LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Baby Jar Glue

As summer is ready to turn to fall, most of us here in Arizona are ready for the cooler weather. The children are heading back to school and the routine of homework, projects and being back with friends. No one is more excited than mom!

Today back to school can be fun, shopping for new clothes, a new back pack, even maybe a new iPhone! (How things have changed!)

I remember growing up dreading going back to school. Most of the kids in my class came back to school with new clothes, school supplies and a new lunch box. What I remember is going back to school in tennis shoes with holes in them. There were seven of us kids in our family.

My parents did not have money to buy all of us new shoes at the same time! I had hand-me-down clothes, which was not fun for a boy with four older sisters!

The teacher would give us a list of supplies: two pencils, a box of crayons, wide lined paper and a bottle of glue. My mother was very creative; I got a baby jar with glue made from flour and water. I could have died!

On top of that, I brought my lunch in a brown paper bag, while the other kids had Superman lunch boxes! I cringe every time I see a brown paper bag to this day!

Today, here in Arizona, 25% of all our children live under the poverty level. At Family First in our service area over 50% of our children live under that level! To help out our local kids, at Family First every year we have a "Back to School Supplies Drive." We are asking for backpacks, paper, pencils, pens and folders so our kids can have the supplies they need for the school year.

Let's join together and make back to school a fun time for our kids! Thank you!

School supplies can be dropped off at either our Oracle or Winkelman center during the month of August.

God Bless,

Reaction to Hollywood Heroes column

I wonder if the Hollywood Heroes who were exposed in the "Me Too" scandal, and the increasing number in Hollywood accused of alleged pedophilia, will now have their stars removed? Food for thought for all of us, including Mr. Hernandez.

Respectfully,
/s/ Mary Mercer

Clarification on Dry Heat

The San Manuel Miner has received some feedback regarding the Dry Heat column, Hollywood Heroes, by John Hernandez, published in the Aug. 1, 2018 issue.

One such letter was unsigned by its author and, due to our editorial policy of requiring a signature before publication, we are unable to put it in print. But we thought we'd share some of his points and offer a clarification.

The author was upset that "Hernandez makes this act of crime all about our President and not the crime committed."

In the email, he says, "It seems he (Hernandez) feels it is ok to destroy someone's property if you think they don't deserve the property or award and you happen to disagree with that person's views."

To clarify, no. Neither John Hernandez nor the editorial staff at the San Manuel Miner condone destruction of property. We believe that the person or persons who perpetrated the crime should be punished.

The Dry Heat column wasn't about the destruction of the star. Rather it was a commentary on the fact that President Donald Trump actually HAS a star. It's a commentary on the fact that in days of old, those stars were reserved for actors and actresses, Hollywood Legends. Stars were given to actors and actresses and other Hollywood greats whose bodies of work warranted the honor.

But no one has the right to destroy or damage President Trump's star. It was awarded and, regardless of anyone's opinion political or otherwise, the star should be respected.

The San Manuel Miner publishes the Dry Heat columns as a means to initiate a conversation with our readers – as editorial or opinion columns are meant to do. Obviously, the column has done precisely that.

DALE'S AUTO COLLISION CENTER IS CLOSING ITS DOORS

In 2002, Dale and family decided to open a new family business here in San Manuel called Dale's Auto Collision Center. Over the years we have had many loyal customers. Our customers became our friends and extended family. We have laughed with you during the good times and cried with you during times of loss. That patronage and loyalty have meant so much to us over these past years. It is because of all of you that we have been successful and have been able to realize our dream of owning and operating a business. We simply don't have words to tell you how much each and every one of you have meant to us.

It is with great sadness and heavy hearts that we have decided to close our doors because of Dale's health. It has been a pleasure to serve this community for the past 16 years. We are sad to see it come to an end.

From the bottom of our hearts, we say a great big thank you for your friendship and patronage. Please keep us in your prayers.

