Asarco agrees to pay $146,600 for PCB violations at Hayden copper smelter

SAN FRANCISCO – Late last week the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency announced that it has fined Asarco LLC $30,900 for using buildings contaminated with PCBs and improper management of PCB waste. The company will also spend $115,714 to reduce PCBs at their copper smelter located in Hayden, Ariz.

The violations stemmed from a 2011 inspection in which EPA inspectors found two buildings contaminated with PCBs that Asarco employees continued to use, a violation of the federal Toxic Substances Control Act.

“Exposure to PCBs is a concern whenever facilities are handling materials containing these toxic chemicals,” said Jared Blumenfeld, EPA’s Regional Administrator for the Pacific Southwest. “Our goal is to safeguard worker health and nearby communities by ensuring that Asarco takes the necessary steps to improve the safety of their recycling and disposal practices.” As part of the agreement, Asarco has agreed to replace three PCB transformers at the smelter, reducing future risk of exposure to workers and the environment. PCBs (polychlorinated biphenyls) are man-made organic chemicals used in paints, industrial equipment, plastics, and cooling oil for electrical transformers. More than

Resolution Copper Land Exchange: House of Representatives expected to vote tomorrow

Resolution Copper has announced that they are expecting the United States House of Representatives to vote on the Southeast Arizona Land Exchange and Conservation Act, H.R. 687 on Thursday, Sept. 26.

The legislation was introduced earlier this year by Congressional Representatives Ann Kirkpatrick (CD 1) and Paul Gosar (CD 4). This is the first time in the recent history of the legislation that there has been bipartisan support for the land exchange.

Supporters of the Land Exchange are anticipating the bill to pass through the House of Representatives. Once the bill is approved in the House, the bill will need a hearing and vote in the Senate before reaching President Barack Obama for final approval.

The Land Exchange

Legislation will allow for Resolution Copper to acquire 2,422 acres of Tonto National Forest Land which includes the Oak Flat Campground in exchange for 5,344 acres of environmentally sensitive lands in the San Pedro River Valley that the government will receive. While the bill continues to receive high levels of support, opposition groups continue to advocate against the project.

THANK YOU FROM ST. FRANCIS PARISH

Once again the Parish was blessed with an abundance of generosity and support from our local resident, surrounding communities and visitors from other areas. Due to everyone's presence at this year's 2013 Fiesta "Joy of Serving" it was very successful. Everyone's time, efforts, donations, and hard labor played a major role in its planning and the achievement of the 2013 Fiesta.

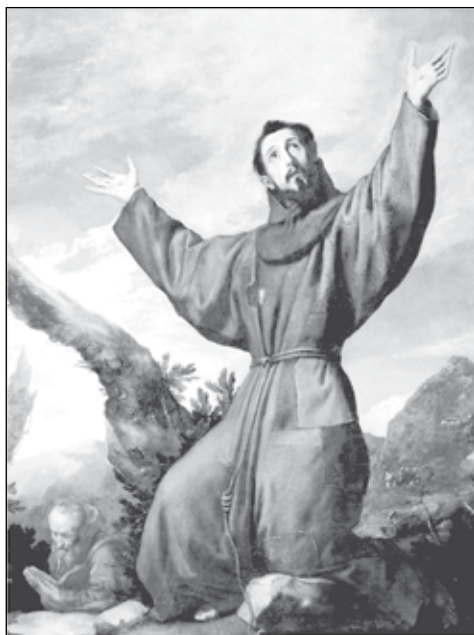

This Year's Fiesta theme "Joy of Serving" truly encompasses the out pouring of love and unity of people coming together. Our parish is truly blessed.

The success of the Fiesta cannot be measured in dollars and cents however we would like to thank the following organizations: The Mesa Car Show, All the Car Clubs, Town of Superior, Superior Police Department, 2013 Parade participants, Los Hermanos, Jade Grill, Fry's, Save Money Market, Chester's, Rose's Roses, Superior Water and Ice, Red Bears, Los Implikos, and so many more.

