Homecoming win for the Superior Panthers

By Nathaniel A. Lopez
Superior Sun

What a game! And Homecoming to boot!

The Superior High School football continued its winning streak, collecting the win during last Friday's Homecoming game against Lincoln Prep. The Panthers displayed their control on defense, while their offense proved to do the same. The final score of the game was 42-14.

"The boys played hard and overcame some adversity," began head coach Joshua Denhalter. "At this point of the season a lot of guys are banged up. We have two players out with broken bones, and a bunch of sprains. We repped three players this week at practice, and Kevin Duarte stepped up and played the position in the first half. In the second half we moved our tight end Zach Duarte to corner to counter the other teams speed. Running back David Drennan ran for 176 yards and a score, and ATH Marcos Galindo ran for a score and caught a score, and racked up 112 yards total of rushing and receiving."

Halftime festivities included crowning this year's royalty. This year's King and Queen are Adam Lopez and Mira Estatico. Senior Royalty are: Analise Hollenbeck, Zack Duarte, Tonya Hayes and Kevin Duarte. The remaining royalty include Freshman Royalty, Rose Tomerlin and Antonio Lopez; Sophomore Royalty, Antonia Guerena and Anthony Arroyos; and Junior Royalty, Yeritzel Romero and Eli Smith.

The Panthers will travel to Cibecue on Sept. 23 to take on the Dishchii'bi'koh Wildcats, with a kickoff time of 7 p.m.

"This week our focus will be on staying sharp, while also resting from injuries, and trying to get everyone healthy as we make a playoff push," concluded coach Denhalter.

Homecoming 2022 - A Battle of the Decades

This year's homecoming, hosted by the Superior High School Student Council, was a blast from the past. Students spent their homecoming spirit week celebrating the decades, a favorite of many was the Adam Sandler day, where students dressed up in their favorite Adam Sandler movie.

Many underclassman during the 2020-21 and 2021-22 school year did not have the opportunity to participate in all of the traditional homecoming activities. This year, it would appear that all of the homecoming traditions were back in full swing and students were actively participating.

The spirit week ended with a very well organized parade, each class worked diligently in their parade entries as evidenced by the high quality of each float.

Support Local: Regenerating Sonora

In our series to highlight local businesses and non-profits, this week we are meeting with Chris Casillas founder of local non-profit Regenerating Sonora.

Regenerating Sonora is a 501c(3) non-profit organization that was officially formed in 2019. Chris Casillas founded the organization after working in the tech industry and growing a successful career within that sector, he saw ongoing “existential risk and society in disarray”, something we all see on the regular basis but may not identify with ways to improve upon society. Chris, who grew up in Superior through Junior High before moving to the Valley with his parents, remained connected to Superior through his grandparents, and extended family. He is proudly one of Superior’s family of multi-generations.

With the ongoing meta crisis, (global warming, degradation of institutions, loss of biodiversity, oppression) facing the world he felt that returning to Superior to grow his non-profit is what he needed to do. While they are starting with a focus on Superior, he hopes to expand his works across the Copper Corridor and throughout the Sonoran Desert.

Chris operates on a basis that there is a room for everyone to participate and is working on developing systems and programs that help to improve the well-being of society.

“Superior is an ideal place to begin,” he said.

Currently Regenerating Sonora has started a LEHR garden at 225 Pinal Avenue. The name of the garden is called the Erickson Micro-Farm; currently they are growing cilantro, peppers, melons, squash and kale. This is part of their goals to ensure food stability but also to teach youth where their food comes from. A LEHR garden is a raised garden bed that is also designed to be high yield and highly efficient. Their hopes is to be able to sell nutrient rich soil from their garden but to also produce local foods.

According to the garden website, LEHR is an acronym for Linking Ecosystem & Hardware for Regeneration, LEHR Gardens were created by combining 12 different gardening and soil creation methods into one integrated system. A LEHR Garden is regenerative agriculture for the busy lifestyle.

Chris and his wife recently married and they plan to have children in the future. Part of his mission with Regenerating Sonora is to help grow an eco-system that will allow his children and all children in the future to live and thrive. The systems developed within Regenerating Sonora are also designed to help grow jobs and career opportunities, believing that in the circular economy there people can be compensated while contributing to the wellbeing of their community and developing sustainable communities. There are many involved in the success of Regenerating Sonora including the board of directors but also the many residents who come out to support the New Moon planting parties and other community activities they host. There are activities and ways to support for all ages.