Oracle woman sentenced in shooting death

On Thursday, July 26, 2018, Leonor "Lily" Guitard was sentenced to seven years of probation and six months in jail for shooting and killing Juana Cervantes Valesquez Sanchez in 2014. Guitard was originally charged with negligent homicide and then indicted for 2nd degree murder. A plea deal was made earlier this year with Guitard pleading no contest to a charge of manslaughter.

then telling officers that Sanchez had been beating her and that they were friends. No knives were found in the immediate area and Guitard did not have any physical injuries.

On Jan. 11, 2014 Pinal County Sheriff's deputies were dispatched to Guitard's home in Oracle where they found Sanchez on the floor in the dining room. Guitard was reported as being intoxicated. Court filings showed that blood levels of Guitard and Sanchez were above the legal limit. Guitard gave conflicting information to police claiming during her 911 call that she shot someone because they had stabbed her with a knife. Later she said she shot Sanchez who was breaking into her home and Court records show that Guitard's attorney argued that Sanchez and Guitard were friends and there was no motive for her to kill Sanchez. Guitard had been suffering from extreme depression, due to her husband's recent death and having lost her job. The Pinal County Adult Probation Department recommended probation based on her lack of criminal history and genuine remorse for killing Sanchez.

Mammoth Police Report

The suspect may be physically taken into the department and booked into jail, or the arresting officer may write a citation and release the suspect to appear in court later. All suspects are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law. Only criminal citations are listed. All damages are estimates.

Activity listed from July 26 through Aug. 1.

Volunteers sought for Sheriff's HUMV program

The Pinal County Sheriff's Office is looking for professional volunteers to provide services to veterans in our HUMV unit.

In November the Pinal County Sheriff's Office Adult Detention Center launched Housing Unit for Military Veterans or HUMV. Any individual who is booked into our jail will get their veterans status verified through Veterans Affairs. If they are a veteran, they can opt to join our veterans unit. This unit will consist of veterans from different branches of the military. These inmates will have access to mentors, councilors and educational opportunities that will help them once they are released. The mentorship program continues once veterans are released to ensure they get the services they need.

"The idea is to return these inmates back to the best versions of themselves. We want to teach them coping mechanisms and life skills that will give them the foundation they need once they leave our facility," said Chief Matthew Hedrick, Pinal County Sheriff's Office.

This program is modeled after the HUMV program created by Middlesex County Sheriff Peter J. Koutoujian. The Middlesex County Sheriff's Office launched its program in January 2016, and it is open to both pretrial and sentenced inmates who have served at home or abroad. The program is situated in a unit reminiscent of a military barracks and features programming specific to the needs of military veterans. The results have been extremely positive, dramatically reducing the recidivism rates of veterans. Since its inception, 165 individuals have gone through the unit. Among the 111 men who spent a minimum of 30 days in HUMV, the reconviction rate is in the single digits.

"Why reinvent the wheel? The program has seen great success in Middlesex County, so I wanted to bring it here. At some point, we will be able to expand the program opportunities to other inmates to help reduce recidivism across the board," said Sheriff Mark Lamb, Pinal County.

Many of our HUMV inmates have endured experiences that are still negatively affecting them today. These experiences are manifesting themselves as issues such as a lack of healthcare, limited job opportunities, homelessness, emotional disorders and other invisible wounds stemming from military service. The Pinal County Sheriff's HUMV Program is looking for volunteers to help provide programs, resources and support to those men and women who sacrificed for us.

"We are looking for therapists who specialize in mindfulness, PTSD and/or art therapy, financial advisors, yoga instructors, mentors and program managers that want to help our military veterans," said Sheriff Lamb. "With your help, we can uplift, inspire, enrich and improve the lives of the military veterans who are in a time of need."

If you are interested in becoming a volunteer, go online to:

New AGF Commission Chair promises to remember rural Arizonans

As the newly-appointed Chairman of the Arizona Game and Fish Commission, I want to give the people of rural Arizona a stronger voice in the conservation of wildlife. As a longtime resident of rural Arizona, I'm proud to represent all the small-town residents, farmers, ranchers and families who live throughout the less-populated areas of our state. Too often, our voices are drowned out by our big city neighbors, and it will be my goal to make sure we are all heard.

