Town of Kearny to Have Special Work Session, Meeting

The Town of Kearny has scheduled a Council Work Session for today, Wednesday, September 30, at 9 a.m. at Town Hall. The subject of the work session is the possibility of working in tandem with the towns of Hayden, Mammoth, and Winkelman to develop regional police services.

A special meeting of Town Council will happen tonight, September 30, at 6 p.m. at Town Hall to consider expressing our interest in developing such a proposal, along with other agenda items. A full agenda is posted at the Post Office in Kearny.

A work session is an opportunity for Council members to fully explore items it might wish to consider. At this session, Department of Public Safety Sergeant Dave Blue (our Interim Chief of Police) will outline the rough proposal of police services and work with the Council members as they explore the ins and outs of such an arrangement. In its simplest form, the towns would enter into an Intergovernmental Agreement (IGA) to develop a proposal, which would include a board chosen by the towns to administer the program, a single Chief of Police for the area, and officers stationed in all the towns. All costs would be shared by the towns.

Also at the work session will be Mr. Ken Strobeck, Director of The Arizona League of Cities and Towns. He is offering the league's assistance in developing the proposal, including the involvement of all the citizens of the towns.

The work session in the morning is open to the public, who may come to hear the proceedings and become better informed.

The special meeting of Town Council at 6 p.m. will include the possibility of saying "yes" to developing a tentative proposal.

The concept of the proposal originated with the Arizona Department of Public Safety, through Major Orose of the department. The concept has now been presented to all the towns possibly involved. It is very much a work in progress. The DPS is offering to work with us for as long as it takes to bring about a workable proposal.

This is a complicated thing to do. Nothing of this extent has been attempted in Arizona, and several towns and cities will be monitoring our progress to see if something of this sort could be beneficial to them.

I personally favor exploring the possibility. Our town finances make it very difficult to hire and keep trained personnel, to provide adequate training and supervision, maintain equipment and records, and provide good working conditions. I also have many questions which need to be answered regarding accountability, finances, and citizen involvement. I suspect that a successful proposal will take a year or more to develop and, if approved by the towns, be implemented.

Superior spoils Ray Homecoming, walks away with Copper Helmet

By Andrew Luberd
Copper Basin News

Last Friday's football game versus visiting Superior turned out to be a double downer after the sixth-ranked Panthers steamrolled the Bearcats 54 – 8 on homecoming and took the Copper Helmet with them on the way out.

This will be the first in the last three seasons that the Copper Helmet will not reside in Kearny.

Statistically speaking, it was just an average game for the Panthers, who have won all five of their games in lopsided fashion. Superior entered last Friday's game averaging almost 60 points per game and allowing only eight.

The Panthers held a 20 – 8 lead at halftime before scoring 34 unanswered points in the second half, including 28 points in the third quarter alone.

The Bearcats have lost all three home games so far this season and will have one last chance in its season finale versus Chandler Prep to avoid a winless home season. Their next two games are on the road, beginning this Friday at Arete Prep.

The Chargers, who are 0 – 5 so far this season, could be just what the doctor ordered for the Cats. Baboquivari ended its 68-game losing streak last week by defeating the Chargers, 54 – 40.

Friday's kickoff is scheduled for 7 p.m.

Mic Johnson – POW and American hero

By John Hernandez
Copper Area News

Malcom “Mickey” Johnson (he prefers to be called Mic) was raised during the Great Depression in the state of Washington. Having experienced those hard times, Mic knew the value of a job. He graduated high school in 1938 and worked as a page in the state senate and a laborer for the highway department. When he was 19 years old he found himself working for Morrison-Knudsen Company, a construction contractor.

In April 1941, he traveled with the company to a sub-tropical place called Wake Island in the Pacific. The company was contracted to build a naval base on the remote group of islets which included Wilkes, Peale and Wake. It was a good paying job, $120 a month plus room and board. The workers could make as much as $500 a month working overtime which was a very good paying job in the 1940s. There wasn't much to do on the island which allowed them to save their wages. Many of the men sent money home to help their families.

