Tablet Make Mine program helps improve facility efficiencies by providing personal access to make phone calls and search for jobs as well as giving greater access to books, educational materials and other content. The educational offerings are the top interest of facility leadership.

The podcasts on the Make Mine tablets are another resource for inmates. Inmates can take advantage of those podcasts as a tool to manage stress, learn life skills and how being drug-free will benefit offenders.

"Some of our inmates have grown up with a mom and dad on drugs or alcohol. They've had it pretty rough growing up. The podcasts teach them about life decisions, not falling into the same old traps of committing crimes and doing drugs," said Sheriff Lamb.

PCSO believes having a healthy and strong support system is a good way for offenders to get back on the right path. So being able to keep in touch with their children and loved ones is so important. The tablets have the capability to make phone calls allowing a better opportunity to stay in touch with loved ones and adds that regular communication also helps reduce stress in the jail population. In fact, studies show a link between inmates maintaining relationships with their loved ones, while incarcerated, reduces recidivism.

From a security standpoint - the threat of contraband is one reason why the Pinal County Sheriff's Office looked for an alternative to regular mail. For example, Sheriff Lamb explains that fentanyl is now more prevalent with drug dealers and the cartel. Synthetic fentanyl is sold illegally as a powder, which can be inhaled or airborne and put officers in danger who are hand inspecting paper mail.

"Before Securus' Digital Mail Center, we had to visually inspect mail. Staff can overdose or even die from just the tiniest amount of this drug. Last year our staff discovered mail laced with methamphetamine. So, by scanning and electronically delivering paper mail, we protect our staff and our inmates," Sheriff Lamb explained.

The facility still receives some paper mail such as money orders and items for the law library.

Pinal County also introduced

Securus' eMessaging. This application on the SecureView® Tablet offers the incarcerated another way to keep in touch with family and friends while still maintaining all existing methods of communication.

Communication with the outside world better prepares inmates for re-entry, and that is a top priority for Sheriff Lamb who feels tablets give the incarcerated opportunities to build a better future.

"We want to be the top jail in the state or even the western region. The community needs to see what we are providing for our inmates to help them get back on their feet to be the best citizens they can be," Sheriff Lamb concludes.

The Pinal County Sheriff's Office's Adult Detention center houses an average of 500 inmates a day. The tablets are monitored and the inmates are aware that their activities and all forms of conversations are monitored, which is standard practice at all detention facilities.

Inmates work with the SecureView® Tablet.

Mammoth San Manuel Unified School District #8 will be participating in the National School Lunch Program and the School Breakfast Program. As part of this program, Mammoth San Manuel K-12 will offer healthy meals every school day. Breakfast will cost $1.75; lunch will cost $3.00. Your children may qualify for free or reduced-price meals. Reduced-price meals cost $.30 for breakfast and $.40 for lunch.

Qualifications for children to receive free or reduced price meals include: belonging to a household whose income is at or below the Federal Income Eligibility Guidelines, belonging to a household that receives public assistance, or if the child is homeless, migrant, runaway, foster, or participates in a Head Start or Even Start pre-Kindergarten program. Household size and income criteria are used to determine eligibility for free and reduced-price benefits if the household does not receive assistance or the children are not in the other categories mentioned above. Children can get free or reduced-price meals if the household's gross income falls at or below the limits on the Federal Income Eligibility Guideline chart.

Federal Eligibility Income Chart for School Year 2019-2020

Each additional person:	+$5,746	+$479	+$111	+$8,177	+$682	+$158

To apply for free or reduced-price meals, households can fill out the application and return it to the school unless the household has already received notification that their children are approved for free meals this year. Application forms are being distributed to all households with a letter informing households of the availability of free and reduced-price meals for their children and what is required to complete on the application. Applications also are available in the Cafeteria and Office at Mammoth San Manuel K-12.

Only one application is required for all children in the household and the information provided on the application will be used for the purpose of determining eligibility and verification of data. Applications may be verified at any time during the school year by the school or other program officials. An application for free or reduced-price benefits cannot be approved unless it contains complete eligibility information as indicated on the application and instructions. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, national origin, age, or disability.

Families can apply for benefits at any time. If a household member becomes unemployed or if the household size increases, the household should contact the school. Such changes may make the children of the household eligible for benefits if the household's income falls at or below the Federal Guidelines. Contact Joanna Diaz, DTR at any time to request an application.

Under the provisions of the free and reduced-price policy, Joanna Diaz, DTR will review applications and determine eligibility. Parents or guardians dissatisfied with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. Parents wishing to make a formal appeal for a hearing on the decision may make a request either orally or in writing to Lisa Armenta, Community Schools Director 520-385-2336 ext. 1110.

When known to Mammoth San Manuel K-8 households will be notified of their children's eligibility for free meals if they are members of households receiving assistance from the:

- Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP);
- Food Distribution Program on Indian Reservations (FDPIR); or
- Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF), if the State program meets Federal standards.

An application is not required for free meal benefits for Assistance Program participants and all of the children in the household are eligible for free meal benefits. If any children were not listed on the notice of eligibility, or if a household does not receive a notice of eligibility, the household should contact the school to have free meal benefits extended to them. Participants in the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC) may be eligible for free or reduced-price meals, but they will need to turn in an application including household size and total income.

When known to Mammoth San Manuel K-8 households will also be notified of any child's eligibility for free meals if the individual child is considered "Other Source Categorically Eligible", because the child is categorized, as defined by law as:

- Foster
- Homeless,
- Migrant,
- Runaway,
- Enrolled in an eligible Head Start, or
- Enrolled in an eligible pre-kindergarten class.

If any children were not listed on the notice of eligibility, the household should contact the school about their eligibility through the list above, or should submit an income application.

Households notified of their children's eligibility must contact the school if the household chooses to decline the free meal benefits.

For more information, you may call Joanna Diaz, DTR 520-385-2336 ext. 2214/ PO BOX 406 San Manuel AZ 85631. Pinal Rural, Oracle CERTs participate in LZ training at casino Pinal Rural Fire and Medical District, Oracle CERT volunteers and San Carlos Police participated in a special Landing Zone training at the Apache Sky Casino Saturday. Three different helicopter crews from Native Air, LifeNet and AirEvac taught the firefighters and first responders about setting up a landing zone. Each helicopter has different requirements, although basic landing zone rules are the same for all. Some of the lessons taught include: how to secure a landing zone, how to communicate with the pilot when landing may be compromised, what requirements are needed for patient transport, when to have helicopters on standby, how to approach the helicopter once its landed and when it's not appropriate to transport by helicopter.