Those of us in rural Arizona are fortunate to live every day with nature's beauty all around us. Many of us grew up with the family traditions of hunting and fishing, and we're keeping them alive by passing our outdoor skills, knowledge and ethics on to the next generations. Hunting and fishing keep us close to the land and give us a better understanding of how humans fit into the natural scheme of things. They also are a great way to supply your family with good quality, locally-sourced, healthy food.

There are also rural Arizonans who don't hunt or fish, but they share our love of wildlife and wild places. They appreciate the work the Arizona Game and Fish Department does to keep wildlife plentiful by improving habitat, catching poachers, keeping wildlife migration corridors open, protecting endangered and threatened species, and helping sick, injured and orphaned wildlife. They understand and agree with our mission to "conserve and protect."

No matter which group you fall into, there's another important aspect to hunting and fishing you might not have thought about: it's also an economic bonanza for Arizona's rural communities. When hunters and anglers come to rural Arizona communities, they do more than buy a burger and gas up.

Sportsmen and women also come to town to buy groceries, ammo, fishing tackle and bait. They fill tables at restaurants and beds in hotels, and visit our night spots. Their cars, boats, OHVs and trailers often need mechanical repairs, or an unfortunate injury might require a visit to our urgent care centers and hospitals. They buy maps, hire guide services, rent cabins, purchase camping gear — in general, the sporting community provides an amazing windfall of cash for rural Arizona.

In 2016, the last year for which estimates are available, hunters and anglers spent an estimated $1.2 billion on purchases related to outdoor recreation in Arizona, about twice the economic impact of Cactus League Spring Training baseball. Hunters and anglers support some 18,200 jobs, generating $699 million in salaries and wages, and $131 million in state and local taxes. Much of that money is spent in — and stays in — our rural communities. The combined revenues from hunting, fishing and other outdoor activities make recreation one of Arizona's biggest industries ($21.2 billion annually).

We small-town Arizonans might not realize it, but that kind of economic clout makes rural communities an important driver of Arizona's economy. I want all Arizonans to appreciate our contributions to the state's bottom line, not just our breathtaking scenery, wide open spaces and friendly people. Serving this year as Arizona Game and Fish Commission Chairman, I'll focus on making everyone in the state appreciate our rural lifestyle as much as you and I do. With your ideas and input, we can make this a banner year for wildlife conservation, outdoor recreation and rural Arizona communities.

Peppersauce Cave graffiti removal project continues

Peppersauce Cave, on the Santa Catalina Ranger District of the Coronado National Forest, has been the focus of a multi-year, multi-phase graffiti removal project by Central Arizona Grotto. The next cleanup project is scheduled for Aug. 10 through 12, 2018. The group site at Peppersauce Campground will be occupied by the group for the weekend.

The cave, located in Nugget Canyon in the Santa Catalina Mountains south of Oracle, is the most heavily visited wild (undeveloped) cave in Arizona, with an estimated 15,000 visitors per year. While many cavers enjoy responsible recreational spelunking, others leave behind graffiti and trash.

Grffiti removal has been an ongoing effort by the Central Arizona Grotto (CAG) of the National Speleological Society (NSS). Two significant removal projects in eight work sessions between December, 2001 and June, 2003, and three sessions between February and June, 2010 were coordinated by Central Arizona Grotto, and the Peppersauce Cave Conservation Project (PCCP) to remove graffiti and trash.

Most recently, CAG, along with volunteers from the Arizona State University's Outdoor Club and southern Arizona grottos removed 150 to 200 tags and 300 pounds of trash between late September and early October, 2017. One November weekend they replaced kiosk panel covers, installed the first group of 14 highly-reflective "OUT" signs, and removed another 100 graffiti tags. In February of this year 250 to 300 tags were removed, and 20 highly-reflective white arrows placed to point to the easiest exit of the cave. In June 300 tags were removed and additional reflective arrows placed.

