Thank You, President Biden! Please Come Visit Arizona's Copper Corridor

As the Mayor of Superior, I have had a uniquely humbling experience to lead my community through a variety of extreme challenges in just the last three years alone: a global pandemic; the Telegraph Fire, which was Arizona's sixth largest wildfire, and the Resolution Copper Mine Environmental Impact Statement process.

I have seen first-hand what happens when the Federal Government works for the benefit of its people. Looking back at our post-COVID recovery, the Town of Superior is stronger than ever! Our American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) dollars have been utilized to help grow our economy and improve the lives of some of our most vulnerable residents. The Town of Superior utilized our ARPA funding to move our community forward. Under your leadership President Biden, my community has begun to flourish despite the many significant challenges we have faced. I know many of our rural communities in Arizona and across America are moving forward because we had local control of the ARPA funds.

Federal funds are also helping us to establish our Multi-Generational Center that will include a skilled job training center, where our first welding training program will start this fall. Our wastewater treatment plant is being renovated to be more energy efficient and the repairs will take us well into the future. ARPA funds have been utilized to make significant repairs to our food bank, which serves 15 percent of our population.

We know that a diversified economy will help to ensure Superior remains a vibrant and resilient community with a thriving economy. We invested ARPA funds into our first-ever tourism promotion program, which is providing our town with more financial stability despite inflation and wage increases. We are proud of our progress and how we have been an exemplar for Build Back Better. Thank you, President Biden, for your assistance and courageous leadership to ensure small towns like Superior are not forgotten during these turbulent times.

President Biden, you have made many visits to Arizona in your first term, and this is my sincere invitation to you: please visit Superior and Arizona's Copper Triangle during your upcoming visit to Arizona. We need your attention on an important matter, and that is the re-release of the Resolution Copper Environmental Impact Statement. This is an opportunity to further fortify your commitment to the American people and to strengthen our nation's competitive position in a greener global economy.

Right now, the Town of Superior and State of Arizona have a once-in-a-generation opportunity to be the leader in advancing your green energy strategy. Without American raw materials, the CHIPS Act and Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act initiatives will be extremely reliant on foreign sources like China and Brazil for the critical minerals needed for the production of semiconductor chips and electric vehicles and devices.

While Superior was leading through COVID and the Telegraph Fire, we also were setting a foundation for how Superior will be a thriving town that has a world class mine, and not a mining town. A mine that will operate much differently than the mines my father, grandfathers and great-grandfathers began their careers in. My family has lived in Superior for five generations since both my maternal and paternal ancestors immigrated here to work in the mines. We are a mining community that has survived the booms and busts of mining cycles for more than one hundred years.

Superior is the only community of people listed as an Environmental Justice Community in the Resolution Copper Environmental Impact Statement. I want to assure you that the Town of Superior has extensively studied the FEIS and we respectfully ask that you personally hear our requests to re-release the Resolution Copper FEIS.

This FEIS has been one of the most extensively studied mines in the history of NEPA and there have been several tribal consultations to the point that our community, which is the most impacted by this project, has not been consulted on how these ongoing federal delays affect our community. Resolution Copper has worked with many of the area's tribes to develop projects that move their communities forward, and likewise, they have been partners in progress for Superior and other Copper Triangle communities as well.

President Biden, you have the opportunity to ensure that America can continue to Build Back Better with American raw materials. We need your leadership to ensure that this mine opens with all of the environmental protections as the FEIS statement currently states. During your next visit to Arizona, we ask that you visit our region and learn more how we are truly prepared to provide America the critical mineral resources that will sustain the success of your Green Energy Strategy and accelerate America's transition to a green energy economy.

The Resolution Copper Mine project has the potential to supply up to one-quarter of America's copper needed to power this transition and maintain our nation's economic vitality. Arizona's mine workers are ready to power your Resolution Copper's team accepts the 2023 Safety Award from the Rocky Mountain Mining Institute.

Resolution Copper earns safety award for second year in a row

Resolution Copper accepted the Rocky Mountain Mining Institute's (RMMI) 2023 Safety Award for Small Underground Mine. For the second year in a row, Resolution Copper is identified as the safest among its mining peers across the eight-state RMMI region, including Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, North Dakota, Montana, Texas, Utah and Wyoming.

