'Last Call' for Lizard walks, Prickly Pears Sept. 9 at BTA

Boyce Thompson Arboretum offers one final chance Saturday morning to learn about lizards - or how to pick, process and prepare prickly pear cactus fruit.

End-of-Summer events Sept. 9 have brought a "last call" invitation to three events all happening Saturday morning. For annual members at BTA these events are all free - they're included with $12.50 admission for non-members. Confirm specific details and read more about weekend nature walks at cals.Arizona.edu/bta or connect with 10,000 followers including BTA staff, volunteers and fans at facebook.com/boycethompsonarboretum

- Learn Your Lizards guided walk at 8 a.m. with Wild Man Phil and AZGF's Dan Leavitt. This entertaining guided tour around the gardens is not just for kids – popular lizard walks are for all who enjoy Arizona's most common, colorful and charismatic little reptiles. There's no additional fee to attend and no pre-registration necessary, just be in the Visitor Center breezeway at start time. Guides include Casa Grande outdoor educator 'Wild Man Phil' Rakoci, joined by Arizona Game & Fish researcher Dan Leavitt.
- Prickly Pear Cactus Fruit Class with Botanist Patty West

at 10:30 a.m. Wish you knew how to pick a peck o' prickly pears, turning the bright red fruits into syrup you can use in margaritas, smoothies - or a batch of tasty jelly or tangy BBQ sauce? Flagstaff ethno-botanist (and farmer) Patty West is a special guest presenter on Saturday, coaching the finer points of processing ripe fruit of the season. She has been picking and preparing for over 20 years and has her own unique spin on cactus cuisine and will share her favorite techniques for de-spining and processing prickly pears – she may even have a unique desert edible snack for her audience to sample as the class concludes.

the paint program, and the Town Council recently adopted a "Clean and Lien" program and also ramped up code enforcement and animal control efforts. In order to continue developing these efforts and manage an effective strategy the Town of Superior has moved Officer John Britton into a Community Liaison Officer - Code Enforcement.

Officer Britton works the day to day efforts of code enforcement. He remains a sworn police officer for the Town and the main focus of his duties include handing code enforcement, animal control and other community policing efforts. Each week of the month, Officer Britton visits one of the four quadrants of town to check for code violations. Any violations he discovers are then issued a warning, and each warning receives 30 days to repair or improve on the violation. Those who do not respond to the warnings are then ticketed. He attempts to help local residents connect with resources so they can resolve code violations.

In the 2017-18 Fiscal Year Budget the Superior Town Council voted to allocate funds to the "Clean and Lien" program. This budgetary allocation will allow the Town to go in a clean properties that have been abandoned. Weeds will be cut, the house will receive a base coat of paint and secure view windows and doors will be installed to help improve the appearance of the house. Once the property is cleaned, a lien will be placed on the property for the cost of the clean up. The town hopes to "Clean and Lien" several homes this year. Many members of the BAR-Blight Committee will be the volunteer manpower to support the "Clean and Lien" program.

In addition to working on code enforcement he also visits the schools to work with the youth and teachers at the school. He serves on the BAR-Blight Committee that helps to organize community clean up days and he is also working with the Humane Society to bring pet ownership education to the local schools.

Officer Britton can be reached by phone or in person at Town Hall. Code complaints can also be given directly to him, as needed. Recently his office has been re-located into the reception office at Town Hall.