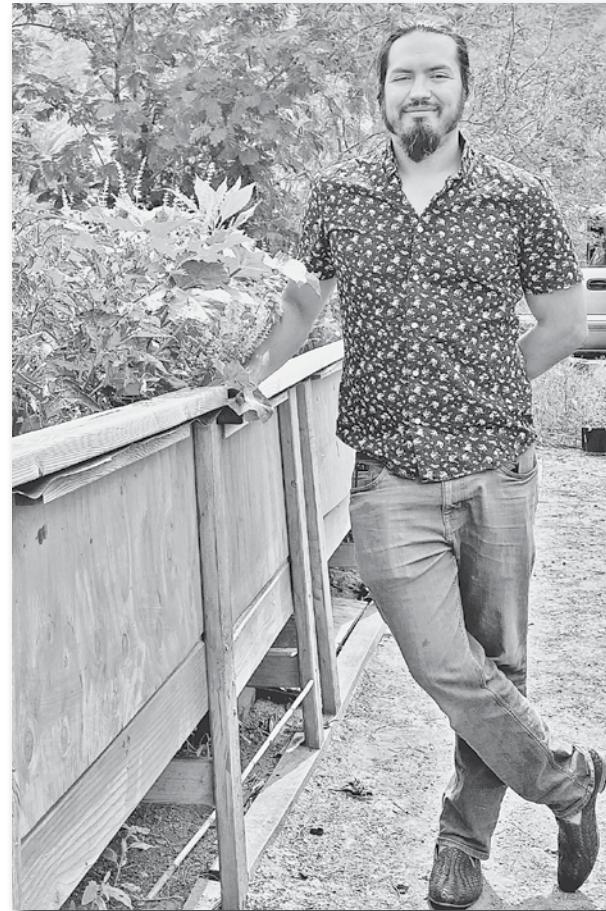

Another asset of Regenerating Sonora is the property that was once the Leo’s Grocery Store on Pinal Avenue, which is now called the “Leo’s Community Development Center”. Chris purchased the building and it is the home of the Regenerating Sonora operations, and during the pandemic, the building served as a location for food distribution for youth. They plan to begin opening the center for youth after school activities later this fall. Students can come hang out, play games or work on homework.

Regenerating Sonora is also partnering with other local non-profits to support community missions in the realm of Arts and Culture. Both Regenerating Sonora and Rebuild Superior Inc. teamed up to host and support local residents who wanted to host regular tardeadas (afternoon parties) in the park. These long standing Hispanic traditions bring the community together for dancing, food, and visiting with others while enjoying Mexican-American culture and traditions. Regenerating Sonora received a $30,000 grant from the Arizona Community Foundation which they have used to help support expansion of the gardens, provided

ADOT WORK ZONE

Saturday's non-fatal crash reportedly involving a vehicle hitting the rear of the DPS vehicle after the trooper responded to another crash near I-10 and 40th Street. The crash location was within ADOT's work zone for the ongoing I-10 Broadway Curve Improvement Project.

The incident serves as a reminder that drivers should obey lower speed limits and stay alert for changing traffic conditions – including slowing or stopped traffic – in all work zones. ADOT's I-10 Broadway Curve Improvement Project team released this I-10 work zone safety public service announcement earlier this year.

National statistics over time have shown that 4 out of 5 victims of work zone crashes were drivers or their passengers. Arizona work zone crash statistics from law enforcement reports over the past five years include the following:

- 2017: 18 fatalities, 31 serious injuries
 - 2018: 17 fatalities, 23 serious injuries
 - 2019: 15 fatalities, 22 serious injuries
 - 2020: 11 fatalities, 23 serious injuries
- It's important for drivers to slow down and pay attention when approaching and traveling through all work zones, but especially so in areas where workers aren't able to work behind barrier walls.

Randy Everett, ADOT's Central District Administrator, emphasized the need for drivers to stay alert and not speed in work zones during National Work Zone Awareness Week back in April.

"We have flashing lights, signs and other safety equipment, but often the biggest factor is whether a driver is impaired, speeding or distracted in some way," said Everett. "If you're entering a work zone, your first instinct should be to slow down."

Oracle State Park to host Star Party Saturday

Officials at the Oracle State Park have been hard at work readying the park for Saturday's final Star Party and festival.

The David H. Levy Arizona Dark Sky Star Party II and The Oracle Dark Sky Cultural Festival will be coming to the community from Sept. 21 through Sept. 25. Hosted by Explore Scientific LLC, the multiple events will span five days at various locations with some free events and some events that will require purchase of tickets.

What does it mean to be a Dark Sky Community? It means that there has been great effort to preserve the night sky and keep it from falling victim to light pollution. Through the help of dedicated citizens, and organizations, Oracle continues to be a Dark Sky Community.

The planning committee has been organizing the event for the past seven months.

The various events will include music, art, food, and speakers giving presentations. The speakers will include professional and amateur astrologists.

"People around the world recognize Arizona as a tourist destination to visit our professional astronomical observatories and to experience our dark night sky. Oracle State Park, designated as an International Dark-Sky Association (IDA) 'International Dark Sky Park' in 2014, has clearly experienced a significant increase in astrotourism since 2014. Oracle State Park was selected to host the 'David H. Levy Arizona Dark Sky Star Party and The Oracle Dark

Sky Cultural Festival' to be held 21-25 September 2022 and annually thereafter. Local tourism businesses and other businesses in Oracle benefit from this increased interest in astrotourism," said Mike Weasner of Casiopeia Observatory. "This significant and exciting event is a direct result of Oracle State Park being designated as an 'International Dark Sky Park' by the International Dark-Sky Association (IDA) in 2014. There is considerable local interest in Oracle being designated as an IDA, 'International Dark Sky Community'. That would make Oracle one of only two locations of the nearly 200 "International Dark Sky Places' worldwide with both an 'International Dark Sky Park' and 'International Dark Sky Community' at the same location. Many local businesses, artists, and residents are already supporting the event in various ways. Our local, in-state, and out-of-state visitors will be supporting our local businesses. In return, we want our visitors to have the best possible day AND nighttime experience in Oracle."

For more information on the events, and to purchase tickets go to: explorescientific.com. Come and support your community, while learning the importance of a dark sky community, and some interesting astronomy facts. Saturday's Dark Sky Party and much more!

Oracle State Park will have music, narrated nature walks, dark sky viewing – all free with paid park admission on Saturday Sept. 24. Admission is $7 per vehicle.

Saturday's Schedule

11 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. – Geology walk and presentation by Tom Buckley

2 p.m. – Musical Performance by Ric Volante and Vicky Smith