"Safety is our top priority at Resolution Copper and we are thrilled to be twice-recognized for our commitment to ensuring the well-being of all employees throughout our operational processes," said Vicky Peacey, President and General Manager at Resolution Copper. "We look forward to upholding this commitment to safety as we continue to progress this critical project for the United States."

Eligibility for the prestigious award was determined by a review of mining companies' production incident data over the past calendar year, including Non-Fatal Days Lost (NFDL) and No Days Lost (NDL) rates as reported to the U.S Department of Labor Mine Safety and Health Administration.

"Resolution Copper continues to demonstrate its excellent safety record and should be applauded for winning the award back-to-back years," said Judy Colgan, Executive Director of the Rocky Mountain Mining Institute.

Once operational, Resolution Copper will be capable of producing up to 25% of U.S. copper demand each year. Resolution Copper will also deliver significant economic growth to nearby communities and the state of Arizona by providing thousands of jobs, billions in tax revenue, and increased spending in rural Arizona over the course of the project's 60-year lifespan.

Copper Corridor Residents: help ensure digital equity

Recently Governor Katie Hobbs announced that Arizona would be receiving almost $1 billion from the Federal government to improve high speed internet access across the state of Arizona. From the metro areas to the most remote locations of rural Arizona, this funding will be the most significant investment to-date.

Ensuring that the funding is spent to benefit all reaches of Arizona, the Digital Equity Institute and the Arizona Department of Commerce are conducting a survey for Arizona residents and business owners and organizations to fill out. Surveys need to be completed by Aug. 17, 2023. At this time there have not been many submissions from the Copper Corridor or Gila County.

Help make sure the internet needs of the Copper Corridor are heard. It takes about 15 minutes to complete this important survey.

You can fill out the survey online by using these links:

Rural Policy Forum hosted in Globe-Miami

Approximately 300 rural leaders from across Arizona gathered in Miami-Globe for the 16th Annual Rural Policy Forum. The forum is hosted each August usually in a rural community.

Debbie Torres | Sun

Attendees were treated to dinner events that showcased the unique local flair and foods of the region. During the Thursday evening event, the Superior Dance Company performed at the Cobre Valley Recreational Center in Miami.

During the conference State Representative David Cook (Globe), spoke and welcomed all of the participants and shared how he is working at the legislature to be an advocate for rural communities. His district includes most of the Copper Corridor all the way to Flagstaff, Williams, Snowflake and Taylor.

He stated to the crowd that Arizona's elections are not rigged. "If they were rigged, then why would I have been elected?" he said.

He also shared information on his recent visit to the Ukraine with a delegation of non-elected leaders from Arizona stressing the importance of Arizona increasing their international relationships to grow our economy.

Cook also spoke about how important public schools are in rural Arizona and how the needs in Maricopa County are not the same as rural Arizona.

Todd Pryor, Town Manager of Superior, was also invited to speak about the Town of Superior's success utilizing brownfields grants from the Arizona Department of Environmental Quality. Pryor also spoke about the work of the Copper Communities Blight Busters program that is funded by an EPA region 9 grant.

The conference included plenty of time for networking and learning. This year there was a focus on strategic planning for communities and organizations.

The Superior Chamber of Commerce, Town of Superior, Rebuild Superior Inc., Superior Food Bank and Boyce Thompson Arboretum all had attendees at the event. Resolution Copper provided scholarships for many of the local attendees from Superior. The Copper Corridor Economic Development Coalition also had attendees at the event.

green energy strategy. The Resolution Copper Mine project is critical to your Build Back Better plan, your green energy strategy, and your infrastructure plan. The mine will create thousands of new jobs in our region and most importantly, Resolution Copper has project labor agreements with several trade unions to ensure this project is built by American workers.

President Biden, in Superior we use the term "Together We are Superior". With your leadership and personal attention on this matter, Together, We can Build Back not only Better but Stronger than Ever Before!

We all would be deeply honored to have the opportunity to introduce ourselves and our communities to you and know that you, too, will benefit by learning more about us.

Sincerely,