On Dec. 7, 1941, the Japanese attacked the American naval base at Pearl Harbor on the island of Oahu, Hawaii. Within hours of the attack, Japanese planes began bombing Wake Island on Dec. 8. On the day of the attack there were 450 Marines, 68 U.S. Navy personnel, and 1,200 civilian workers from Morrison-Knudsen on the island. Pan American Airlines also had civilian personnel on the island including 45 Chamorro (indigenous people of the Mariana Islands) employees.

The forces at Wake Island were not prepared for the bombing attacks and invasion that followed. The naval base had not been completed and they were without radar. Firearms were unavailable for 20 percent of the military personnel. The Marine aviators had 12 Gruman Wildcats for air support. They had received word of the attack on Pearl Harbor and the commanding officer ordered four planes in the air to look for the approaching enemy but the visibility was poor that day. Thirty-six Japanese bombers strafed and bombed the airstrip destroying seven of the planes and damaging the eighth.

On Dec. 9, a Pan American Clipper flying boat that had survived the bombing evacuated the Pan American workers flying them to Hawaii. The Pan American Chamorro workers were left behind. Japanese planes continued to bomb daily for the next three days. At night the Marines aided by civilian workers including Mic Johnson would move the gun batteries to different locations. They would also erect wooden “dummy” gun placements to confuse the enemy bombers. Mic said that about a month before the attack, the civilian workers who volunteered to fight began training with the Marine gun battery crews.

The Japanese invasion fleet arrived on Dec. 11. At dawn their warships began shelling the island as they prepared to attempt a landing. The Marine shore batteries and four planes were able to repel the first attack. The Japanese did not attempt to land troops as they suffered 500 dead when the Americans sank two

Lobos losing streak extends to four

By Andrew Luberda
Copper Basin News

The Hayden football team has now lost four consecutive games after its most recent defeat to third-ranked Gilbert Christian last Friday. The Knights scored 35 unanswered points in the first quarter on their way to a 48 – 19 victory.

Trailing 42 – 0 to start the third quarter, the Lobos finally broke through on Ryan Donovan's 38-yard rushing touchdown. Donovan also contributed to the Lobos' next score when he threw a 70-yard touchdown pass to receiver Michael Guerrero. A failed PAT made the score 42 – 13 at the end of the quarter.

Hayden freshman Noah Monroy closed out the scoring when he rushed for a 30-yard touchdown in the fourth quarter.

The Lobos host Baboquivari this Thursday. The Warriors are coming off their first win in nearly seven years, ending a 68-game losing streak that dates back to 2008. They defeated Arete Prep last week, 54 – 40.

Thursday's kickoff is scheduled for 7 p.m.

Players from both Hayden and Gilbert Christian offered a prayer for Santiago Pina at Friday night's game. Students from Gilbert Christian also presented a donation for the family. A Lobo fan posted this touching photo to the school's Facebook page. Pina was injured in a single-vehicle accident in August and remains in the hospital.

WORLD WAR II HERO

destroyers and damaged a cruiser. It was a humiliating defeat for the Japanese and one of the first victories for the Americans in the war. On Dec. 23, a larger fleet returned. In the dead of night they landed over 1,000 Japanese Marines on the islands. The Americans fought valiantly but were badly outnumbered. Some of the civilians found weapons and fought side by side with the Marines. Most of the civilian workers were unarmed and hid in foxholes and in the brush. Realizing his troops were overwhelmed and that there were nearly a 1,000 unarmed and unprotected civilians that could be massacred, Commander Winfield Scott Cunningham gave the order for the Americans to surrender. Major James Devereaux under a white flag delivered the surrender order to his men.

During the 15-day siege, 49 United States Marines were killed, 70 civilian workers died and 12 were wounded. Mic Johnson was one of the wounded hit in the shoulder and arm by bullets. He also suffered a bayonet wound. All of the soldiers and civilians were taken prisoner. Mic was taken to the hospital for treatment of his wounds. The next day all of the prisoners were taken to the airfield where they were made to stand in the heat. Mic, weakened from his wounds, had to be propped up by both men standing on both sides of him. The prisoners received little food and the water they were given was contaminated by the fuel cans it was served from. The cans had not been cleaned and still contained some gasoline in them.