Using a complex system of a generator, compressor, high-pressure hoses, extension cords, lighting and a communication system, volunteers use glass beads for sand blasting and bristle brushes with biodegradable solvent to remove the tags, and spread tarps to catch and collect the beads and excess solvent for removal from the cave.

CAG has entered into an agreement (which represents all the local spelunking groups) with the Forest to continue work in 2018, with the following goals:

- Clean/remove all graffiti in Peppersauce Cave and continue monitoring for new graffiti issues;

- Restore/replace signage on the trail leading to Peppersauce Cave;
- Replace reflective IN/OUT arrows in the ceiling to reduce graffiti arrow tags.

Throughout the year, CAG will work with other NSS grottos and PCCP qualified individuals cooperatively to fulfill project goals. The next scheduled restoration trip

A volunteer looks over the remaining graffiti in Peppersauce Cave.

(following the August work) will be Sept. 21 through 23.

Caves are non-renewable resources, fragile and easily impacted. Every entry into a cave creates disturbances, the cumulative effects of which can dramatically alter cave environments. Coronado National Forest staff encourage visitors to the cave to practice responsible use and cave conservation ethics:

- Move carefully through a cave to avoid damaging cave features.

Using technology to advance toddler and preschooler learning

SAN MANUEL (July 25, 2018) – For families of babies, toddlers and preschoolers, saying no screen time is easier said than done.

Technology isn't going away and neither is the desire to make sure that kids are prepared for a world filled with computers at every turn.

The American Academy of Pediatrics recommends no exposure to screens for children under 2 years old. But as the child gets older, families can use technology and interactive media to support learning and, ultimately, relationships.

By managing screen time and choosing developmentally appropriate technology, adults can actually extend children's learning, according to the National Association for the Education of Young Children and the Fred Rogers Center for Early Learning and Children's Media at Saint Vincent College.

It's important to note that not all technology is equal when it comes to use with young children. Early childhood organizations make distinctions between passive, non-interactive technology such as certain television programs and DVDs versus age-appropriate websites, phone apps and television programs that allow for the child to be active, create, think critically and problem solve.

"A great alternative to media use that is non-engaging, such as a child sitting alone watching a television show, is to use an app or other technology that involves age-appropriate learning and allows parents to engage their children in conversations that grow their vocabulary or allow for an exploration of the senses," said Kelly Lubeck, First Things First program manager for family support and literacy.

First Things First reminds families that they're in charge of managing the quantity and quality of screen time. What does that look like in real life? Finding a balance of activities is key.

Limit your child's screen time and follow up by allowing time for your child to explore, pick up things and touch things, all ways to stimulate all the senses. For more tips go to healthychildren.org and search screen time.

Make sure that an adult is always with your child, providing hands-on engagement with what is happening on-screen. Zerotothree.org tells families to ask questions to engage thinking skills, such as, "What do you think will happen next?" Or after viewing a show about animals, take a walk and talk about the animals you see.

A smartphone can certainly engage a preschooler or young child, but an adult should be with the child to make the experience interactive. Using Skype to talk on camera with family members provides an authentic engagement with people in the child's life and their world.

Even television or videos billed as educational do not help children under age 2 learn language. Babies and toddlers learn new words and develop language skills by listening and interacting with caring adults.

An FTF video designed to help parents understand why babies learn language best from real people, not TV or videos, can be viewed at: <http://bit.ly/2NZvnIf>.

Ultimately, the quality of screen time interaction for young children depends on the adult.

"When you use technology with your child, think of it as

Monsoon season continues on Coronado National Forest; rain may accompany thunderstorms, lightning can ignite wildfires

An active monsoon season is in full swing across Coronado National Forest, bringing thunderstorms and with them the potential for lightning-ignited wildfires.

Precipitation may or may not accompany thunderstorms. “Dry” lightning without wetting rain can ignite wildfires, as has recently occurred across the Coronado National Forest, particularly on the Safford Ranger District. Such ignitions are expected to continue until significant rainfall reaches all parts of the Forest. To report smoke or a wildfire please call the Tucson Interagency Dispatch Center at (520) 202-2710.