I pray that your sacrifices and support for our parish will continue to bear abundant fruit for the good of our community.

Once again, that you and Remain Blessed.

Superior residents speak out

By Nina Crowder
Superior Sun

Last week's Superior Town Council meeting had a full agenda and with the placement of the Call to the Public at the end of the list, many residents had to wait to speak their piece to the Council.

Marilee Lasch spoke out in support of copper mining. The 10-year resident of Superior said that since moving to the community she has seen neighbors and friends turn on one another.

"I understand that most of it has been the consequence of Resolution Copper attempting to take our little destitute, poverty stricken town and make it the up and coming mining production center in the United States," she said. "While Resolution may have failed in the beginning to be completely transparent I applaud their efforts at transparency the last couple of years and thank those of you who have been the reason for that including the anti-mine control for your action but this ongoing campaign of fear is separating what use to be grand and glorious place to live and I want to address that."

She spoke about fear and what it could do to a community. "Technology isn't always a terrible thing," she said. "I bet almost all of you have cell phones, drive a car, flush your toilets and have computers. All of this is a result of mining. We can't continue to live in the dark ages of fear; we must be willing to take risks. There are some people who want the fear of pollution to direct your decisions but refuse to clean up their own backyard. There are some that want to talk about the fear of cancer. They refuse to understand the cancer is an epidemic. I have family members who have never been to Superior who have cancer."

She added, "I support mining. I want to see jobs. I understand there will be some risks. I encourage all of us to be watch dogs. I also believe once we get a job base, a tax base, there will be diversity that brings tourism and people who want to have businesses here, people who will want to spend money. I encourage you to rise above the pettiness you have heard going on for the past year and move forward to a new future for Superior."

JoAnn Besich also spoke out in support of Resolution Copper Mining.

"I have been to the RCC meetings that have been open to the public," she said. "There have been experts in the fields about the water, tailings, NEPA. They have provided statistics...during some of these meetings the opposition rudely and loudly carry on their own conversations and it gets to be disturbing."

She continued, "The people are not listening to the facts. We need to progress, I encourage every council member, everyone here to attend meetings pro and con. Everyone should be at the meetings and hear what is going on. Why create more fear? Get the facts."

Another resident, Nancy Vogler, addressed the council about the problems of wildcat dumping.

"I know you are working with the ADEQ (transfer station) for the clean up of trash. It is a slow process and you have to work with the state," Vogler said. "We have a really big problem going on right now with people dumping trash in the desert. It is terrible."

Vogler urged the council to expedite the talks about Resolution, trash

with the state. She then suggested a volunteer clean up and even offered to help with the clean up.

Resident Sandra Doyle spoke about her concern about the division in the town.

“I am sick and tired of the division in this town,” Doyle said. “It is like we are embedded in concrete – nobody gives, nobody communicates. We fight over police, sheriff, ADOT, taxes. Nobody can agree on what to do. Maybe the resolution is to un-incorporate. We are just sitting in the ground spinning our wheels.”

Several residents addressed the council about health issues and cancer and suggested that mining could be causing cancer in Superior. The council was told that there are environmental health studies underway to see if a cause can be determined.

Under council comments and communications, Councilwoman Mila Besich Lira said that the Copper Corridor Economic Development Coalition would be sponsoring a free tourism forum on Sept. 30. The CCEDC, she said, hoped to generate ideas about how communities could network more.

Councilman Steve Estatico said that he had attended a recent Resolution community group meeting and that one of the questions asked was what does the community want from Resolution Copper.

“I think this is a good question,” he said. “I’m not sure what I want from Resolution Copper and I’m not sure what the Town of Superior wants from Resolution Copper, but I think it needs to be part of a discussion that we have.”

Mayor Jayme Valenzuela asked if the police could help the fire department with some of the ticket writing for the debris in the town. The fire department is getting swamped with calls and could use a little help in this area, he said.

Valenzuela also spoke about the ongoing negotiations with the Pinal County Sheriff’s Office.