The Japanese, angered by the heavy losses they suffered in taking the island, treated the prisoners brutally. Many Americans had their arms tied behind their back with telephone wire with another loop tied around their neck with the other end around their wrists. If they tried to stretch and lower their arms they strangled themselves. Prisoners were stripped naked or to their underwear and forced to sit on the hot concrete of the airfield. Personal valuables were taken. Machine guns were placed in positions surrounding the prisoners. The Americans did not know if they were to be massacred. It was a fearful time of uncertainty. For the next 10 days, they were given little food and drank the contaminated water. On Jan. 11, 1942 a Japanese officer told the prisoners they were to be transferred off the island the next day. NEXT WEEK: Voyage on the Nitta Maru & the Prisoner of War Camps

Boyce Thompson Arboretum has October events ranging from weekend bird walks to a rollicking concert of Americana from Valley-based Trio Rio. Trails and gardens are open to all visitors every day of the Fall Plant sale - but the Members-Only Preview shopping day Oct. 16 reserves the selection of new and choice plants for members-only shopping.

Not already among annual members? Membership starts at $50 for a couple for a full year - and members save 20-percent on plant purchases during the opening weekend of this fundraising sale of trees, shrubs, herbs, flowers, cacti and succulents. Need planting and landscaping advice? Arboretum staff are joined by knowledgeable volunteers from the Superstition Mountain Master Gardeners program there to advise and assist buyers with suggestions for trees and smaller plants ideal for a wide range of landscaping projects. Special events include lectures, guided tours and weekend walks; most are included with daily admission of $10 -- and the middle weekend also features the annual Herb Festival, with live music and exhibitors including the AZ Herb Association, Oct. 24 - Saturday. October events include

Kearny Trading Post – feed and a whole lot more

By John Hernandez
Copper Basin News

The Kearny Trading Post has been open since April. Two sisters, Julie Vaglivielo and Missy Foster, are the owners. The two ladies saw that there was “no feed store here,” so they pooled their resources and opened up the business which is truly a trading post. The store stocks everything from pet food to used furniture.

KTP carries a full line of domestic pet food and feed for nearly every kind of animal including cattle, horses, goats, pigs, birds (wild and domestic), fish, turtles, etc. Star Milling is their food distributor. A line of animal pharmaceuticals is available.

Julie was a rancher in California and brings a lot of knowledge about animals and their care to the trading post. She raised llamas and was involved with 4H for 15 years. Her kids were 4H champions.

The store offers discounts to kids that are participating in 4H clubs.

“We love kids and animals,” said Julie and Missy. “We have a large following of kids who come into the store and help feed some of the animals.”

The trading post carries hay and shaving. They offer free delivery service in the Kearny area! They also have reasonable delivery rates: for Hayden, Dudleyville, Winkelman: $10; Dripping Springs: $12; Mammoth: $15; San Manuel: $17.

The store sells used furniture and arts and crafts on consignment. A variety of horse tack is available as well as pet supplies of all types including new dog kennels and gates, live traps and small animal traps. They sell live worms for fishing, chickens and will soon begin selling fish, baby chicks and ducks. They will also have an aquarium section. If you are looking for animals, they will find it for you and match you up with what you are looking for.

“We are into diversifying and willing to carry anything the customers can’t find at other places,” said Julie. “What we don’t have we can order. We are trying to keep our prices low to compete with the Valley. We try to keep enough product on line to service as many people as we can.”

The Kearny Trading Post believes in giving back to the community. They had an ROTC Day where 10 percent of all sales were donated to the Ray High School ROTC program.

“We want to do a lot for our community,” the two explained.

The Kearny Trading Post is located at 121 Tilbury Street (the old Circle K building). They can be contacted at (520) 363-5996. The hours are Monday through Friday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Saturdays 9 a.m. – 2 p.m. and closed on Sunday. Find them on Facebook at Kearny Trading Post and look for them on Instagram.

Stop by; you won’t be disappointed and remember to shop local.

Sisters, Julie Vaglivielo and Missy Foster, are the owners of the Kearny Trading Post.
