Chamber of Commerce, Lead Abatement and Arizona Trail Day

Businesses in the Copper Corridor soldiered on through the summer months, but it was not an easy task. Was it the heat? It was a hotter summer, for sure. Was it the loss of the contractors who had finished their work at the Hayden smelter? They had helped our economy for a long time. Many rented homes or RV space; they shopped here; their kids went to school here; they recreated here. But the work they do is cyclical, and when the work is done they go somewhere else.

I have wondered if our four-day school week is a factor. Does it make out of town shopping more attractive to locals? Out of town shopping is not the bargain many think that it is, but when it becomes recreational in nature I can understand the attraction, and the kids can be included.

So what is a local business supposed to do? All of us who live in the Copper Corridor should share the concern, for good businesses make it possible for us to live here, not just by providing jobs, but by providing our other needs, including food, our homes, our schools, our streets and water supply, and our health services.

All area businesses, from Aravaipa and Mammoth to Kelvin and Riverside (and all points in the middle) are invited to an exploratory workshop sponsored by the Copper Basin Chamber of Commerce this Saturday, September 22. It will take place in Ray Hall, the activity center of The Church of the Good Shepherd in Kearny, beginning at noon. A free luncheon is included. Businesses, community organizations, and community minded individuals are invited. The chamber requests only that those coming will call (480) 220-9349 to give their names in order that the right amount of food may be prepared.

There will be introductions at the meal, and then the two-hour workshop on building our local economy will take place. The board of the chamber will be listening and learning as the workshop takes place, which is for all of us, not just chamber members. I hope there will be a good turnout, and that good things will take place.

Owen O'Brien's Kearny Glass and Mirror is moving to the old Circle K building on Tilbury Road in Kearny. Owen will also expanded his towing operation at the same location. It is a larger space and has more customer parking. The grand opening's date is unknown, but Owen is moving along quickly.

Last week I talked about the lead abatement project in Hayden and Winkelman. Interest is beginning to grow in this free program overseen by Central Arizona Governments (CAG). If you live there, contact Mr. Alan Urban at (480) 474-9300 for information and to register your interest.

Coming up: Arizona Trail Day is Saturday, October 6, with at least one person walking on all 400 miles of the trail at one time! There will be events planned at most of the trailheads. If anyone is interested in doing something at our trailhead, please let me know.

New AGF Commission Chair promises to remember rural Arizonans

As the newly-appointed Chairman of the Arizona Game and Fish Commission, I want to give the people of rural Arizona a stronger voice in the conservation of wildlife. As a longtime resident of rural Arizona, I'm proud to represent all the small-town residents, farmers, ranchers and families who live throughout the less-populated areas of our state. Too often, our voices are drowned out by our big city neighbors, and it will be my goal to make sure we are all heard.

Those of us in rural Arizona are fortunate to live every day with nature's beauty all around us. Many of us grew up with the family traditions of hunting and fishing, and we're keeping them alive by passing our outdoor skills, knowledge and ethics on to the next generations. Hunting and fishing keep us close to the land and give us a better understanding of how humans fit into the natural scheme of things. They also are a great way to supply your family with good quality, locally-sourced, healthy food.

There are also rural Arizonans who don't hunt or fish, but they share our love of wildlife and wild places. They appreciate the work the Arizona Game and Fish Department does to keep wildlife plentiful by improving habitat, catching poachers, keeping wildlife migration

Go Panthers! Our team is rooting for Superior High School victories in all the sports throughout the year.

Balanced Panthers remain undefeated

By Andrew Luberd
Superior Sun

The Superior football team combined a balanced offensive attack and a stifling defense in a 60 – 0 victory last Friday night against visiting Phoenix Day School for the Deaf, improving the Panthers' record to 5 – 0 as they head into to their bye week.

Superior quarterback Steven Ybarra threw for four touchdowns and the Panthers rushed for four more. In all, eight different Panthers scored against the Roadrunners, including Gabe Otero, Ybarra, Adam Navarrette, and Julian Navarro, who each ran for a touchdown. Jared Moreno, Navarrette, Cedric Mendoza, and Jesus Castellanos each had a scoring reception in the win.

"We want to have a balanced attack," Superior head coach Ryan Palmer told the Superior Sun. "Being too one dimensional can get a team into trouble against tough opponents.

"It is important to be able to execute well in both the rushing and passing game. We are fortunate enough to have the players who excel in both."

The Panthers' defense was stout once again, posting its third shutout of the year. Junior Sammy Lopez intercepted his team-leading fourth pass of the season. Navarrette also had pick. Sophomore Marc Mendoza had four sacks and freshman Matthew Cruz added one.

Mendoza, the younger brother of senior and 2017 1A East All-Region 1st Team selection Cedric Mendoza, his following in the footsteps of his older sibling, who finished with 14 sacks a year ago, which was second most in the state.

"Marc now has bragging rights with more sacks than his All-State big brother," Palmer quipped. "I am sure Cedric will have something to say about that over these next few weeks.

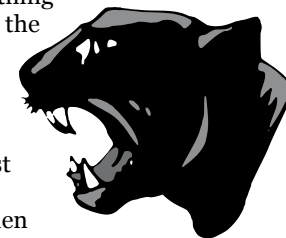

"Sammy is a kid who works hard and has been rewarded for his hard work with four interceptions on the year," Palmer added. "He has stepped up his game this season and his coverage gets better every week."

With three games left in the regular season, the bye week seemingly comes at an opportune time, but Palmer believes nothing changes for teams that want to be the best.

"We have been improving every week and expect nothing different from the bye week," he said "We understand that if we are not the hardest working team in the state, then some other team is. We want to be the hardest working team in the state, every day, even on our bye week."

Up next: Superior will enjoy this week off before hosting Hayden in the regular-season home finale and Senior Night on Sept. 28. Kickoff is scheduled for 7 p.m.

2018 Superior Homecoming...Vacation Theme

corridors open, protecting endangered and threatened species, and helping sick, injured and orphaned wildlife. They understand and agree with our mission to "conserve and protect."

No matter which group you fall into, there's another important aspect to hunting and fishing you might not have thought about: it's also an economic bonanza for Arizona's rural communities. When hunters and anglers come to rural Arizona communities, they do more than buy a burger and gas up.

Sportsmen and women also come to town to buy groceries, ammo, fishing tackle and bait. They fill tables at restaurants and beds in hotels, and visit our night spots. Their cars, boats, OHVs and trailers often need mechanical repairs, or an unfortunate injury might require a visit to our urgent care centers and hospitals. They buy maps, hire guide services, rent cabins, purchase camping gear — in general, the sporting community provides an amazing windfall of cash for rural Arizona.

In 2016, the last year for which estimates are available, hunters and anglers spent an estimated $1.2 billion on purchases related to outdoor recreation in Arizona, about twice the economic impact of Cactus League Spring Training baseball. Hunters and anglers support some 18,200 jobs, generating $699 million in salaries and wages, and $131 million in state and local taxes. Much of that money is spent in — and stays in — our rural communities. The combined revenues from hunting, fishing and other outdoor activities make recreation one of Arizona's biggest industries ($21.2 billion annually).

We small-town Arizonans might not realize it, but that kind of economic clout makes rural communities an important driver of Arizona's economy. I want all Arizonans to appreciate our contributions to the state's bottom line, not just our breathtaking scenery, wide open spaces and friendly people. Serving this year as Arizona Game and Fish Commission Chairman, I'll focus on making everyone in the state appreciate our rural lifestyle as much as you and I do. With your ideas and input, we can make this a banner year for wildlife conservation, outdoor recreation and rural Arizona communities.