“I spoke with Chairman Miller and he indicated to me that he is having his staff do some homework on numbers and they needed more information before they can move forward in entertaining the idea of taking us on. So this will be addressed at a later date.” With some members of the community and council being torn between working with PCSO and having a Superior Police Department, he said, the council is trying to make the right decision.

In other business, the council:

- Approved a request for La Noche de Vaquero night at Porter’s Cafe on Oct. 19.
- Approved an application by the Superior Fire Department for the 12D fund/grant from the San Carlos Apache Tribe.
- After an executive session (secret) agreed to proceed with the Wilt litigation. The council took no action on town owned properties, buildings and lots, or Resolution.

The next regular meeting of the Superior Town Council is Oct. 3 at 7 p.m. at the Superior Senior Center. For additional information please feel free to visit the Superior Town’s Website at www.superior-arizona.com.

Pastor’s Corner – Answering Prayer

By Rev. Dennis Van Gorp
Family Life Christian Center

I’m sure that you have noticed that, in life, things happen that we have little or no control over. Our concept of what should occur doesn’t always happen. Sometimes, events just go terribly wrong.

Psalm 57:1 speaks this to us: “Have mercy on me, O God, have mercy on me, for in You my soul takes refuge. I will take refuge in the shadow of your wings until the disaster has passed.”

There is always a reason for those times. Verse two talks about “God, who fulfills His purpose for me.” Often, God desires us to learn for the sake of experience, in order to help others who will soon stumble down a similar path.

Learning to lean on Jesus and how to completely trust in Him to bring us into victory is not always an easily learned lesson.

Yet, it sharpens our skills and increases our abilities to help others. We become more aware of the frustrations and difficulties in the lives of those around us.

Having ‘been there and done that,’ we become the mentor who brings help and healing from our Lord. Recognize and use the gifts God has given you. Reach out and touch someone with a ‘God blessed’ helping hand. Be the answer to their prayers.

Panthers decimated by injuries; lose to Roughriders

By Andrew Lubberda
Superior Sun

The Panthers' football team has seen its season severely affected by injuries. The Panthers have limited depth and many younger players on their roster. In addition to missing key players at important positions, there is the underlying factor of having to play the remaining healthy players out of position.

With five starters out of the lineup versus Pima last Friday night the Panthers lost to the second-ranked Roughriders, 68 – 8.

Without starting quarterback Nicolaus Cruz the Panthers looked to Matthew Zavala to fill the void. Zavala, normally a wide receiver, finished 10-34, 68 yards, and 2 INT. Freshman running back Edgar Galindo missed his second straight game with an injury. Marcus Hiracheta replaced Galindo and scored the Panthers lone touchdown. Hiracheta, a junior, finished the game with 123 yards on 16 carries and 1 TD. He also had four receptions for 16 yards. Eric Oatis was the leading receiver for the Panthers with five receptions for 45 yards.

The Panthers next game is at Hayden on Friday, Sept. 27, 2013. Game time is 7 p.m.

Panthers' volleyball team off to a good start

By Andrew Luberda
Superior Sun

The Panthers' girls' volleyball team has started their season with a record of 4 – 2, including victories in their last three games. Head coach Cheryl Lopez leads a very talented team that is looking forward to a successful season.

"The girls are really good," Lopez responded when asked about her team.

The team has five seniors, five juniors, and three sophomores. The team captains are sophomore Gabby Salcido, junior Cierra Navarrette, and senior Mariza Padilla. The seniors on the team are Jennifer Ybarra, Kiyoko Alonzo, Ariel Alonzo, and Maria Barre-ras. Juniors include Alysia Fuentes, Lindsay Duarte, Janessa Perez, and Hunter Flanagan. The sophomores on the team are Arianna San Miguel and Pinky Thomas.

Janessa Perez, Gabby Salcido, and Alysia Fuentes were named players of the match during the three game winning streak. Cierra Navarrette also has garnered player of the match recognition during this season.