While some lightning-ignited fires will be immediately evident, others may remain undetected for several days until conditions become favorable for them to grow into observable incidents.

Wildland firefighters are positioned across the Forest to respond to new ignitions. Fires occurring near residences, recreation sites or other “values at risk” will be suppressed. Those burning in more remote areas will be managed to accomplish land management objectives which include reducing hazardous fuel accumulations and restoring overall forest health.

Precipitation moves across southeastern Arizona sporadically. While some areas of the Forest have received rainfall, other areas have not. Significant rainfall is needed to overcome dry conditions which remain in some parts of the Forest.

It is anticipated that sufficient rain will eventually fall to reduce wildfire activity and pause the Coronado’s year-round fire season. Visitors to the Forest are encouraged to always practice fire safety, during every season of the year, and to be vigilant to build safe campfires and extinguish them completely before leaving them for any reason.

Hot Shots head into the desert near Aravaipa during last year’s Woods Fire.

Oracle School Foundation's 'Champions Helping Children' Gala to be held in October

By Pat Smith
Special to the Miner

President John F. Kennedy once said, "Let us think of education as the means of developing our greatest abilities, because in each of us there is a private hope and dream which, fulfilled, can be translated into benefit for everyone and greater strength for our nation."

These sentiments echo the vision and mission of the Oracle School Foundation's commitment to excellence, and continuing its support of every Oracle pre school student to strive and achieve success in their education. Through contributions, grants and corporate sponsorships, our "Champions helping Children" enabled 32 three-and-four-year old Oracle School District children to attend pre-school this past year.

We are committed to again fund children for the coming school year. Our major annual fundraiser will be held Sunday, Oct. 28, 2018, at 5:30 p.m. in HOA#1's Vistas at SaddleBrooke Clubhouse. The evening will include dinner, a live auction, a 50/50 raffle, and entertainment by a select group of SaddleBrooke Singers, performing Broadway favorites.

The dinner menu offers an entree choice of a Dry-aged Pork T-bone with Bourbon apple demi, Mexican Sea Bass with Pumpkin Puree, or Stuffed Portabella Mushroom with Polenta. These are served with a salad of mixed greens, craisins, toasted pepitas and feta cheese, brown rice with carrots, celery and onion, and grilled zucchini. Dessert will be Petite Cheesecake with Chocolate Sauce.

Tickets for our "Champions helping Children" Gala cost $65. each. For more information, to reserve your seats and select your menu options, please go to www.OracleSchoolsFoundation.com/events. The deadline for reservations is

Oct. 20, 2018.

Please join us for this very special evening of fun, festivities, and friendship as we continue to strive for and to fund positive, educational opportunities for our Oracle pre-school students.

First Things First honors Pinal Champion for Young Children

First Things First recognizes Karen Bradley as a 2018 First Things First Champion for Young Children.

The award is given to local champions who actively volunteer their time to raise public awareness of the importance of early childhood development and health. Champions spend a significant amount of time volunteering with FTF and building public awareness about the importance of early childhood issues.

Bradley, who lives in San Tan Valley, is the founder and volunteer parent educator with the home-based House of Timothy pregnancy program for the past five years. She also volunteers with New Mercies Pregnancy Center with Compassion Care Center in San Tan Valley. These agencies provide support to families, starting with pregnancy, through labor and into early childhood.

Helping families be aware of the importance of early childhood is important to her.

“The experiences, both positive and negative, a child has during their first few years create the foundation that the rest of their lives are built upon,” she said. “Providing optimal experiences through early childhood development, and focusing on their physical and mental well-being, will get children off to the best start possible.”

Bradley engaged in awareness-raising efforts such as:

- Teaching the “Mommy and Me” classes to parents and guardians at the Compassion Care Center in San Tan Valley every Wednesday, reinforcing the FTF website as a resource and utilizing FTF tools, such as the playbooks, Read-On Literacy Guides, Kids Basics and grocery pads as part of the curriculum.

- Reviewing and distributing the FTF Parent Kit to more than 50 soon-to-be parents or guardians in both English and Spanish through the House of Timothy.
- Working with almost two dozen parents to help them understand the importance of early childhood development and health and engaging with their babies before birth, and reading and interacting with them after birth.

Bradley covers subjects such as 90 percent of a baby’s brain develops by age 5 and reinforces the importance of reading, playing, and engaging with their infants and toddlers from the start.

- Hosting information tables at church events and homeless groups, engaging parents and providing early childhood information to parents and books/bookmarks to children birth to age 5. She shares FTF materials, such as fact sheets, awareness cards, playbooks, with more than 200 parents and more than 50 children throughout the San Tan

Valley and Apache Junction areas.

- Using social media to post information about early childhood from First Things First on both the New Mercies and House of Timothy Facebook pages.
- The presentation of the award to Karen Bradley will take place at the September First Things First Pinal Regional Partnership Council meeting.

Sea Lion Swimmers compete at Senior State Championship Meet

The Long Course Arizona Senior State Championship Swim Meet was held July 26-29 at Phoenix Country Day School. Darien and Evan Apuron both qualified and participated at the meet. Senior State is open to swimmers of any age that achieve the very tough qualifying times. Over 500 Swimmers participated at the meet. Many of the top spots are filled with college-aged swimmers. The Championship meet format holds preliminaries in the mornings with the fastest 24 swimmers advancing to the finals in the evening.

This was the fourth time that Darien Apuron (17) competed in Senior State. Darien swam her best time in the 100 Meter Butterfly (1:11.50) to finish in 79th place and improve her own team record. Darien also competed in the 400 Meter Individual Medley (IM). The 400 IM is the grueling all-around event, which competitors swim 100 Meters of each of the 4 competitive strokes (Butterfly, Backstroke, Breaststroke and Freestyle). To be good at the 400 IM, swimmers must be good at all the strokes and have the endurance to complete the long race. Darien achieved a personal best time of 6:00.49, which is also new team record, on her way to a 50th place finish.

As a 15 year old, Evan Apuron was one of the youngest male swimmers at the meet.

Knowing how hard it is to qualify for finals, Coach Alex Gort put him in his best 6 events (the max allowed), hoping he would find a way to earn a spot in the finals in some of the events. During his first morning of competition, he had an exhausting race schedule, but found a way to earn spots in the finals of all three of his events (100 Meter Breaststroke, 100 Meter Butterfly, and 400 Meter IM). In finals on the first evening, Evan finished in 15th place in the 100 Breaststroke (1:10.30), 23rd place in the 100 Butterfly (59.10) and 13th place in the 400 IM (5:01.65).

Since the top 16 places score points, the Sea Lions achieved another new milestone for the team - scoring points at the Senior State Championship.

Evan went on to continue the weekend with excellent results. He finished 18th in the 200 Meter Butterfly (2:16.93), 23rd in the 200 Meter Breaststroke (2:38.63) and 11th in the 200 Meter IM (2:15.21). Evan's times were good enough to break team records in every event he swam. He broke records previously held by Colbey Stratton and Andres Valenzuela as well as bettered some records he already held.

The Sea Lions finished the meet with 12 points which was good enough to put them in them 21st place in the final standings (out of 41 teams in Arizona).

Coach Alex summarized the meet.

"I am very proud of how Darien and Evan swam at the meet. Darien had a great meet; she achieved personal best times in both her races and moved up several places from where she was seeded. Evan had an exceptional meet, earning a spot in the finals in every event he swam. To perform well while swimming an exhausting schedule in the very hot weather, Evan showed a lot of character and grit. This was a good experience for Evan and will help him swim his best in future Championship Meets."

Sea Lions practice at the Mammoth Pool between 4:30 and 6 p.m. Monday through Friday. Anyone interested in joining the swim team is welcome to stop by the pool, check the website sealionsswimteam.com or call Alex or Wendy Gort at 896-2190. All ages and abilities are welcome.

Evan Apuron places well at the Senior State Championship Swim Meet.