Hayden's St. Joseph's Catholic Church to celebrate centennial

After years of planning Hayden's St. Joseph's Catholic Church 100th Anniversary celebration will get underway this Saturday, Sept. 28, with a Mass at 4 p.m. and end with a dance held under the stars at the Hayden Golf Course.

Beginning at 3 p.m. the church doors will open for the public to be seated. Promptly at 4 p.m. Mass will begin with the Knights of Columbus from around the Copper Basin and Tucson leading in the clergy and standing guard.

The clergy will consist of previous priests who served in the church, priests from around the area, Reverend Monsignor Ambrose, Reverend Monsignor Raul Treviso and Bishop Gerald Kicanas and the list is still expanding.

After Mass a big celebration will be held at the golf course at no cost. The celebration includes jumping castles and cotton candy for kids, a kiddie train, food catered by Los Hermanos, speakers, entertainment from mariachis, folklorico dancers from U of A, and a dance with the band Andrea y Los Guys.

Over 1,000 people are expected to attend. Parking at the golf course is limited. A shuttle to the celebration from the Hayden-Winkelman Schools will be available.

Read all about it: Reading is important

By Mila Besich Lira
Superior Sun

Last week the Superior Sun was invited to cover a special event at the Superior Head Start.

When the scheduled event had to be rescheduled, I had the opportunity to be a guest reader to these energetic and curious preschoolers.

As their teachers announced that it was story time they all cuddled up, eager to hear the story and look at the pictures in the book. I had chosen, a book that caught my eye, Birdie's Big Girl Shoes, and even though I worried that some of the boys may not like this story, which was about a little girl named Birdie who so desperately wanted to wear her mother's stiletto heels, I found that it did not matter the subject of the book. What mattered most was that they loved to have stories read to them.

To be fair to those students who were not interested in reading about Birdie and her mother's shoe closet, we also read their most favorite story, a book that their teachers keep put away, because it is undoubtedly worn, and well used, There's a Nightmare in My Closet, and while I flipped through the pages, these young readers began telling me the story, complete with screams, as the nightmare is found in the closet.

A story about reading to young children may not seem like headline news, it may seem irrelevant in many ways, but truth is, in less than a half hour these young children were exposed to one of the best habits a person can have – a love of reading. If you have a favorite children's book, or maybe you are missing those special story times with your young children or grandchildren, stop by and be a guest reader at the Superior Head Start. They have a library filled with many choices or you may want to bring your favorite story. Either way the students will love this special time with a guest reader, and you may find that you enjoy this special story time, I sure did.

By the way, the event that had to be rescheduled was a visit from Pinal County Attorney Lando Voyles. He visited the site on Thursday, Sept. 19, and presented a $500 check to the kids. The funds will be used to assist the Head Start's program for prevention education, "I Can Be Kind."

There was no word on whether the attorney read to the children, but it wouldn't surprise us in the least to learn that he did. The Superior Head Start is located at 150 Lobb Ave, it is recommended to call the school prior to coming in to read, you can reach the school at 520-689-2812. The school will host an open house on Oct. 24 from 8 a.m. to noon.

San Manuel's Copper Town Days announces schedule of events; coming October 5

The Copper Town Association has announced the schedule of events for Copper Town Days 2013 which will take place on Saturday, Oct. 5, 2013 in San Manuel in the parking lot of the upper arcade (about 420 S. CVRMC to 'Go Live' with MediTech 6.0

For the past 18 months, Cobre Valley Regional Medical Center (CVRMC) has been working to convert hand-written charting processes into an electronic healthcare information system, MediTech 6.0. "For the core team of the MediTech Project, our physicians, and staff, this has become more than a software build; it has become a total transformation of how our patient care will be delivered," stated Neal Jensen, CVRMC CEO.

The "Go LIVE" date for MediTech 6.0 is scheduled for October 1, with the entire staff of CVRMC being fully trained by the end of September. "MediTech 6.0 will improve the quality, safety, and efficiency of patient care through the standardization of clinical processes, terminology, and will use evidence-based order sets which will give physicians and nursing staff more time at the bedside with patients and their families," stated RoseAnn Garcia, CVRMC Chief Nursing Officer.

The public is invited to an educational presentation, "A Day in the Life of a CVRMC MediTech Patient," on Wednesday, September 18, at 5:15 pm, in the Medical Office Building conference room. The presentation will follow a patient through the patient experience using the new software and will demonstrate the improved quality of care a patient will receive at CVRMC. Everyone is welcome and encouraged to attend. "Our Mission is Your Health."

1.5 billion pounds of PCBs were manufactured in the United States before the EPA banned the production of this chemical class in 1978, and many PCB-containing materials are still in use today.

When released into the environment, PCBs remain for decades. Tests have shown that PCBs cause cancer in animals and are suspected carcinogens in humans. Acute PCB exposure can also adversely affect the nervous, immune, and endocrine systems as well as liver function. Concerns about human health and the extensive presence and lengthy persistence of PCBs in the environment led Congress to enact TSCA in 1976.

For more information on PCB regulation and enforcement, as well as TSCA enforcement in general, please visit the EPA's website at: www.epa.gov/region09/toxic/pcb/

The Court announces that this is the time set for a Hearing on Petition for Termination of Parent/child Relationship. Petitioner, Reanna Marez-Baldonado is sworn by the Court. The Court FINDS that the Indian Child Welfare Act does not apply. Petitioner advises the Court that Respondent is not listed on minor child's Birth Certificate; however, paternity of minor child was established by Navajo County in 2003 by a DNA test. Petitioner further advises that Respondent has yet to be served as Petitioner is unable to find Respondent's whereabouts. Based on Petitioner's sworn statements this date in Open Court. IT IS HEREBY ORDERED authorizing Petitioner service upon Respondent by publication; Petitioner shall publish in a Navajo County and Pinal County periodical for four (4) consecutive weeks. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED appointing Stacey Heard as Guardian Ad Litem for the minor child in lieu of a social study in this matter. FURTHER ORDERED setting the above entitled matter for FINAL HEARING on Petition for Termination of Parent/Child Relationship on Monday, October 21, 2013 at 8:30 a.m. before the Honorable Craig A. Raymond, Commissioner - JPT. The Court advises Petitioner that minor child must be present at the above set hearing as the minor child is substantive testimony shall be taken. The Court further advises Petitioner to bring Navajo County documentation as to establishing paternity of minor and certified copies of the Termination of Parental Rights of Respondent's other minor children. THE RECORD MAY SHOW no substantive testimony was taken this date. Mailed/distributed copy: 08/26/13 REANNA MAREZ BALDONADO 4583 W. Resolution Copper Mining

Proud to Partner With Our Communities

Resolution Copper Mining is proud to be a part of Superior and the communities that lie in and around the Copper Triangle and the Copper Corridor.

This year we have partnered with more than 20 local groups and organizations and have invested more than $280,000 in over 35 community-identified initiatives on education, health and wellbeing, and business development.

- Since 2009, we have supported the Rodel Foundation of Arizona's MAC-Ro Math Program at Superior's John F. Kennedy Elementary School. MAC-Ro is now in all classes from grades one to six and last year helped improve students' AIMS math scores across all levels.
- Boyce Thompson Arboretum's Nature Club, an environmental and recreational program for elementary students, has benefited more than 200 students in the district over the past 10 years, with our support running since 2006.
- This year we supported the Town of Miami's renovation of the Bullion Plaza Gymnasium to create a multi-generational community center for Miami and Globe residents.
- Since 2012, we have supported the Superior Fire Department's mock DUI events to teach local students about the risks involved in dangerous driving.
- Since 2008, our Emergency Services Agreement with the Town of Superior has helped deliver infrastructure improvements and provide police, fire suppression and ambulance services.
- Since 2008, we have supported the Superior Chamber of Commerce's Apache Leap Mining Festival, which celebrates the town's rich mining history. We became the premier sponsor last year.

Congratulations to all the groups we are supporting in 2013, and thank you for your outstanding initiatives that are benefiting our communities:
